The following communication:

MAYOR'S OFFICE,
February 4, 1907.

To the Honorable, the City Council:

GENTLEMEN—I transmit herewith a letter from the Commissioner of Public Works concerning the letting of a contract for a new bridge over the North Branch Canal at Halsted street, together with the accompanying letters of the Corporation Counsel and the City Bridge Engineer, and an ordinance directing the Commissioner of Public Works to let to the Fitzsimons & Connell Company, at a price not to exceed $89,215.15, the contract for furnishing all tools and materials and all work necessary for the construction of the sub-structure of the approaches for that bridge, and an ordinance directing and authorizing the Commissioner of Public Works to let to Jules E. Roemheld at a price not to exceed $159,240, a contract for furnishing all materials, tools and labor required for the complete construction and erection of the superstructure of such bridge.

I would therefore recommend that these ordinances be passed without the usual reference to a committee for the reason that there is great need for the immediate construction of this bridge, and the only objections that have been made to the plans and specifications now on file in the office of the Commissioner of Public Works are technical and infinitesimal. In November last the Commissioner of Public Works advertised that he would receive bids for this work, and in December the bids were opened and the parties named found to be the lowest responsible bidders. Before the Commissioner could let the contract he was enjoined from taking any steps in the matter at the suit of a man who holds a patent for the construction of a certain design of bridge, which design is not acceptable to the city engineering department or to the Commissioner of Public Works, and which has uniformly been rejected whenever presented to the city engineering department for consideration. By reason of the slight technicalities mentioned, that of including in the specifications a patented pavement whose total cost is but a trifle over 1% of the total contract price of the bridge, there is reason to apprehend that the court will enjoin the letting of a contract under that advertisement. The emergency is such that I feel justified in recommending that you pass the ordinances by the usual two-thirds vote, in order that the work of constructing the bridge may proceed without further delay.

Respectfully submitted,

E. F. DUNNE.
Mayor.

Ald. Bennett moved to pass the ordinance recommended by His Honor, the Mayor, authorizing the Commissioner of Public Works to let a contract for the sub-structure of approaches to a bridge over the North Branch (Canal) at North Halsted street.

The motion prevailed, and the ordinance was passed by yeas and nays as follows:

ALSO,

The following communications:

MAYOR'S OFFICE,
February 4, 1907.

To the Honorable, the City Council:

GENTLEMEN—I transmit herewith a communication from the Secretary of the Board of Local Improvements concerning an order passed by your Honorable Body at the meeting of January 28, 1907, Council Proceedings 2819, directing the city authorities to stay the collection of warrants numbers 33841 and 34092, and all other warants covering the streets named in the order.

I am advised by the Corporation Counsel that it is not within my power to veto an order passed by your Honorable Body, and I would therefore suggest that inasmuch as the order in question is in direct conflict wtih Section 56 of the act concerning local improvements, and is therefore void, that your Honorable Body take the matter up again and give it further consideration.

Yours truly,

E. F. DUNNE,

Mayor.

BOARD OF LOCAL IMPROVEMENTS,

Hon. Edward F. Dunne, Mayor.

DEAR SIR—At the Council meeting of January 28th, as appears from the Council Proceedings of that date, on page 2819, Alderman Cullerton presented an order, which was amended by Alderman Scully, directing that the collection of Warrants 33841 and 34092, being for the paving of 21st street, between Laflin street and Western avenue; 18th street, between Sangamon and Wood streets; 14th street, between Halsted and Wood streets, and Blue Island avenue, between 18th and 22d streets, be stayed until the completion of the work. I am directed by the Board to request Your Honor to veto this order, for the reason that the order is absolutely in conflict with Section 56 of the Board of Local Improvement Act, which act provides "That after the contract for the work shall have been entered into, or the bonds mentioned in this act issued, no judgment shall be vacated or modified, or any petition dismissed at a term subsequent to that at which the judgment was rendered, nor the collection of the assessment be in any way stayed or delayed by the Council or Board of Trustees, or Board of Local Improvements, or any officer of the municipality, without the consent of the contractor and bondholder." In all of these cases the contract has been let, work has been commenced and vouchers have been issued on account of work done and the consent of the contractor and bondholder has not been obtained. We therefore recommend that Your Honor veto this order.

Yours very truly,

JOHN A. MAY,

Secretary.

ALSO,

The following veto message:

MAYOR'S OFFICE,
February 4, 1907.

To the Honorable, the City Council:

GENTLEMEN—I return herewith, without my approval, an ordinance passed by your Honorable Body at the meeting of January 28, 1907 (Council Proceedings, page 2836), amending Article II., Chapter 6, of the Revised Municipal Code of Chicago of 1905, which prohibits the scalping of tickets to theatrical performances, shows, exhibitions and other amusements for which an admission fee is charged, for the reason that as advised by the law department the ordinance as it stands is unreasonable and void.

The ordinance makes it unlawful for any person who is not conducting or operating a place of amusement, to sell, at any price whatever, tickets of admission to theatrical performances, shows, exhibitions or other amusements for which an admission fee is charged, that are given or held at any place in the territory bounded by Lake Michigan, Chestnut street, Halsted street and Twelfth street, but does not prohibit such persons from selling tickets for performances, shows, exhibitions or other amusements given in other parts of the city. Unless there is some good, strong reason for this discrimination, and I can think of none, the ordinance is void, for it is not within the power of the city to make and enforce such unreasonable discrimination.

The ordinance makes it unlawful for a person conducting a place of amusement within that district to sell tickets at any place except his regular box office, while persons conducting places of amusement outside the district may sell at any place, even within that district. In my judgment this discrimination is unreasonable, and, this being so, the ordinance is void.

The ordinance is self contradictory in this,—it begins by declaring it to be unlawful for any person to sell an admission ticket at a premium, and by a later provision making it unlawful to sell such tickets at a premium "in or on any street, sidewalk, alley or public ground," impliedly authorizes sales at a premium if made within doors.

I have had prepared a substitute ordinance that I am advised meets all the objections that have been raised, and submit it herewith, with a recommendation that the vote by which the ordinance was passed be reconsidered, and that the substitute ordinance herewith submitted be passed without the usual reference to a committee.

Respectfully submitted,

E. F. DUNNE,
Mayor.

The following is the ordinance recommended by His Honor, the Mayor:

AN ORDINANCE

Amending Article 11 of Chapter VI. of the Revised Municipal Code of Chicago of 1905.

SECTION 121. Scalping Forbidden.) It shall be unlawful for any person or corporation to sell any ticket of admission to any theatrical, operatic or musical entertainment, except at the regular ticket office located upon the premises where such entertainment is to be given or held; provided that nothing in this ordinance shall be held or construed to prohibit the sale of tickets to entertainments, the proceeds of which are to be devoted to charitable purposes.

SECTION 2. This ordinance shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage.

Ald. Foreman moved to reconsider the vote by which the ordinance referred to in the veto message of His Honor, the Mayor, was passed.

The motion prevailed.

Ald. Foreman moved to refer the ordinance recommended by His Honor, the Mayor, and the ordinance vetoed by His Honor, the Mayor, to the Committee on Judiciary.

Ald. Hunt moved as a substitute for the foregoing motion that the ordinances be referred to the Committee on License.

CITY COMPTROLLER.

The Clerk presented from the City Comptroller the Departmental and Comptroller's estimates for the year 1907, which were Referred to the Committee on Finance.

COMMISSIONER OF PUBLIC WORKS.

The Clerk presented the following communication from the Commissioner of Public Works, which was referred to the Committee on Finance:

DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC WORKS,

The Honorable, City Council.

GENTLEMEN—Your Honorable Body was pleased, at its meeting January 21, 1907, Council Proceedings 2761, to pass an order requiring the Commissioner of Public Works to report the reasons for the delay in letting the contract for the construction of Section three, Southwest Land Tunnel.

I have the honor to submit the following:

On the 3rd of November, 1906, bids for the construction of Section three were opened and upon December 31, 1906, the contract for constructing that section was awarded to Joseph Hanreddy, who was the lowest bidder. Mr. Hanreddy signed the contract, but the bond he tendered was rejected by me because it was not properly executed by the surety and because, in my judgment, there should be more than one surety on the bond in the penal sum of $1,500,000.

The next lowest bidder is the Jackson & Corbett Company.

While the bid of the Jackson & Corbett Company exceeded that of Hanreddy I am advised by the Engineering Department that owing to the advance in the cost of materials it is very probable that upon a readvertisement of the work the bids would not be any lower than that submitted by Jackson & Corbett Company.

I submit the matter to your Honorable Body with the request that you advise me of your wishes, and if it is your pleasure that the contract be awarded to the Jackson & Corbett Company that will be done.

Respectfully submitted,

WM. L. O'CONNELL,

Commissioner of Public Works.

ALSO,

The following communications:

DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC WORKS,
February 4, 1907.

To the Honorable, the Mayor and City Council.

GENTLEMEN—Regarding the order of your Honorable Body of January 28, I beg to submit herewith a report from the Superintendent of Streets concerning the occupancy of alley in rear of the Burton Mfg. Company.

Very respectfully,

WM. L. O'CONNELL,

Commissioner.

DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC WORKS,

Mr. Wm. L. O'Connell, Commissioner of of Public Works.

DEAR SIR—Returning herewith your communication of January 31st, requesting a report as to the right of the Burton Manufacturing Company to occupy the alley in rear of the northwest corner of Centre avenue and 21st street, as per Council order of January 28th, page 2818 of Council Proceedings of said date, I beg to call your attention to accompanying report of H. V. McGurren, Chief Clerk of the Bureau of Compensation.

Yours truly,

M. J. DOHERTY,

Superintendent of Streets.

BUREAU OF COMPENSATION,

Mr. M. J. Doherty, Supt. of Streets.

DEAR SIR—In answer to the attached correspondence, beg to state that contract was entered into by this bureau with the J. Burton Company, April 12th, 1906, allowing the said Burton Company to excavate for and construct a vault 72 1-6 feet in length, 16 feet in width and 15 feet in depth under the alley adjoining 673, 5 and 7 South Centre avenue. This contract was executed under the sub-sidewalk ordinance, the compensation being $10.00 per annum, the minimum rate allowable under same, based on the assessed value of the abutting property. In addition to this, Burton & Company were compelled to put in a first-class asphalt and concrete pavement over the vault, which probably cost in the neighborhood of $200 or $300.

Mr. Galligan assured me that at the time he had a verbal opinion from the Corporation Counsel's office to the effect that he had the authority to execute that contract. No work was done by Burton & Company until about the following September, when complaint was made to the Commissioner by Alderman Hurt of the Tenth Ward, who requested that the work be stopped. This was done by Officer Sullivan and a representative of Burton & Company called to see Mr. O'Connell and agreed to make satisfactory arrangements with the abutting property owners. This was not done, however, and shortly after a bill was filed before Judge Windes, asking for an injunction restraining the city from interfering in any way. Assistant Corporation Counsel Wade represented the city in these proceedings. Judge Windes decided that under the sub-sidewalk ordinance the city had the right to issue that permit and made the injunction permanent. Mr. Wade was advised by Mr. Barge not to appeal the case, as the Corporation Counsel's office preferred making an appeal under the Borden case should the decision be rendered against them. The Borden case is the one which was originated to test the legality of this ordinance.

Yours truly,

H. V. MCGURREN,

Chief Clerk.

With reference to the foregoing communications, Ald. Scully moved that the Corporation Counsel be requested to report to the Council whether in his opinion the city should appeal from the decree of the Circuit Court in the Burton case.

The motion prevailed.

BOARD OF LOCAL IMPROVEMENTS.

The Clerk presented a list of assessment rolls filed by the Board of Local Improvements in the County Court February 1, 1907,

Which was placed on file.

ALSO,

An ordinance establishing the grade of sundry streets.

Yeas—Kenna, Coughlin, Harding, Dixon, Foreman, Pringle, Dailey, Richert, Martin, McCormick, Young, McCoid, Bennett, Snow, Moynihan, Derpa, Harris, Fick, Scully, Hurt, Cullerton, Hoffman, Zimmer, Uhlir, Riley, Considine, Harkin, Maypole, Smith, Beilfuss, Nowicki, Schermann, Sitts, Dever, Conlon, Powers, Bowler, Stewart, Finn, Reese, Foell, Sullivan, Dougherty, Werno, Ja-

DEPARTMENT OF ELECTRICITY,
CHICAGO, January 30, 1907.

Hon. A. D. Williston, Chairman Sub-Committee Gas, Light and Oil.

MY DEAR ALDERMAN—Hereto attached you will please note communication from the County Coroner, addressed to the City Council which was referred to me by your committee for investigation and recommendation. I desire to inform your Honorable Body, that I have made an investigation as ordered, and find that there are a large number of patented burners on the market designed to act as automatic shut-off appliances. After having submitted these various burners to an expert gas engineer, I have his opinion that on account of the complicated mechanical construction of these various burners, they are apt to get out of order and are not a positive protection. In my opinion the only absolute protection is the installation of electric light in rooming houses and hotels where these deaths are reported to occur. I submit herewith an estimate from the Chicago Edison Company as to the cost of installing electric light.

Respectfuly submitted,
EDW. R. DIEDERICH,
Gas Inspector.

COOK COUNTY CORONER'S OFFICE,
CHICAGO, October 8, 1906.

To the Honorable the City Council, City of Chicago.

GENTLEMEN—Since my tenure of office there have been 125 deaths caused by accidental asphyxiation by gas. Since I have been in office I have been trying to make recommendations and suggestions that would have a tendency at least to reduce the number of deaths from various causes and accidents. I have been informed there are a number of safety gas burners on the market that if installed in hotels and lodging houses that burn gas for lighting purposes would, in my estimation, at least reduce the number of deaths caused by accidental asphyxiation. In view of this fact I believe it would be a humane act for the Council of the City of Chicago to pass an ordinance compelling hotels and lodging houses as aforesaid, to install a safety gas burner of some kind that has proven to be a lifesaver, for the purpose above mentioned. I would therefore suggest that if your Honorable Body concur with me, that this matter be taken up at your very earliest convenience and an ordinance passed as above mentioned, believing that it is in the interests of humanity that this be done.

Respectfully yours,
PETER M. HOFFMAN,
Coroner.

CHICAGO EDISON COMPANY,
CHICAGO, December 20, 1906.

E. J. Diederich, City Gas Inspector, City Hall, Chicago.

DEAR SIR—In answer to your request of some few days ago regarding the cost of wiring incandescent lamps, I would say that I have made inquiries of our estimating department, and while they state that each and every job must be estimated separately and that they can give no accurate information on the same, they have found through experience that the average cost of wiring an incandescent lamp by the various methods is as follows:

Conduit (Greenfield)	$4.00 per light.
Loom and Moulding	3.00 per light.
Moulding	2.25 per light.
Open Work	1.75 per light.

Yours very truly,
B. D. BUEHL.

To the Mayor and Aldermen of the City of Chicago in City Council Assembled:

Your Committee on Gas, Oil and Electric Light, to whom was referred a communication containing a proposition to install a telephone system in the City of Chicago, having had the same under advisement, beg leave to report and recommend that the communication be placed on file, and that the accompanying communication be published.

LINN H. YOUNG,

Ald. Young moved to concur in the report.

The motion prevailed.

The following is the communication:

CHICAGO, January 29, 1907.

Hon. E. F. Dunne, Mayor of Chicago, and Committee on Gas, Oil and Electric Light.

GENTLEMEN—For quite a number of years past I have been operating extensively in the independent telephone field, and have been associated in various enterprises with the principal factors in the independent telephone movement. Accordingly when I submitted to you a request for a franchise for an independent telephone company in Chicago, I had already arranged for the moral and material support of not only active independent telephone operators, but of the financial institutions whose aid is necessary in such a project. I appeared as the representative of these interests in asking for an ordinance.

After I had appeared before you in this capacity for some months, I learned about the same time that you did, that some of the representative independent telephone operators had made arrangements with the Illinois Tunnel Company to give to Chicago the independent telephone service that it needs, and the long distance connection with the independent telephone exchanges throughout the country. These men have been associated with me in various successful independent telephone exchanges, and I know them to be entirely reliable and capable of carrying out their undertakings.

Knowing that their purpose is the same as mine was when I entered the field in Chicago, I feel that our cause is a common one. I have therefore concluded that it is better that my immediate associates and I co-operate with the interests who are backing the tunnel telephone project, and lend them an active support. We have accordingly joined forces with them, and I am entirely confident that Chicago will soon see a completely equipped independent telephone system in this city.

Having been dealing with you in the best of faith, and having received from you the most considerate of treatment, I feel that I owe it to you to make this statement, and withdraw my application for a franchise. I wish to thank you for your courteous treatment of myself and my attorney, and for the prompt and careful consideration which you have given to the subject under consideration before you.

Yours respectfully,

ARNOLD KALMAN,

Amend the ordinance running to the Chicago City Railway Company (published January 15, 1907, pages 2568 to 2613), as follows:

"SECTION 13. The company hereby agrees to pay its motormen and conductors the sum of 33½ cents per hour while on duty, and to so arrange its schedules of work that no employe shall be required to work more than eight hours a day, and such eight hours shall be within a continuous period of ten hours in each day."

"SECTION 14. The company hereby agrees to submit any and all differences arising between itself and its employes, whether arising out of hours, wages, conditions of employment, or otherwise, to an arbitration board to be composed as follows: One arbitrator to be selected by the company, one by the employes affected, and the third to be selected by these two; and such board shall adjudicate all disputed questions, and such adjudication shall be accepted by the company as binding and final."

Ald. Derpa presented the following communication and resolution, which were order published and placed on file:

CHICAGO, February 4, 1907.

To the Honorable, the City Council of the City of Chicago:

Complying with the request of the Chicago Federation of Labor, which is a respectable, reputable and recognized body of Chicago's workingmen, I submit the following communication to the City Council which expresses the views of that body on the traction problem which is of greatest importance at this time:

WHEREAS, The City Council Committee on Transportation has recommended for passage ordinances purporting to be in the nature of a settlement of the Chicago traction question; and

WHEREAS, There has been filed before the Election Board a demand for a referendum vote on these ordinances signed by 184,000 voters, or more than twice the legal number required; and

WHEREAS, This enormous vote, representing one-half the total voters of the City of Chicago, shows that deep suspicion is entertained of the proposed traction ordinances; and

WHEREAS, Since the ordinances have been framed reliable attorneys and public spirited citizens have made serious objections to these ordinances that have not been met; and

WHEREAS, The Chicago Federation of Labor has been convinced through its accredited representatives and the ominous silence of the trust press that these ordinances are a subtle and insidious attempt to perpetrate a huge steal on the citizens of this city in the guise of fictitious municipal ownership; therefore, be it

Resolved, That we demand that said ordinances be discussed in committee of the whole of the Council and that the Council do not pass these ordinances either conditionally or unconditionally, unless and until they have been approved by a majority of those voting thereon at the spring election.

Be it further Resolved, That the Secretary be instructed to send a copy of these resolutions to his Honor, the Mayor, to the City Council and to the Transportation Committee.

Unanimously adopted by the Chicago Federation of Labor, February 3, 1907.

E. N. NOCKELS,
Secretary.

Ald. Derpa presented the following resolutions:

"WHEREAS, The settlement of the complicated traction problem has been a public question of vital importance and interest;

WHEREAS, There are at present before the City Council ordinances recommended by the local transportation committee as a proper settlement of that problem;

WHEREAS, It required many months of time and discussion in committee meetings and privately to have the members of the local transportation committee understand the various intricacies and numerous provisions of the proposed pending ordinances;

WHEREAS, Every alderman before voting on these measures should first be fully advised as to their merits, their scope and their true meaning;

WHEREAS, Knowledge and information on that subject sufficient to warrant intelligent action can be secured to a great degree by a thorough discussion of the ordinances before taking them up for passage;

WHEREAS, Such consideration is due to the public and would enlighten not only the aldermen but also the general public of the true worth of the proposed measures;

WHEREAS, There are numerous amendments which should receive careful consideration; therefore, it is hereby

Resolved, Ordered and Declared, That before taking up of the ordinances for passage in this Council they first be thoroughly considered and discussed, each section separately and thoroughly, in the City Council sitting in special meetings for that purpose at the time to be designated at once by the City Council; it is hereby further

Resolved, Ordered and Declared, By the City Council, that there be no undue haste in rushing through action by the Council upon the measures which are of such great importance to the City of Chicago, but that every phase, problem and question of the settlement ordinances be explained, analyzed and discussed in full section by section before this City Council; that such discussion is necessary and essential to a fair, honest and proper understanding of the traction ordinances, before any intelligent action can be taken on them."

Objections having been raised to the consideration of the resolutions, Ald. Derpa moved that the rules be suspended temporarily for the purpose of considering them.

Ald. Dever moved as a substitute for the foregoing motion, that consideration of the resolutions be postponed until the pending traction ordinances were taken up.

The motion prevailed.

Ald. Derpa presented the following resolution, which was temporarily deferred:

"WHEREAS, There has been filed before the Board of Election Commissioners a petition for a referendum vote upon the proposed traction settlement by the pending traction ordinances which the local transportation committee has recommended to this council for passage and in view of the fact that many thousands of citizens have signed their names to that petition showing clearly that they first wish an opportunity to approve or disapprove the pending measures before the City Council shall make them binding upon the city and companies; therefore, be it Resolved, By the City Council, that the passage of the proposed pending traction ordinances to the Chicago City Railway Company and to the Chicago Railways Company be not passed by this body (either conditionally or unconditionally), unless and until they have been approved by a majority of those voting thereon at the spring election."

STREET RAILWAY ORDINANCES.

The Council, on motion of Ald. Werno, proceeded to the consideration of the report of the Committee on Local Transportation recommending the passage of an ordinance entitled "An ordinance authorizing the Chicago City Railway Company to construct, maintain and operate a system of street railways in streets and public ways of the City of Chicago," and an ordinance entitled

"An ordinance authorizing the Chicago Railways Company to construct, maintain and operate a system of street railways in streets and public ways of the City of Chicago;" which said report and ordinances were deferred and published January 15, 1907, on pages 2559 to 2667, inclusive.

In connection with the ordinances under consideration, Ald. Werno presented the following communication from the Special Traction Counsel, and certain proposed Articles of Agreement between the representatives of the General Electric Railway Company and the Chicago City Railway Company and the City of Chicago, which were read by the Clerk and ordered published:

To the Members of the Committee on Local Transportation, City Council, Chicago:

GENTLEMEN—Pursuant to your instructions I have made an extended examination of the authorities upon the question as to whether an ordinance may be passed containing an express provision that it shall not go into effect unless and until it has been approved by a vote of the people. From this examination I am of the opinion that, under the law of the State of Illinois, such a provision is valid. There are jurisdictions in which such provisions in Statutes have been held to be illegal, and the laws themselves in which they were inserted have been held inoperative and void. But in the case of Home Insurance Company v. Swigert, 104 Ill., 653, our Supreme Court says:

> "Whatever the rule may be in other states, it is well settled in this, as will appear from the cases just cited, that it is competent for the legislature to pass a law, the ultimate operation of which may, by its own terms, be made to depend upon some contingency as upon an affirmative vote by the electors of a given district, or upon any other indifferent contingency the legislature in its wisdom may prescribe. Where the contingency upon which the ultimate operation of a law is made to depend consists of a vote of the people, or the action of some foreign deliberative or legislative body, as is the case here, it is erroneous to suppose the legislature in such case abandons its own legislative functions or delegates its powers to the people in the one case, or to such foreign deliberative or legislative body, in the other. In either case the law is complete when it comes from the hands of the legislature, otherwise it would be inoperative and void, for we fully recognize the principle a law, properly so called, cannot have a mere fragmentary or inchoate existence; and even if it could, neither the people by a vote nor any other independent body, could complete the unfinished work of the legislature, and thus make it a law. But, while this is so, nothing is better settled than that the operation and even remedial character of a perfect and complete law may, by virtue of limitations contained in the law itself, based upon contingent extrinsic matters, be enlarged, diminished or wholly defeated. Such laws, though adopted absolutely and perfect in all their parts, yet by their own limitations they are applicable to a hypothetical condition of things only, and which may or may not ever happen. That it is perfectly competent for the legislature to pass such laws is shown by long legislative experience and a decided weight of judicial authority. Indeed, we have not the slightest doubt of the validity of laws of this character, and to hold otherwise would clearly lead to the most series consequences."

The general doctrine is well stated in Lewis' Sutherland on Statutory Construction, Volume 1, Second Edition, at page 163, where it is said:

> "The legislature cannot refer a bill to the people for them to make it a law by popular vote. When such vote is called for to give the force of law to a proposal or plan of a law formulated by the legislature and submitted to the people, the courts only declare a truism on which there is no dissent, in holding acts so adopted unconstitutional. But if an act is adopted by the legislature as a law, and, pursuant to its provisions, it is submitted to the people and, on their expression of approval or disapproval as a fact or event, the act by its terms does, or does not take effect, or takes effect at one particular date rather than another, then, apparently, the only question is, whether the legislature can pass a law to take effect upon such contingency. The authorities would seem now to have established the doctrine, though not universally, that the result of a popular vote is a contingency on which laws may be enacted to take effect."

This doctrine is laid down by Dillon on Municipal Corporations, Fourth Edition, Vol. 1, p. 389, where it is said:

"Municipal ordinances, otherwise valid, may, like an act of the legislature, be adopted to take effect in future and upon the happening of a contingent event."

In the case of State v. Parker, 26 Vt. 357, an act was made to go into effect upon a popular vote, and Chief Justice Redfield sad:

"It is admitted on all hands that the legislature may enact laws the operation or suspension of which shall be made to depend upon a contingency. This could not be questioned with any show or reason or sound logic. It has been practiced in all free states for rundreds of years, and no one has been lynx-eyed enough to discover, or, certainly, bold enough to declare that such legislation was, on that account, void or irregular. * * * If the operation of a law may fairly be made to depend upon a future contingency, then, in my apprehension, it makes no essential difference what is the nature of the contingency, so it be an equal and a fair one, a moral and a legal one, not opposed to sound policy, and so far connected with the object and purpose of the Statute as not to be a mere idle and arbitrary one."

There can be no contention but that the future contingency upon which it is proposed to make the going into effect of the pending traction ordinances depend, is a fair one and that it is consistent with sound public policy. The entire tendency of the law in the State of Illinois has been more and more to make the decision of public policies depend upon a vote of the people. This policy starts with the provision in the Constitution of the State requiring the submission of constitutional amendments to the people, and has been applied to innumerable local option laws and to laws for the issuance of bonds and other municipal securities. In the Mueller Law it has been applied not only to the special street railway certificates, but to the question of municipal operation as well. Practically all public utility ordinances have for many years been made to depend upon various contingencies, chief among which, of course, has been the filing of bonds and of formal acceptances by the Companies involved, although many other contingencies have also been inserted. No serious question has ever been raised with regard to the validity of such provisions, and no case can be found in Illinois opposed to the authorities I have already cited. Upon the contrary, numerous cases can be cited in their support. These cases began in Illinois as early as the People v. Reynolds, 10 Ill., 1, which involved the statute providing for the division of Gallatin County and the incorporation of part of its territory into a new county, the act to go into effect upon a favorable vote of the people. It will be observed that this was not the case of a local option law, applicable to any County in the State which might adopt it, but was a general law, which applied, however, solely to Gallatin County. The Court held the act constitutional, and said:

"To establish the unconstitutionality of this act it is assumed that, instead of being a law, finished and obligatory from the hands of the General Assembly, this is merely a bill prepared by the Department of the Government and submitted to the people of Gallatin County, to be by them passed into a law, or defeated at the polls. This assumption is not true, in fact. The law as passed was complete and perfect, although its principal provisions were to take effect upon a contingency the determination of which did not depend upon the exercise of legislative powers by the people, but upon an expression which they were authorized to make rather in the execution than in the enactment of the law, an expression to be made in a legitimate and an ordinary way. * * * It is presumed that there is no constitutional provision determining upon how many or upon how few the legislature may confer this power. That must be left to legislative discretion. If the voters of a city or town may be authorized to determine, either directly by their vote, or by their local representatives, whether spirituous liquors shall be sold within their precincts, then surely the voters of a county may be allowed to do the same. Upon the question of authority it can matter little whether the territory be greater or less, or whether it be densely or sparsely populated."

This reasoning leaves no room for any distinction between an act applicable to a single county and an act applicable to the entire state, between an ordinance applicable to a part of the city and an ordinance applicable to the entire city, between enactments which are to go into effect upon the vote of a special district and enactments taking effect upon the vote of the entire state or municipality.

The general doctrine was again laid down in People v. Salomon, 51 Ill., 37, and in People v. Hoffman, 116 Ill., 587, where it was said:

"Laws which depend for their operation upon the votes of the people have sometimes been held to be unconstitutional, as involving a delegation of legislative authority. In this State, however, they have been held to be valid."

That there is no distinction between statutes and ordinances in this regard was held in City of Roodhouse v. Johnson, 57 Ill. App., 73, where it was said:

"We apprehend that, in one sense, and a proper one, an act or ordinance 'takes effect' or is 'in force' when the legislature has done all it is required to do in order to give it force and effect, according to the intention of that body, although it may not operate to accomplish the object intended from that time, because that may clearly not be the intention of the act or ordinance. The after acomplishment of that object may depend upon conditions thereafter to arise, as from the voluntary action of parties to be affected, or otherwise. For different reasons, natural or legal, it might not be possible for the act to have that effect immediately upon its passage, and in such case there could be no reasonable presumption that the legislature intended it should. But by its passage they may have done all they were required to do to give it immediate validity as an expression of the legislative will, and by its own force to have that practical effect at the proper time."

This case involved the validity of an ordinance fixing the salary of the City Attorney.

In City v. Stratton, 162 Ill., 494, the Supreme Court upheld a municipal ordinance requiring the consent of property owners to the location of livery stables, and in doing so, said:

"It is competent for the legislature to pass a law the ultimate operation of which may, by its own terms, be made to depend upon a contingency. * * *

The operation of the ordinance is made to depend upon the fact of the consent of a majority of the lot-owners, but the ordinance is complete in itself, as passed. What are known as local option laws depend for their adoption or enforcement upon the votes of some portion of the people, and yet are not regarded as delegations of legislative power."

The Hoffman and the Stratton cases have been repeatedly cited with approval by our Supreme Court; and there are similar decisions as to ordinances in Missouri, Maryland and Indiana.

There are certain jurisdictions outside of Illinois in which a distinction is made between laws of local application or general laws which may be adopted by particular localities, and general laws, which are in their terms applicable to the entire State. These decisions, however, are wholly opposed to the reasoning of the Illinois cases, and are not supported by a single decision in this State. Even, however, if the distinction were applicable here, it would not seem to apply to ordinances granting certain special rights to particular street railway companies. These are not general ordinances, like ordinances defining and punishing disorderly conduct, or making other municipal regulations of uniform application throughout the City. They are merely ordinances granting to particular companies the right to construct and operate street railways in certain streets, upon certain terms and conditions, fixed in the ordinances. The Street Railway Act especially provides that the consent of the municipal authorities may be granted "upon such terms and conditions" as such authorities "shall deem for the best interests of the public." Our Supreme Court has expressly held that this authorizes municipalities to impose whatever terms and conditions it may see fit, and one of such conditions may well be the approval of the voters of the City.

In conclusion, it is proper to call attention to the fact that, even in those jurisdictions where laws or ordinances cannot be made to take effect upon the result of a popular vote, such laws or ordinances do not go into effect in spite of this limitation but, upon the contrary, are held to be invalid and void. A careful examination of the authorities in all of the States has disclosed the fact that there is only one State in the entire Union in which the contrary doctrine is held, the decisions of all other States being uniform upon this proposition.

Respectfully submitted,

WALTER L. FISHER.

ORDINANCE TO CHICAGO CITY RAILWAY CO.

Ald. Werno moved that the Council do now proceed to the consideration of the ordinance recommended by the Committee authorizing the Chicago City Railway Company to construct, maintain and operate a system of street railways in streets and public ways of the City of Chicago.

The motion prevailed.

Ald. Werno presented the following amendments to the ordinance under consideration:

Trust Company, as Trustee, to be held and disposed of as in said Agreement provided and the registered holder, at the time, of this certificate will be enti-* tled, upon receipt thereof by said Trustee and upon surrender hereof and upon compliance by him with the terms and conditions of said allotment, to the securities or other proceeds allotted in respect of said deposited shares under such Plan of Reorganization as may be finally approved in accordance with the provisions of said Agreement. On the conditions in said Agreement specified, said deposited certificates first above mentioned shall be returned to said registered holder upon surrender hereof. This certificate is transferable but only on the books of the Trustee and subject to the terms of said Agreement in that behalf; and the Trustee and all other persons interested in or under said Agreement shall be entitled to treat the registered holder as the absolute owner and beneficiary for all purposes.

....., A. D. 1907.

Each such certificate shall be transferable only on the books of the Trustee by the registered holder thereof in person or by attorney upon surrender of such certificate, duly endorsed or assigned. Each such transfer shall entitle the transferee to all the rights, powers and advantages represented by such certificate of deposit, but no such transfer shall relieve the party making such transfer from any obligation herein expressed.

Second: If, prior to the last day allowed for acceptance of said ordinance by the Railways Company, under the terms of said ordinance or any ordinance amendatory thereof or supplemental thereto, there shall not have been deposited hereunder with the Trustee certificates of stock of said several Companies in the amounts which may be necessary to enable said Railways Company to accept said ordinance, or if said Company shall for any reason fail to accept said ordinance, then the Trustee shall return the stocks deposited hereunder to the holders of the respective certificates of deposit therefor upon surrender of such certificates, duly endorsed or assigned.

Third: In the event that the Railways Company shall accept said ordinance and a plan of reorganization or readjustment shall be approved as in said ordinance and in this agreement provided, then and in that event the Trustee or the Railways Company with the approval of the Trustee, is hereby authorized to enter into any contract or contracts, or to take any action not inconsistent with the provisions of said ordinance or of this agreement for the disposition of all or any part of the beneficial interest appertaining to said shares of stock deposited hereunder which shall or may be necessary to carry into effect the terms of such plan of reorganization and readjustment, provided the Trustee shall receive the stocks, securities or other benefits allotted under such plan in respect of the stocks deposited hereunder for delivery to the holders of certificates of deposit representing such last named stocks, upon performance of the conditions, if any, attached to such delivery by the terms of said plan of reorganization or readjustment, but only in case the said plan shall conform to the conditions and requirements in this agreement set forth.

Fourth: No plan or any modification thereof shall be operative, unless and until the allotment of securities of the Railways Company, or other benefits, to the depositors, as well as any other provisions of said plan (or modification thereof) affecting said depositors shall be approved by Peter S. Grosscup, and by John C. Gray, as being based on the legal rights of said depositors as of the date of the passage of said ordinance under the respective leases to and from said Companies and as being fair and just to each class of depositors relatively to the treatment accorded to every other class of stocks, securities and evidences of indebtedness; and in determining said questions no discrimination against any of said stocks shall be made because of the passage of this ordinance or the deposit of said stocks hereunder, or because of any proceedings heretofore or hereafter taken in the Circuit Court of the United States for the Northern District of Illinois under the amended and supplemental bills filed by the Guaranty Trust Company of New York in said Circuit Court in the three cases of said Guaranty Trust Company of New York vs. the North Chicago Street Railroad Company and the West Chicago Street Railroad Company and the Chicago Union Traction Company, respectively, the said amended and supplemental bills against the North Chicago Street Railroad Company and the West Chicago Street Railroad Company, respectively, having been filed on July 23, 1906, and against the Chicago Union Traction Company on June 30, 1906, or because of the pleadings filed therein in response or pursuant thereto, or because of any action of the Directors of any of the Companies named in this agreement in authorizing or purporting to authorize the filing of such pleadings, or because of any action hereafter taken by any of the Boards of Directors of any of said Companies. Any plan approved in accordance with this agreement shall contain a provision for paying out of the securities and benefits set apart for the stock of said Chicago West Division Railway Company and North Chicago City Railway Company such allowance for expenses and attorneys' fees of depositing stockholders of said companies last named, respectively, as to the said John C. Gray shall seem reasonable and proper. In case of a disagreement between said Peter S. Grosscup and said John C. Gray as to said plan, or any part thereof, then the said Peter S. Grosscup and John C. Gray shall submit the question in disagreement to a third person to be selected by them. In case they fail to agree on such third person then such third person shall be selected by George W. Wickersham and Edward B. Burling. The decision of such three persons, or a majority of them, as to such plan, or any part thereof, shall be final and binding upon all the parties. The fees and expenses of the said Gray and the said third person shall be fixed by the said Gray and shall be paid as one of the expenses of the reorganization.

In case no plan shall be approved as in this agreement provided, then upon the expiration of two hundred and ten days after the passage of said ordinance, the Trustee hereunder shall return the deposited stock of the Chicago West Division Railway Company and North Chicago City Railway Company, respectively, to the holders of certificates issued hereunder upon the surrender thereof properly endorsed. In case a plan shall be approved as in this agreement provided, the deposited stock of said Chicago West Division Railway Company and North Chicago City Railway Company shall nevertheless be returned to the holders of the certificates issued by the Trustee hereunder upon the surrender thereof properly endorsed, unless within a reasonable time (which time shall be fixed by said Gray), the holders of said certificates shall have received or shall have been given an opportunity of receiving the securities or other benefits allotted to them by said plan.

It is further expressly provided that, until holders of certificates representing stock of said two Companies last named shall have received or shall have been given the opportunity of receiving said securities or other benefits, allotted to them by said plan, the right is reserved to such holders to continue or to institute any legal proceedings (which they would have had if such stocks had not been so deposited) for the purpose of protecting or establishing any rights they may have to prevent any sale of the assets of said Companies or change in the legal relations existing between, on the one hand, either of the said two companies last named, and, on the other hand, any of the other Companies in this agreement named, or the City of Chicago, or for the purpose of protecting or establishing any other rights they may have, and until such stockholders shall have received or shall have been given the opportunity of receiving such securities or other benefits, the entire beneficial interest in the stock deposited hereunder of the said Chicago West Division Railway Company and of the North Chicago City Railway Company, including the right to dividends payable thereon, shall remain in the said respective registered holders of certificates representing such stock. And the said Trustee agrees that the certificates of stock of the said Chicago West Division Railway Company and North Cnicago City Railway Company deposited hereunder shall remain in the respective names of the depositors of such depositors of such certificates until that time.

Sixth: Said plan of reorganization and readjustment shall extend to the holders the opportunity mentioned in sub-paragraph (c) of Section 1 of said ordinance of making deposit under said plan of all the stock, bonds and evidences of indebtedness of the North Chicago City Railway Company, the Chicago West Division Railway Company, the Chicago Passenger Railway Company, the West Chicago Street Railroad Tunnel Company, the West Chicago Street Railroad Company, the North Chicago Street Railroad Company and the Chicago Union Traction Company, respectively, and shall determine the stocks, securities or other benefits to be allotted to the depositors of such bonds, stocks or evidences of indebtedness, respectively, and shall specify the conditions upon which the same are to be delivered, and shall make provision for the expenses and compensation of any receivers appointed of the property of any of said corporations and for the expenses of reorganization and readjustment; and shall make all said provisions to such extent and in such manner as may be deemed fair and just by those charged with the formation and approval of such plan; provided, that equal treatment be accorded to the holders of all stocks of the same class deposited hereunder and all bonds or evidences of indebtedness of the same rank and class, but the foregoing provision shall not be construed to prevent the requirement of a cash payment as a condition of deposit under said plan after such time as may be fixed in the plan or pursuant to its terms. Such plan shall also provide that all stocks or securities representing any interest in the funds described in subdivisions (1) and (2) of Section 20 of said ordinance which may be allotted in respect of the bonds, stocks or evidences of indebtedness of any of said corporations in this Article named, to the extent that such bonds, stocks or evidences of indebtedness shall not be deposited under the plan, shall nevertheless be delivered to the Trustee to be held in trust and to be applied by the Trustee under the direction of the Board of Directors of the Railways Company to perfect the title of said Railways Company to the system of street railways mentioned in and authorized by said ordinance and to remove therefrom liens and encumbrances, excepting such as are by said ordinance authorized to be created; and that such stocks, securities or other benefits shall be applied to no other purpose until such title be made complete and free from liens and encumbrances as aforesaid.

Seventh: In case the permission and authority granted to the Railways Company by said ordinance shall cease and determine by reason of the failure of the Railways Company to comply with any of the covenants or conditions of said ordinance, then (subject to the qualifications hereinafter stated) the said shares of stock deposited hereunder and all the beneficial interest appertaining to said stock shall pass to, vest in and become the property of, or be subject to the control and disposition of the City of Chicago, or of such person or persons or corporation as said City shall by ordinance designate, and the Trustee shall deliver the certificates for said stock in its possession to or upon the order of said City; provided, however, that such title to the deposited stocks of the Chicago West Division Railway Company and of the North Chicago City Railway Company shall not pass or vest nor shall possession be so delivered unless the registered holders of the certificates issued by the Trustee hereunder representing such stocks shall have actually received or shall have been given an opportunity of receiving the securities or other benefits awarded to such holders by the plan of reorganization or any modification thereof, which may be finally approved as in Article fourth of this agreement provided; provided, further, that such title to the stocks deposited hereunder of Companies other than said Chicago West Division Railway Company and said North Chicago City Railway Company shall not so pass or vest, nor shall possession be so delivered of any of said certificates except in one or the other of the following events:

(1) In case a plan of reorganization and readjustment shall have been approved, as provided in said ordinance, and stocks or securities or other benefits shall have been delivered to the Trustee, pursuant to said plan, for distribution to the holders of certificates of deposit for such stock.

(2) In case the City of Chicago shall deliver to said Trustee an agreement in writing to the effect that the holders of certificates of deposit for such stock, issued under this agreement, shall share equally in all respects with the holders of outstanding non-deposited stock of said Companies, respectively, in any sum or value which the City, or any licensee of the City, may at any time allow or pay for the assets of said respective Companies.

Eighth: The benefits of this agreement shall be confined strictly to the parties hereto and to the City of Chicago and the same shall not be construed to create any trust or obligation to or in favor of any person or persons or corporation other than the City of Chicago, the Railways Company, the Trustee and the holders from time to time of certificates of deposit issued hereunder.

Ninth: The Railways Company agrees to accept said ordinance in case the amounts of stocks specified in said ordinance or such amounts as the City Council of the City of Chicago may specify shall be deposited hereunder; and it agrees that it will abide by any plan of reorganization approved as in this agreement provided, and will deliver its securities and take all steps and execute instruments and perform all acts which may be provided for by said plan or which to the Trustee may seem necessary or proper for the purpose of carrying out said plan.

The following is the *ordinance running to the Chicago City Railway Company, as passed:

AUTHORIZING THE CHICAGO CITY RAILWAY COMPANY TO CONSTRUCT, MAINTAIN AND OPERATE A SYSTEM OF STREET RAILWAYS IN STREETS AND PUBLIC WAYS OF THE CITY OF CHICAGO.

PREAMBLE.

WHEREAS, The Chicago City Railway Company, hereinafter called the Company, now maintains and operates a system of street railways in the streets and public ways in the south division of the City of Chicago; and

WHEREAS, The said City desires, for the proper accommodation of the public, to provide for the reconstruction, re-equipment and extension of the said street railway system now maintained and operated by the Company and for the unified operation of said street railway system together with the street railway system now maintained and operated by the Receivers of the Chicago Union Traction Company, and to be in a position as soon as practicable freely to deal with the subject of transportation in its streets as a whole, and to fix and determine the definite terms and conditions upon which the said City shall have the right to purchase and take over at any time the street railway system of the Company; now, therefore,

Be it ordained by the City Council of the City of Chicago:

AUTHORITY.

SECTION 1. That in consideration of the acceptance by the Company of this ordinance, subject to all of the provisions, conditions, requirements and limitations hereof, consent, permission and authority are hereby granted to the Company, its lessees, successors and assigns, to construct, reconstruct, maintain and operate a system of street railways in, upon and along the streets and public ways or portions thereof, in the City of Chicago, set out in the schedule marked "Exhibit A" hereto attached and made a part hereof.

The said consent, permission and authority hereby granted to said Company, its lessees, successors and assigns, to construct, reconstruct, maintain and operate the said street railways in, upon and along 22d street from the east bank of the Chicago River to Wabash avenue, are granted subject to all of the rights, franchises and privileges of the Chicago General Railway Company upon said 22d street between the points mentioned, under and by virtue of a lease of said tracks from the Chicago City Railway Company to the Chicago General Railway Company dated July 5, 1897; but shall wholly cease and determine on the 8th day of February, A. D. 1912, and are subject at all times to all the provisions, conditions and limitations of this ordinance, including the right of the City or its licensee to purchase and acquire said tracks and all of the rights hereby granted, at the times and upon the terms hereinafter provided.

The said consent, permission and authority hereby granted to said Company, its lessees, successors and assigns, to construct, reconstruct, maintain and operate the said street railways in, upon and along Main street, from Archer avenue to 31st street, and Laurel street from 31st street to 39th street, are granted subject to all of the rights, franchises and privileges of the Chicago General Railway Company upon said Main and Laurel streets between the points mentioned, under and by virtue of a lease of said tracks from the Chicago City Railway Company to the Chicago General Railway Company, dated October 1, 1897, but shall wholly cease and determine on the 4th day of February, A. D. 1915, and are subject at all times to all the provisions, conditions and limitations of this ordinance, including the right of the City or its licensee to purchase and acquire said tracks and all of the rights hereby granted, at the times and upon the terms hereinafter provided.

For the purpose of carrying into effect the desire of the said City to provide for the unified operation of said street railways, an ordinance similar to this ordinance in general provisions and character, running to the Chicago Railways Company, as grantee, covering the system of street railways now maintained and operated by the Receivers of the Chicago Union Traction Company in the north, west, and a portion of the south divisions of said City, has been presented for passage concurrently with this ordinance, and it is hereby expressly provided that, upon the passage and acceptance of said last mentioned ordinance, then in all cases where this ordinance and the said ordinance relating to the street railways now maintained and operated by the Receivers of the Chicago Union Traction Company confer grants upon more than one company in the same part of any street, the rights granted to the respective companies in such part of any street shall be construed to be for a mutual and joint use of tracks, and the rights of each company therein shall be the same as though the said ordinances making such grants had been passed and had taken effect concurrently, without regard to the actual dates of their respective passage and acceptance. Whenever such tracks are to be used jointly, they shall be constructed, maintained and operated at the equal joint expense of the said companies.

RECONSTRUCTION.

SECTION 2. The Company shall proceed at once to reconstruct portions of its track and roadbed and put its entire street railway system, plant and equipment in first-class condition, in full compliance with the specifications and provisions for such work in this ordinance and in the Exhibit hereto attached, marked "Exhibit B" and made a part of this ordinance, with the same force and effect as though herein fully set forth, and to operate and maintain said system in accordance with the provisions of this ordinance and of said "Exhibit B."

Such provisions of this ordinance as are in the nature of specifications shall be given at all times full force and effect, except in cases, if any, in which they conflict with express provisions of "Exhibit B," in which cases the latter shall prevail. The provisions of this ordinance and those of "Exhibit B," however, shall be construed together, and both, so far as practicable, be given full effect throughout the life of this grant.

EXTENSIONS.

SECTION 3. The said City shall have the right, subject to the limitations contained in this ordinance, at any time to require the Company to make extensions of and additions to the lines of street railway enumerated in said "Exhibit A." Such extensions and additions shall be made under the supervision of the Board of Supervising Engineers, as hereinafter in Section 7 provided, and the cost thereof shall be determined as provided in said section. The character and quality of such work shall comply with the specifications set forth in said "Exhibit B," so far as the same may be applicable thereto.

The Company shall promptly and within a reasonable time after the passage of this ordinance construct and equip the extensions of its street railway system provided for in Exhibit "A," and also in Section 36 hereof, subject to the provisions of said Section, and shall operate same as a part of its system in conformity with the provisions of this ordinance, and at any time after three (3) years from the acceptance of this ordinance, the Company shall upon the order of the City Council of the City, construct and equip such additional extensions as may be required by the City and shall operate the same as a part of its system in conformity with the provisions of this ordinance; provided, that the Company shall not be obligated hereby to construct and operate any such additional extensions in any street or public way nearer any then existing parallel street railway tracks of the Company than one-half mile, and that the Company shall not be obligated hereby to construct more than four miles of double track railway or eight miles of single track railway in any one calendar year during the term of this grant.

The Company shall, however, upon the order of the City Council of the City, construct, equip and operate such extensions of its street railway system in addition to those hereinabove provided for as may be required by the City Council subject to the conditions and limitations contained in Section 25 of this ordinance.

The Company shall not be authorized or obligated to construct any extension of its street railway system upon streets on which street railways are not located when this ordinance goes into effect until the City has granted to the Company whatever authority in addition to this ordinance may be necessary to comply with the frontage consent laws of the State of Illinois.

MOTIVE POWER.

SECTION 4. The motive power to be used in the operation of said street railways shall be electricity, applied by the overhead trolley system or otherwise, as more particularly set forth in said "Exhibit B"; provided that the said City (subject to the limitations contained in Section 25 hereof), at any time after three years from the date of the acceptance of this ordinance, may require by ordinance, that the Company shall operate under the provisions of this ordinance any of its street railways herein authorized by electric power transmitted through working conductors carried in conduits below the surface of the street and between and underneath the rails, otherwise known as the underground trolley system, and shall thereafter cease to operate the same by overhead trolley.

USE OF POLES, CONDUITS, ETC.

SECTION 5. The Company may use its trolley poles, feeder poles, trolley wires, feeder wires and the conduits authorized and provided for in said "Exhibit B," for all purposes solely connected with the operation of its street railways, such as power, light, heat and telephonic and other signals. For such purposes the Company may connect such conduits, poles and wires with its transmission and feeder wires, power plants, substations, car houses, repair shops or other property of the Company, and with any transmission, feeder or other wires of any other individual or corporation.

JOINT USE WITH THE CITY.

The said City shall have the right, without the payment of any compensation therefor, during the life of this grant, to use the poles of the Company to carry the signal, telephone, telegraph and electric light wires and lamps of the said City. The transmission wires of the said City for such purposes shall be placed on poles of the Company, on that side of each street or way (where poles are located on both sides thereof) designated by the said Board of Supervising Engineers, without cost or expense to the Company, but the Company shall repair and maintain its poles as one of the operating expenses of the said street railway system under this ordinance; provided, that the said City shall indemnify and save harmless the Company against and from all damages, judgments, costs or expenses which the Company may suffer by reason of any negligence of the said City in installing, maintaining or using its said wires and lamps upon said poles.

SUBWAYS.

SECTION 6. The Company hereby gives to said City and said City reserves the power by ordinance to require the Company to join with the Chicago Railways Company and with the said City in defraying the cost of the construction of a system of subways for the joint use of the said companies as down town terminals of their street railway systems, and for the use of said City and of its licensees, the legal title to said subways to be in said City, subject to the rights of the said companies under this ordinance, it being, however, an express condition of the Company being required to join in defraying the cost of such construction of such system of subways, that said subway system and the extensions thereof shall not be used for street railway purposes during the life of this grant except by the street railway systems of said companies; provided, that the companies shall not be required to contribute to the cost of said subway system any amount in excess of the pro rata cost of that part of said subway system which is to be devoted to the use of said companies or either of them and that the total amount which the said companies shall be required to contribute toward the construction of said system of subways shall not exceed the sum of five million dollars ($5,000,000), exclusive of the cost of (1) reconstructing the present tunnels under the Chicago River, (2) or of converting said tunnels into a part of said system of subways. Two-fifths of that part of the cost of the said subways (exclusive of the tunnels under the Chicago River), payable by said companies shall be borne by the Company and three-fifths of the said cost shall be borne by said Chicago Railways Company; and provided, further, the Company shall not be obligated to join in defraying the cost of the construction of such subway system until (1) the said City shall authorize the construction of said subway system by an ordinance which shall prescribe the location, character and extent of said subway system and the plans and specifications therefor, which plans and specifications shall include provisions specifying the portions thereof to be devoted to the use of said companies, respectively, and to the use of the said City and its licensees, and regulating the manner of such uses, and specifying the share of the cost of such subway system to be borne by said companies and the extent of the user to which each said company shall be entitled in that part of said subway system devoted to street railway purposes, and until, (2) the Board of Supervising Engineers shall approve the location, character and extent of and the plans and specifications for such subway system. The limitation of five million dollars as above defined shall apply to the subway system above mentioned, but shall have no application to the extensions and additions herein next mentioned.

When said subway system shall have been fully completed (but not before the expiration of five years from and after the acceptance of this ordinance) the Company (subject to the limitations contained in Section 25 hereof) may be required by ordinance to join with the said Chicago Railways Company and with the said City in defraying the cost of the construction of extensions and additions to such subway system and the Company agrees that it will pay to the said City the pro rata cost of constructing that portion of such extensions which is to be devoted to the use of the Company and its proportionate part of the pro rata cost of constructing that portion of such extensions which is to be devoted to the joint use of the said companies; provided, however, the Company shall not be obligated to join in defraying the cost of the construction of such extensions and additions to said subway system until (1) the said City shall authorize the construction of said extensions and additions by an ordinance which shall prescribe the location, character and extent of said extensions and additions and the plans and specifications therefor, which plans and specifications shall include provisions specifying the portions to be devoted to the use of said companies and to the use of said City and its licensees, and regulating the manner of such uses and specifying the part of the total estimated cost of such extensions and additions to be borne by the said companies, respectively, and until (2) the location, character and extent of said extensions and additions and the plans and specifications therefor shall be approved by the said Board of Supervising Engineers.

The provisions of this ordinance under which the said Company obligates itself to contribute to the cost of constructing subways and extensions of subways and fixing the conditions under which the said Company is so obligated shall not have the effect or be construed to have the effect of depriving the said City of any right which the said City may have or acquire (otherwise than by virtue of this ordinance) to construct subways or extensions thereof, or to compel said Company to contribute to the cost of such subways or extensions, or to compel said Company to use the subways in whole or in part, in connection with its street railways or to fix the terms and conditions of such use. By the acceptance of this ordinance the Company admits that the City has the right and authority to construct subways and extensions of subways in the streets and parts of streets described in "Exhibit A" and in all other streets or parts of streets in which the Company is now or hereafter authorized to construct or operate street railways and the Company by such acceptance consents to the exercise of such right by the City; but the Company by the acceptance of this ordinance shall not be construed as admitting that the City now has any right otherwise than by virtue of this ordinance to compel said Company to contribute to the cost of any subway or extension thereof, or to compel said Company to use subways in whole or in part in connection with its street railways or to fix the terms and conditions of such use, or that it could acquire such right, and the exercise by the City of any such right shall not impair or in anywise affect the rights of the Company under the provisions of this ordinance in that part of any subway, or extensions thereof, to the cost of constructing which the Company shall have contributed.

Nothing in this ordinance contained shall be construed to give the said City the power to require the Company in case of the construction of said subway system, or extensions and additions thereto, and the placing of its railway tracks therein, or in a part thereof, to cease the operation of its railway, during the life of this grant, upon the surface of any of the streets or parts of streets under which the said subway system, or said extensions and additions thereto, may be constructed, so long as or whenever the City shall permit the construction or operation of any street railways upon the surface of such streets or parts of streets, respectively.

It is expressly provided that in case the capacity of that portion devoted to street railway purposes, of any subways or extensions of subways, constructed under the provisions of this section of this ordinance, shall at any time be greater than necessarily and properly required for the use of the said company or companies which have contributed to the cost of said subways or extensions thereof in the operation of their street railways therein, the City may authorize or require any other Company operating elevated railways in said City to use said subways and extensions, or parts thereof, to the extent of such surplus capacity, but only to such extent, provided that such Company shall pay a reasonable rental for such use by it, which rental shall be apportioned between the parties who have contributed to the cost of constructing the portion of such subways or extensions so used by such other company in proportion to the extent of their respective contributions; and the portion of such rental so paid to the Chicago City Railway Company shall be considered and treated as part of its gross receipts, to be disposed of under the provisions of this ordinance as other gross receipts from the operation of the street railways of said Company are to be disposed of. The City shall have the right to use the said subways and extensions for any elevated railway belonging to said City to the same extent and upon the same terms that it may authorize or require their use by any elevated railway company.

CITY TO HAVE SUPERVISION OF REHABILITATION.

SECTION 7. All of the construction, re-construction, equipment, re-equipment, extensions and additions to plant and property provided for or required by this ordinance or the Exhibits thereto, including underground trolleys, new lines, extensions, and other additions to plant and property (but not subways or extensions thereof), shall be done, performed and acquired by the Company under the direction and supervision of said Board of Supervising Engineers, and the cost and expense thereof shall be borne and paid by the Company, but no contract, subcontract or payment therefor shall be made without the written approval of said Board.

The Company shall purchase materials and equipment, and employ engineers, superintendents, clerks, foremen and workmen and shall pay all expenses of every nature, including legal expenses necessary to the proper, complete and prompt performance of the above mentioned work, upon the lowest advantageous terms and subject to the approval of the said Board of Supervising Engineers, and to the actual amount paid by the Company in and about carrying out each and all of the requirements of this Section, shall be added ten per cent. of such amount as a fair and proper allowance to the Company for conducting the said work and furnishing said equipment and five per cent. for its services in procuring funds therefor, including brokerage.

The said Board of Supervising Engineers shall, on or before the fifteenth day of each month, make a report in writing, dated the first day of such month, to the City Comptroller of the amount of money actually expended during the previous month by the Company with the approval of said Board of Supervising Engineers in and about carrying out the requirements of this Section together with the percentages of such amount in the next preceding paragraph provided for, and all amounts contributed by the Company to the cost of the said subway system or extensions thereof together with five per cent. of the amounts so contributed; and the interest provided in Section 24 hereof as a deduction from gross receipts shall begin to run upon the total amount of each such certificate from and after the date thereof.

The total amount so certified by the said Board of Supervising Engineers (including the said additional percentages thereof as hereinabove provided) shall be final and binding upon both parties hereto and shall be conclusively held and taken as the cost of the said construction, reconstruction, equipment, re-equipment, extensions and additions to plant and property, including subways, underground trolleys, new lines, and other additions to plant and property, which shall be paid by the said City upon the taking over of the said street railway system as in this ordinance provided, except that said Board may at any time within sixty (60) days after the date of any such certificate correct any error or omission therein.

The said Board of Supervising Engineers shall have power to determine what work shall be treated as construction, reconstruction, equipment, re-equipment, extensions, new lines, underground trolleys or additions to plant or property to be paid for by the Company out of the capital funds to be provided by it for that purpose, and what shall be treated as maintenance, repairs and renewals, to be paid for out of the gross receipts of the Company from the operation of the street railway system hereby authorized. But any such determination of said Board shall be governed by the following provisions:

During the three (3) year period of "Immediate Rehabilitation" seventy (70) per cent. of the gross receipts shall be set apart and shall be used so far as required in defraying the operating expenses, including maintenance and repairs, and the residue of said seventy (70) per cent. shall be applied to the cost of renewals and no part of the cost of any renewal paid for out of such seventy (70) per cent. shall be charged to additional capital, and all expenditures for renewals during said three (3) years in excess of such residue of said seventy (70) per cent. shall be charged to capital account.

After such three (3) year period of "Immediate Rehabilitation," the cost of renewals shall be paid as provided in Section 16 hereof, but such expenditures (and only such expenditures) as are made for the purpose of extensions of or additions to property shall be thereafter considered as additions to capital, provided, however, that in the replacement of any principal part of the property, either existing or hereafter acquired, there shall be charged to capital the excess amount that the new property cost over the original cost of the property displaced, excepting that the value of property contained in the appraisal inventory of the property of the Company, referred to in Paragraph 1 of Section 20 hereof, shall be used instead of first cost for all property listed in such appraisal inventory.

REMOVAL OF TRACKS.

Section 8. The Company shall forthwith remove all tracks now owned or operated by it which it is not expressly authorized by this ordinance hereafter to maintain and operate. If it shall hereafter cease to operate over any of its tracks or any portion thereof, it shall remove such unused tracks upon the order of the City Council. Failure to operate cars for the carriage of passengers at least once each way within every hour of each day between the hours of six (6) A. M. and eight (8) P. M. over any part of a street or public place in which tracks of the Company are laid, shall be treated as a cessation of operation of its tracks in such part of street or public place within the meaning of this Section, unless such operation is interfered with by unavoidable accidents, labor strikes or litigation brought without connivance of the Company; provided, however, that the foregoing provisions of this Section shall not be construed to require or authorize the removal of curves or turn-outs or of connecting tracks specifically authorized by this ordinance or the exhibits hereto to be constructed and maintained for use during rush hours or for emergency use in case of fire or accident, or such tracks as may be necessary for a connection with the Company's property used for street railway purposes.

The City shall have the right by ordinance to require the Company to remove any tracks or portions thereof, the further maintenance of which is at any time no longer warranted by the traffic, or reasonably required in the operation of the said street railway system, provided that the Company shall not be required to remove such tracks but may maintain or reconstruct and operate the same during the life of this grant so long as or whenever the City shall permit the construction or operation of any street railways upon the streets or parts of streets respectively from which such tracks have been so required to be removed and in every case of removal of tracks as aforesaid, the Company shall restore the street or public way to the condition of the other portions thereof, all at its own cost, such cost to be treated as an operating expense.

If the Company shall fail within a reasonable time (not to exceed 30 days) to remove any such tracks on order of the Commissioner of Public Works, the said City may remove them, charging the expense thereof to the Company; provided, however, that nothing in this section contained shall relieve the Company from its obligations at all times to render adequate service on its street railways.

RIGHT TO SELL UNNECESSARY PROPERTY.

SECTION 9. The Company shall not hereafter sell any of the property belonging to it at the time of the passage of this ordinance (except that described in Exhibit "D") or thereafter acquired by it as an addition to or extension of, or for use in connection with its said street railways, except as the same may become unnecessary or unadapted to the proper operation and maintenance of said street railways under the terms of this ordinance, and before making any such sale the Company shall secure the written approval of such sale and of the amount and terms thereof by the said Board of Supervising Engineers, and such written approval of said Board shall be conclusive of the right of the Company to transfer complete title to the purchaser, who shall not be obliged to look to the application of the proceeds of such sale.

In the event of any such sale made during the period of "Immediate Rehabilitation," the proceeds shall be deducted from the amount allowed to the Company for such reconstruction, and in the event of a sale after such "Immediate Rehabilitation" is completed, the proceeds thereof shall be deposited with the depositary or depositaries selected under the provisions of Section 16 of this ordinance and shall constitute a part of and an addition to the reserve fund provided for in said section for Renewals and Depreciation.

SERVICE REGULATIONS.

SECTION 10. The Company hereby agrees to comply with all reasonable regulations of the service of the said street railway system which may be prescribed from time to time by the City Council of said City and that the approval of any such regulation by the Board of Supervising Engineers shall be binding upon the Company (but not upon the City) as to the reasonableness thereof.

STYLE OF CARS.

All passenger cars operated by the Company shall be used for the carriage of passengers only. All such cars hereafter built or purchased shall be of the best and most approved finish, style and design to be approved by the Board of Supervising Engineers; they shall have center aisles; they shall be without running footboards along the sides, and shall be equipped with sufficient motor capacity. Cross-seats facing forward shall be used, but longitudinal seats, each seating not more than four passengers, may be used at the ends of the cars. All closed cars shall be vestibuled, and shall be of the style and description specified and provided in said "Exhibit B," and at least one hundred fifty (150) cars of such description shall be acquired by and placed in operation upon the tracks of the Company within one (1) year from the passage of this ordinance, exclusive of delays occasioned by strikes or other causes beyond the control of the Company.

PUSH BUTTONS.

All cars operated by the Company shall be supplied with a sufficient number of electric bells, connections and push buttons to enable passengers without inconvenience to notify the conductor of their desire to leave the car.

FENDERS.

All cars shall be equipped with efficient and serviceable fender devices, headlights and sand-boxes.

BRAKES.

Each double-truck car shall be equipped with two sets of brakes, one of which shall be a hand-brake and the other an efficient power-brake of modern, improved type.

CLEANLINESS AND VENTILATION.

Said cars shall at all times be kept clean and in good repair, and shall be thoroughly ventilated.

HEATING.

The said cars shall be kept heated at the temperature of fifty (50) degrees Fahrenheit, as nearly as practicable, and each car shall contain a standard thermometer appropriately placed to enable passengers to see that this provision is complied with.

LIGHTING.

All cars shall be kept well and sufficiently illuminated by electric light or other illuminants approved by said Board of Supervising Engineers.

SIGNS.

Each car shall bear appropriate and conspicuous signs upon both its sides and ends so placed as to indicate, both day and night, the route and destination of such car. At night such signs shall be illuminated.

ADVERTISEMENTS.

The Company may permit advertisements in its cars, but no advertisement shall be placed upon the outside of any car, and only the space between the top of the windows and the transom of the car shall be used for advertisements on the inside of cars.

FUNERAL CARS AND MAIL CARS.

The Company is hereby authorized and permitted to operate funeral cars, and separate cars for the use of the United States Post Office Department, for the carriage of mail.

SINGLE CARS ONLY.

Every electric car shall be in charge and under the control of two competent men, a motorman and a conductor, and (after the expiration of one year from the date of the passage of this ordinance, or at such earlier time as the Company shall be able to acquire the necessary rolling stock to enable it to abandon trailers) shall be operated singly.

RATES OF FARE.

SECTION 11. The Company, except as to chartered cars to private parties and as in this ordinance provided, shall be entitled to charge passengers, during the term of this ordinance, the following rates of fare, to wit:

For a continuous trip in one general direction, within the present or future limits of the City, over its street railways covered by this ordinance and all extensions thereof (whether owned, leased or operated by it) the sum of five cents (5c) for each passenger twelve years of age or over, and three cents (3c) for each passenger under twelve (12) years of age; provided that children under seven (7) years of age accompanied by a person paying fare shall be permitted to ride free.

UNIVERSAL TRANSFERS.

Every such passenger may demand and upon such demand shall receive from the conductor of the car upon which he first takes passage, or from some authorized agent of the Company, a transfer. Said transfer shall entitle such passenger to ride upon any other line of said street railway system owned, leased or operated by the Company or any other line of street railway operated by any other corporation from which the Company is by this ordinance obligated to accept transfers, which connects with, crosses, intersects or comes within a distance of two hundred (200) feet of the line of said street railway upon which the passenger first took passage and paid his fare. But this obligation shall not apply to any connecting point in the south division of the City of Chicago north of Twelfth street, except that upon the completion and operation of subways under the provisions of this ordinance, transfers shall be given at all points within said subways where lines of railway of any such corporation or corporations connect with each other.

The payment of a single fare shall not entitle a passenger to reverse his general direction of travel. If necessary to enable a passenger to reach his destination the conductor or other authorized agent of the Company shall issue without additional charge, a transfer upon a transfer, the same as required upon payment of a cash fare; the intention being that for a single fare the Company shall carry any passenger for a single continuous ride over any of the said lines of street railway owned, operated or leased by it, within the limits of the said City, so long as such ride is in the same general direction, although some of the lines necessary to be used by such passenger in arriving at his destination intersect or cross one another, or do not conform to such direction.

In every instance the transfer given to a passenger may designate the point or place of transfer, and the same must be used at such point or place, within a reasonable time, not exceeding fifteen (15) minutes after such point or place is reached by the car from which the passenger is transferred, provided that within said fifteen minutes a car shall pass such point or place of transfer in the direction and upon the route indicated by said transfer; but if no car shall pass such point within said time the passenger shall have the right to take the first available car passing such point in the direction indicated upon the passenger's transfer. A passenger upon any car delayed through the fault, negligence or inability of the Company shall be entitled to receive a transfer to a car upon the nearest line of the Company going in the same general direction as the delayed car.

The Company shall also on its cars accept and honor as fares, transfers issued to passengers upon any line of street railway covered or authorized by the said ordinance to the Chicago Railways Company, hereinabove referred to as presented for passage in the City Council of said City, concurrently with this ordinance, which connects with any of said lines of the Company, under the same conditions and with like effect as though both lines of street railway were owned by the Company and the transfers were issued under the foregoing provisions of this ordinance, but this obligation shall not apply to any connecting points north of Twelfth street and east of the south branch of the Chicago River and south of the main Chicago River, except that upon the completion and operation of subways under the provisions of this ordinance, transfers shall be given by and between said companies at all points within said subways where their lines of railway connect with each other.

The Company shall also accept and honor as fares transfers issued by the Chicago General Railway Company at all points where the railway lines of the Company connect with or intersect the lines of said Chicago General Railway Company, constructed and in operation at the time of the passage of this ordinance, with like effect as though both said lines of street railway were owned by the Company and the transfers were issued under the foregoing provisions of this ordinance; upon condition, however, that said Chicago General Railway Company shall accept and honor at such transfer points, as fares, transfers issued by the Company.

The said proposed arrangement contemplates that in every instance the street railway company accepting any such transfer shall give to the passenger presenting it the same accommodations and the same transfers, if requested, to its other line or lines, as such passenger would be entitled to receive if he had paid a cash fare. The Company shall also exchange transfers with all existing street car lines operating in the City of Chicago, not heretofore mentioned, under reasonable regulations and at all points of connection between such lines and the lines of the Company, after such time as said several franchises of said other lines now operating shall have expired and shall be extended or renewed.

The Company, acting by itself or in conjunction with the other companies to which the provisions of this Section apply, may, with the approval of the said Board of Supervising Engineers, adopt reasonable rules and regulations not inconsistent with the provisions of this ordinance, for the transfer of passengers as provided for herein, and for the prevention of the fraudulent use of transfer privileges.

The purchase or acquisition by the City or its licensee of any street railway or railways of any company other than the Chicago City Railway Company shall not affect or impair the obligations of the Company under the provisions of this ordinance with regard to transfers and through routes in connection with, or over the line or lines so purchased or acquired, but the same shall thereafter continue in full force and effect.

NO PASSES: EMPLOYES, POLICEMEN AND FIREMEN FREE.

SECTION 12. No passes of any kind or description shall be issued or given to any person, and no person, except employes of the Company, policemen and firemen, respectively, in full uniform, shall be permitted to ride upon any street railway without the payment of fare; provided that the Company may issue to its employes free tickets for use while engaged in the performance of their duties, and may permit them to ride free when wearing an official badge of the Company conspicuously in view. The Company shall keep a record of the number of such free tickets and to whom issued.

MAIL CARRIERS.

In the event that the United States Post Office Department shall pay to the Company a sum of money based upon the system of sales of tickets in effect between the Post Office Department and the Company for the use of letter carriers during the year 1906, the said amount of money to be not less than Ten Thousand, One Hundred, Thirty-seven Dollars and Seventy-five Cents ($10,137.75) per annum, with proportionate increase in said amount for any increase in the number of letter carriers employed in the City of Chicago over the number of such carriers so employed in the year 1906, then the Company shall carry on its street railways United States letter carriers, in full uniform, at all times, without the payment of fare.

THROUGH ROUTES.

SECTION 13. The Company will co-operate with any corporation operating the street railway in Halsted street, from O'Neil street north, to operate a through line of cars in said street. Whenever the said City shall so direct and shall grant to the Company and to any corporation operating a street railway north of the South Branch of the Chicago River in Western avenue a license or franchise to connect their lines in said avenue, the Company shall co-operate with such other corporation to operate a through line of cars in said avenue; also, whenever the said City shall grant to the Company and to any corporation operating a street railway north of the South Branch of the Chicago River in Kedzie avenue a license or franchise to connect their lines in said avenue, the Company will co-operate with such other corporation to operate a through line of cars in said avenue; and, also, whenever the said City shall grant to the Company and to any corporation operating a street railway in Ashland avenue north of the South Branch of the Chicago River a license or franchise to connect their lines in said avenue, the Company shall co-operate with such other corporation to operate a through line of cars in said avenue; and said corporations shall thereafter operate and maintain said through lines of cars in the said streets and avenues, respectively; and the Company agrees to obtain forthwith the right to operate its cars over the street railways on Kedzie avenue between Thirty-first street and Twenty-second street and on Ashland avenue between Archer avenue and Twenty-second street, from said Chicago General Railway Company, and to use that right in the establishment of through routes, as in this ordinance provided, so long as any rights of said Chicago General Railway Company in said streets shall continue. But nothing in this ordinance contained shall be construed as enlarging or extending any right of said Chicago General Railway Company in or over any of the streets of the City; provided, that the Company shall only be required to operate said through lines across or over any river or canal, when the said City or some third party shall provide and maintain a bridge across the same upon which it may operate its cars.

The Company will co-operate with any corporation or corporations operating such of the street railway lines now operated by the Receivers of the Chicago Union Traction Company as may be parts of the through routes in this ordinance or in "Exhibit C" referred to in establishing and maintaining through lines of cars over the street railway lines of the Company and the street railway lines of the Union Traction system entering the south division of the said City, north of Twelfth street, which shall carry passengers from the south division of the said City to the other two divisions of the said City, or in the reverse directions, through the portion of the south division of said City north of Twelfth street, for a single fare.

As many cars shall be operated upon said through lines as the traffic shall require and warrant.

The parties now concerned have agreed upon certain through routes which are particularly described in "Exhibit C," which is attached hereto and made a part hereof, with the same force and effect as if herein fully set out.

The Company may establish other through routes from time to time and may discontinue the same, if and when the traffic warrants such establishment or discontinuance; but no through route specifically established by this ordinance and said Exhibit "C" shall be discontinued without the consent of the City Council of said City, and the City may by ordinance at any time require the Company to re-establish any through route and to establish new and additional through routes whenever the traffic warrants or requires such establishment or re-establishment; provided, however, that if the Company shall consider that the traffic does not in fact warrant or require the establishment or re-establishment of any through route so required by the City to be established or re-established, then in such case it shall be the duty of the Board of Supervising Engineers, upon demand either of the City or of the Company to furnish the certificate of said Board certifying as to whether or not, in the opinion of said Board, the traffic does warrant or require the establishment or re-establishment of such through route, and such certificate of the Board of Supervising Engineers shall be prima facie evidence as to whether, in fact, the traffic does or does not warrant or require the establishment or re-establishment of such through route; and the obligation of the Company in respect to such routes shall be governed by such certificate pending a judicial determination of its obligations in respect to the establishment or re-establishment of any such through route under this ordinance.

The through routes herein mentioned shall be established and put in operation immediately after the necessary reconstruction of the tracks covered by such routes.

To carry out the establishment of the through lines provided for in this section, the Company will enter into a reasonable operating agreement approved by the said Board of Supervising Engineers, with any other corporation or corporations concerned, whenever required by the said City. If the Company and the corporation or corporations operating the lines of street railway constituting said through routes, or any of them, shall be unable or fail to agree upon terms as between themselves for establishing, maintaining and operating all of said through routes within sixty (60) days after the passage of this ordinance, then and in such case it shall be the duty of the Board of Supervising Engineers to fix and determine the basis and terms, as between said Company and said corporation or corporations, upon which said through routes shall be established, maintained and operated and to notify each of the companies operating the lines of street railway constituting said through routes of said basis and terms, and thereupon it shall be the duty of the Company to proceed forthwith to establish, maintain and operate said through routes upon the basis and terms so fixed and determined by said Board of Supervising Engineers. Said companies may by agreement (with the approval of said Board of Supervising Engineers) modify such basis and terms or they failing to agree, the Board of Supervising Engineers may from time to time modify said basis and terms as to said Board shall seem fit and just.

Passengers upon the through cars operated upon any through routes, while traveling over the tracks of each company shall be entitled to the same facilities as to transfers as such companies shall be required to give to their own passengers paying cash fares.

STREET SPRINKLING AND CLEANING.

SECTION 14. The Company shall sprinkle, sweep, keep clean and free from snow that portion of each of the streets occupied by its right-of-way, as provided in "Exhibit B," and if it shall be found practicable to have the streets occupied by its tracks swept and sprinkled their entire width by the Company, or to have street sweepings, garbage or other refuse removed by means of street cars at night, the Company shall perform said service, or so much thereof as shall prove practicable, when so ordered by the Mayor and Commissioner of Public Works, and it shall receive for such service reasonable compensation. In case the Company is called upon to remove street sweepings or other refuse, the said City shall furnish suitable and convenient dumping grounds and permit the connection of the Company's tracks therewith. The Company shall have the right to carry on suitable cars the snow required by this ordinance to be removed by it, and also, materials for its own use or for the use of the said City, and to connect its tracks and wires with property necessary to be used for such purposes.

STREET PAVING.

GROOVED RAILS.

MAINTENANCE, REPAIRS, RENEWALS AND DEPRECIATION.

SECTION 16. After the expiration of the three (3) year period of reconstruction and re-equipment, particularly required by the terms of said "Exhibit B," under the heading of "Immediate Rehabilitation" and until the rights conferred upon the Company by this ordinance are terminated by the purchase of the said street railway system by the said City or its licensee or by reason of the default of the Company or otherwise, the Company at all times shall maintain the said street railway system and its entire equipment, plant and appurtenances (including pavement and any subways or extensions thereof, together with their appurtenances and equipment, which may be built under the provisions of this ordinance) in first class condition, by making from time to time such expenditures thereon for maintenance, repairs and renewals, as may be necessary or appropriate to give to the public first class street railway service in all respects. To this end, the Company shall make the following expenditures:

(1) The Company shall expend for maintenance and repairs during each and every year that the Company continues to operate said street railway system after the expiration of the said three (3) year period of "Immediate Rehabilitation," at least a sum equal to six (6) per cent. of the gross receipts for the particular year, and if the said amount is not so expended for the said purpose by the Company during any one year, then at the end of such year the unexpended portion thereof shall be deposited in a fund, appropriately designated, with one or more of the banks or trust companies authorized to act as depositaries of such funds, under the terms and subject to the conditions of this ordinance (herein referred to as the depositary) for the purpose of being used whenever necessary for such maintenance and repairs.

The said depositaries or depositary shall make payment out of said fund upon the order of the Company, countersigned by the said Board of Supervising Engineers.

(2) On or before the fifth (5th) day of each and every month of each and every year that the Company continues to operate said street railway system after the expiration of said three (3) year period of "Immediate Rehabilitation," the Company shall deposit with one or more of the said depositaries in a separate fund, appropriately designated, a sum equal to eight (8) per cent. of the gross receipts of said street railways and property, which shall constitute a reserve fund, for taking care of renewals and depreciation of said street railways and property for the preceding month; and out of the said fund the Board of Supervising Engineers shall from time to time authorize the payment by the Company of such amounts as are necessary to pay for renewals of the said street railways and property, the portion of said fund remaining unexpended to continue in said fund as a provision for the depreciation of said street railways and property; and shall be disposed of as hereinafter provided. No payments shall be made by said Company out of said fund except on the written certificate of the Board of Supervising Engineers for renewals, which are hereby defined to be the replacement of any principal part of said street railways or of their equipment or appurtenances; and the Board of Supervising Engineers shall determine by classifications made from time to time what particular items of expenditure shall be considered as renewals and what particular items of expenditure shall be considered as maintenance and repairs under the provisions of this ordinance.

The whole or any portion of such reserve fund for maintenance and repairs may be used for maintenance and repairs in addition to the annual expenditure for maintenance and repairs. The fixing of the said amount herein as the minimum amount to be expended annually for maintenance and repairs, and the fixing of the said amount herein as the minimum amount to be deposited for renewals and depreciation, shall not be held or considered as lessening or limiting in any way the obligation of the Company to expend whatever sum or sums may be necessary to be expended for maintenance and repairs and to expend whatever sum or sums may be necessary for renewals, to keep the said street railway system and equipment in first class condition in every respect and at all times.

The amounts expended or deposited respectively as reserve funds, under the foregoing provisions of this section, shall be considered a part of the Operating Expenses of the street railway system hereby authorized, but in the event that the said street railway system shall be purchased by the said City or its licensee at any time under the provisions of this ordinance, the amount then on deposit in each of said reserve funds, or due to be deposited therein at the time of such purchase, shall be turned over to and become the property of the said City or of its said licensee.

The obligation herein assumed by the Company as to the maintenance, repairs and renewals of subways and extensions thereof, shall be held to be confined to that portion of any such subways or extensions, together with the structures and the appurtenances and equipment thereof, which may be used by or be subject to the use of, the said Company under the provisions of this ordinance, and to its fair proportionate share of the cost of maintenance, repairs and renewals of that part of any such subway or extensions or the appurtenances or equipment thereof, which may be used by or be subject to the use of the Company jointly with the said City or its licensees or with the said Chicago Railways Company, such proportionate amount to be fixed and determined by the Board of Supervising Engineers.

INSURANCE.

SECTION 17. The Company shall at all times keep insured to its full insurable value, in responsible companies, all buildings, cars and other insurable property, against loss by fire, and the premiums for such insurance shall be paid out of the receipts of said Company, as one of the operating expenses thereof, and in case of the destruction or damage by fire of any such property, the Company shall restore the same or its substantial equivalent at its own cost and not out of the receipts of its said street railways, or in lieu of such restoration, the Company shall deposit, as a part of the reserve fund required by the preceding Section 16, the value of the property so destroyed or damaged, which value shall be estimated by the Board of Supervising Engineers. The Company shall apply to any such deposit or to the cost of any such restoration the insurance moneys received on account of any such loss or damage. If such moneys are not equal in amount to the cost of such restoration or to the amount of the said deposit hereinabove required, the Company will at its own cost and not out of the receipts of said street railway system supply any deficit, and if the amount of such insurance moneys is greater than the said cost or deposit, the overplus shall be deposited with and become a part of and be an addition to the fund provided for in the preceding Section 16 for renewals and depreciation.

PERSONAL INJURY CLAIMS.

SECTION 18. Out of the gross receipts derived from the operation of the street railway system hereby authorized the Company shall pay as a part of the operating expenses, all damages arising or growing out of injuries to persons or to the property of others incident to the construction, reconstruction or operation of said street railway system accruing subsequent to January 31st, A. D. 1907, and the Company may set aside as a separate fund such percentage of said gross receipts as the said Board of Supervising Engineers shall estimate to be sufficient to protect the Company against all such claims, to the end that if the said City, or its licensee, shall elect to purchase the street railway property of the Company as provided by this ordinance, there shall be then available to the Company a fund sufficient to meet and discharge all legitimate claims for such damages. The percentage thus reserved may be changed from time to time by said Board of Supervising Engineers if and whenever they shall consider that the percentage theretofore reserved is either inadequate or excessive.

In case the balance of said fund at any time remaining shall be, in the judgment of the Board of Supervising Engineers, more than sufficient to protect the Company against all then unsettled claims, the Company shall pay to the said City fifty-five (55) per cent. of the estimated excess, and the Company at the same time shall be entitled to apply to its own use and benefit forty-five (45) per cent. of such estimated excess.

If the said City or its licensee shall purchase the property of the Company as in this ordinance provided, the Company shall deposit with one or more of the depositaries herein authorized the fund then accumulated under the provisions of this Section, together with all of the "net receipts" of the Company from the operation of its street railways as shall not have been divided between the Company and the City prior to the giving of the notice by the City or its licensee of its intention to purchase, and the Company shall assume and pay and save the said City or such licensee harmless from all such claims for damages, payment for the same to be made out of the fund so deposited, upon the order of the Company countersigned by the said Board of Supervising Engineers; but if the fund so retained and deposited shall be more than sufficient to pay and discharge said claims in full, then the said depositary or depositaries shall pay to the said City (or its licensee, as the case may be) fifty-five (55) per cent. of such excess and to the Company forty-five (45) per cent. of such excess.

The salaries and expenses of the Board of Supervising Engineers after any such purchase and so long as said Board shall continue to act under the provisions of this ordinance shall be paid out of the fund deposited under the provisions of this section.

REGULATION OF SALARIES.

SECTION 19. The Company may pay to the directors, officers, agents and attorneys of the Company as a part of the operating expenses, compensation for their services commensurate with the service actually rendered by them respectively, taking into consideration the compensation paid to directors, officers, agents and attorneys of other corporations or enterprises of similar magnitude and general character for like services, but the said City by written notice thereof may object to the payment thereafter of compensation in excess of an amount or rate specified in such objection to any such director, officer, agent or attorney, and in the event of a disagreement between the Company and the said City as to the proper amount to be paid as such compensation, the matter shall be submitted to the judgment of the said Board of Supervising Engineers whose decision shall be final and binding upon the parties, except that, if either party shall be dissatisfied with such decision of said Board, then such dissatisfied party may make application to any court of competent jurisdiction to pass upon such objection and to determine the amount of the compensation or salary to be paid.

RIGHT OF CITY TO PURCHASE AT ANY TIME.

SECTION 20. The Company by the acceptance of this ordinance, shall and does grant to the said City, and the said City hereby reserves to itself the right, upon the first day of February or upon the first day of August of each and any year after such acceptance upon giving at least six (6) months' previous notice in writing of its intention so to do, to purchase and take over (but only for municipal operation in case of purchase prior to February first, A. D. 1927), the entire street railway system of the Company within the said City, including all property then existing which now constitutes the said street railway system of the Company (except such as is enumerated in "Exhibit D" hereto attached), with all renewals and repairs thereof, and including all the property, franchises, rights and claims described in the appraisal inventory of said Street Railway System as of June 30th, 1906, made by Bion J. Arnold, Mortimer E. Cooley and A. B. du Pont, a copy of which has been filed with the Comptroller of the said City on the fourth day of February, A. D. 1907, except such as may have been sold or extinguished as authorized by this ordinance, destroyed or impaired (ordinary wear excepted), and all property then existing which has been purchased or acquired by the Company after June 30th, 1906, for use as a part of or in connection with the said system of street railways, the cost of which shall have been certified by the Board of Supervising Engineers, as in this section and in Section 7 hereof provided, and also all extensions of and additions (including underground trolleys, if any) to said street railways made under the provisions of this ordinance, and all rights of every kind under this ordinance in or to any subways or extensions thereof constructed under the provisions of this ordinance.

PRICE TO BE PAID BY CITY.

In case the said City shall purchase and take over the street railway system of the Company, as in this ordinance provided, then it shall pay for the same the aggregate of the following items:

1. The value of the property described in the said appraisal inventory and the value of all the franchises, rights and claims of every description, to construct, maintain or operate street railways in the said City now belonging to the Company, or claimed by it, which said value of such property and all of said franchises, rights and claims is hereby fixed (for the purpose of such purchase) at the sum of Twenty-one Million Dollars ($21,000,000).

2. The value of any and all property and equipment and additions thereto supplied, purchased or acquired by said Company as a part of its street railway system, between the 30th day of June, A. D., 1906, and February 1st, A. D., 1907, including any equipment and additions thereto which were in process on June 30th, 1906, of being so supplied, purchased or acquired, but excluding any property described in the aforesaid inventory, and repairs to and maintenance thereof and any expenditures in connection therewith properly chargeable to operating expenses. From such value shall be deducted the value of any property included in said inventory which shall have been lost, destroyed or impaired (ordinary wear excepted) after the 30th day of June, A. D., 1906, and prior to the 1st day of February, A. D., 1907. The value to be allowed under this paragraph Number 2 of this section shall be determined by the Board of Supervising Engineers immediately after the assumption by said Board of their duties in supervising the work of reconstruction and re-equipment in this ordinance provided for, and shall be reported by said Board to the City Comptroller of said City; and the amount so reported by said Board shall be final and binding upon the parties hereto and shall be conclusively held and taken as the value of the property and equipment in this paragraph specified.

3. The cost of reconstruction and re-equipment of said street railway lines of the Company and of the construction of new lines, extensions, underground trolleys and other additions to property actually paid by said Company at and prior to said purchase by said City and certified by the Board of Supervising Engineers, or incurred for work actually done or materials furnished with the approval of said Board under completed or pending contracts, except those for which special provision is made in subdivision 4 of this section, together with the percentages thereon as in Section 7 hereof provided, and all amounts which shall then have been contributed by the Company to the City for the construction of subways or extensions thereof, together with five (5) per cent. of said last named amounts as hereinbefore provided.

4. After the giving of the notice of the election of the said City to purchase said street railway system of the Company, as herein provided, and prior to the date fixed for said purchase, the said Board of Supervising Engineers shall make a written estimate (and furnish a copy thereof to the said Company and the said City) of the probable cost of completing any work of construction or equipment provided for by this ordinance, including the construction of new lines, extensions, underground trolleys, or other additions to property and including any extensions of the street railway system of said Company made under the provisions of Section 36 hereof, which work has, and to the extent to which it has, prior to the date of giving said notice, been contracted for by said Company, with the approval of said Board of Supervising Engineers, and the said City shall either take over and assume said contracts and procure the release of the Company from all obligation thereunder, or the said City shall, at or prior to the date of the said purchase of the street railway system of said Company, deposit with a depositary or depositaries (authorized to act as such by this ordinance) a sufficient amount of money to pay the cost of completing such contracts according to the said estimate of the said Board of Supervising Engineers, and the said Company shall proceed, with all due diligence and care, to complete said contracts at its own expense and under the supervision of said Board of Supervising Engineers, and the cost of completing the said contracts after the date of such purchase by the City, together with the said additional percentages thereof, shall be paid from time to time by the said depositary or depositaries out of the funds so deposited, upon the written certificates of the said Board of Supervising Engineers. In the event that the said amount so deposited shall not be sufficient to pay the said cost, including said additional percentages provided for in Section 7 hereof, the said City shall pay such additional amount as may be necessary for such purpose, and in the event that the amount so deposited shall be more than sufficient to pay the said cost, the unexpended balance shall be returned and paid over to the City by the said depositary or depositaries holding the same, and in no event shall the Company be obligated to incur a greater expense in carying out said contract than the amount so deposited.

PAYMENT OR DEPOSIT OF PURCHASE PRICE.

Upon the deposit of the sum, if any, required by the above and foregoing paragraph numbered 4 of this section and the payment in cash of the amounts hereinbefore in paragraphs numbered 1, 2 and 3 of this section provided for, to the Company, or the deposit of said amounts to the order of the Company with one or more of the depositaries authorized to act as such by this ordinance the said City shall have full right and lawful authority, after the notice and upon any of the dates hereinbefore fixed, to take over and possess, as its own property, all the property, plant and equipment of every sort and nature (including underground trolleys), then constituting the street railway system of the Company, and all rights of every kind under this ordinance in or to any subways or extensions thereof constructed under the provisions of this ordinance, free and clear of all liens and claims of every nature, except that the said City shall take subject to the payment of a fractional part of the unpaid taxes for the current year upon the said property, rights and equipment, equal to the fractional part of the year for which such taxes have been levied or assessed remaining unexpired at the date of such purchase, and the balance of the taxes shall be treated and paid as a part of the operating expenses prior to the sale of the property.

The Company further grants to the said City, and the said City hereby reserves to itself, the right (in addition to the right of purchase hereinbefore granted and reserved) to purchase and take over from the Company at any time prior to February first, 1927, the street railway system, rights and property of the Company, free from any limitation and restriction as to the operation thereof, at the same times and in the same manner at and upon which the City has the right under the foregoing provisions of this section to purchase the same. The price to be paid therefor by the City under the right of purchase in this paragraph granted and reserved shall be the price at which the City shall then have the right to purchase said property for municipal operation as hereinbefore specified, and in addition to such price a sum equal to twenty (20) per cent. of such price.

The property to the possession of which the said City shall then be entitled shall include all of the property then existing which constitutes the street railway system of the Company and its appurtenances at the date of the passage of this ordinance (excepting property enumerated in said "Exhibit D") and all of the property purchased or acquired thereafter by the Company, and all extensions of, or additions to, said street railways, including underground trolleys constructed under the provisions of this ordinance, and all rights of the said Company in or to any subways or extensions thereof constructed under this ordinance, and the sum then on deposit as a reserve fund, under the provisions of Section 16 of this ordinance, excepting such property as may have been sold as in this ordinance authorized, or worn out or destroyed, provided that in case of property destroyed and not then replaced in kind or in value as provided in Section 17 of this ordinance, adjustment shall forthwith be made at the time of such purchase and the obligation of the Company in that behalf discharged either in cash or by deduction from the purchase price.

In the event that it shall be determined that the City is, at the time this ordinance is passed or at the time this ordinance takes effect, without lawful power or authority to acquire or own street railways under the provisions of this ordinance or otherwise, and the City shall thereafter acquire such power or authority, thereupon and after such acquirement the City shall have the right to purchase and acquire said street railways, rights and property under the provisions of this ordinance to the same extent and in the same measure as if said City had full right and lawful authority so to purchase or acquire said street railways, rights and property at the date of the passage of this ordinance and at the date when this ordinance takes effect.

CITY PURCHASE DURING RECONSTRUCTION PERIOD.

SECTION 21. In the event that the said City shall elect to exercise its right of purchase, as in this ordinance provided, at any time prior to the completion of the work of construction, reconstruction, equipment and re-equipment within the time and in the manner provided for in said "Exhibit B," under the head of "Immediate Rehabilitation" it shall take over the same subject to the right and obligation of the Company to complete the said work of "Immediate Rehabilitation" as provided in this ordinance, carrying out the terms and conditions of said "Exhibit B" under the supervision and control of the said Board of Supervising Engineers and receiving therefor the cost thereof and the additional percentages thereon as in Section 7 of this ordinance provided.

In such event in addition to complying with the provisions of Section 20 hereof the said City shall deposit at the time of such purchase with some one or more of the banks or trust companies authorized to act as depositaries under the terms of this ordinance a sufficient amount of money to pay for the completion of the said work of "Immediate Rehabilitation," not herein otherwise provided for, which said amount shall be estimated and determined by the said Board of Supervising Engineers, and shall include said additional percentages provided for in Section 7 hereof.

The said cost of completing the said work of "Immediate Rehabilitation," together with said additional percentages thereof shall be paid from time to time by the said depositary or depositaries, out of the funds so deposited with it or them, upon the written certificates of the said Board of Supervising Engineers.

In the event that the said amount so deposited shall not be sufficient to pay the said cost, including said additional percentages provided for in Section 7 hereof, the said City shall pay such additional amount as may be necessary for such purpose.

In the event that the amount so deposited shall be more than sufficient to pay the said cost, the unexpended balance shall be returned and paid over to the said City by the said depositary or depositaries, and in no event shall the Company be obligated to incur a greater expense for the work of such construction, reconstruction, equipment and re-equipment, including underground trolleys and other additions to plant and property, if any, than the amount so deposited.

RIGHT OF LICENSEE TO PURCHASE.

SECTION 22. The Company by the acceptance of this ordinance shall and does grant to the City, and the City hereby reserves to itself, the right to designate any person, firm or corporation having lawful authority to acquire, own and operate street railways in said City (herein called the "licensee") who or which shall have the right to purchase the street railway system, rights and property of the Company, at the same times and in the same manner at and upon which the City hereunder has the right to purchase the same, subject to the condition that the said licensee shall purchase the same property which the City has herein reserved the right to purchase, and that the price to be paid therefor by the said licensee shall be the price at which the City shall have the right to purchase said property for municipal operation, and in addition to such price a sum equal to twenty (20) per cent. of such price; but it is expressly provided, however, that the said licensee shall not be required to pay the said additional twenty (20) per cent. or any part thereof, if, before the purchase of said property by such licensee shall be consummated, a valid and binding contract shall be entered into between the City and its licensee, either by the passage of an ordinance and the acceptance thereof or otherwise, which shall limit the beneficial interest of the said licensee (and its stockholders, if such licensee is a corporation) in the property purchased and any improvements thereof or additions thereto to a return of the actual moneys invested therein by said licensee and not exceeding five (5) per cent. thereof, in addition thereto, and interest upon the said moneys and the said additional per cent. at a rate not exceeding five (5) per cent. per annum, and which shall provide that all net profits derived from the said property in excess of the beneficial interest of said licensee, limited as aforesaid, shall belong and be paid over to the City.

Nothing in this ordinance, however, shall have the effect or be construed to have the effect of lessening or limiting the right of the City to provide for reducing the rates of fare to be charged by such licensee in the operation of said street railway system or from using the moneys so to be paid over to the said City by said licensee for the purpose of retiring from time to time the stock or other securities issued by said licensee, subject to the limitations of this Section, or from using the said moneys in extending or adding to or improving said street railway system.

The right of the licensee of the City to acquire the said street railway system rights and property by purchase under the provisions of this ordinance shall in no way be impaired by any lack of power or authority on the part of the City itself to acquire the said street railway system, rights and property for municipal use and operation or otherwise.

Upon the purchase of the said street railway system, rights and property under the provisions of this ordinance, either by the City or by any licensee of the City, all rights, of the Company, its licensees or assigns under this ordinance in or to said street railways, rights and property or any part thereof, or the operation thereof, or receipts thereof, shall wholly cease and determine.

RIGHTS OF COMPANY IN CASE CITY DOES NOT PURCHASE FOR TWENTY YEARS.

SECTION 23. In the event that the said street railways are not purchased by the said City or its licensee as hereinabove authorized, prior to February first, A. D., 1927 (and nothing in this ordinance contained shall be construed as being in any event a grant to the Company extending beyond February first, 1927), the said City shall have the right to designate any person, firm or corporation having lawful authority to acquire, own and operate street railways in said City as its licensee, to purchase the said street railways, property and rights of the Company at or after February first, 1927, upon the same terms that the City could then purchase, and in case such reserved right of purchase be not exercised by the said City or its licensee and the City shall grant a right to another company to operate a street railway in the streets and parts of streets constituting the said street railway system of the Company, such new company shall be required to and shall purchase and take over the said street railways, property and rights of the Company at or after February first, 1927, upon the same terms upon which the said City might then purchase and take them over.

No mortgage, trust deed or other instrument given by the Company shall impose any lien upon or create any rights in the said street railways, property and rights, without the same being made specifically subject to all the limitations, conditions and provisions of this ordinance, including the right of the said City or its licensee to acquire the said property and rights upon the terms and in the manner in this ordinance provided, and in the event of such purchase the lien of any such mortgage, trust deed or other encumbrance, and all other liens upon said street railways, property and rights, or any part thereof, shall be discharged from said street railways, property and rights and shall attach to the proceeds of the sale thereof.

INTEREST RETURN ON CAPITAL INVESTMENT.

SECTION 24. On or before the tenth day of April in each year the Company shall come to an accounting and settlement with the said City as of the thirty-first day of January last preceding, upon the following basis:

From the gross receipts of the said street railway system and property from all sources and of every kind for the year ending on said thirty-first day of January there shall be deducted for such year:

First: (1) All expenses of operation, including maintenance, repairs and renewals; (2) All amounts contributed during said year and then held in reserve under the provisions of Sections 16 and 18 hereof; (3) All amounts paid out for taxes and assessments levied and imposed upon the real and personal property of the Company, including all capital stock or franchise taxes levied or assessed after the 31st day of January, 1907, but not including any taxes which may by any court be ordered to be levied, assessed or collected after the 31st day of January, 1907, on account of the failure of the Company or any person, firm or corporation owning or having an interest in the said street railways or property, to pay any taxes which should have been paid for or on account of such street railways or property prior to the 31st day of January, 1907, and not including any sums paid by the Company to the City for city license fees, if any, exacted from the Company or its employes. (4) All salaries and expenses of the Board of Supervising Engineers by this ordinance authorized, after the period of "Immediate Rehabilitation"; and

Second: A sum equivalent to five (5) per centum per annum for said preceding year upon the amount of the cash purchase price which the said City would then be obligated to pay on account of the items specified in subdivisions 1, 2 and 3 of Section 20 hereof, if it were purchasing the property for municipal operation on such thirty-first day of January, interest being adjusted as to items added to such purchase price during said year. In case in any year the gross receipts shall not be sufficient to pay in full the items in the "first" and "second" paragraphs of this section mentioned, then the deficit shall be paid out of the gross receipts of the subsequent year or years.

DIVISION OF REMAINING NET RECEIPTS.

After the deduction from the gross receipts of the items hereinbefore in this section provided, the amount remaining shall be considered as the net receipts for such year arising from the operation of the street railway system hereby authorized, and shall be divided between the Company and the said City in the following proportions: forty-five (45) per cent. to be retained by the Company, and fifty-five (55) per cent. to be paid forthwith by the Company to the said City, crediting thereon all amounts paid out during the preceding year by the Company for City license fees, if any, exacted from the Company or its employes.

COMMUTATION OF FARES.

It is understood and agreed that the Company's agreement and obligation to pay to the City the fifty-five (55) per cent. of the "net receipts," as hereinbefore provided is based upon its right to charge and receive the fares prescribed in Section 11 hereof and to retain as its own the forty-five (45) per cent. of the "net receipts" as is hereinabove in this section provided. The said City, however, reserves the right to, and it may at any time commute a sum not exceeding the City's share of the net receipts for the previous year into a reduction of said rates of fare; and thereafter in the event of such reduction of rates of fare the Company may deduct and retain as its share of the net receipts each year an amount equal to what would have been the Company's share of the net receipts of such year had the passengers carried during such year paid the fares prescribed in this ordinance, but the Company, after deducting and retaining its share of said net receipts so determined shall pay over to the said City the remainder, if any, of the net receipts for such year less the deductions therefrom hereinbefore provided to be made from the said City's share of the "net receipts" on account of license fees.

CITY TO ESTABLISH SINKING FUND FOR MUNICIPAL PURCHASE.

It is further provided that, subject to the action of the City Council of said City, the said City shall deposit the amount so paid to the said City to the credit of a separate fund to be kept and used for the purchase and construction of street railways by said City; but any failure to comply with this provision shall in no way affect the rights or obligations of the Company under this ordinance.

CAPITAL INVESTMENT LIMITATION.

SECTION 25. The Company shall not be required on account of any extensions of subways or on account of underground trolleys, or on account of any extensions of its street railways, other than the extensions provided for in Exhibit A, and in Section 36 of this ordinance, and four (4) miles of double or eight (8) miles of single track per annum, as in Section 3 hereof provided, to increase its total capital investment to such an extent that the return thereon over and above the interest charge of five per cent. thereon by this ordinance authorized, would be reduced to an inadequate or unreasonably small amount.

DEPOSITARIES.

SECTION 26. Any state or national bank or trust company in the City of Chicago or in the City of New York which has a capital stock and surplus amounting to at least one million dollars ($1,000,000) may be selected and can act as a depositary under the provisions of this ordinance, provided, that no moneys shall be deposited with any such depositary under the provisions of this ordinance to an amount exceeding the total capital stock and one-half of the surplus of such depositary; and provided further that all deposits authorized or required by this ordinance (except deposits of purchase money in the event of purchase of said street railway system by the City, or its licensee) shall be made with depositaries in the City of Chicago.

DEPOSITS.

SECTION 27. The Company shall have the right to select the particular depositary or depositaries with which it shall deposit any of the funds required to be deposited by the Company under the provisions of this ordinance, and the Company shall at all times be held responsible for any loss or impairment of any such deposit, and shall promptly make good and restore at its own cost, and not out of the receipts of said street railways, any such loss or impairment. The City or its licensee, as the case may be, shall have the right to select the particular depositary or depositaries with which shall be deposited the funds required to be deposited by the City or its licensee, in the event of purchase of the said street railways by the City or its licensee under the provisions of this ordinance, and the City or its licensee, as the case may be, shall at all times be held responsible for any loss or impairment of any such deposit made by it, and shall promptly make good and restore any such loss or impairment.

Provided, that in all cases where, under the terms of this ordinance, the City is authorized or required to make any deposits of money, the City shall be free from any responsibility for loss or impairment of any such deposit, if not less than thirty days prior to the making of such deposit it shall give notice in writing to the Company of the names of the depositaries in which it shall propose to make such deposit. And the Company, if not satisfied therewith, shall give notice in writing to the City not less than twenty days after receiving such notice from the City. The notice of the Company may direct the City not to make such deposit, or any specified portion of it, with any depositary or depositaries so named by the City of which the Company may disapprove, and in such case such notice by the Company shall contain the names of qualified depositaries from which the City may choose in lieu of the names so disapproved of by the Company, and the number of the names of depositaries in such notice by the Company, from which the City is to choose, shall be at least five in excess of the number of depositaries which the Company shall disapprove of as stated in such notice. And the City, upon making deposits, in accordance with the terms of this proviso, shall be free from any responsibility for loss or impairment of any such deposits.

INTEREST ON DEPOSITS.

SECTION 28. Appropriate provision for the payment of reasonable interest on any funds deposited under the provisions of this ordinance shall be made with the depositary or depositaries of such funds by the party making such deposit. All interest which may accrue upon or be payable on account of any funds deposited under the provisions of this ordinance and any commission or allowance made directly or indirectly by any depositary on account of the funds deposited with it shall be held and considered as a part of the principal fund so deposited and shall be added to such fund as a part thereof.

The Company shall make daily deposits, with some depositary or depositaries authorized by this ordinance, of all moneys received by the Company from the operation of the said street railways and property, and shall make appropriate provision for the payment of reasonable interest on the moneys so deposited by such depositary or depositaries, which interest shall be added to and be held and considered as a part of the gross receipts of the said street railway system and property.

ANNUAL REPORTS.

SECTION 29. The Company, so long as it continues to operate any of the said street railways under this ordinance, and on or before the tenth day of April in each year shall prepare and file with the City Comptroller of said City annual reports for the preceding year ending on the 31st day of January.

Such reports shall be in writing, verified by the affidavit of the Auditor of the Company, setting forth in reasonable detail according to forms prescribed by said Comptroller, the character and amount of business done by the Company for the year immediately preceding such report and the amount of receipts from and the expenses of conducting the said business, and the said City Comptroller, or accountants authorized by him, under the direction of the Mayor or City Council of said City, shall have the right at all reasonable times to examine all the books, vouchers and records of the receipts and expenditures of the Company, for the purpose of ascertaining the accuracy of the reports herein required and the rights of the said City under this ordinance. The Board of Supervising Engineers shall have the power to prescribe the form and manner in which the books and accounts of the Company shall be kept subject to the approval of the City Comptroller. There shall be also an annual audit of the accounts of the Company covering all receipts and expenditures for the year ending on the thirty-first day of January next preceding, and a formal written report by public accountants selected by the City and the Company, the expenses of such audit and report to be paid out of the gross receipts of the Company as an operating expense.

In the event of any purchase of the street railways and property of the company under the provisions of this ordinance, on the first day of August of any year, there shall be an accounting and report for the preceding six months similar in character to that hereinbefore provided.

COMPANY TO MAINTAIN OFFICE IN CITY.

SECTION 30. The Company shall not remove its principal office or any of its books (except bond registry and stock transfer books), records, accounts, contracts, or original vouchers of receipts and expenditures beyond the limits of the said City, and shall maintain an office within said City so long as the Company continues to operate any part of the street railways mentioned and provided for in this ordinance under the provisions hereof.

FORFEITURE FOR NON-COMPLIANCE.

SECTION 31. The Company, by the acceptance of this ordinance, expressly agrees with the said City and obligates itself fully to comply with all of the terms and conditions of this ordinance throughout the period of time covered hereby, and so long as the Company continues to operate any street railways in said City under or by virtue of the authority hereof.

The Company further agrees that in the event that it shall make default in the observance or performance of any of the agreements or conditions herein required to be kept and performed by it, and if any such default shall continue for a period of three (3) months (exclusive of all times during which the Company may be delayed or interfered with, without its connivance, by unavoidable accidents, labor strikes or the orders or judgments of any court entered in any suit brought without its connivance), after written notice thereof to it from the said City, then and in each and every such case, the said City by its City Council shall be entitled to declare this grant and all of the rights and privileges of the Company to maintain and operate street railways in any of the streets or public ways of the said City to be forfeited and at an end; provided, however, that should the Company, for its corporate purposes, pledge or mortgage its street railway property or any of the rights secured to it by this ordinance, or any security representing the said property or rights, for the security of the payment of its notes, bonds or other evidences of indebtedness maturing on or before February first, 1927, the amount thereof not being in excess of the value of all the property and rights of the Company, as defined in Section 20 hereof, such right of forfeiture of this grant by reason of any violation by the Company of the provisions of this ordinance shall not be asserted or exist against such pledgee or pledgees, mortgagee or mortgagees, or any of them, and shall not impair or affect the right of such pledgee or pledgees, mortgagee or mortgagees, to recover by foreclosure or other legal process against all the property of the Company, including the rights and privileges hereby granted, the face value of said notes, bonds or other evidences of indebtedness, or any security representing the said property or rights to an amount, however, not in excess of the sum for which the City would then have the right under the terms of this ordinance to purchase the said street railway property; and it is hereby stipulated that any notice of default by the Company, upon which a forfeiture shall be claimed, shall also be given by the said City to the trustee or mortgagee of record in any trust deed or mortgage securing such indebtedness. The purchaser at any foreclosure or other sale shall acquire no other or greater rights or privileges than are hereby conferred, and such purchaser shall hold said property, so purchased at such foreclosure or other sale, subject to the right of purchase at any time thereafter, as herein provided, by the said City, and also subject to the right of purchase by any licensee of the said City, upon the same terms as the said City might purchase and acquire said property for municipal operation, but without payment in either case of the additional twenty (20) per cent. provided for in Sections 20 and 22 of this ordinance; and also subject to the continuing terms, conditions and limitations of this ordinance, including the forfeiture provisions to the same extent as if the said purchaser had been the original grantee hereunder, except that such purchaser shall have no right to execute or deliver any mortgage, trust deed or other encumbrance on said street railways, rights and property or any part thereof without the consent of said City.

The City shall have the right to bid and become the purchaser at any such foreclosure or other sale.

The said Company further expressly agrees that, by the acceptance by it of this ordinance, it is obligated to complete the said work of "Immediate Rehabilitation" provided for in said "Exhibit B" within the time and in the manner set forth in said Exhibit (due allowance being made for any and all delays or interruptions arising without its connivance by unavoidable accidents, labor strikes, or the orders or judgments of any court entered in any suit brought without its connivance), and if the Company shall fail or neglect to proceed with the said work of "Immediate Rehabilitation" with all reasonable diligence and promptness after the acceptance of this ordinance by the Company, or to complete the said work within the time prescribed in said "Exhibit B," and said Board of Supervising Engineers shall certify to the City Council of the said City that the Company has failed or neglected to so proceed with said work, or has failed or neglected to complete the work in the time specified in "Exhibit B," the Company shall be and is obligated to pay to the said City for each day that such default or neglect shall continue, the sum of ten thousand dollars as liquidated damages; and if the Company shall, at any time after the acceptance of this ordinance by it, fail to comply with the provisions hereof with regard to the maintenance of first class street railway service over and upon its said lines of street railways, the said City shall have the right to sue for and recover in any court of competent jurisdiction the sum of not less than fifty dollars and not more than five hundred dollars for each and every such failure and each and every day that such failure shall continue shall be taken and held to be a separate offense; but the payment of such penalties shall not in any manner release the liability of the Company to incur a forfeiture of all its rights and privileges under this ordinance, as hereinabove in this section provided.

WAIVER OF RIGHTS.

SECTION 32. The Company, in consideration of the grant made by this ordinance, upon the terms and conditions herein expressed, agrees to waive, surrender and release, and by the acceptance of this ordinance, the Company does waive, surrender and release all and every one of the rights and claims of the Company of every kind and nature, in the streets of the said City, other than the rights granted by this ordinance.

CITY'S RIGHT TO INTERVENE.

SECTION 33. The Company by the acceptance of this ordinance shall and does grant to the said City, and the said City hereby reserves to itself the right to intervene in any suit or proceeding brought by any person, firm or corporation seeking to enjoin, restrain or in any manner interfere with the Company in the doing of any work called for by this ordinance, or involving the observance or performance of any of the agreements or conditions herein provided to be kept or performed by the Company, or in any suit to foreclose or enforce any lien, mortgage or trust deed against it and to move for a dissolution of such injunction or restraining order in such suit, and take any other appropriate steps to protect the rights of the said City in case it shall deem such action necessary and appropriate to protect the interests of the said City.

BOARD OF SUPERVISING ENGINEERS.

SECTION 34. Immediately upon the acceptance of this ordinance by the Company, there shall be organized a Board of Supervising Engineers in the manner following:

Within thirty (30) days after the acceptance of this ordinance as hereinafter provided, the Company shall appoint an engineer to represent it on said Board, and shall notify the Mayor of said City, in writing, of the name and address of such engineer; and within thirty (30) days after such notice the said City shall appoint an engineer as its representative on said Board (which appointment shall be made by the Mayor of the said City and shall be subject to the approval of the City Council), and shall notify the Company in writing of the name and address of its said engineer.

Bion J. Arnold is hereby selected and appointed the third member of said Board. The said City or the Company may respectively, at any time and from time to time, remove its representative on said Board, and may also respectively from time to time, appoint an engineer to represent it upon said Board, whenever and as often as it shall fail to have a representative upon said Board from any cause whatsoever. No such removal or appointment shall take effect until written notice thereof has been given to the other party by the party making such removal or appointment.

The said City and the Company may, at any time and from time to time, remove the third engineer from said Board, and may also select and appoint a third engineer to be a member of said Board, whenever and as often as a vacancy in said Board shall occur from the death, resignation, removal, refusal or inability to act of the third engineer upon said Board.

In the event that any vacancy in the position of third engineer upon said Board shall not be filled by the selection of a third engineer by said City and the Company within thirty (30) days after such vacancy shall arise, then the persons then acting as judges of the (main) Appellate Court for the First District of Illinois, or a majority of them, may fill such vacancy on said Board by appointing a competent engineer thereto upon the application of said City or the Company, after ten days' written notice having been given to the other party of such application.

In case either the said City or the Company shall at any time desire the removal of the third engineer and the appointment of another engineer in his place, the party desiring such removal and new appointment may, upon giving ten (10) days' written notice thereof to the other party, apply to the said judges for such removal, and the said judges or a majority of them shall within ten (10) days from and after such application set the same for informal and summary public hearing, at which the party desiring the removal shall publicly present its reasons for asking such removal.

Upon such application of either the said City or the Company, the said judges or a majority of them shall have the power, but shall not be required to remove the said third engineer. The third engineer shall not be removed by the said judges or a majority of them at any time, except upon the application of either the said City or the Company.

Upon the refusal or failure of the said Judges then constituting the (main) Appellate Court for the First District of Illinois, or a majority of them, to make the appointment herein authorized within thirty (30) days after being requested so to do, either the said City or the Company may, upon giving ten (10) days' written notice to the other party of its intention so to do, apply to any judge of the Circuit Court of Cook County, Illinois, for the appointment of a third engineer to fill any vacancy existing in said position, and the judge so applied to shall have the power to appoint such third engineer, who, when appointed, shall be a member of said Board, and shall be subject to removal in the manner hereinabove provided.

Either the Company or the City shall have the right to apply to any court of competent jurisdiction for the removal of any member of said Board of Supervising Engineers for fraud, corruption, or failure to perform in good faith his duties under this ordinance.

A majority of said Board of Supervising Engineers shall at all times be authorized to exercise the powers conferred by this ordinance on said Board.

All words in this ordinance contained purporting to give authority to said Board of Superivising Engineers shall be construed as giving such authority to a majority of said Board.

SALARIES AND EXPENSES OF BOARD.

The said Board of Supervising Engineers shall maintain an office in the said City and shall employ the necessary assistance and purchase the necessary supplies and materials to enable it properly to perform its duties under this ordinance.

The said third engineer shall be ex-officio Chairman of the Board, and shall be paid for his services as a member of said Board compensation at the rate of fifteen thousand dollars ($15,000.00) per annum.

During the period of "Immediate Rehabilitation," said Bion J. Arnold, so long as he continues to act as a member of said Board, shall, in addition to his duties as a member of said Board of Supervising Engineers, act as Chief Engineer of the work contemplated in this ordinance, and shall receive as additional compensation for such service, the sum of fifteen thousand dollars ($15,000.00) per annum. In such capacity he shall have charge of the preparation of the plans and specifications, and the general direction of the entire work, and of its inspection during construction. Said plans and specifications and system of inspection shall be subject to the approval of the Board of Supervising Engineers.

Each of the other two members of said Board shall, in addition to attending the monthly meetings of the Board, attend such other meetings as may be called by the Chairman, and be paid for his services as a member of said Board, compensation at the rate of one hundred dollars ($100.00) per day, and his traveling and living expenses while away from his home, and actually engaged upon this work, it being understood that his total compensation for services shall not be less than thirty-six hundred dollars ($3,600.00) nor more than ten thousand dollars ($10,000.00) per year. The Chairman of said Board shall call (in addition to such meetings as he may deem desirable or necessary) a meeting of said Board at any time upon request of the President of either of said companies, or the Mayor of said City.

The salaries and expenses of said Board of Supervising Engineers during the period of "Immediate Rehabilitation" provided for in this ordinance shall be added to and form a part of the cost of such "Immediate Rehabilitation," but thereafter shall be paid out of gross receipts, as an operating expense.

In case the said ordinance to the said Chicago Railways Company is passed and accepted by said Chicago Railways Company, the third engineer and the engineer representing the City on the Board of Supervising Engineers created by said ordinance shall be the same persons who act as the third engineer and the engineer representing the City, respectively, in the Board of Supervising Engineers created by this ordinance; and the said Chicago Railways Company and the Chicago City Railway Company shall agree upon one engineer as their joint representative upon said Board; but in case they do not so agree, each of said Companies may select its own representative, who shall in such case act as a member of said Board only in the consideration and determination of matters relating to the street railways and property of the particular Company he represents.

In the determination of any matter relating to subways and through routes and all other matters in which said companies are jointly interested the representative of each of said companies on said Board of Supervising Engineers shall be entitled to one-half of a vote.

In case said ordinance to said Chicago Railways Company is passed and accepted by said Company, the salaries and compensation of said engineers provided for in this ordinance shall include all compensation or salaries payable to said engineers under said other ordinance without duplication, and shall be equitably apportioned by the said third engineer between the said two Companies, taking into consideration the work done by said Board under the said ordinances, respectively, and the determination of said third engineer as to such apportionment shall be final and binding upon the parties whose interests are therein concerned.

CITY TO RESERVE POLICE POWER.

SECTION 35. Nothing in this ordinance contained shall be construed as depriving the said City of the right of exercising any police power which it would have possessed or enjoyed had this ordinance not been granted.

The enumeration herein of special requirements and specific regulations shall not be taken or held to imply the relinquishment by the said City of its power to make other requirements or regulations, and the said City hereby expressly reserves the right to make all regulations which may be necessary to secure in the most ample manner the safety, welfare and accommodation of the public, including among other things the right to pass and enforce ordinances to protect the public from danger or inconvenience in the management and operation of street railways throughout the said City and the right to make and enforce all such regulations as shall be reasonably necessary to secure adequate and sufficient street railway accommodations for the people, and insure their comfort and convenience.

The said Council may vest any or all matters of administration under this ordinance, including such thereof as are herein vested in the Mayor, Comptroller or other City officials named in this ordinance or in said "Exhibit B" attached hereto (but excepting those herein vested in said Board of Supervising Engineers), in a Department or Bureau of Local Transportation, or in its City Engineer, or in any official or employes of said City.

COMPREHENSIVE RECONSTRUCTION AND UNIFIED OPERATION ASSURED.

SECTION 36. For the purpose of carrying into effect the purpose and desire of the said City to provide for the unified operation and the comprehensive reconstruction of all the street railways within said City, an ordinance similar to this ordinance in general provisions and character, covering the system of street railways now maintained and operated by the Receivers of the Chicago Union Traction Company, granting to the Chicago Railways Company the right to operate said system, has been presented for passage by the City Council of said City, concurrently with this ordinance, and it is hereby expressly provided that in the event that the Company accepts this ordinance and files the bond as required in this ordinance within the time herein prescribed, and the said Chicago Railways Company fails to accept the said ordinance to the said Chicago Railways Company after its passage and within the time and according to the terms provided therein, or in any ordinance amendatory thereof or supplementary thereto, the Company hereby obligates itself to extend and operate its street railway system over and upon the streets and parts of streets in the said City covered by the said ordinance to the said Chicago Railways Company, so far as and to the extent that the rights of the companies now operating the street railways upon such streets and parts of streets cease and expire by limitation or otherwise, the said street railway system of the Company to be extended over each such street or part of street as rapidly as and to whatever extent the said City is able to and does confer upon the Company lawful authority to construct and operate street railways upon such streets and parts of streets, respectively, and deliver to the Company peaceable possession thereof for such purposes. And the Company hereby agrees to construct and operate in each such street and part of street so turned over to it as aforesaid, the street railways and equipment required by the ordinance to said Chicago Railways Company to be constructed by it therein, including the reconstruction of the tunnels under the Chicago River at Washington and La Salle streets, respectively, and the making of the contribution for the construction of subways and extensions thereof provided for in said last mentioned ordinance.

And the said Company agrees that it will furnish the necessary moneys to pay or to enable said City to pay for the physical property constituting the street railways and equipment in any such street or part of street which the City or its licensee may be authorized or required to purchase under and in accordance with the terms of the ordinances of said City which have been heretofore passed and are now in force with respect to any such street or part of street, respectively, property so purchased to be turned over to the Company as a part of the extension of the Company's system provided for in this Section, and the moneys so paid or advanced shall be held and considered as a part of the expense of making such extension. For the purpose of making any such extension the Company agrees that it will, when authorized and required by the City, purchase and pay for the physical property constituting the then existing street railway and equipment located upon any street or part of street turned over to the Company under the foregoing provisions of this Section, provided the price to be paid for such property shall not exceed the value of the same for street railway purposes as estimated by the Board of Supervising Engineers, and that, when acquired, said property shall be used by the Company as a part of the extension of its system upon such street or part of street under the provisions of this ordinance, and that the amount paid for such property shall be held and considered as a part of the cost of making such extension under the provisions of this ordinance.

All such extensions of the Company's system and the operation thereof shall be subject to the provisions of this ordinance, in the same manner and to the same extent as if herein expressly provided for as a part of the street railway system of the Company covered by this ordinance.

The construction and equipment of all such extensions shall be made under the supervision of and the cost thereof determined by the said Board of Supervising Engineers, and such extensions shall be in all respects subject to the provisions of this ordinance as to purchase by the said City or its licensee, the determination of the character and cost of construction, reconstruction, equipment and re-equipment, the annual return to the Company upon its investment, the division of profits with the said City and the operation of such extensions by the Company, so far as such provisions can be made applicable thereto.

The City agrees that, in case it shall require the Company to extend its street railway system over or upon any street or part of street covered by the said ordinance to the said Chicago Railways Company, under the provisions of this section, the Company shall have the right to extend its street railway system over and upon all of the streets and parts of streets covered by the ordinance to the said Chicago Railways Company, upon the terms specified in this section, when and as soon as the now existing rights of other companies in said streets or parts of streets, respectively, shall expire or be terminated.

The obligations of the Company under this section to construct, reconstruct, equip, re-equip and operate street railways, tunnels and subways, and to furnish funds to the City for the purposes specified in this section, may be discharged either by the Company itself, or at its election, from time to time, either in whole or in part, through the agency of the Chicago City Railroad Company (hereinafter called the Railroad Company), a corporation organized under the laws of the State of Illinois, provided that the Company shall first enter into such contracts and arrangements with the Railroad Company as shall secure and make certain the operation of the lines of street railways constructed by the Railroad Company as an integral part of the street railway system of the Company, and also shall secure to the City and its licensee and to the public the same rights in and upon all of the said lines of the street railways, tunnels and subways of the Company, falling within the provisions of this section, which would have existed if the entire obligations of the Company under this section had been discharged by it directly without the intervention of the Railroad Company, including the right of the City or its licensee to purchase all such lines of street railways (including all interest in tunnels and subways), in the same manner and upon the same terms and conditions as though all and every part thereof had been constructed, or the money therefor had been advanced, by the Company, without any interest therein having at any time been in the Railroad Company.

The Railroad Company, in consideration of the passage of this ordinance, hereby assumes and agrees to discharge all of the obligations assumed or imposed, or attempted to be assumed or imposed, upon the Company as to street railways, tunnels and subways within the North and West Divisions of the City of Chicago, in all respects the same as though it had been named in place of the Company in the foregoing clauses of this section; and agrees that all the work done by it and the moneys advanced by it shall be subject to all the provisions of this section, and of all the other sections of this ordinance, to the same extent and in the same manner as though said obligations had been discharged by the Company, and all moneys advanced by the Railroad Company had been advanced by the Company.

The Railroad Company further agrees that the City and its licensee and the public shall have the same rights in and upon any and all of the lines of street railways, tunnels and subways constructed in whole or in part by it, or with moneys advanced by it, which they would have had if the same had been constructed and the contributions to the cost thereof had been made wholly by the Company under the terms and provisions of this section, without the intervention of the Railroad Company, including the right of the City or its licensee to purchase such street railways and other property or interests therein, in the same manner, for the same price and upon the same terms and conditions as though all and every part thereof had been constructed or the money therefor had been advanced by the Company, without any interest therein having at any time been in the Railroad Company; and the Railroad Company hereby consents and agrees that the entire purchase price therefor may be included in one sum paid to or deposited to the credit of the Company under the terms and provisions of this ordinance, the Railroad Company agreeing to rely wholly upon its agreement with the Company for its interest in, or share of, such purchase price. The Railroad Company and the Company further undertake and agree that all street railways, tunnels and subways, and other railway properties acquired, constructed or operated under the provisions of this section, including those constructed by, or the cost of which shall be defrayed in whole or in part by the Railroad Company, shall form, and be operated as, an integral part of the street railway system of the Company, under a lease or leases, or operating agreement or operating agreements, between the Railroad Company and the Company.

The Railroad Company by its acceptance of this ordinance expressly agrees with the said City that all the terms, provisions and conditions of this ordinance shall apply to and control the construction and operation of any street railway properties in which it shall have any interest, or to the cost of which it shall contribute, in like manner and to the same extent as though such street railway properties were wholly constructed and operated, and the contributions to the cost thereof were made by the Company. And the Railroad Company and the Company further covenant and agree with the City, that as between the City and the Railroad Company and the Company, all books of account, settlements, charges to capital account, payments of interest on capital account, expenditures and deposits on account of maintenance, repairs and renewals, and the division of net receipts, shall be made with regard to the entire properties constructed under or operated by both of said companies under this ordinance, as though the ownership, operation and control of the same were wholly and solely in the Company, to the end that the rights of the City under this ordinance shall in no wise be different in any respect from what they would have been if the entire street railway properties (including subways and tunnels) affected by this ordinance had been constructed, operated, and the contributions to the cost thereof made wholly and solely by the Company.

The Company further agrees that a forfeiture of all of its rights and privileges under this ordinance may be declared and enforced for any default of the Railroad Company in the observance or performance of any agreement or condition herein contained to be kept and performed by it, in like manner and with like effect as though such default was the default of the Company; and the Railroad Company covenants and agrees that any forfeiture of the rights and privileges of the Company shall operate and be effective as a forfeiture of all of the rights and privileges of the Railroad Company under this ordinance, to the same extent and with the same effect as the rights and privileges of the Company shall have been forfeited by reason of such default.

The Company further agrees that if any of the agreements or undertakings on the part of the Company in this ordinance contained shall be ultra vires such fact shall in nowise affect or impair the right of the City to declare a forfeiture of all the rights and privileges by this ordinance granted to the Company, on account of the non-performnce of any such ultra vires agreement or undertaking, in the same manner and with like effect as though all of such agreements and undertakings were within the Company's chartered powers, the grants herein made to the Company being expressly conditioned on the performance of each and every of the agreements and undertakings of the Company herein contained, the forfeiture of the Company's rights, however, to be made in the manner and with the effect provided in Section 31 of this ordinance.

ORDINANCE BINDING UPON SUCCESSORS AND ASSIGNS.

SECTION 37. This ordinance shall inure to the benefit of and be binding upon the lessees, successors and assigns of the Company, and they and each of them shall be bound by all and every its provisions by the Company to be kept and performed, precisely as if in every case they had respectively been named herein with the Company.

LEASE OR ASSIGNMENT.

SECTION 38. No lease, or operating agreement, and no assignment (except by way of mortgage or trust deed, under the foregoing provisions and limitations of this ordinance), shall be made by the Company without the consent of the City Council of said City.

WARRANTY OF TITLE.

SECTION 39. Whenever the City, or its licensee, shall desire to purchase and take over the street railway system of the Company within the said City, as in this ordinance provided, and shall comply with the provisions of this ordinance with respect to making such purchase and payment therefor, the Company shall, by good and sufficient written instruments to that end, transfer to the City, or its licensee, as the case may be, all its said street railway system and property, free from all claims and liens whatsoever, and the Company shall warrant the title to all of the property so transferred to the City or its licensee, to be free from all claims and liens whatsoever, and also that there are no outstanding rights in the streets or parts of streets occupied by its street railways, in any person or corporation, derived through or under said Company, except the rights of the Chicago General Railway Company on 22nd, Main and Laurel streets under the leases referred to in Section 1 of this ordinance, and if at the date of said purchase there shall exist any defect in or incumbrance upon the Company's title to any of the real estate now owned by the Company, an amount of the purchase price equal to the appraised value of the real estate, the title to which shall be incumbered or defective, as shown by the appraisal inventory made by Bion J. Arnold, Mortimer E. Cooley and A. B. du Pont, hereinbefore mentioned, shall remain in one or more of the depositaries with which the City or its licensee shall deposit the purchase money for said street railway properties until such defects and incumbrances shall be cured or removed, as security to the purchaser against loss by reason of such defects or incumbrances.

BOND.

SECTION 40. The Company shall forever indemnify and save harmless the said City against and from all damages, judgments, decrees, costs and expenses which the said City may suffer or which may be recoverable from or obtained against the said City, for or by reason of the granting of the privileges hereby conferred upon the Company, or for or by reason of or growing out of or resulting from the exercise by the Company of the privileges hereby granted, or any of them, or from any act or acts of the Company, its servants or agents, under or by virtue of the provisions of this ordinance.

And the Company shall, within the time limited for the acceptance of this ordinance, file with the City Clerk of said City its bond to the said City, in the penal sum of One Hundred Thousand Dollars, conditioned that it will forever indemnify and save harmless the said City as aforesaid; provided, however, that the giving of said bond or the recovery of a judgment or judgments thereon by the said City shall not be construed as measuring, lessening or limiting the liability of the Company to the said City under any provisions of this ordinance.

RIGHTS AND OBLIGATIONS DATE FROM FEBRUARY 1, 1907.

SECTION 41. If the Company shall accept this ordinance within the time limited therein for the acceptance thereof, then the rights and obligations of the City and the Company under this ordinance shall be the same as if this ordinance had been passed on February first, 1907, and had been accepted by the Company on February first, 1907, and accounting shall be had as between the City and the Company as of that date.

ACCEPTANCE.

SECTION 42. This ordinance shall not take effect or be in force unless and until a majority of the votes cast upon the following question of public policy at the election to be held in the City of Chicago, on the first Tuesday in April, A. D. 1907, are in the affirmative:

"For the approval of ordinances substantially in the form of the pending ordinances (reported to the City Council of the City of Chicago on January 15, A. D. 1907), authorizing the Chicago City Railway Company and the Chicago Railways Company, respectively, to construct, maintain and operate street railways in said city, and providing for the purchase thereof by the said City or its licensee."

In the event, and only in the event, that the said question of public policy is submitted to the electors of said city at said election and a majority of the votes cast upon the said question at said election are in the affirmative, then, and in that event, this ordinance shall take effect and be in force from and after its acceptance by the Company and by the Railroad Company, under their respective corporate seals, after the said first Tuesday in April, A. D. 1907; provided, that if the Company shall not file with the City Clerk of the said City the penal bond above herein mentioned, or if either the Company or the Railroad Company shall not file its formal acceptance of this ordinance and of all its terms and conditions within ninety (90) days from the passage hereof, then all rights and privileges hereby granted shall be wholly null and void and of no effect; the acceptance of this ordinance by both of said Companies being hereby made a condition of this ordinance taking effect.

EXHIBIT B.—CHICAGO CITY RAILWAY COMPANY.

Immediately upon the acceptance of this ordinance by the Company it shall proceed with all due diligence to repair and reconstruct its street railway system and equipment and to secure the necessary supply of electric power to comply with the provisions of this ordinance and under the following specifications:

Immediate Rehabilitation.

That the character of service required by the accompanying ordinance may be established at the earliest moment practicable, the Company shall, upon the acceptance of said ordinance, proceed immediately, (1) to remove from the streets all of its present cable tracks, slots, and conduits, and substitute therefor electric tracks of the character and type as hereinafter described; (2) to rebuild at least 60 miles (single track) of the present electric track of the Company with track of the character and type hereinafter described; (3) to construct and equip the necessary system of distribution and substations, as may be determined upon by said

Company with the approval of the Board of Supervising Engineers, to transmit and transform whatever electric power may be required to enable the Company at all times to operate its street railways efficiently and continuously; (4) to rebuild and re-equip its car houses so as to enable it to properly clean and maintain its cars; and (5) to increase as rapidly as possible the number of double truck cars, of the character and type as hereinafter described, until there shall be in operation on its street railway system at least eight hundred (800) such cars. The Company shall diligently prosecute the work above specified and required, and complete the same as rapidly as practicable, in accordance with the provisions of said ordinance, and in compliance with the general specifications herein contained, but in any event the said work shall be completed within three (3) years from the date of the actual acceptance of said ordinance.

GENERAL SPECIFICATIONS.

In addition to the work hereinabove specifically required the Company shall, as promptly as possible, do the necessary work and purchase the necessary materials and equipment to put its entire street railway system and equipment in the best practicable condition to enable it to furnish to the citizens of Chicago the quality and kind of service contemplated and required by this ordinance, and shall at all times maintain the same at the highest practicable efficiency.

Permits.

The Company, before it makes any excavation in or in any way interferes with the surface of, any street or public way for the purpose of doing any work shall obtain from the Commissioner of Public Works of the City a permit so to do, which permit shall contain a condition requiring the Company to restore said street or way and maintain it for one year thereafter; and in every case the Company, after it has restored such street or way, shall maintain it for one year after such restoration.

M. to twelve o'clock midnight, if such interruption shall occur.

Track Substructure.

The rails shall be laid upon concrete beams, wooden ties, steel ties or cast-iron chairs or in some other form of first-class modern approved street railway track construction.

The foundation shall be either of concrete, crushed stone or other ballast material, which in the judgment of the Board of Supervising Engineers shall best suit the conditions of soil and drainage. Said foundation to be brought to the proper height to serve as a suitable foundation for the pavement.

Bonding.

In case the rails are joined by any other form of joint than a cast-welded or electrically-welded joint, there shall be some form of bond used which will connect the ends of the rails in such manner that the conductivity of the joints shall be equivalent to the carrying capacity of the rail. The rails of each single track and the inside rails of the double track of all tracks shall be connected by cross-bonds of No. 2/0 (B. & S. Gauge) copper wire spaced not more than one thousand (1000) feet apart, and properly secured to the rails in such manner that the full conducting effect of the wire may be utilized. The rails shall be so bonded or joined and such return circuits and other necessary devices installed as to prevent damage from electrolysis as effectually as possible.

Special Work.

At all points of intersection of the tracks of the Company with its own tracks or with the tracks of other companies, there shall be provided suitable steel special work of ample strength and weight to correspond with the structure to which it connects. The frogs, switches and mates shall be provided with wearing plates of hardened steel. All special work and curves shall be laid in the same general manner required for straight-line track.

Poles and Wires.

All new overhead construction shall consist of one (1) trolley wire suspended over each track by span wires attached to poles set at the curb-line or suspended from brackets attached to poles.

The design of poles hereafter erected shall be subject to approval of the Board of Engineers, and shall be of iron or steel, weighing approximately nine hundred (900) pounds each, set in concrete and kept thoroughly painted. They shall be spaced on an average of from one hundred (100) to one hundred fifteen (115) feet apart for straight track, except at street intersections, and so as not to obstruct cross streets, alleys, or private driveways. The location of poles shall be subject to the approval of the Commissioner of Public Works.

All material used in the overhead construction shall be of the most modern type and shall be capable of sustaining all the weights and strains that come upon it under normal conditions of operation and from wind, sleet and ordinary accidents.

The trolley wire shall be not less than No. 2/0 (B. & S. Gauge) hard-drawn copper, unless the Board of Supervising Engineers shall approve other sizes for specific cases. Phosphor bronze, silicon bronze or other material equal in strength may also be used. Trolley wires shall be suspended not less than eighteen and one-half (18½) feet above the rails, except when such wires are suspended under viaducts, bridges and other structures. There shall be at least two (2) insulations between the trolley wire and the supporting pole. Span wires shall be galvanized iron or steel or silicon bronze.

Feeders and Transmission Wires.

All feeder and transmission wires within that portion of the City lying east of the west line of Halsted street, north of the south line of Thirty-ninth street, and south of the main Chicago River, and also south of Thirty-ninth street east of the right of way of the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern Railroad, shall be laid underground. To this end, authority is hereby conferred upon the Company to enter upon, excavate for, and construct a system of conduits in the streets, alleys, and other public ways of the City of sufficient capacity to carry its said wires. All feeder wires in any other territory shall be similarly placed underground whenever the City shall require all other overhead public service wires (except trolley wires) in such territory to be placed underground. All transmission wires used by the Company within the city limits, carrying a pressure of 1,000 volts or more shall be placed underground.

Feeder and transmission wires, not required to be placed underground, shall be suspended by insulators upon said poles supporting said trolley wires or upon poles placed at the side of streets, alleys or other public ways in locations to be approved by the Commissioner of Public Works. These wires and poles shall be so situated that the Company may conveniently make all the connections authorized by said ordinance and the exhibits thereto. The said trolley wires, feeder wires and all other wires authorized by said ordinance to be installed by the Company, where located in streets, alleys, or other public or private ways, in, along or across which are located railroads elevated above the surface of the streets, may be strung upon or from the structures of such railroads, with the consent of the Company owning or operating the same. Said wires shall be attached to said structures and maintained under the supervision of the City Electrician.

Conduits.

Underground conduits to carry any of the wires authorized by said ordinance, to be installed by the Company, shall not exceed four (4) feet in width and three

(3) feet in depth, and shall be of tile, cement, iron or other material impervious to moisture and not subject to decay. All transmission and feeder wires and cables laid under ground shall be covered with lead or other impervious material. Before any cable containing such wires shall be put in use it shall be tested by an alternating current of twice the working voltage of the cable. All forms of cable used by the Company containing more than one conductor shall be tested in like manner.

City Conduits.

If at any time the City shall desire to place conduits and manholes in streets or public ways wherein the Company is then about to place conduits and manholes, a single trench may be used for both conduits, but the manholes of the Company shall be kept separate and distinct from those of the City. The expense in such case shall be divided between the Company and the City according to the space used by each therein.

Conductors.

All wires and conductors for the transmission of electricity in and along any street, alley or public way (whether under or above ground) shall be installed in a substantial and workmanlike manner, so as to interfere as little as possible with the other uses of said public places; and all electric work of every kind and character shall comply strictly with the ordinances of the City applicable thereto.

Maintenance of Streets.

The Company, as respects filling, grading, paving, keeping in repair, sweeping, sprinkling, keeping clean, or otherwise improving the streets or parts of streets occupied by its railway, shall fill, grade, pave, keep in repair, sweep, sprinkle, and keep clean and free from snow eight (8) feet in width of all streets and public ways, or portions thereof, occupied by it with a single track railway, and sixteen (16) feet in width of all streets and public ways, or portions thereof, occupied by it with a double track railway.

In removing snow the Company shall not deposit it upon the portions of the street or public way outside of the tracks, except temporarily; and in every case of such temporary deposit it shall be removed within a reasonable time, to be fixed by the Commissioner of Public Works.

Pavement.

The Company, upon the order of the Commissioner of Public Works, and approval of the Board of Supervising Engineers, shall pave, repave, or repair the portions of the streets and public ways which by this grant it is required to keep paved and in repair, whenever and as often as the same shall reasonably require paving, repaving or repairing, and shall at all times keep the surface of all of its paving at least up to the top of the rail.

The pavement which the Company shall be required to lay down and keep in repair in the portion of any street or way which it is required herein to pave and keep in repair shall be of the following kinds, to-wit:

First. In all streets or ways in which the Company has in place, at the date of the passage of this ordinance, a good serviceable pavement, it shall repair and maintain the same while serviceable under the direction of the Commissioner of Public Works, as aforesaid.

Second. Whenever any existing pavement of the Company, in any paved street or way, can no longer be made serviceable by repair; and whenever the portions of any street or public way outside of the strip herein required to be paved by the Company are newly paved or repaved, with asphalt, granite, brick, creosoted block, or other similar material, as aforesaid, and the pavement of the Company therein does not comply with the following specifications; and whenever the Company relays its rails in any such paved street or public way in which its pavement does not comply with the following specifications, then, and in any of such events, the Company shall pave or repave the portion of any such street or public way, which it is herein required to keep paved, with granite paving blocks having a uniform grain and texture, without lamination or stratification, and free from an excess of mica or feldspar. Said block shall measure from three and one-half (3½) to five and one-half (5½) inches in width, from seven (7) to eleven (11) inches in length (except that shorter stones may be used to break joints), and not less than five (5) inches in depth. They shall be so dressed as to have substantially rectangular plane surfaces, so that when in place the joints at the ends and sides shall average one-fourth (¼) inch in width. Soft or weather-worn stones, obtained from the surface of the quarry, and stones which wear to a polish under traffic shall not be used. All blocks shall be laid in uniform courses across the roadway; and the space between the blocks, when in place, shall in no case be less than one-eighth (⅛) of an inch nor more than three-eighths (⅜) of an inch in width. Each course shall consist of blocks of the same width. They shall be so laid that all longitudinal joints shall be broken by a lap of approximately three inches. The spaces shall be immediately filled to within two (2) inches of the top of the blocks with dry gravel free from loam or dirt, and the blocks rammed to a true surface and firm bed with a seventy-five (75) pound rammer of approved shape. No cracked or chipped blocks shall remain in the pavement. After ramming, the spaces between the blocks shall be completely filled with a paving pitch made by the distillation of "straight run" coal tar and of such quality and consistency as shall be approved by the Commissioner of Public Works. The pitch shall be used at a temperature of not less than two hundred and eighty (280) degrees Fahrenheit and be spread in such quantity as to apply two (2) gallons to each square yard of pavement. The spreading shall be done in sections if the Commissioner of Public Works so directs. Provided, that, in any ordinance providing for the paving of such streets the Company may be required to pave in like manner and with like material as therein specified for other contiguous portions of said streets, except that when asphalt is used a layer of granite blocks shall be put in next to and on both sides of each rail.

Third. Whenever any existing pavement of the Company, in any unpaved street, or public way, can no longer be made serviceable by repairs; and whenever the Company lays down any track or tracks in any unpaved street or public way, then, and in either of such events, the Company shall pave or repave the portions of any such street or public way, which it is required to keep paved or repaved, as aforesaid, with good serviceable granite blocks.

Fourth. In each case where by said Exhibit A attached to this ordinance the Company is authorized and required to change a single track to a double track, in any street or part of a street, if the roadway therein be not at least thirty-eight (38) feet in width, the Company shall, at its own cost (such cost to be charged to capital account) widen said roadway to said width and shall rebuild the catchbasins and their connections and curb and pave said street, as may be required by the City Council; provided, that the Company shall not hereby be required to pave, in addition to the part of the street occupied by its double-track street railway, as provided for in this ordinance, more than eight (8) feet in width of such roadway nor to acquire private property in order to secure the necessary width for such roadway.

Power Houses, Buildings.

The Company shall build such power houses and auxiliary buildings, together with the necessary machinery and appurtenances as may be determined upon by said Company with the approval of the Board of Supervising Engineers to supply whatever electric power may be required (in addition to such power as the Company may acquire by lease or contract with such approval from sources other than its own plants) to enable the Company to operate at all times its street railway system efficiently and continuously.

In the construction of power plants, substations and other buildings, the Company shall comply with all general ordinances of the City in regard to buildings and to the installation of machinery, boilers, and smoke-consuming appliances. The buildings of said power plants shall be substantially fire-proof and supplied with smoke-stacks sufficient to carry off all gases emitted, and the foundations for the machinery therein shall be constructed in a solid and substantial manner.

The machinery and apparatus employed shall be selected and installed with a view of affording uninterrupted operation of the cars upon said railways, and to obtain this end the machinery shall be so arranged that a stoppage of one machine shall not prevent the operation of the remaining machines, and reserve machinery shall always be ready to be thrown into service. All boilers, piping, valves, fittings, steam engines, turbines, generators, switchboard apparatus, and other appliances used, shall be of the latest and most approved design and constructed and installed in accordance with the best engineering practice.

In all dynamos and connections where a high voltage current is produced or used approved methods for the protection of human life shall be employed.

The high tension switches shall be entirely enclosed in fireproof material, and shall be operated by levers, compressed air, auxiliary currents, or by such other means as will, as far as practicable, prevent personal contact with high tension current.

All feeders leading out of power plants and sub-stations shall be provided with some form of safety switches or automatic circuit-breakers designed to instantaneously open the circuit in case of a short circuit occurring on the feeder or on the trolley which it feeds.

All the foregoing specifications regarding modern and approved apparatus, protection from fire, and provisions for the protection of human life, shall apply with equal force to the sub-stations in case a system of transmision involving the use of sub-stations is adopted.

In case it is found desirable to secure power from any other source than the Company's own power plants no contract for supplying such power shall be entered into by the Company without the consent of the Board of Supervising Engineers.

Car Shops and Machinery.

It is contemplated that the present car shops and machinery contained therein will remain as at present installed with such additions thereto as may be necessary and located as follows:

Complete plant fronting on Vincennes Road at the corner of Seventy-eighth street, extending from Vincennes Road to Wentworth avenue.

Cars.

All new cars hereafter put in service shall be of the type known as double truck cars, seating from 40 to 50 passengers; and in construction, design and equipment shall conform strictly to all the provisions of Section 10 of the ordinance.

The Company may retain in operation on said streets until the Board of Supervising Engineers otherwise directs, two hundred fifty-one (251) of the present single-truck cars now in service, it being understood that these cars shall be selected from the best cars now in service and shall conform in every respect to all general ordinances of the City regulating such cars.

All of the above cars shall be equipped with sufficient motor capacity to properly operate the cars at the schedule speed required by the service over the particular lines that they may be operated upon.

Electric or hot water heaters, or heaters of other types approved by the Board of Supervising Engineers, of sufficient capacity to heat the above cars as stipulated in the accompanying ordinance, shall be used.

Every passenger car used by said Company which is not now equipped with a power brake shall, on or before nine (9) months after the passage of this ordinance, be equipped with a power brake of a type approved by the Board of Supervising Engineers.

Every passenger car used by said Company which is not now vestibuled shall, on or before nine (9) months after the passage of this ordinance, be vestibuled in such manner as may be approved by the Board of Supervising Engineers.

Rolling Stock.

The Company shall provide all necessary snow-plows, sweepers, repair cars, work cars, etc., to properly take care of its system and maintain it in first class working condition.

The following is the *ordinance running to the Chicago Railways Company, as passed:

AUTHORIZING THE CHICAGO RAILWAYS COMPANY TO CONSTRUCT, MAINTAIN AND OPERATE A SYSTEM OF STREET RAILWAYS IN STREETS AND PUBLIC WAYS OF THE CITY OF CHICAGO.

PREAMBLE.

WHEREAS, The Receivers of the Chicago Union Traction Company now maintain and operate a system of street railways in the streets and public ways in the north, west and south divisions of the city of Chicago; and,

WHEREAS, The Chicago Railways Company, hereinafter called the "Company," has been organized for the purpose of acquiring, operating, re-constructing, re-equipping and extending said system under the terms of this ordinance; and,

WHEREAS, The said City desires, for the proper accommodation of the public, to provide for the reconstruction, re-equipment and extension of the said street railway system and for the unified operation of said system together with the street railway system now maintained and operated by the Chicago City Railway Company, and to be in a position as soon as practicable freely to deal with the subject of transportation in its streets as a whole, and to fix and determine the definite terms and conditions upon which the said City shall have the right to purchase and take over at any time the street railway system of the Company. Now, therefore,

Be it ordained by the City Council of the City of Chicago:

AUTHORITY.

SECTION 1. That in consideration of the acceptance by the Company of this ordinance, subject to all of the provisions, conditions, requirements and limitations

*Amendments to the ordinance are printed in italics. Differences in the ordinance running to the Chicago Railways Company with respect to the ordinance running to the Chicago City Railway Company are denoted by heavy black type.

hereof, consent, permission and authority are hereby granted to the Company, its lessees, successors and assigns, to construct, reconstruct, maintain and operate a system of street railways in, upon and along the streets and public ways or portions thereof, in the City of Chicago, set out in the schedule marked "Exhibit A" hereto attached and made a part hereof.

For the purpose of carrying into effect the desire of the said City to provide for the unified operation of said street railways, an ordinance similar to this ordinance in general provisions and character, running to the Chicago City Railway Company, as grantee, covering the system of street railways now maintained and operated by said Chicago City Railway Company in the south division of said City, has been presented for passage concurrently with this ordinance, and it is hereby expressly provided that, upon the passage and acceptance of said last mentioned ordinance, then in all cases where this ordinance and the said ordinance relating to the street railways now maintained and operated by the Chicago City Railway Company confer grants upon more than one company in the same part of any street, the rights granted to the respective companies in such part of any street shall be construed to be for a mutual and joint use of tracks, and the rights of each company therein shall be the same as though the said ordinances making such grants had been passed and had taken effect concurrently, without regard to the actual dates of their respective passage and acceptance. Whenever such tracks are to be used jointly, they shall be constructed, maintained and operated at the equal joint expense of the said companies.

SPECIAL CONDITIONS.

The permission and authority hereby granted to the Company are, however, subject to the following conditions:

(a) Such permission and authority shall wholly cease and determine, unless within one hundred and twenty (120) days after the passage of this ordinance the Company shall acquire all the property, franchises, rights and claims described or referred to in Section 20 of this ordinance, including all the property constituting the system of street railways now operated by the Receivers of the Chicago Union Traction Company, provided a clear title to all said property, franchises, rights and claims be tendered the Company, free from liens and encumbrances, at a price not exceeding the price for which the City may buy the same under the terms of said Section 20.

(b) If such title be not so tendered the Company within said period, the permission and authority hereby granted shall nevertheless cease and determine without any further action whatever by the City of Chicago, unless within a period of two hundred and ten (210) days after the passage of this ordinance a plan of reorganization and readjustment which shall be consistent with the terms of the deposit agreement referred to in subdivision (c) of this Section shall have been approved as in said agreement provided, under which plan an opportunity shall be conferred upon each individual holder of a direct or indirect interest in or lien upon said property, franchises or claims, or any part thereof, or of any right, claim or demand as creditor or otherwise, entitled to enforcement against said property, franchises, rights or claims, or payable out of the same or any part thereof, to participate in the transfer of said property, franchises, rights and claims to and the acquisition thereof by the Company, and to receive such stocks, securities or other benefits as said plan of re-organization and readjustment may provide, on the terms and conditions in said plan set forth, and which opportunity shall remain open during a period to be specified in said plan and approved as aforesaid, but not extending beyond January 20, A. D. 1908. Nothing in this ordinance contained shall be construed to confer, directly or indirectly, any interest in or right with respect to the authority and permission granted to the Company by this ordinance, or otherwise, upon any holder of any existing interest in or lien upon the property, franchises, rights and claims above mentioned.

(c) Upon the expiration of said period last mentioned, the Company shall proceed promptly to perfect its title to the entire property, franchises, rights and claims aforesaid, using for that purpose if necessary any and all stocks, securities and evidences of indebtedness acquired pursuant to said plan of re-organization and re-adjustment; and, to the extent that it may be necessary to acquire or extinguish any interests in or liens upon said property, franchises, rights and claims, or any debts, claims or demands against the same which are not represented by the stocks, securities and evidences of indebtedness so acquired by the Company, the City of Chicago may in its discretion exercise any and every power with which it may then be vested, whether by virtue of any statute, ordinance, contract or judicial decree, to acquire or extinguish such outstanding interests, or to obtain title to and possession of any part of the aforesaid property, franchises, rights and claims to which the Company shall not have obtained title. The Company, by the acceptance of this ordinance, shall be obligated at the option of the City to buy from the City all such property, franchises, rights and claims so acquired at the price which the City may have to pay for the same, and to make payment therefor at or before the time when the City is to pay the purchase-price of said property, and to indemnify and on demand reimburse the said City for all expenses incurred in the exercise of said powers in acquiring or extinguishing such outstanding interests, or in obtaining title to or possession of such property, or in terminating such possession, use or occupation or in attempting any such action at the suggestion or request of the Company.

The Company shall not be so obliged to buy unless the price to be paid by the City for the title obtained or the property acquired or extinguished in pursuance of this subdivision (c) of this section shall be determined by judicial proceeding or by appraisement by a disinterested tribunal, the City hereby consenting that the Company shall have a right to be heard upon the question of value. In order to reduce the price which the City may have to pay for any property so acquired or extinguished, the Company, by the acceptance of this ordinance, shall be obligated to waive in favor of the City any right of participation in such purchase-price by reason of any stocks, securities or evidences of indebtedness which it shall have acquired, or of which it may have the control through a trustee or otherwise, and to allow the City to use the same in such appropriate manner as the nature of the proceeding will permit in reduction of the purchase-price.

(d) Within a period of three years from and after the passage of this ordinance, the Company shall perfect its title to said entire system of street railways and shall free the same from any lien or encumbrance other than such as are herein expressly authorized to be created. The Company shall not, however, be deemed to be in default with respect to the obligation last above stated so long as there shall have been no notice given by the City of its intention to purchase said street railway system, or to cause the same to be purchased by its licensee, unless notice in writing shall have been given to the Company by the City of some particular defect of title or of some particular lien or encumbrance and the Company shall have failed within sixty (60) days thereafter to remove the same.

And so long as no such notice of intention shall have been given by the City, no default shall be deemed to exist on the part of the Company with respect to said obligation last above stated, in any of the following classes of excepted cases, it being distinctly understood and agreed that the burden of proof rests upon the Company to show that any alleged defect of title, or lien or encumbrance falls within any of said excepted classes, next hereinafter consecutively numbered, to-wit:

(1) Unsubstantial or trivial defects of title.

(2) Defects of title of real property used for the production of power or for office purposes or for the storage of supplies, materials or equipment, or for other like purposes, but only if and so long as the Company shall procure and keep in force a policy of insurance, insuring its title to such property, issued by a Company in good standing authorized to engage in the business of insuring titles in the State of Illinois, indemnifying the Company and the City or its licensee in the event of purchase, as in this ordinance provided, against any and all loss, damage or expense by reason of such defect of title, lien or encumbance for an amount not less than the full value of the particular piece of real property subject to such defect, lien or encumbrance, as set forth in the appraisal inventory referred to in Section 20 of this ordinance, with all additions and improvements thereto as certified by the Board of Supervising Engineers.

(3) Liens or encumbrances securing unmatured obligations for the payment of money, but only if and so long as the Company shall keep on deposit, with one or more of the depositaries appointed in accordance with the provisions of this ordinance, money sufficient to pay the principal of such obligations (and interest on such obligations as the said interest becomes due, to maturity) and also to pay all charges or expenses incident to the release of such lien or encumbrance, upon a specific trust to apply such money to make such payments, or, in case of purchase of said property by the City or its licensee, as in this ordinance provided, and in the event that the City or its licensee shall elect to take title to such property subject to any such lien or encumbrance, then to pay over to the City or its licensee, as the case may be, the entire amount remaining of said deposit.

(4) Defects of title by reason of any estate, interest, right, title, claim, demand, lien or encumbrance acquired by the City after the passage of this ordinance and either held by it or subject to its control, but only if and so long as the Company tenders and stands ready to pay to the City, for a conveyance, release or discharge thereof, an amount equal to the cost and expense to the City of acquiring such estate, interest, right, title, claim, demand, lien or encumbrance, with interest.

(5) Any alleged defect of title arising out of any claim or demand originating after the passage of this ordinance against the Company or its property the validity, amount or extent of which shall be contested by the Company in good faith and upon reasonable grounds by appropriate legal procedure with reasonable diligence, provided the Company shall give to the City indemnity therefor satisfactory to the Mayor of the City in his absolute discretion.

(e) It is further expressly provided that no right, permission or authority under this ordinance shall vest in the Company and the Company shall not have the right to accept this ordinance unless at the time of such acceptance there shall have been deposited with The Chicago Title and Trust Company, Trustee, under an agreement substantially in the form hereto annexed and marked "Exhibit D," which agreement shall then have been duly executed, certificates of stock duly indorsed in blank for transfer, representing not less than the following amounts of the capital stock of the respective corporations hereinafter mentioned, viz.: three thousand, one hundred and twenty-six (3,126) shares of the capital stock of the Chicago West Division Railway Company, and one thousand, two hundred and fifty-one (1,251) shares of the capital stock of the North Chicago City Railway Company (being, respectively, more than a majority of the entire capital stock of said companies, other than that held by Trustees under outstanding mortgages or deeds of trust); also twenty-nine thousand, six hundred and one (29,601) shares of the capital stock of the North Chicago Street Railroad Company, and forty-nine thousand, nine hundred and forty-six (49,946) shares of the capital stock of the West Chicago Street Railroad Company (being respectively more than a majority of the entire capital stock of said two companies last named, other than that held by the Illinois Trust and Savings Bank, as Trustee under a deed of trust); and, also, eighty thousand and one (80,001) shares of the preferred stock and one hundred and thirty-three thousand, three hundred and thirty-four (133,334) shares of the common stock of the Chicago Union Traction Company (being more than two-thirds of each class of said capital stock); provided that the City shall have and hereby reserves the right to modify the aforesaid provisions and conditions so as to reduce the proportion of stock of any or all of said companies to be so deposited to such amount as to the City may seem proper; and provided further that the certificate of said Trustee as to the number of shares of stock so deposited shall be prima facie evidence in respect to the performance of the foregoing conditions and provisions.

In the event that the Company shall accept this ordinance and thereafter by reason of its failure to comply with any of the covenants or conditions hereof, the permission and authority granted by this ordinance shall cease and determine, then and in that event all the shares of stock of the Companies in this subdivision of this section mentioned, then owned by the Company or deposited with the Trustee under said agreement as above provided, and all the beneficial interest appertaining to said stock and assigned to the Company or to said Trustee shall pass to, vest in and become the property of or be subject to the control and disposition of the City or of such person or persons or corporation as the City shall by ordinance designate, subject to the terms of said deposit agreement.

(f) No right, permission or authority under this ordinance shall vest in the Company and the Company shall not have the right to accept this ordinance unless, at the time of such acceptance the Company shall be in lawful possession of all the lines of street railway operated by the Receivers of the Chicago Union Traction Company, on February 1, 1907, with all the plant and equipment in use on or in connection with said lines at the time of said acceptance, with power and authority to comply with the provisions of this ordinance with respect to the operation, maintenance, extension, re-construction, re-equipment and improvement of said railways, and to make from the receipts thereof all the deposits and payments required by the provisions of this ordinance to be made from such receipts, and with power to transfer to the City, or its licensee, all such possession, rights, and powers in accordance with the provisions of this ordinance in that behalf hereinafter set forth.

(g) The Company shall at all times during the life of this grant maintain the possession of the property and the power and authority which by sub-division

(f) of this section the Company is required to have at the time of the acceptance of this ordinance, subject to the provisions contained in this ordinance as to the suspension or termination of such possession.

RECONSTRUCTION.

Section 2. The Company shall proceed at once to re-construct portions of the track and roadbed constituting said system of street railways now maintained and operated by the Receivers of the Chicago Union Traction Company and put said entire street railway system, plant and equipment in first-class condition, in full compliance with the specifications and provisions for such work in this ordinance and in the Exhibit hereto attached, marked "Exhibit B" and made a part of this ordinance, with the same force and effect as though herein fully set forth, and to operate and maintain said system in accordance with the provisions of this ordinance and of said "Exhibit B."

Such provisions of this ordinance as are in the nature of specifications shall be given at all times full force and effect, except in cases, if any, in which they conflict with express provisions of "Exhibit B," in which cases the latter shall prevail. The provisions of this ordinance and those of "Exhibit B," however, shall be construed together, and both, so far as practicable, be given full effect throughout the life of this grant.

The expressions "property of the Company" or "street railway system of the Company" or equivalent expressions as hereinafter used, except where the context clearly indicates a different meaning, shall be deemed to denote all the property from time to time possessed or used by the Company in and about the street railway business conducted under the provisons of this ordinance, including all franchises, rights and privileges of every nature enjoyed or exercised or capable of being enjoyed or exercised in connection therewith, irrespective of the nature or extent of the Company's interest therein, and a similar construction shall be given to expressions relating to particular classes or species of the Company's property.

EXTENSIONS.

Section 3. The said City shall have the right, subject to the limitations contained in this ordinance, at any time to require the Company to make extensions of and additions to the lines of street railway enumerated in said "Exhibit A." Such extensions and additions shall be made under the supervision of the Board of Supervising Engineers, as hereinafter in Section 7 provided, and the cost thereof shall be determined as provided in said section. The character and quality of such work shall comply with the specifications set forth in said "Exhibit B," so far as the same may be applicable thereto.

The Company shall promptly and within a reasonable time after the passage of this ordinance construct and equip the extensions of its street railway system provided for in "Exhibit A." and also in Section 38 hereof, subject to the provisions of said Section 38, and shall operate the same as a part of its system in conformity with the provisions of this ordinance, and at any time after three (3) years from the acceptance of this ordinance, the Company shall upon the order of the City Council of the City, construct and equip such additional extensions as may be required by the City and shall operate the same as a part of its system in conformity with the provisions of this ordinance, provided, that the Company shall not be obligated hereby to construct and operate any such additional extensions in any street or public way nearer any then existing parallel street railway tracks of the Company than one-half mile, and that the Company shall not be obligated hereby to construct more than six miles of double track railway or twelve miles of single track railway in any one calendar year during the term of this grant.

The Company shall, however, upon the order of the City Council of the City, construct, equip and operate such extensions of its street railway system in addition to those hereinabove provided for as may be required by the City Council subject to the conditions and limitations contained in Section 26 of this ordinance.

The Company shall not be authorized or obligated to construct any extension of its street railway system upon streets on which street railways are not located when this ordinance goes into effect until the City has granted to the Company whatever authority in addition to this ordinance may be necessary to comply with the frontage consent laws of the State of Illinois.

MOTIVE POWER.

SECTION 4. The motive power to be used in the operation of said street railways shall be electricity, applied by the overhead trolley system or otherwise, as more particularly set forth in said "Exhibit B;" provided that the said City (subject to the limitations contained in Section 26 hereof), at any time after three years from the date of the acceptance of this ordinance, may require by ordinance, that the Company shall operate under the provisions of this ordinance any of its street railways herein authorized by electric power transmitted through working conductors carried in conduits below the surface of the street and between and underneath the rails, otherwise known as the underground trolley system, and shall thereafter cease to operate the same by overhead trolley.

USE OF POLES, CONDUITS, ETC.

SECTION 5. The Company may use its trolley poles, feeder poles, trolley wires, feeder wires and the conduits authorized and provided for in said "Exhibit B," for all purposes solely connected with the operation of its street railways, such as power, light, heat and telephonic and other signals. For such purposes the Company may connect such conduits, poles and wires with its transmission and feeder wires, power plants, substations, car houses, repair shops or other property of the Company, and with any transmission, feeder or other wires of any other individual or corporation.

JOINT USE WITH THE CITY.

The said City shall have the right, without the payment of any compensation therefor, during the life of this grant, to use the poles of the Company to carry the signal, telephone, telegraph and electric light wires and lamps of the said City. The transmission wires of the said City for such purposes shall be placed on poles of the Company, on that side of each street or way (where poles are located on both sides thereof) designated by the said Board of Supervising Engineers, without cost or expense to the Company, but the Company shall repair and maintain its poles as one of the operating expenses of the said street railway system under this ordinance; provided, that the said City shall indemnify and save harmless the Company against and from all damages, judgments, costs or expenses which the Company may suffer by reason of any negligence of the said City in installing, maintaining or using its said wires and lamps upon said poles.

SUBWAYS.

SECTION 6. The Company hereby gives to said City and said City reserves the power by ordinance to require the Company to join with the Chicago City Railway Company and with the said City in defraying the cost of the construction of a system of subways for the joint use of the said companies as down town terminals of their street railway systems, and for the use of said City and of its licensees, the legal title to said subways to be in said City, subject to the rights of the said companies under this ordinance, it being, however, an express condition of the Company being required to join in defraying the cost of such construction of such system of subways, that said subway system and the extensions thereof shall not be used for street railway purposes during the life of this grant except by the street railway systems of said companies; provided, that the companies shall not be required to contribute to the cost of said subway system any amount in excess of the pro rata cost of that part of said subway system which is to be devoted to the use of said companies or either of them and that the total amount which the said companies shall be required to contribute toward the construction of said system of subways shall not exceed the sum of five million ($5,000,000) dollars, exclusive of the cost of (1) reconstructing the present tunnels under the Chicago River, or (2) of converting said tunnels into a part of said system of subways. Three-fifths of that part of the cost of the said subways (exclusive of the tunnels under the Chicago River), payable by said companies shall be borne by the Company and two-fifths of the said cost shall be borne by said Chicago City Railway Company; and provided, further, the Company shall not be obligated to join in defraying the cost of the construction of such subway system until (1) the said City shall authorize the construction of said subway system by an ordinance which shall prescribe the location, character and extent of said subway system and the plans and specifications therefor, which plans and specifications shall include provision specifying the portions thereof to be devoted to the use of said companies, respectively, and to the use of the said City and its licensees, and regulating the manner of such uses, and specifying the share of the cost of such subway system to be borne by said companies and the extent of the user to which each said company shall be entitled in that part of said subway system devoted to street railway purposes, and until, (2) the Board of Supervising Engineers shall approve the location, character and extent of and the plans and specifications for such subway system. The limitation of five million dollars as above defined shall apply to the subway system above mentioned, but shall have no application to the extensions and additions herein next mentioned.

When said subway system shall have been fully completed (but not before the expiration of five years from and after the acceptance of this ordinance) the Company (subject to the limitations contained in Section 26 hereof) may be required by ordinance to join with the said Chicago City Railway Company and with the said City in defraying the cost of the construction of extensions and additions to such subway system and the Company agrees that it will pay to the said City the pro rata cost of constructing that portion of such extensions which is to be devoted to the use of the Company and its proportionate part of the pro rata cost of constructing that portion of such extensions which is to be devoted to the joint use of the said companies; provided, however, the Company shall not be obligated to join in defraying the cost of the construction of such extensions and additions to said subway system until (1) the said City shall authorize the construction of said extensions and additions by an ordinance which shall prescribe the location, character and extent of said extensions and additions and the plans and specifications therefor, which plans and specifications shall include provisions specifying the portions to be devoted to the use of said companies and to the use of said City and its licensees, and regulating the manner of such uses and specifying the part of the total estimated cost of such extensions and additions to be borne by the said companies, respectively, and until (2) the location, character and extent of said extensions and additions and the plans and specifications therefor shall be approved by the said Board of Supervising Engineers.

The provisions of this ordinance under which the said Company obligates itself to contribute to the cost of constructing subways and extensions of subways and fixing the conditions under which the said Company is so obligated shall not have the effect or be construed to have the effect of depriving the said City of any right which the said City may have or acquire (otherwise than by virtue of this ordinance) to construct subways or extensions thereof, or to compel said Company to contribute to the cost of such subways or extensions, or to compel said Company to use the subways in whole or in part, in connection with its street railways or to fix the terms and conditions of such use. By the acceptance of this ordinance the Company admits that the City has the right and authority to construct subways and extensions of subways in the streets and parts of streets described in "Exhibit A" and in all other streets or parts of streets in which the Company is now or hereafter authorized to construct or operate street railways and the Company by such acceptance consents to the exercise of such right by the City; but the Company by the acceptance of this ordinance shall not be construed as admitting that the City now has any right otherwise than by virtue of this ordinance to compel said Company to contribute to the cost of any subway or extension thereof, or to compel said Company to use subways in whole or in part in connection with its street railways or to fix the terms and conditions of such use, or that it could acquire such right, and the exercise by the City of any such right shall not impair or in anywise affect the rights of the Company under the provisions of this ordinance in that part of any subway, or extensions thereof, to the cost of constructing which the Company shall have contributed.

Nothing in this ordinance contained shall be construed to give the said City the power to require the Company in case of the construction of said subway system, or extensions and additions thereto, and the placing of its railway tracks therein, or in a part thereof, to cease the operation of its railway, during the life of this grant, upon the surface of any of the streets or parts of streets under which the said subway system, or said extensions and additions thereto, may be constructed, so long as or whenever the City shall permit the construction or operation of any street railways upon the surface of such streets or parts of streets, respectively.

It is expressly provided that in case the capacity of that portion devoted to street railway purposes, of any subways or extensions of subways, constructed under the provisions of this Section of this ordinance, shall at any time be greater than necessarily and properly required for the use of the said Company or companies which have contributed to the cost of said subways or extensions thereof in the operation of their street railways therein, the City may authorize or require any other company operating elevated railways in said City to use said subways and extensions, or parts thereof, to the extent of such surplus capacity, but only to such extent, provided that such company shall pay a reasonable rental for such use by it, which rental shall be apportioned between the parties who have contributed to the cost of constructing the portion of such subways or extensions so used by such other company in proportion to the extent of their respective contributions; and the portion of such rental so paid to the Company shall be considered and treated as part of its gross receipts, to be disposed of under the provisions of this ordinance as other gross receipts from the operation of the street railways of said Company are to be disposed of. The City shall have the right to use the said subways and extensions for any elevated railway belonging to said City to the same extent and upon the same terms that it may authorize or require their use by any elevated railway company.

CITY TO HAVE SUPERVISION OF REHABILITATION.

SECTION 7. All of the construction, re-construction, equipment, re-equipment, extensions and additions to plant and property provided for or required by this ordinance or the exhibits thereto, including underground trolleys, tunnel re-construction, new lines, extensions, and other additions to plant and property (but not subways or extensions thereof), shall be done, performed and acquired by the Company under the direction and supervision of said Board of Supervising Engineers, and the cost and expense thereof shall be borne and paid by the Company, but no contract, subcontract or payment therefor except as expressly provided in Section 34 hereof shall be made without the written approval of said Board.

The Company shall purchase materials and equipment, and employ engineers, superintendents, clerks, foremen and workmen and shall pay all expenses of every nature, including legal expenses, necessary to the proper, complete and prompt performance of the above mentioned work, upon the lowest advantageous terms and subject to the approval of the said Board of Supervising Engineers, and to the actual amount paid by the Company in and about carrying out each and all of the requirements of this section, shall be added ten per cent. of such amount as a fair and proper allowance to the Company for conducting the said work and furnishing said equipment and five per cent. for its services in procuring funds therefor, including brokerage; except that no such percentages shall be allowed on the cost of reconstructing the Van Buren street tunnel as provided in the first paragraph of Section 34 of this ordinance, or of lowering and removing obstructions to navigation in the Chicago River under the ordinance of the City of Chicago relating thereto, passed June 18th, A. D. 1906.

The said Board of Supervising Engineers shall, on or before the fifteenth day of each month, make a report in writing, dated the first day of such month, to the City Comptroller of the amount of money actually expended during the previous month by the Company with the approval of said Board of Supervising Engineers in and about carrying out the requirements of this section together with the percentages of such amount in the next preceding paragraph provided for, and all amounts contributed by the Company to the cost of the said subway system or extensions thereof together with five per cent. of the amounts so contributed; and the interest provided in Section 25 hereof as a deduction from gross receipts shall begin to run upon the total amount of each such certificate from and after the date thereof.

The amount or amounts so certified by the said Board of Supervising Engineers (including the said additional percentages thereof as hereinabove provided) shall be final and binding upon both parties hereto and shall be conclusively held and taken as the cost of the said construction, reconstruction, equipment, re-equipment, extensions and additions to plant and property, including subways, underground trolleys, tunnel re-construction, new lines, and other additions to plant and property, which shall be paid by the said City upon the taking over of the said street railway system as in this ordinance provided, except that said Board may at any time within sixty (60) days after the date of any such certificate correct any error or omission therein.

The cost of such construction, reconstruction, equipment, re-equipment, extensions and additions, including said percentages, not exceeding the amount so certified, together with all amounts contributed by the Company to the City for the construction of subways or extensions thereof, with five per cent. of said last named amounts added thereto, may be represented by bonds or obligations to be held, negotiated or sold by the Company, bearing interest at a rate not exceeding five per cent. per annum, payable semi-annually on the first days of February and August in each year, maturing not earlier than twenty years after the passage of this ordinance, in denominations not less than five hundred dollars each, redeemable at par and accrued interest, after published notice, on any day appointed for the payment of interest. Such bonds or obligations may be secured by a mortgage or deed of trust, which shall comply with all the provisions of this ordinance and the form of which shall be submitted to and be subject to the approval of a Trust Company qualified to act as depositary under the terms of this ordinance, to be selected by the Mayor of the City of Chicago, as containing (the circumstances considered) no provision unusual or unreasonable in character. The Company shall not at any time create any lien or encumbrance upon the property or rights conveyed by said mortgage or deed of trust or any part thereof superior to that securing said bonds and obligations. Provided, however, that the Company shall not be authorized to make or issue said bonds or obligations to an aggregate amount exceeding the amount certified by the Board of Supervising Engineers, nor shall the City be bound to recognize any of said bonds or obligations as having been authorized by this ordinance unless and until there shall be endorsed thereon by the City Comptroller or other officer or agent of the City designated by ordinance, a certificate to the effect that such bond or obligation is one of the bonds or obligations by this section authorized. To the extent that the amount certified by said Board of Supervising Engineers (including said percentages) shall not be represented by bonds and obligations as aforesaid, a lien shall exist in favor of the Company, its successors and assigns, of equal rank and like character to that securing the said bonds and obligations hereinabove authorized.

The said Board of Supervising Engineers shall have the power to determine what work shall be treated as construction, reconstruction, equipment, re-equipment, extensions, new lines, underground trolleys, tunnel re-construction, or additions to plant or property to be paid for by the Company out of the capital funds to be provided by it for that purpose, and what shall be treated as maintenance, repairs and renewals, to be paid for out of the gross receipts of the Company from the operation of the street railway system hereby authorized. But any such determination of said Board shall be governed by the following provisions:

During the three (3) year period of "Immediate Rehabilitation" seventy (70) per cent. of the gross receipts shall be set apart and shall be used so far as required in defraying the operating expenses, including maintenance and repairs, and the residue of said seventy (70) per cent. shall be applied to the cost of renewals and no part of the cost of any renewal paid for out of such seventy (70) per cent. shall be charged to additional capital, and all expenditures for renewals during said three (3) years in excess of such residue of said seventy (70) per cent. shall be charged to capital account.

After such three (3) year period of "Immediate Rehabilitation," the cost of renewals shall be paid as provided in Section 16 hereof, but such expenditures (and only such expenditures) as are made for the purpose of extensions of or additions to property shall be thereafter considered as additions to capital, provided, however, that in the replacement of any principal part of the property, either existing or hereafter acquired, there shall be charged to capital the excess amount that the new property cost over the original cost of the property displaced, excepting that the value of property contained in the appraisal inventory of the property of the Company, referred to in paragraph 1 of Section 20 hereof, shall be used instead of first cost for all property listed in such appraisal inventory.

REMOVAL OF TRACKS.

SECTION 8. The Company shall forthwith remove all tracks now owned, operated or maintained by the Receivers of the Chicago Union Traction Company which it is not expressly authorized by this ordinance hereafter to maintain and operate. If it shall hereafter cease to operate over any of its tracks or any portion thereof, it shall remove such unused tracks upon the order of the City Council. Failure to operate cars for the carriage of passengers at least once each way within every hour of each day between the hours of six (6) A. M. and eight (8) P. M. over any part of a street or public place in which tracks of the Company are laid, shall be treated as a cessation of operation of its tracks in such part of street or public place within the meaning of this section, unless such operation is interfered with by unavoidable accidents, labor strikes or litigation brought without connivance of the Company; provided, however, that the foregoing provisions of this section shall not be construed to require or authorize the removal of curves or turn-outs or of connecting tracks specifically authorized by this ordinance or the exhibits hereto to be constructed and maintained for use during rush hours or for emergency use in case of fire or accident, or such tracks as may be necessary for a connection with the Company's property used for street railway purposes.

The City shall have the right by ordinance to require the Company to remove any tracks or portions thereof, the further maintenance of which is at any time no longer warranted by the traffic, or reasonably required in the operation of the said street railway system, provided that the Company shall not be required to remove such tracks but may maintain or reconstruct and operate the same during the life of this grant so long as or whenever the City shall permit the construction or operation of any street railways upon the streets or parts of streets respectively from which such tracks have been so required to be removed and in every case of removal of tracks as aforesaid, the Company shall restore the street or public way to the condition of the other portions thereof, all at its own cost, such cost to be treated as an operating expense.

If the Company shall fail within a reasonable time (not to exceed 30 days) to remove any such tracks on order of the Commissioner of Public Works, the said City may remove them, charging the expense thereof to the Company; provided, however, that nothing in this section contained shall relieve the Company from its obligations at all times to render adequate service on its street railways.

RIGHT TO SELL UNNECESSARY PROPERTY.

SECTION 9. The Company shall not hereafter sell, or permit to be sold to others, any of the property now in the possession of, and operated by, the Receivers of the Chicago Union Traction Company or hereafter acquired by said Receivers or by the Company as an addition to or extension of, or for use in connection with the said street railways, except as the same may become unnecessary or unadapted to the proper operation and maintenance of said street railways under the terms of this ordinance, and before making any such sale the Company shall secure the written approval of such sale and of the amount and terms thereof by the said Board of Supervising Engineers, and such written approval of said Board shall be conclusive of the right of the Company to sell and transfer complete title to the purchaser, who shall not be obliged to look to the application of the proceeds of such sale.

In the event of any such sale made during the period of "Immediate Rehabilitation," the proceeds shall be deducted from the amount allowed to the Company for such reconstruction, and in the event of a sale after such "Immediate Rehabilitation" is completed, the proceeds thereof shall be deposited with the depositary or depositaries selected under the provisions of Section 16 of this ordinance and shall constitute a part of and an addition to the reserve fund provided for in said section for Renewals and Depreciation.

The value of any such property sold after February 1, 1907, and before the acceptance of this ordinance, (not less, however, than the value thereof specified in the appraisal inventory referred to in Section 20 of this ordinance) although the Company may not have made such sale or have received the proceeds thereof, shall be accounted for by the Company as provided in the case of sales made by the Company during the period of "Immediate Rehabilitation," and as if such sales had been made by the Company.

SERVICE REGULATIONS.

SECTION 10. The Company hereby agrees to comply with all reasonable regulations of the service of the said street railway system which may be prescribed from time to time by the City Council of said City and that the approval of any such regulation by the Board of Supervising Engineers shall be binding upon the Company (but not upon the City) as to the reasonableness thereof.

STYLE OF CARS.

All passenger cars operated by the Company shall be used for the carriage of passengers only. All such cars hereafter built or purchased shall be of the best and most approved finish, style and design to be approved by the Board of Supervising Engineers; they shall have center aisles; they shall be without running footboards along the sides, and shall be equipped with sufficient motor capacity. Cross-seats facing forward shall be used, but longitudinal seats each seating not more than four passengers, may be used at the ends of the cars. All closed cars shall be vestibuled, and shall be of the style and description specified and provided in said "Exhibit B," and at least 225 cars of such description shall be acquired by and placed in operation upon the tracks of the Company within one (1) year from the passage of this ordinance, exclusive of delays occasioned by strikes or other causes beyond the control of the Company.

PUSH BUTTONS.

All cars operated by the Company shall be supplied with a sufficient number of electric bells, connections and push buttons to enable passengers without inconvenience to notify the conductor of their desire to leave the car.

FENDERS.

All cars shall be equipped with efficient and serviceable fender devices, head lights and sand-boxes.

BRAKES.

Each double-truck car shall be equipped with two sets of brakes, one of which shall be a hand-brake and the other an efficient power-brake of modern, improved type.

CLEANLINESS AND VENTILATION.

Said cars shall at all times be kept clean and in good repair, and shall be thoroughly ventilated.

HEATING.

The said cars shall be kept heated at the temperature of fifty (50) degrees Fahrenheit, as nearly as practicable, and each car shall contain a standard thermometer appropriately placed to enable passengers to see that this provision is complied with.

LIGHTING.

All cars shall be kept well and sufficiently illuminated by electric light or other illuminants approved by said Board of Supervising Engineers.

SIGNS.

Each car shall bear appropriate and conspicuous signs upon both its sides and ends so placed as to indicate, both day and night, the route and destination of such car. At night such signs shall be illuminated.

ADVERTISEMENTS.

The Company may permit advertisements in its cars, but no advertisement shall be placed upon the outside of any car, and only the space between the top of the windows and the transom of the car shall be used for advertisements on the inside of cars.

FUNERAL CARS AND MAIL CARS.

The Company is hereby authorized and permitted to operate funeral cars, and separate cars for the use of the United States Post Office Department, for the carriage of mail.

SINGLE CARS ONLY.

Every electric car shall be in charge and under the control of two competent men, a motorman and a conductor, and (after the expiration of one year from the date of the passage of this ordinance, or at such earlier time as the Company shall be able to acquire the necessary rolling stock to enable it to abandon trailers) shall be operated singly.

RATES OF FARE.

SECTION 11. The Company, except as to chartered cars to private parties and as in this ordinance provided, shall be entitled to charge passengers, during the term of this ordinance, the following rates of fare, to wit:

For a continuous trip in one general direction, within the present or future limits of the City, over its street railways covered by this ordinance and all extensions thereof (whether owned, leased or operated by it) the sum of five cents (5c) for each passenger twelve years of age or over, and three cents (3c) for each passenger under twelve (12) years of age; provided that children under seven (7) years of age accompanied by a person paying fare shall be permitted to ride free.

UNIVERSAL TRANSFERS.

Every such passenger may demand and upon such demand shall receive from the conductor of the car upon which he first takes passage, or from some authorized agent of the Company, a transfer. Said transfer shall entitle such passenger to ride upon any other line of said street railway system owned, leased or operated by the Company, or any other line of street railway operated by any other corporation from which the Company is by this ordinance obligated to accept transfers, which connects with, crosses, intersects or comes within a distance of two hundred (200) feet of the line of said street railway upon which the passenger first took passage and paid his fare. But this obligation shall not apply in the South Division of the City of Chicago north of Twelfth street, except that upon the completion and operation of subways under the provisions of this ordinance, transfers shall be given at all points within said subways where lines of railway of any such corporation or corporations, which are required by this ordinance to issue or receive transfers, connect with each other.

The payment of a single fare shall not entitle a passenger to reverse his general direction of travel. If necessary to enable a passenger to reach his destination the conductor or other authorized agent of the Company shall issue without additional charge, a transfer upon a transfer, the same as required upon payment of a cash fare; the intention being that for a single fare the Company shall carry any passenger for a single continuous ride over any of the said lines of street railway owned, operated or leased by it, within the limits of the said City, so long as such ride is in the same general direction, although some of the lines necessary to be used by such passenger in arriving at his destination intersect or cross one another.

In every instance the transfer given to a passenger may designate the point or place of transfer, and the same must be used at such point or place, within a reasonable time, not exceeding fifteen (15) minutes after such point or place is reached by the car from which the passenger is transferred, provided that within said fifteen minutes a car shall pass such point or place of transfer in the direction and upon the route indicated by said transfer; but if no car shall pass such point within said time the passenger shall have the right to take the first available car passing such point in the direction indicated upon the passenger's transfer. A passenger upon any car delayed through the fault, negligence or inability of the Company shall be entitled to receive a transfer to a car upon the nearest line of the Company going in the same general direction as the delayed car.

The Company shall also on its cars accept and honor as fares, transfers issued by any other corporation to passengers upon any line of street railway covered or authorized by the said ordinance to the Chicago City Railway Company, hereinabove referred to as presented for passage in the City Council of said City, concurrently with this ordinance, which connects with any of said lines of the Company, under the same conditions and with like effect as though both lines of street railway were owned by the Company and the transfers were issued under the foregoing provisions of this ordinance.

The Company shall also accept and honor as fares transfers issued by the Chicago General Railway Company at all points where the railway lines of the Company connect with or intersect the lines of said Chicago General Railway Company, constructed and in operation at the time of the passage of this ordinance, with like effect as though both said lines of street railway were owned by the Company and the transfers were issued under the foregoing provisions of this ordinance; upon condition, however, that said Chicago General Railway Company shall accept and honor at such transfer points, as fares, transfers issued by the Company.

The said proposed arrangement contemplates that in every instance the street railway company accepting any such transfers shall give to the passenger presenting it the same accommodations and the same transfers, if requested, to its other line or lines, as such passenger would be entitled to receive if he had paid a cash fare.

The Company, acting by itself or in conjunction with the other companies to which the provisions of this Section apply, may, with the approval of the said Board of Supervising Engineers, adopt reasonable rules and regulations not inconsistent with the provisions of this ordinance, for the transfer of passengers as provided for herein, and for the prevention of the fraudulent use of transfer privileges. The purchase or acquisition by the City or its licensee of any street railway or railways of any company other than the Chicago Railways Company shall not affect or impair the obligations of the Company under the provisions of this ordinance with regard to transfers and through routes in connection with, or over the line or lines so purchased or acquired, but the same shall thereafter continue in full force and effect.

NO PASSES: EMPLOYES, POLICEMEN AND FIREMEN FREE.

SECTION 12. No passes of any kind or description shall be issued or given to any person, and no person, except employes of the Company, policemen and firemen, respectively, in full uniform, shall be permitted to ride upon any street railway without the payment of fare; provided that the Company may issue to its employes free tickets for use while engaged in the performance of their duties, and may permit them to ride free when wearing an official badge of the Company conspicuously in view. The Company shall keep a record of the number of such free tickets and to whom issued.

MAIL CARRIERS.

In the event that the United States Post Office Department shall pay to the Company a sum of money based upon the system of sales of tickets in effect between the Post Office Department and the Company for the use of letter carriers during the year 1906, the said amount of money to be not less than Ten Thousand, One Hundred, Five Dollars and Sixty-five Cents ($10,105.65) per annum, with proportionate increase in said amount for any increase in the number of letter carriers employed in the City of Chicago over the number of such carriers so employed in the year 1906, then the Comapny shall carry on its street railways United States letter carriers in full uniform, at all times, without the payment of fare.

THROUGH ROUTES.

SECTION 13. The Company will co-operate with any corporation operating the street railway in Halsted street, from O'Neil street south, to operate a through line of cars in said street. Whenever the said City shall so direct and shall grant to the Company and to any corporation operating a street railway in Western avenue, south of the South Branch of the Chicago River, a license or franchise to connect their lines in said avenue, the Company shall co-operate with such other corporation to operate a through line of cars in said avenue; also, whenever the said

City shall grant to the Company and to any corporation operating a street railway in Kedzie avenue, south of said South Branch, a license or franchise to connect their lines in said avenue, the Company will co-operate with such other corporation to operate a through line of cars in said avenue; and, also, whenever the said City shall grant to the Company and to any corporation operating a street railway in Ashland avenue, south of said South Branch, a license or franchise to connect their lines in said avenue, the Company shall co-operate with such other corporation to operate a through line of cars in said avenue; and said corporations shall thereafter operate and maintain said through lines of cars in the said streets and avenues, respectively; provided, that the Company shall only be required to operate said through lines across or over any river or canal, when the said City or some third party shall provide and maintain a bridge across the same upon which it may operate its cars.

The Company will co-operate with any corporation or corporations operating such of the street railway lines now operated by the Chicago City Railway Company as may be parts of the through routes in this ordinance or in "Exhibit C" referred to, in establishing and maintaining through lines of cars over the street railway lines of the Company and the street railway lines of the Chicago City Railway system entering the South Division of the said City, north of Twelfth street, which shall carry passengers from the North and West Divisions of the said City to the South Division of the said City, or in the reverse directions, through the portion of the South Division of said City north of Twelfth street, for a single fare.

As many cars shall be operated upon said through lines as the traffic shall require and warrant.

The parties now concerned have agreed upon certain through routes which are particularly described in "Exhibit C," which is attached hereto and made a part hereof, with the same force and effect as if herein fully set out.

The Company may establish other through routes from time to time and may discontinue the same, if and when the traffic warrants such establishment or discontinuance; but no through route specifically established by this ordinance and said Exhibit "C" shall be discontinued without the consent of the City Council of said City, and the City may by ordinance at any time require the Company to re-establish any through route and to establish new and additional through routes whenever the traffic warants or requires such establishment or re-establishment; provided, however, that if the Company shall consider that the traffic does not in fact warrant or require the establishment or re-establishment of any through route so required by the City to be established or re-established, then in such case it shall be the duty of the Board of Supervising Engineers, upon demand either of the City or of the Company to furnish the certificate of said Board certifying as to whether or not, in the opinion of said Board, the traffic does warrant or require the establishment or re-establishment of such through route, and such certificate of the Board of Supervising Engineers shall be prima facie evidence as to whether, in fact, the traffic does or does not warrant or require the establishment or re-establishment of such through route; and the obligation of the Company in respect to such routes shall be governed by such certificate pending a judicial determination of its obligations in respect to the establishment or re-establishment of any such through route under this ordinance.

The through routes herein mentioned shall be established and put in operation immediately after the necessary reconstruction of the tracks covered by such routes.

tion, the Company will enter into a reasonable operating agreement approved by the said Board of Supervising Engineers, with any other corporation or corporations concerned, whenever required by the said City. If the Company and the corporation or corporations operating the lines of street railway constituting said through routes, or any of them, shall be unable or fail to agree upon terms as between themselves for establishing, maintaining and operating all of said through routes within sixty (60) days after the passage of this ordinance, then and in such case it shall be the duty of the Board of Supervising Engineers to fix and determine the basis and terms, as between said Company and said corporation or corporations, upon which said through routes shall be established, maintained and operated and to notify each of the companies operating the lines of street railway constituting said through routes of said basis and terms, and thereupon it shall be the duty of the Company to proceed forthwith to establish, maintain and operate said through routes upon the basis and terms so fixed and determined by said Board of Supervising Engineers. Said companies may by agreement (with the approval of said Board of Supervising Engineers) modify such basis and terms or they failing to agree, the Board of Supervising Engineers may from time to time modify said basis and terms as to said Board shall seem fit and just.

STREET SPRINKLING AND CLEANING.

SECTION 14. The Company shall sprinkle, sweep, keep clean and free from snow that portion of each of the streets occupied by its right-of-way, as provided in "Exhibit B," and if it shall be found practicable to have the streets occupied by its tracks swept and sprinkled their entire width by the Company, or to have street sweepings, garbage or other refuse removed by means of street cars at night, the Company shall perform said service, or so much thereof as shall prove practicable, when so ordered by the Mayor and Commissioner of Public Works, and it shall receive for such service reasonable compensation. In case the Company is called upon to remove street sweepings or other refuse, the said City shall furnish suitable and convenient dumping grounds and permit the connection of the Company's tracks therewith. The Company shall have the right to carry on suitable cars the snow required by this ordinance to be removed by it, and also, materials for its own use or for the use of the said City, and to connect its tracks and wires with property necessary to be used for such purposes.

STREET PAVING.

GROOVED RAILS.

MAINTENANCE, REPAIRS, RENEWALS AND DEPRECIATION.

SECTION 16. After the expiration of the three (3) year period of reconstruction and re-equipment, particularly required by the terms of said "Exhibit B," under the heading of "Immediate Rehabilitation" and until the rights conferred upon the Company by this ordinance are terminated by the purchase of the said street railway system by the said City or its licensee or by reason of the default of the Company or otherwise, the Company at all times while in possession of said system of street railways shall maintain the said system and its entire equipment, plant and appurtenances (including pavement, tunnels and any subways or extensions thereof, together wtih their appurtenances and equipment, which may be built under the provisions of this ordinance) in first class condition, by making from time to time such expenditures thereon for maintenance, repairs and renewals, as may be necessary or appropriate to give to the public first class street railway service in all respects. To this end, the Company shall make the following expenditures:

(1) The Company shall expend for Maintenance and Repairs during each and every year that the Company continues to operate said street railway system after the expiration of the said three (3) year period of "Immediate Rehabilitation," at least a sum equal to six (6) per cent. of the gross receipts for the particular year, and if the said amount is not so expended for the said purpose by the Company during any one year, then at the end of such year the unexpended portion thereof shall be deposited in a fund, appropriately designated, with one or more of the banks or trust companies authorized to act as depositaries of such funds, under the terms and subject to the conditions of this ordinance (herein referred to as the depositary) for the purpose of being used whenever necessary for such Maintenance and Repairs.

The said depositaries or depositary shall make payment out of said fund upon the order of the Company, countersigned by the said Board of Supervising penditures:

(2) On or before the fifth (5th) day of each and every month of each and every year that the Company continues to operate said street railway system after the expiration of said three (3) year period of "Immediate Rehabilitation," the Company shall deposit with one or more of the said depositaries in a separate fund, appropriately designated, a sum equal to eight (8) per cent. of the gross receipts of said street railways and property for the preceding month, which shall constitute a reserve fund, for taking care of Renewals and Depreciation of said street railways and property; and out of the said fund the Board of Supervising Engineers shall from time to time authorize the payment by the Company of such amounts as are necessary to pay for renewals of the said street railways and property, the portion of said fund remaining unexpended to continue in said fund as a provision for the depreciation of said street railways and property and shall be disposed of as hereinafter provided. No payments shall be made by said Company out of said fund, except on the written certificate of the Board of Supervising Engineers, for renewals, which are hereby defined to be the replacement of any principal part of said street railways or of their equipment or appurtenances; and the Board of Supervising Engineers shall determine by classifications made from time to time what particular items of expenditure shall be considered as Renewals and what particular items of expenditure shall be considered as Maintenance and Repairs under the provisions of this ordinance.

The whole or any portion of such reserve fund for Maintenance and Repairs may be used for maintenance and repairs in addition to the annual expenditure for Maintenance and Repairs. The fixing of the said amount herein as the minimum amount to be expended annually for Maintenance and Repairs, and the fixing of the said amount herein as the minimum amount to be deposited for Renewals and Depreciation, shall not be held or considered as lessening or limiting in any way the obligation of the Company to expend whatever sum or sums may be necessary to be expended for Maintenance and Repairs and to expend whatever sum or sums may be necessary for Renewals, to keep the said street railway system and equipment in first class condition in every respect and at all times.

The amounts expended or deposited respectively as reserve funds, under the foregoing provisions of this Section, shall be considered a part of the Operating Expenses of the street railway system hereby authorized, but in the event that the said street railway system shall be purchased by the said City, or its licensee, at any time under the provisions of this ordinance, the amount then on deposit in each of said reserve funds, or due to be deposited therein at the time of such purchase, shall be turned over to and become the property of the said City or of its said licensee.

The obligation herein assumed by the Company as to the maintenance, repairs and renewals of subways and extensions thereof, shall be held to be confined to that portion of any such subways or extensions, together with the structures and the appurtenances and equipment thereof, which may be used by or be subject to the use of, the said Company under the provisions of this ordinance, and to its fair proportionate share of the cost of maintenance, repairs and renewals of that part of any such subway or extensions or the appurtenances or equipment thereof, which may be used by or be subject to the use of the Company jointly with the said City or with the said Chicago City Railway Company, such proportionate amount to be fixed and determined by the Board of Supervising Engineers.

INSURANCE.

SECTION 17. The Company shall at all times keep insured to its full insurable value, in responsible companies, all buildings, cars and other insurable property, against loss by fire, and the premiums for such insurance shall be paid out of the receipts of said Company, as one of the operating expenses thereof, and in case of the destruction or damage by fire of any such property, the Company shall restore the same or its substantial equivalent at its own cost and not out of the receipts of its said street railways, or in lieu of such restoration, the Company shall deposit, as a part of the reserve fund required by the preceding Section 16, the value of the property so destroyed or damaged, which value shall be estimated by the Board of Supervising Engineers. The Company shall apply to any such deposit or to the cost of any such restoration the insurance moneys received on account of any such loss or damage. If such moneys are not equal in amount to the cost of such restoration or to the amount of the said deposit hereinabove required, the Company will at its own cost and not out of the receipts of said street railway system supply any deficit, and if the amount of such insurance moneys is greater than the said cost or deposit, the overplus shall be deposited with and become a part of and be an addition to the fund provided for in the preceding Section 16 for Renewals and Depreciation.

PERSONAL INJURY CLAIMS.

SECTION 18. Out of the gross receipts derived from the operation of the street railway system hereby authorized the Company shall pay as a part of the operating expenses, all damages arising or growing out of injuries to persons or to the property of others incident to the construction, reconstruction or operation of said street railway system accruing subsequent to January 31st, A. D. 1907, and the Company may set aside as a separate fund such percentage of said gross receipts as the said Board of Supervising Engineers shall estimate to be sufficient to protect the Company against all such claims, to the end that if the said City, or its licensee, shall elect to purchase the street railway property of the Company as provided by this ordinance, there shall be then available to the Company a fund sufficient to meet and discharge all legitimate claims for such damages. The percentage thus reserved may be changed from time to time by said Board of Supervising Engineers if and whenever they shall consider that the percentage theretofore reserved is either inadequate or excessive.

In case the balance of said fund at any time remaining shall be, in the judgment of the Board of Supervising Engineers, more than sufficient to protect the Company against all then unsettled claims, the Company shall pay to the said City fifty-five (55) per cent of the estimated excess, and the Company at the same time shall be entitled to apply to its own use and benefit forty-five (45) per cent of such estimated excess.

If the said City or its licensee shall purchase the property of the Company as in this ordinance provided or in case the Company shall become bound to deliver possession of said system of street railways to the City or any licensee of the City in pursuance of any of the provisions of this ordinance, the Company shall deposit with one or more of the depositaries herein authorized the fund then accumulated under the provisions of this Section, together with such of the "net receipts" of the Company from the operation of its street railways as shall not have been divided between the Company and the City prior to the giving of the notice by the City or its licensee of its intention to purchase or to take possession of said system of street railways, and the Company shall assume and pay and save the said City or such licensee harmless from all such claims for damages, payment for the same to be made out of the fund so deposited upon the order of the Company countersigned by the said Board of Supervising Engineers; but if the fund so retained and deposited shall be more than sufficient to pay and discharge said claims in full, then the said depositary or depositaries shall pay to the said City (or its licensee, as the case may be) fifty-five (55) per cent of such excess and to the Company forty-five (45) per cent of such excess. If after taking posession of said system of street railways, the City or its licensee shall become bound by any of provisions of this ordinance to restore such possession to the Company, the depositary or depositaries holding such fund shall deliver the same to the custody of the Company to be thereafter held and dealt with as though the Company's possession had not been interrupted.

The salaries and expenses of the Board of Supervising Engineers after any such purchase and so long as said Board shall continue to act under the provisions of this ordinance shall be paid out of the fund deposited under the provisions of this section.

REGULATION OF SALARIES.

SECTION 19. The Company may pay to the directors, officers, agents and attorneys of the Company as a part of the operating expenses, compensation for their services commensurate with the service actually rendered by them respectively, taking into consideration the compensation paid to directors, officers, agents and attorneys of other corporations or enterprises of similar magnitude and general character for like services, but the said City by written notice thereof may object to the payment thereafter of compensation in excess of an amount or rate specified in such objection to any such director, officer, agent or attorney, and in the event of a disagreement between the Company and the said City as to the proper amount to be paid as such compensation, the matter shall be submitted to the judgment of the said Board of Supervising Engineers whose decision shall be final and binding upon the parties, except that, if either party shall be dissatisfied with such decision of said Board, then such dissatisfied party may make application to any court of competent jurisdiction to pass upon such objection and to determine the amount of the compensation or salary to be paid.

RIGHT OF CITY TO PURCHASE AT ANY TIME.

SECTION 20. The Company by the acceptance of this ordinance, shall and does grant to the said City, and the said City hereby reserves to itself the right, upon the first day of February or upon the first day of August of each and any year after such acceptance upon giving at least six (6) months' previous notice in writing of its intention so to do, to purchase and take over (but only for municipal operation in case of purchase prior to February 1, A. D. 1927), the entire street railway system of the Company within the said City, including all property then existing which now constitutes the said street railway system in the possession of and operated by the Receivers of the Chicago Union Traction Company, with all renewals and repairs thereof, and including all the property, franchises, rights and claims described in the appraisal inventory of said street railway system as of June 30, 1906, made by Bion J. Arnold, Mortimer E. Cooley and A. B. duPont, a copy of which has been filed with the Comptroller of the said City, on the fourth day of February, A. D. 1907, except such as may have been sold as authorized by this ordinance, or destroyed or impaired (ordinary wear excepted), and all property then existing which has been purchased or acquired by the Company or by said Receivers, after June 30, 1906, for use as a part of or in connection with the said system of street railways, the cost of which shall have been certified by the Board of Supervising Engineers, as in this Section and in Section 7 hereof provided, and also all extensions of and additions to said street railways made under the provisions of this ordinance (including tunnels and underground trolleys, if any), and all rights of every kind under this ordinance in or to any subways or extensions thereof constructed under the provisions of this ordinance.

PRICE TO BE PAID BY CITY.

In case the said City shall purchase and take over the street railway system of the Company, as in this ordinance provided, then it shall pay for the same the aggregate of the following items:

1. The value of the property described in said appraisal inventory and the value of all the franchises, rights and claims of every description, to construct, maintain or operate street railways and tunnels in the said City now belonging to or claimed by the Chicago West Division Railway Company, the West Chicago Street Railroad Company, the West Chicago Street Railroad Tunnel Company, the Chicago Passenger Railway Company, the North Chicago City Railway Company, the North Chicago Street Railroad Company, the Chicago Union Traction Company, or any of them, or by the Receivers of any of them, or by any person or corporation claiming under or through any of them (excepting the rights and claims of the Chicago Consolidated Traction Company, hereinafter referred to), which said value of such property and all of said franchises, rights and claims is hereby fixed

(for the purpose of such purchase) at the sum of Twenty-nine Million Dollars ($29,000,000).

2. The value of any and all property and equipment and additions thereto supplied, purchased or acquired by the Receivers of the Chicago Union Traction Company as a part of said street railway system, including tunnel reconstruction between the 30th day of June, A. D. 1906, and February 1st, A. D. 1907, including any equipment and additions threto which were in process on June 30th, 1906, of being so supplied, purchased or acquired, but excluding any property described in the aforesaid inventory, and repairs to and maintenance thereof and any expenditures in connection therewith properly chargeable to operating expenses. From such value shall be deducted the value of any property included in said inventory which shall have been destroyed or impaired (ordinary wear excepted) after the 30th day of June, A. D. 1906, and prior to the 1st day of February, A. D. 1907. The value to be allowed under this paragraph Number 2 of this Section shall be determined by the Board of Supervising Engineers immediately after the assumption by said Board of their duties in supervising the work of reconstruction and re-equipment in this ordinance provided for, and shall be reported by said Board to the City Comptroller of said City; and the amount so reported by said Board shall be final and binding upon the parties hereto and shall be conclusively held and taken as the value of the property and equipment in this paragraph specified.

If, at the time appointed for the consummation of such purchase by the City, the title of the Company shall not be complete and free from any lien or encumbrance (other than such as are herein expressly authorized to be created), that portion of the purchase price specified in subdivisions 1 and 2 of this Section, or so much thereof as the City in its absolute discretion shall deem necessary to be reserved as security, shall be deposited with one or more of the depositaries appointed in accordance with this ordinance, in trust to secure the performance by the Company of its obligations expressed in this ordinance to perfect the title to said street railway system and to provide moneys sufficient to enable the City to perfect such title and to remove liens and encumbrances therefrom, and to indemnify the City against the expenses of such proceedings. The moneys so deposited shall be paid out from time to time by the depositary or depositaries upon the order of the City or the Company for any of the purposes aforesaid, or to reimburse the City or the Company for expenditures made for the purposes aforesaid, or any of them. The certificate of the Mayor of said City or a certified copy of a resolution of the Board of Directors of the Company may be accepted by any such depositary as conclusive evidence of the facts therein stated to warrant any such payment, and shall constitute full authority and protection to such depositary. Provided, that the City shall have the right to designate by ordinance an officer or agent of the City without whose approval no such payment shall be made.

3. The cost of reconstruction and re-equipment of said street railway lines of the Company and of the construction of new lines, extensions, underground trolleys, tunnel re-construction, and other additions to property actually paid by said Company at and prior to said purchase by said City and certified by the Board of Supervising Engineers, or incurred for work actually done or materials furnished with the approval of said Board under completed or pending contracts except those for which special provision is made in subdivision 4 of this Section, together with the percentages thereon as in Section 7 hereof provided, and all amounts which shall then have been contributed by the Company to the City for the construction of subways or extensions thereof, together with five (5) per cent of said last named amounts as hereinbefore provided. Provided that the City may at its option, to be declared by ordinance, either pay or deposit in cash to the order of the Company the portion of the purchase price specified in this subdivision (3) as in this Section provided, or in lieu thereof take over the property purchased by it subject to whatever lien may then exist under and in accordance with the provisions of Section 7 of this ordinance for the security of the bonds or obligations thereby authorized and for the security of the Company in respect of such part of said portion of the purchase price so certified as may not be represented by such bonds or obligations. As against the City and any licensee of the City and any and all other persons having or claiming to have any interest or benefit under this ordinance, the lien securing said bonds and obligations shall at all times be deemed and recognized to be a first lien upon the entire street railway system hereby authorized, including all rights granted to the Company by this ordinance. The City shall have the right, if it elects to take subject to such lien to acquire any or all of the bonds and obligations thereby secured from the holders thereof on any day appointed for the payment of interest, by publishing notice of its intention to do so in like manner as shall be provided in the mortgage or deed of trust mentioned in Section 7 of this ordinance, in case of the exercise by the Company of the right of redemption and by depositing with the trustee or depositary designated in said bonds or in the mortgage or deed of trust securing the same, as in case of redemption, prior to the day specified in such notice, a sum equal to the principal amount of all the said bonds and obligations designated in such notice with interest to said day and, such publication having been completed and such deposit made, said bonds and obligations so designated shall not after the day specified in such notice nor shall any of them be entitled to the benefit or security of any lien upon the system of street railways hereby authorized except and until the said bonds or obligations shall respectively be surrendered to the trustee or depositary specified in said notice, upon payment of an amount equal to the principal thereof and the accrued interest thereon to the date specified in such notice, and such bonds or obligations shall thereafter be held by such trustee or depositary for the account of the City and delivered to or upon the order of the City. If less than the whole number of said bonds and obligations outstanding are to be acquired at any time by the City, the particular bonds or obligations to be so acquired shall be selected by lot in the manner to be provided in said mortgage or deed of trust, with respect to the selection of bonds or obligations for redemption. Such bonds or obligations when so acquired, shall have equal force and validity and be equally secured by lien upon said system of street railways as when in the hands of the original holders.

4. After the giving of the notice of the election of the said City to purchase said street railway system of the Company, as herein provided, and prior to the date fixed for said purchase, the said Board of Supervising Engineers shall make a written estimate (and furnish a copy therof to the said Company and the said City) of the probable cost of completing any work of construction or equipment provided for by this ordinance, including the construction of new lines, extensions, underground trolleys, tunnel re-construction, or other additions to property and including any extensions of the street railway system of said Company made under the provisions of Section 38 hereof, which work has, and to the extent to which it has, prior to the date of giving said notice, been contracted for by said Company, with the approval of said Board of Supervising Engineers, and (except in the case of the improvement of property as to which the title of the Company is defective, in which case the City may, however, at its option, act hereunder as though such title were not defective without thereby waiving any defect) the said City shall either take over and assume said contracts and procure the release of the Company from all obligation thereunder, or the said City shall, at or prior to the date of the said purchase of the street railway system of said Company, deposit with a depositary or depositaries (authorized to act as such by this ordinance) a sufficient amount of money to pay the cost of completing such contracts according to the said estimate of the said Board of Supervising Engineers, and the said Company shall proceed, with all due diligence and care, to complete said contracts at its own expense and under the supervision of said Board of Supervising Engineers, and the cost of completing the said contracts after the date of such purchase by the City, together with the said additional percentages thereof, shall be paid from time to time by the said depositary or depositaries out of the funds so deposited, upon the written certificates of the said Board of Supervising Engineers. In the event that the said amount so deposited shall not be sufficient to pay the said cost, including said additional percentages provided for in Section 7 hereof, the said City shall pay such additional amount as may be necessary for such purpose, and in the event that the amount so deposited shall be more than sufficient to pay the said cost, the unexpended balance shall be returned and paid over to the City by the said depositary or depositaries holding the same, and in no event shall the Company be obligated to incur a greater expense in carrying out said contract than the amount so deposited, and in no event shall there be paid to the Company or upon its order out of the amount so deposited any sum in excess of the actual cost to it of completing such contract or contracts, exclusive of said additional percentages, until full performance of its obligations to perfect the title to said street railway system purchased by the City if incomplete and to provide the City with any moneys necessary to enable the City to perfect such title, if incomplete, and to remove liens and encumbrances therefrom, if any, (other than such as are expressly authorized by Section 7 of this ordinance to be created) and to indemnify the City against the expense of such proceedings as may be necessary for any or all the purposes above specified.

PAYMENT OR DEPOSIT OF PURCHASE PRICE.

Upon the deposit of the sum, if any, required by the above and foregoing paragraph numbered 4 of this Section and the payment to the Company, or the deposit in accordance with the foregoing provisions, in cash of the amounts hereinbefore in paragraphs numbered 1, 2 and 3 of this Section provided for (subject however, to the right of the City to take title subject to certain liens and obligations as in this ordinance provided),—but the City, in lieu of paying direct to the Company any of the amounts payable to the Company, may deposit the same to the order of the Company with one or more of the depositaries authorized to act as such by this ordinance—the said City shall have full right and lawful authority, after the notice and upon any of the dates hereinbefore fixed, to take over and possess, as its own property, all the property, plant and equipment of every sort and nature (including tunnels and underground trolleys), then constituting the street railway system of the Company, and all rights of every kind under this ordinance in or to any subways or extensions thereof constructed under the provisions of this ordinance free and clear of all liens and claims of every nature, other than those, if any, recognized and used by the City in reduction of the purchase price; except that the said City shall take subject to the payment of a fractional part of the unpaid taxes for the current year upon the said property, rights and equipment, equal to the fractional part of the year for which such taxes have been levied or assessed remaining unexpired at the date of such purchase, and the balance of the taxes shall be treated and paid as a part of the operating expenses prior to the sale of the property.

The property to the possession of which the said City shall then be entitled shall include all of the property then existing which now constitutes the said street railway system with its appurtenances in the possession of or maintained or operated by the Receivers of the Chicago Union Traction Company, including all the property, franchises, rights and claims described in said appraisal inventory and all of the property purchased or acquired by the Company or by said Receivers after June 30, 1906, for use as a part of or in connection with the said system of street railways, the cost of which shall have been certified by the Board of Supervising Engineers, as in this section and in Section 7 hereof provided, and all extensions of, or additions to, said street railways, including tunnels and underground trolleys constructed under the provisions of this ordinance, and all rights of the said Company in or to any subways or extensions thereof constructed under this ordinance, and the sums then on deposit as a reserve fund, under the provisions of Section 16 of this ordinance (excepting such property as may have been sold as in this ordinance authorized, or worn out or destroyed: Provided, that in case of property destroyed and not then replaced in kind or in value as provided in Section 17 of this ordinance, adjustment shall forthwith be made at the time of such purchase and the obligation of the Company in that behalf discharged, either in cash or by deduction from the purchase price).

The Company further grants to the said City, and the said City hereby reserves to itself the right (in addition to the right of purchase hereinbefore granted and reserved) to purchase and take over from the Company at any time prior to February 1st, A. D. 1927, the street railway system, rights and property of the Company, free from any limitation and restriction as to the operation thereof, at the same times and in the same manner at and upon which the City has the right under the foregoing provisions of this section to purchase the same. The price to be paid therefor by the City under the right of purchase in this clause granted and reserved shall be the price at which the City shall then have the right to purchase said property for municipal operation as hereinbefore specified, and in addition to such price a sum equal to twenty (20) per cent. of such price.

In the event that it shall be determined that the City is, at the time this ordinance is passed or at the time this ordinance takes effect without lawful power or authority to acquire or own street railways under the provisions of this ordinance or otherwise, and the City shall thereafter acquire such power or authority, thereupon and after such acquirement the City shall have the right to purchase and acquire said street railways, rights and property under the provisions of this ordinance to the same extent and in the same measure as if said City had full right and lawful authority so to purchase or acquire said street railways, rights and property at the date of the passage of this ordinance and at the date when this ordinance takes effect.

CITY PURCHASE DURING RECONSTRUCTION PERIOD.

SECTION 21. In the event that the said City shall elect to exercise its right of purchase, as in this ordinance provided, at any time prior to the completion of the work of construction, reconstruction, equipment and re-equipment within the time and in the manner provided for in said "Exhibit B," under the head of "Immediate Rehabilitation" it shall take over the same subject to the right and obligation of the Company to complete the said work of "Immediate Rehabilitation" as provided in this ordinance, carrying out the terms and conditions of said "Exhibit B" under the supervision and control of the said Board of Supervising Engineers and receiving therefor the cost thereof and the additional percentages thereon as in Section 7 of this ordinance provided.

In such event, in addition to complying with the provisions of Section 20 of this ordinance, the said City shall deposit at the time of such purchase with some one or more of the banks or trust companies authorized to act as depositaries under the terms of this ordinance a sufficient amount of money to pay for the completion of the said work of "Immediate Rehabilitation," not herein otherwise provided, for which said amount shall be estimated and determined by the said Board of Supervising Engineers, and shall include said additional percentages provided for in Section 7 hereof.

The said cost of completing the said work of "Immediate Rehabilitation," together with said additional percentages thereof shall be paid from time to time by the said depositary or depositaries, out of the funds so deposited with it or them, upon the written certificates of the said Board of Supervising Engineers.

In the event that the said amount so deposited shall not be sufficient to pay the said cost, including said additional percentages provided for in Section 7 hereof, the said City shall pay such additional amount as may be necessary for such purpose.

In the event that the amount so deposited shall be more than sufficient to pay the said cost, the unexpended balance shall be returned and paid over to the said City by the said depositary or depositaries, and in no event shall the Company be obligated to incur a greater expense for the work of such construction, reconstruction, equipment and re-equipment, including underground trolleys, tunnel reconstruction and other additions to plant and property, if any, than the amount so deposited, and in no event shall there be paid to the Company, or upon its order, out of the amount so deposited, any sum in excess of the actual cost to it of completing such work, exclusive of said additional percentages, until full performance of its obligations to perfect the title to said street railway system, if the same be incomplete, and to provide the City wth moneys sufficient to enable the City to perfect such title, if incomplete, and to remove liens and encumbrances therefrom, if any, and to indemnify the City against the expense of such proceedings as may be necessary for any or all the purposes above specified.

RIGHT OF LICENSEE TO PURCHASE.

SECTION 22. The Company by the acceptance of this ordinance shall and does grant to the City, and the City hereby reserves to itself, the right to designate any person, firm or corporation having lawful authority to acquire, own and operate street railways in said City (herein called the "licensee") who or which shall have the right to purchase the street railway system, rights and property of the Company, at the same times and in the same manner at and upon which the City hereunder has the right to purchase the same, subject to the condition that the said licensee shall purchase the same property which the City has herein reserved the right to purchase, and that the price to be paid therefor by the said licensee shall be the price at which the City shall have the right to purchase said property, for municipal operation, and in addition to such price a sum equal to twenty (20) per cent. of such price; but it is expressly provided, however, that the said licensee shall not be required to pay the said additional twenty (20) per cent. or any part thereof, if, before the purchase of said property by such licensee shall be consummated, a valid and binding contract shall be entered into between the City and its licensee, either by the passage of an ordinance and the acceptance thereof or otherwise, which shall limit the beneficial interest of the said licensee and its stockholders, if such licensee is a corporation, in the property purchased and any improvements thereof or additions thereto to a return of the actual moneys invested therein by said licensee and not exceeding five (5) per cent. thereof, in addition thereto, and interest upon the said moneys and the said additional per cent. at a rate not exceeding five (5) per cent. per annum, and which shall provide that all net profits derived from the said property in excess of the beneficial interest of said licensee, limited as aforesaid, shall belong and be paid over to the City.

Nothing in this ordinance, however, shall have the effect or be construed to have the effect of lessening or limiting the right of the City to provide for reducing the rates of fare to be charged by such licensee in the operation of said street railway system or from using the moneys so to be paid over to the said City by said licensee for the purpose of retiring from time to time the stock or other securities issued by said licensee, subject to the limitations of this Section, or from using the said moneys in extending or adding to or improving said street railway system.

The licensee of the City shall have the same option which it is provided in Section 20 of this ordinance that the City shall have to take the said property subject to whatever lien may then have been created under and in accordance with the provisions of Section 7 of this ordinance, with a like right to acquire the bonds or obligations secured by such lien from the holders thereof on the same terms and in the same manner set forth in said Section 20.

If, at the time appointed for the consummation of such purchase by the City's licensee, the title of the Company shall not be complete and free from lien or encumbrance (other than such as are herein expressly authorized to be created), all the provisions of the foregoing Section 20, with respect to the deposit of a portion of the purchase price as security, shall be applicable; and the City shall have the same powers and rights in respect to perfecting the title of its licensee and removing liens and encumbrances therefrom, as are herein granted or reserved for the perfecting of the City's title in case it purchases for its own account; and the Company shall be subject to the same obligations, both in respect to furnishing moneys and in respect to the application of stocks, securities and evidences of indebtedness acquired, controlled or held by it, for the purpose of perfecting the title of the City's licensee and freeing the same from liens and encumbrances, as are provided in the foregoing Section 20, if the City were the purchaser.

The additional percentage, if any required to be paid by this Section as an addition to the purchase price shall, in the event above specified, be deposited as additional security to that in subdivision 2 of said Section 20 provided, and shall become a part of the fund required by said Section to be held in trust for the purposes and subject to the powers therein specified.

The right of the licensee of the City to acquire the said street railway system, rights and property by purchase under the provisions of this ordinance shall in no way be impaired by any lack of power or authority on the part of the City itself to acquire the said street railway system, rights and property for municipal use and operation or otherwise.

Upon the purchase of the said street railway system, rights and property under the provisions of this ordinance, either by the City or by any licensee of the City, all rights of the Company, its licensees or assigns under this ordinance in or to said street railways, rights and property or any part thereof, or the operation thereof, or the proceeds or receipts thereof, shall wholly cease and determine.

RIGHTS OF COMPANY IN CASE CITY DOES NOT PURCHASE FOR TWENTY YEARS.

SECTION 23. In the event that the said street railways are not purchased by the said City or its licensee as hereinabove authorized, prior to February 1, A. D. 1927, (and nothing in this ordinance contained shall be construed as being in any event a grant to the Company extending beyond February 1, A. D. 1927), the said City shall have the right to designate any person, firm or corporation having lawful authority to acquire, own and operate street railways in said City as its licensee, to purchase the said street railways, property and rights of the Company at or after February 1, A. D. 1927, upon the same terms that the City could then purchase, and in case such reserved right of purchase be not exercised by the said City or its licensee and the City shall grant a right to another company to operate a street railway in the streets and parts of streets constituting the said street railway system of the Company, such new company shall be required to and shall purchase and take over the said street railways, property and rights of the Company at or after February 1, A. D. 1927, upon the same terms upon which the said City might then purchase and take them over.

RELATIONS WITH CHICAGO CONSOLIDATED TRACTION COMPANY.

Section 24. The Company shall forthwith upon the acceptance of this ordinance secure, at its own cost and not out of the receipts of said street railways, and shall during the life of this grant in like manner maintain the right and privilege to the Company and to the City, and for the benefit of the public, of using all and any of the street railway lines and tracks forming part of the through routes, or any of them, mentioned and described in Exhibit "C," so far as such routes involve the use of the lines and tracks of the Chicago Consolidated Traction Company and, in case of the establishment of new through routes, as in this ordinance provided, which shall be laid out in part over the lines and tracks of said Chicago Consolidated Traction Company, the Company shall secure the right and privilege of using such lines and tracks covered by said new through routes.

The Company may, in its discretion, permit the Chicago Consolidated Traction Company, its successors and assigns, to make such use of the lines of railway hereby authorized as the so-called operating agreement, dated December 1st, 1899, between the Chicago Union Traction Company, of the first part, and the Chicago Consolidated Traction Company, of the second part, as modified by the agreement between the same parties dated June 9, 1900, (certified copies of both of which agreements have been filed with the Comptroller of said City), purports to permit and authorize: Provided, that as one of the considerations for the passage of this ordinance the Company agrees that it will at any time during the life of this grant within six months after being required to do so by ordinance of the said City, procure cancellation and termination of any or all of the agreements which affect or by their terms purport to affect in any manner the right of operation or maintenance of any of the lines of street railway the right to maintain or operate which is granted by this ordinance to the Company, and to which said agreements the Chicago Consolidated Traction Company or any of the corporations, from or through which the said Chicago Consolidated Traction Company has derived any of its property or rights within the corporate limits of the City of Chicago, is a party.

The Company agrees that it will at all times pay or cause to be paid to the City and save the City harmless against the loss or damage if any which may arise to the City by reason of any diminution of the net receipts payable to the City under the provisions of Section 25 of this ordinance occasioned by the said agreements or any of them remaining in effect or by reason of the operation of the street railways under the terms of such agreements or any other operating agreements to which the City has not consented. The amount of such loss, damage or diminution shall be determined annually by the Board of Supervising Engineers, and such loss, damage, or diminution shall be paid over to the City by the Company at the time of and in connection with the annual accounting and division of the net receipts provided for under Section 25 of this ordinance. It is agreed, however, that in determining the amount of loss, damage or diminution the said Board shall take into consideration the value of such use of any lines of railway of the Chicago Consolidated Traction Company as has been enjoyed by the Company for the period of such accounting.

The Company covenants as part of the consideration for the grant of the rights and privileges conferred by this ordinance that it will at all times during the life of this grant secure to passengers the same right of transfer between the lines of the Company and the connecting lines of the Chicago Consolidated Traction Company for continuous travel in one general direction for a single fare within the limits of the City of Chicago as if the said lines of the Company and the said lines of the Chicago Consolidated Traction Company were owned and operated by the Company under the provisions of this ordinance. But this obligation shall cease as to any particular line of said Chicago Consolidated Traction Company upon the expiration of the right of said Company to operate said line under ordinances heretofore passed unless such right be continued in force by proper ordinance.

The Company shall have the right from time to time to make reasonable rules and regulations (approved by the Board of Supervising Engineers) with respect to the transfer of passengers between the lines of street railway operated by it under this ordinance and the connecting lines of the Chicago Consolidated Traction Company, which rules and regulations shall, however, be at all times subject to modification by the City Council of the City of Chicago.

In case the Company shall make default in respect to any of the provisions of this section and any such default shall be established by the judgment or decree of a court of competent jurisdiction, then and thereupon all rights of the Company hereunder shall cease and determine and the Company will on demand, forthwith surrender to the City or to any licensee of the City, possession of the railways and other property described in Section 20 of this ordinance then in its possession, together with all right, title and interest of the Company in said railways and property and any and all funds then on deposit with any of the depositaries under the provisions of Section 16 of this ordinance and the City or its said licensee (or any assignee of said licensee) shall take over and thereafter operate the same subject to the obligation and upon the condition that it shall pay to the Company or upon its order, out of the receipts from the operation of said railways, 5 per cent. per annum in equal semi-annual installments upon an amount equal to the sum which the City would have had to pay as the purchase price of said property for municipal operation if it had then taken possession thereof as the purchaser under the provisions of Section 20 of this ordinance and with the right to retain to its own use all of the remaining net receipts derived from the operation of the said railways. The fund required to be deposited under the provisions of said Section 18 shall be disposed of by the depositary or depositaries under the provisions of said section as if the City or its licensee had purchased the said street railways and property at the time the said City or its licensee took possession of said street railways and property under the provisions of this section.

If at any time after the City or its licensee shall have taken possession as aforesaid and before the first day of February, A. D. 1927, the City shall elect to purchase the said street railway system as provided in Section 20 of this ordinance, or to cause the same to be purchased by its licensee, then the City or such licensee shall consummate said purchase in like manner as if it had not taken possession pursuant to the provisions of this section. In case the City shall not so elect, by giving notice on or before August 1st, A. D. 1926, as in Section 20 of this ordinance provided, then and in such event the City or its licensee shall at least sixty (60) days before the first day of February, A. D. 1927, provided the Company shall then have performed its obligations under subdivision (d) of Section 1 of this ordinance, restore to the Company possession of said system of railways and property so taken from the Company, in its then condition, including all property substituted for property worn out or destroyed, which railways and property shall thereafter be held and enjoyed by the Company under the terms of this ordinance in like manner as if the same had not been surrendered to the possession of the City or its licensee pursuant to the provisions hereof.

The Company further agrees that, in case of purchase by the City, or its licensee, as in this ordinance provided, it will, at the option of the City, or of such licensee, cause its system of street railways hereby authorized to be conveyed to said City, or its licensee, free and clear of any rights or privileges on the part of the Chicago Consolidated Traction Company, its successors and assigns, or any other person or corporation, to use or enjoy any part of said street railway property so conveyed under any operating agreement, or otherwise; or, if the City, or its licensee, shall so elect, it will cause said above mentioned street railway property to be conveyed to said City, or its licensee, subject to any operating agreement then in force which the City or its licensee may elect to have continued in force.

Until the City, or its licensee, shall elect to have said property transferred, free and clear of any rights and privileges on the part of the Chicago Consolidated Traction Company, its successors or assigns, and shall give notice of such election in writing to the Company, the existence of such rights and privileges, to the extent specified in any operating agreement, the cancellation or termination of which has not been required by the City as aforesaid, shall not be deemed a lien or encumbrance upon the property of the Company, or a defect in its title, within the meaning of any section of this ordinance.

Nothing in this ordinance shall be construed to permit the Company to pay or in any manner obligate itself to pay or cause to be paid out of any portion of the receipts of the street railway system hereby authorized other than the forty-five per cent (45%) of the net receipts authorized in Section 25 of this ordinance to be retained by the Company so long as the Company shall be entitled to retain the same under the provisions of this ordinance any of the indebtedness, either principal or interest, of said Chicago Consolidated Traction Company, its successors or assigns; or any of the operating expenses of said Chicago Consolidated Traction Company, its successors or assigns.

INTEREST RETURN ON CAPITAL INVESTMENT.

Section 25. On and before the 10th day of April in each year the Company shall come to an accounting and settlement with the said City as of the thirty-first day of January last preceding, upon the following basis:

From the gross receipts of the said street railway system and property from all sources and of every kind for the year ending on said thirty-first day of January there shall be deducted for such year:

First: (1) All expenses of operation, including maintenance, repairs and renewals; (2) All amounts contributed during said year and then held in reserve under the provisions of Sections 16 and 18 hereof; (3) All amounts paid out for taxes and assessments levied or imposed upon the real and personal property of the Company, including all capital stock or franchise taxes levied or assessed after the year 1906, but not including any taxes which may by any court be ordered to be levied, assessed or collected after the year 1906 on account of the failure of the Company or any person, firm or corporation owning or having an interest in the said street railways or property, to pay any taxes which should have been paid for or on account of such street railways or property prior to the year 1907, and not including any sums paid by the Company to the City for City license fees, if any, exacted from the Company or its employes; (4) all salaries and expenses of the Board of Supervising Engineers by this ordinance authorized, after the period of "Immediate Rehabilitation"; and

Second: a sum equivalent to five (5) per centum per annum for said preceding year upon the amount of the cash purchase price which the said City would then be obligated to pay on account of the items specified in subdivisions 1, 2 and 3 of Section 20 hereof, if it were purchasing the property for municipal operation on such thirty-first day of January, interest being adjusted as to items added to such purchase price during said year. In case in any year the gross receipts shall not be sufficient to pay in full the items in the "first" and "second" paragraphs of this Section mentioned, then the deficit shall be paid out of the gross receipts of the subsequent year or years.

In case at any time the property of the Company, or any part thereof, shall be subject to any lien or encumbrance, securing an indebtedness, upon which an interest charge is accruing, and which is not subordinate to the right of the City to purchase said street railway system, or cause the same to be purchased by its licensee as in this ordinance provided then and in that case at each yearly accounting a sum equal to the amount of such interest charge accrued for such year, not represented by bonds or evidences of indebtedness held by the Company, or by coupons appertaining thereto and held by the Company, shall be set aside out of said sum of five per centum, and deposited with one or more of the depositaries appointed in accordance with this ordinance, to be held in trust for the protection of the City against such interest charge and to be paid out for such protection upon the order of the Company in its discretion. Any surplus of said fund above the amount of such interest charge at any time outstanding, shall be paid to the Company. Provided, that if the City shall take possession of said system of street railways by reason of the default of the Company in respect to the obligation expressed in subdivision (d) of Section 1 of this ordinance, then and thereafter such fund shall be subject to the sole control of the City, to be disbursed and applied in like manner as the net receipts which in that event are provided to be held in trust for the purpose of perfecting the title. Nothing herein contained shall be construed to create or recognize any right or interest in said fund in favor of the holder of any such lien or encumbrance or of any obligation thereby secured.

DIVISION OF REMAINING NET RECEIPTS.

After the deduction from the gross receipts of the items hereinbefore in this Section provided, the amount remaining shall be considered as the net receipts for such year arising from the operation of the street railway system hereby authorized, and shall be divided between the Company and the said City in the following proportions: forty-five (45) per cent. to be retained by the Company and fifty-five (55) per cent. to be paid forthwith by the Company to the said City, crediting thereon all amounts paid out during the preceding year by the Company for license fees, if any, exacted from the Company or its employes.

COMMUTATION OF FARES.

It is understood and agreed that the Company's agreement and obligation to pay the the City the fifty-five (55) per cent. of the "net receipts," as hereinbefore provided is based upon its right to charge and receive the fares prescribed in Section 11 hereof and to retain as its own the forty-five (45) per cent. of the "net receipts" as is hereinabove in this Section provided. The said City, however, reserves the right to, and it may at any time commute a sum not exceeding the City's share of the net receipts for the previous year into a reduction of said rates of fare; and thereafter in the event of such reduction of rates of fare the Company may deduct and retain as its share of the net receipts each year an amount equal to what would have been the Company's share of the net receipts of such year had the passengers carried during such year paid the fares prescribed in this ordinance, but the Company, after deducting and retaining its share of said net receipts so determined, shall pay over to the said City the remainder, if any, of the net receipts for such year less the deductions therefrom hereinbefore provided to be made from the said City's share of the "net receipts" on account of license fees.

CITY TO ESTABLISH SINKING FUND FOR MUNICIPAL PURCHASE.

It is further provided that, subject to the action of the City Council of said City, the said City shall deposit the amount so paid to the said City to the credit of a separate fund to be kept and used for the purchase and construction of street railways by said City; but any failure to comply with this provision shall in no way effect the rights or obligations of the Company under this ordinance.

COMPANY'S RIGHT TO NET RECEIPTS TO BE SUSPENDED IN CERTAIN CONTINGENCIES.

If, at any time, the Company shall be in default with respect to the obligation expressed in subdivision (d) of Section 1 of this ordinance in regard to perfecting title to its property and removing liens and encumbrances therefrom, the Company shall, upon demand, surrender to the City possession of its entire street railway system and the City may enter into possession thereof and of each and every part thereof, maintaining, operating, improving or extending the same, and keeping up the funds described in Sections 16 and 18 of this ordinance, in all respects as the Company might do, and as the Company would be obliged to do, if in possession under the provisions of this ordinance, until the obligation of the Company under said sub-division (d) of Section 1 of this ordinance shall be completely performed, or until the City shall purchase said property, or cause the same to be purchased by its licensee, as in this ordinance provided. Until the happening of one of the events last mentioned, if the City in its absolute discretion shall so elect by notice in writing delivered to the Company, the continuance of the Company in possession shall be subject to the obligation of applying its net receipts as hereinafter in this Section provided until the City elects to take possession as in this paragraph provided.

If, in the event of such default, the City elects to take possession of said property, the Company shall be bound to provide funds sufficient to fulfill all its obligations in respect of extensions, improvements, reconstruction, equipment, re-equipment, and additions to said system of street railways and the contribution of moneys toward the cost of subways and extensions thereof, as though its possession of said system of street railways had not been interrupted.

Whether in case of such default the City elects to take possession or to leave the Company in possession, in either event the receipts of said system of street railways shall be applied as hereinbefore in this Section provided, except that the proportion of net receipts which by this Section the Company is authorized to retain for its own use and benefit shall be paid over to a depositary as in this Section provided, to be, by such depositary, applied in accordance with the provisions of this ordinance next hereinafter set forth to remove any defect of title or any lien or encumbrance, other than such as are herein expressly authorized to be created, which may exist with respect to said system of street railways.

To the extent that the City shall proceed to exercise the powers, or any of them, mentioned in subdivision (c) of Section 1 of this ordinance, said moneys shall be paid out by the depositary upon the certificate of the Mayor of the City and upon the order of such disbursing officer or agent as the City may designate, to provide funds with which to pay the purchase-price of property acquired by the City pursuant to said subdivision, or to indemnify the City for expenses incurred in the exercise, or attempted exercise, of its powers, as in said subdivision provided. In the event that the City shall elect to leave the Company in possession of said property as aforesaid, the City shall have the additional right to require the depositary, upon like certificate and order, to pay out said moneys for any or all the purposes aforesaid in the absolute discretion of the City, irrespective of the limitations contained in said subdivision (c) of Section 1 of this ordinance. Such certificate of the Mayor shall be conclusive evidence to the depositary of the facts therein stated.

The depositary may also pay out said moneys upon the order of the Company for the acquisition or extinguishment of any outstanding title, estate, interest, lien, encumbrance, claim or demand, constituting a defect of title of the Company's property, but no such payment shall be made on the order of the Company without twenty (20) days' previous notice in writing to the City Comptroller of said City, which notice shall specify the particular title, estate, interest, lien, encumbrance, claim or demand to be acquired or extinguished, and the name of the holder or holders thereof, to whom payment is proposed to be made and the amount of such payment. A certified copy of a resolution of the board of directors of the Company, requesting such payment and stating the facts claimed to justify the same, shall be conclusive evidence to the depositary of the facts so stated, in the absence of notice of objection by the City, as next hereinafter provided. If, within said period of twenty (20) days, the City, by notice in writing delivered to the depositary, shall object to such proposed payment and shall agree to waive any default, or supposed default, by reason of the existence of such alleged title, estate, interest, lien, encumbrance, claim or demand, and to take title or cause its licensee to take title to said system of street railways subject thereto in the event of purchase by the City or its licensee, pursuant to the provisions of this ordinance, then and in that event the depositary shall not make the payment referred to in such notice given to the City by the Company, but shall set apart out of the proportion of the net receipts aforesaid in its hands and shall hold an amount equal to such proposed payment upon the specific trust to pay the same, with all accumulations to the City in either of the following events, namely:

(1) If the City shall, at its own expense, cause the said title, estate, interest, lien, encumbrance, claim or demand to be extinguished or conveyed or transferred to the Company.

(2) If the City shall purchase said street railway system, or cause the same to be purchased by its licensee, as in this ordinance provided, and shall take title to said street railway system subject to such outstanding title, estate, interest, lien, encumbrance, claim or demand without deduction from the purchase-price on account thereof.

At the beginning and at the end of any such period during which the Company's right to receive or retain for its own use and benefit a portion of said net receipts shall have been suspended, as hereinbefore provided, there shall be an accounting in respect of the receipts of said street railway system, to which the depositary shall be a party, substantially as provided in Section 25 of this ordinance with respect to the annual account; and any balance of net receipts in the hands of the depositary not expended as aforesaid, accruing prior to the expiration of such period shall be paid to the City, if the City was in possession during such period, or to the Company, if the Company was in possession during such period, and the Company shall be entitled to receive at the time and subject to the conditions hereinbefore in this Section and in Section 18 set forth the share of said net receipts hereinbefore mentioned, accruing after the expiration of such period.

If the City shall enter into possession of said system of street railways, as in this Section provided, it may retain such possession for not more than six months after said title to said system of street railways is perfected as aforesaid and after receiving six months' notice thereof in writing from the Company; and if, while in possession under the authority of this Section, the City shall give notice of its intention to purchase said street railway system of the Company, or to cause the same to be purchased by its licensee at the next succeeding date at which such purchase could be made under this ordinance, the City shall be under no obligation thereafter to surrender such possession by reason of such title having been perfected, unless the City or its licensee shall fail to consummate the purchase at the time specified in such notice.

CAPITAL INVESTMENT LIMITATION.

Section 26. The Company shall not be required on account of any extensions of subways or on account of underground trolleys, or on account of any extensions of its street railways (other than the extensions provided for in Exhibit A, and in Section 38 of this ordinance, and six (6) miles of double or twelve (12) miles of single track per annum, as in Section 3 hereof provided), to increase its total capital investment to such an extent that the return thereon over and above the interest charge of five per cent. thereon by this ordinance authorized, would be reduced to an inadequate or unreasonably small amount.

DEPOSITARIES.

Section 27. Any state or national bank or trust company in the City of Chicago or in the City of New York which has a capital stock and surplus amounting to at least one million dollars ($1,000,000) may be selected and can act as a depositary under the provisions of this ordinance; provided, that no moneys shall be deposited with any such depositary under the provisions of this ordinance to an amount exceeding the total capital stock and one-half of the surplus of such depositary; and provided, further, that all deposits authorized or required by this ordinance (except deposits of purchase-money in the event of purchase of said street railway system by the City or its licensee) shall be made with depositaries in the City of Chicago.

DEPOSITS.

Section 28. The Company shall have the right to select the particular depositary or depositaries with which it shall deposit any of the funds required to be deposited by the Company under the provisions of this ordinance, and the Company shall at all times be held responsible for any loss or impairment of any such deposit, and shall promptly make good and restore at its own cost, and not out of the receipts of said street railways, any such loss or impairment. The City or its licensee, as the case may be, shall have the right to select the particular depositary or depositaries with which shall be deposited the funds required to be deposited by the City or its licensee, in the event of purchase of the said street railways by the City or its licensee under the provisions of this ordinance, and the City or its licensee, as the case may be, shall at all times be held responsible for any loss or impairment of any such deposit made by it, and shall promptly make good and restore any such loss or impairment.

Provided, that in all cases where, under the terms of this ordinance, the City is authorized or required to make any deposits of money, the City shall be free from any responsibility for loss or impairment of any such deposit, if not less than thirty days prior to the making of such deposit it shall give notice in writing to the Company of the names of the depositaries in which it shall propose to make such deposit. And the Company, if not satisfied therewith, shall give notice in writing to the City not less than twenty days after receiving such notice from the City. The notice of the Company may direct the City not to make such deposit, or any specified portion of it, with any depositary or depositaries so named by the City of which the Company may disapprove, and in such case such notice by the Company shall contain the names of qualified depositaries from which the City may choose in lieu of the names so disapproved of by the Company, and the number of the names of depositaries in such notice by the Company, from which the City is to choose, shall be at least five in excess of the number of depositaries which the Company shall disapprove of as stated in such notice. And the City, upon making deposits, in accordance with the terms of this proviso, shall be free from any responsibility for loss or impairment of any such deposits.

INTEREST ON DEPOSITS

Section 29. Appropriate provision for the payment of reasonable interest on any funds deposited under the provisions of this ordinance shall be made with the depositary or depositaries of such funds by the party making such deposit. All interest which may accrue upon or be payable on account of any funds deposited under the provisions of this ordinance and any commission or allowance made directly or indirectly by any depositary on account of the funds deposited with it shall be held and considered as a part of the principal fund so deposited and shall be added to such fund as a part thereof.

The Company shall make daily deposits, with some depositary or depositaries authorized by this ordinance, of all moneys received by the Company from the operation of the said street railways and property, and shall make appropriate provision for the payment of reasonable interest on the moneys so deposited by such depositary or depositaries, which interest shall be added to and be held and considered as a part of the gross receipts of the said street railway system and property.

ANNUAL REPORTS.

Section 30. The Company, so long as it continues to operate any of the said street railways under this ordinance, and on or before the tenth day of April in each year shall prepare and file with the City Comptroller of said City annual reports for the preceding year ending on the 31st day of January.

Such reports shall be in writing, verified by the affidavit of the Auditor of the Company, setting forth in reasonable detail, according to forms prescribed by said Comptroller, the character and amount of business done by the Company for the year immediately preceding such report and the amount of receipts from and the expenses of conducting the said business, and the said City Comptroller, or accountants authorized by him, under the direction of the Mayor or City Council of said City, shall have the right at all reasonable times to examine all the books, vouchers and records of the receipts and expenditures of the Company, for the purpose of ascertaining the accuracy of the reports herein required and the rights of the said City under this ordinance. The Board of Supervising Engineers shall have power to prescribe the form and manner in which the books and accounts of the Company shall be kept, subject to the approval of the City Comptroller. There shall be also an annual audit of the accounts of the Company covering all receipts and expenditures for the year ending on the thirty-first day of January next preceding, and a formal written report by public accountants selected by the City and the Company, the expenses of such audit and report to be paid out of the gross receipts of the Company as an operating expense.

In the event of any purchase of the street railways and property of the Company under the provisions of this ordinance, on the first day of August of any year, there shall be an accounting and report for the preceding six months similar in character to that hereinbefore provided.

COMPANY TO MAINTAIN OFFICE IN CITY.

Section 31. The Company shall not remove its principal office or any of its books (except bond registry and stock transfer books), records, accounts, contracts or original vouchers of receipts and expenditures beyond the limits of the said City, and shall maintain an office within said City so long as the Company continues to operate any part of the street railways mentioned and provided for in this ordinance under the provisions hereof.

FORFEITURE FOR NON-COMPLIANCE.

Section 32. The Company, by the acceptance of this ordinance, expressly agrees with the said City and obligates itself fully to comply with all of the terms and conditions of this ordinance throughout the period of time covered hereby, and so long as the Company continues to operate any street railways in said City under or by virtue of the authority hereof.

The Company further agrees that in the event that it shall make default in the observance or performance of any of the agreements or conditions herein required to be kept and performed by it (other than the obligations stated in subdivision (d) of Section 1 of this ordinance as to which special provision has been made in Section 25 of this ordinance, which obligations, however, are to be excepted only in case the Company has fully complied with the provisions of said Section 25), and if any such default shall continue for a period of three (3) months (exclusive of all times during which the Company may be delayed or interfered with, without its connivance, by unavoidable accidents, labor strikes or the orders or judgments of any court entered in any suit brought without its connivance), after written notice thereof to it from the said City, then and in each and every such case, the said City by its City Council shall be entitled to declare this grant and all of the rights and privileges of the Company to maintain and operate street railways in any of the streets or public ways of the said City to be forfeited and at an end; provided, however, that should the Company, for its corporate purposes, pledge or mortgage its street railway property or any of the rights secured to it by this ordinance, or any security representing the said property or rights, for the security of the payment of its notes, bonds, or other evidences of indebtedness maturing not later than February 1, A. D. 1927, the amount thereof not being in excess of the value of all the property and rights of the Company, as defined in Section 20 hereof, such right of forfeiture of this grant by reason of any violation by the Company of the provisions of this ordinance shall not be asserted or exist against such pledgee or pledgees, mortgagee or mortgagees, or any of them, and shall not impair or affect the right of such pledgee or pledgees, mortgagee or mortgagees, to recover by foreclosure or other legal process against all the property of the Company, including the rights and privileges hereby granted, the face value of said notes, bonds or other evidences of indebtedness, or any security representing the said property or rights to an amount, however, not in excess of the sum for which the City would then have the right under the terms of this ordinance to purchase the said street railway property for municipal operation; and it is hereby stipulated that any notice of default by the Company, upon which a forfeiture shall be claimed, shall also be given by the said City to the trustee or mortgagee of record in any trust deed or mortgage securing such indebtedness. The purchaser at any foreclosure or other sale shall acquire no other or greater rights or privileges than are hereby conferred, and such purchaser shall hold said property, so purchased at such foreclosure or other sale, subject to the right of purchase at any time, thereafter, as herein provided, by the said City, and also subject to the right of purchase by any licensee of the said City, upon the same terms as the said City might purchase and acquire said property, but without payment in either case of the additional twenty per cent. provided for in Sections 20 and 22 of this ordinance; and also subject to the continuing terms, conditions and limitations of this ordinance, including the forfeiture provisions to the same extent as if the said purchaser had been the original grantee hereunder except that such purchaser shall have no right to execute or deliver any mortgage, trust deed or other encumbrance on said street railways, rights and property or any part thereof without the consent of said City.

The City shall have the right to bid and become the purchaser at any such foreclosure or other sale.

The said Company further expressly agrees that, by the acceptance by it of this ordinance, it is obligated to complete the said work of "Immediate Rehabilitation" provided for in said "Exhibit B" within the time and in the manner set forth in said Exhibit (due allowance being made for any and all delays or interruptions arising without its connivance by unavoidable accidents, labor strikes, or the orders or judgments of any court entered in any suit brought without its connivance), and if the Company shall fail or neglect to proceed with the said work of "Immediate Rehabilitation" with all reasonable diligence and promptness after the acceptance of this ordinance by the Company, or to complete the said work within the time prescribed in said "Exhibit B," and said Board of Supervising Engineers shall certify to the City Council of the said City that the Company has failed or neglected to so proceed with said work, or has failed or neglected to complete the work in the time specified in "Exhibit B," the Company shall be and is obligated to pay to the said City for each day that such default or neglect shall continue, the sum of ten thousand dollars as liquidated damages; and if the Company shall, at any time after the acceptance of this ordinance by it, fail to comply with the provisions hereof with regard to the maintenance of first class street railway service over and upon its said lines of street railways, the said City shall have the right to sue for and recover in any court of competent jurisdiction the sum of not less than fifty dollars and not more than five hundred dollars for each and every such failure and each and every day that such failure shall continue shall be taken and held to be a separate offense; but the payment of such penalties shall not in any manner release the liability of the Company to incur a forfeiture of all its rights and privileges under this ordinance, as hereinabove in this Section provided.

WAIVER OF RIGHTS.

SECTION 33. The Company, in consideration of the grant made by this ordinance, upon the terms and conditions herein expressed, agrees to waive, surrender and release, and by the acceptance of this ordinance the Company does waive, surrender and release, all and every one of the rights and claims of every kind and nature in respect to the location, maintenance, operation or exclusion of street railways in the streets, or any of them, of the said City now or hereafter vested or claimed to be vested in the Chicago West Division Railway Company, the Chicago Passenger Railway Company, the West Chicago Street Railroad Company, the West Chicago Street Railroad Tunnel Company, the North Chicago City Railway Company, the North Chicago Street Railroad Company, and the Chicago Union Traction Company, or in the Receivers of any of said Companies, and the Company hereby agrees to execute from time to time such further instruments of waiver, surrender and release of such rights and claims as the City may reasonably require, and the Company by the acceptance of this ordinance further covenants and agrees that it will not permit the stocks, securities or evidences of indebtedness of any of said Companies which it may at any time acquire, or any estate, interest or power of control which may exist in it by reason of the possession of such stocks, securities and evidences of indebtedness, or any of them, to be so used as to promote or sanction the assertion of any right or claim hereby agreed to be waived, surrendered and released.

TUNNEL RE-CONSTRUCTION.

SECTION 34. The Company, upon its acceptance of this ordinance, shall diligently proceed to finish and complete the work of lowering and re-constructing the tunnel under the south branch of the Chicago River at or near Van Buren Street, now in progress according to plans and specifications therefor prepared by Samuel G. Artingstall, Chief Engineer, and approved by the Secretary of War; said work of lowering and re-constructing of said tunnel according to said plans and specifications being now performed by the Great Lakes Dredge and Dock Company under a contract in writing, dated July 24th, 1906, between it and the Receivers of the Chicago Union Traction Company.

The said Company shall, also, upon its acceptance of this ordinance diligently proceed with the work of construction of a false roof in the tunnel under the south branch of said river at Washington street, and with the removal of the crown of said tunnel, as provided in and by an ordinance of the City Council of the City of Chicago in relation to that subject, passed June 18, 1906, said work being now in progress according to plans and specifications therefor, approved by the Commissioner of Public Works, and being performed by Angus Brothers and Company, under a written contract dated July 24th, 1906, between said Angus Brothers and Company and the Receivers of said Chicago Union Traction Company. The said Board of Supervising Engineers forthwith upon its organization shall prepare plans and specifications for the complete reconstruction of the tunnel under the Main Chicago River at La Salle street, including the work of removing the present tunnel at said La Salle street so far as the same may be necessary to meet the requirements of the Government of the United States as to navigation of the Chicago River at said point, and so far as may be necessary to allow the complete re-construction of the tunnel at said street, and also shall forthwith proceed to prepare plans and specifications for the additional work necessary for the complete reconstruction of said Washington street tunnel and submit both said plans and specifications to the Commissioner of Public Works of the City for his approval subject to such direction, if any, as the City Council of said City may prescribe. Upon such approval the Company shall diligently proceed under contracts to be approved by said Board of Supervising Engineers to the complete reconstruction of said Washington street and said La Salle street tunnels according to said plans and specifications.

Said work of re-construction shall be done in a safe, secure and workmanlike manner to the satisfaction, and with the approval of the Commissioner of Public Works, and under the supervision of said Board of Supervising Engineers. Whatever detailed plans or specifications may be necessary in the opinion of said Board of Supervising Engineers shall be provided during the process of said construction and shall be subject to the approval of said Commissioner of Public Works.

The Company by the acceptance of this ordinance agrees to construct such connections with and modifications of said tunnels and their approaches as may be determined by the Board of Supervising Engineers for the purpose of utilizing such tunnels in connection with any subway constructed under this ordinance.

CITY'S RIGHT TO INTERVENE.

Section 35. The Company by the acceptance of this ordinance shall and does grant to the said City, and the said City hereby reserves to itself the right to intervene in any suit or proceeding brought by any person, firm or corporation seeking to enjoin, restrain or in any manner interfere with the Company in the doing of any work called for by this ordinance, or involving the observance or performance of any of the agreements or conditions herein provided to be kept or performed by the Company, or in any suit to foreclose or enforce any lien, mortgage or trust deed against it and to move for a dissolution of such injunction or restraining order in such suit, and take any other appropriate steps to protect the rights of the said City in case it shall deem such action necessary and appropriate to protect the interests of the said City.

BOARD OF SUPERVISING ENGINEERS.

Section 36. Immediately upon the acceptance of this ordinance by the Company, there shall be organized a Board of Supervising Engineers in the manner following:

Within thirty (30) days after the acceptance of this ordinance as hereinafter provided, the Company shall appoint an engineer to represent it on said Board, and shall notify the Mayor of said City, in writing, of the name and address of such engineer; and within thirty (30) days after such notice the said City shall appoint an engineer as its representative on said Board (which appointment shall be made by the Mayor of the said City and shall be subject to the approval of the City Council), and shall notify the Company in writing of the name and address of its said engineer.

Bion J. Arnold is hereby selected and appointed the third member of said Board. The said City or the Company may respectively, at any time and from time to time, remove its representative on said Board, and may also respectively from time to time, appoint an engineer to represent it upon said Board, whenever and as often as it shall fail to have a representative upon said Board from any cause whatsoever. No such removal or appointment shall take effect until written notice thereof has been given to the other party by the party making such removal or appointment.

The said City and the Company may, at any time and from time to time, remove the third engineer from said Board, and may also select and appoint a third engineer to be a member of said Board, whenever and as often as a vacancy in said Board shall occur from the death, resignation, removal, refusal or inability to act of the third engineer upon said Board.

In the event that any vacancy in the position of third engineer upon said Board shall not be filled by the selection of a third engineer by said City and the Company within thirty (30) days after such vacancy shall arise, then the persons then acting as judges of the (main) Appellate Court for the First District of Illinois, or a majority of them, may fill such vacancy on said Board by appointing a competent engineer thereto upon the application of said City or the Company, after ten days' written notice having been given to the other party of such application.

In case either the said City or the Company desires the removal of the said third engineer and the appointment of another engineer in his place, the party desiring such removal and new appointment may, upon giving ten (10) days' written notice thereof to the other party, apply to the said judges for such removal, and the said judges or a majority of them shall within ten (10) days from and after such application set the same for informal and summary public hearing, at which the party desiring the removal shall publicly present its reasons for asking such removal.

Upon such application of either the said City or the Company, the said judges or a majority of them shall have the power, but shall not be required to remove the said third engineer. The third engineer shall not be removed by the said judges or a majority of them at any time, except upon the application of either the said City or the Company.

Upon the refusal or failure of the said Judges then constituting the (main) Appellate Court for the First District of Illinois, or a majority of them, to make the appointment herein authorized within thirty (30) days after being requested so to do, either the said City or the Company may, upon giving ten (10) days' written notice to the other party of its intention so to do, apply to any judge of the Circuit Court of Cook County, Illinois, for the appointment of a third engineer to fill any vacancy existing in said position, and the judge so applied to shall have the power to appoint such third engineer, who, when appointed, shall be a member of said Board, and shall be subject to removal in the manner hereinabove provided.

Either the Company or the City shall have the right to apply to any court of competent jurisdiction for the removal of any member of said Board of Supervising Engineers for fraud, corruption or failure to perform in good faith his duties under this ordinance.

A majority of said Board of Supervising Engineers shall at all times be authorized to exercise the powers conferred by this ordinance on said Board.

All words in this ordinance contained purporting to give authority to said Board of Supervising Engineers shall be construed as giving such authority to a majority of said Board.

SALARIES AND EXPENSES OF BOARD.

The said Board of Supervising Engineers shall maintain an office in the said City and shall employ the necessary assistance and purchase the necessary supplies and materials to enable it properly to perform its duties under this ordinance.

The said third engineer shall be ex-officio Chairman of the Board, and shall be paid for his services as a member of said Board compensation at the rate of $15,000 per annum.

During the period of "Immediate Rehabilitation," said Bion J. Arnold, so long as he continues to act as a member of said Board, shall, in addition to his duties as a member of said Board of Supervising Engineers, act as Chief Engineer of the work contemplated in this ordinance, and shall receive as additional compensation for such service, the sum of $15,000 per annum. In such capacity he shall have charge of the preparation of the plans and specifications, and the general direction of the entire work, and of its inspection during construction. Said plans and specifications and system of inspection shall be subject to the approval of the Board of Supervising Engineers.

Each of the other two members of said Board shall, in addition to attending the monthly meetings of the Board attend such other meetings as may be called by the Chairman, and be paid for his services as a member of said Board, compensation at the rate of $100 per day, and his traveling and living expenses while away from his home, and actually engaged upon this work, it being understood that his total compensation for services shall not be less than $3,600 nor more than $10,000 per year. The Chairman of said Board shall call a meeting of said Board at any time upon the request of the President of either of said Companies or of the Mayor of the City.

The salaries and expenses of said Board of Supervising Engineers during the period of "Immediate Rehabilitation" provided for in this ordinance shall be added to and form a part of the cost of such "Immediate Rehabilitation," but thereafter shall be paid out of gross receipts, as an operating expense.

In case the said ordinance to the said Chicago City Railway Company is passed and accepted, as therein provided, the third engineer and the engineer representing the City on the Board of Supervising Engineers created by said ordinance shall be the same persons who act as the third engineer and the engineer representing the City, respectively, in the Board of Supervising Engineers created by this ordinance; and the said Chicago City Railway Company and the Company shall agree upon one engineer as their joint representative upon said Board; but in case they do not so agree, each of said Companies may select its own representative, who shall in such case act as a member of said Board only in the consideration and determination of matters relating to the street railways and property of the particular Company he represents.

In the determination of any matter relating to subways and through routes and all other matters in which said companies are jointly interested the representative of each of said companies on said Board of Supervising Engineers shall be entitled to one-half of a vote.

In case said ordinance to said Chicago City Railway Company is passed and accepted as therein provided, the salaries and compensation of said engineers provided for in this ordinance shall include all compensation or salaries payable to said engineers under said other ordinance without duplication, and shall be equitably apportioned by the said third engineer between the said two Companies, taking into consideration the work done by said Board under the said ordinances, respectively, and the determination of said third engineer as to such apportionment shall be final and binding upon the parties whose interests are therein concerned.

CITY TO RESERVE POLICE POWER.

Section 37. Nothing in this ordinance contained shall be construed as depriving the said City of the right of exercising any police power which it would have possessed or enjoyed had this ordinance not been granted.

The enumeration herein of special requirements and specific regulations shall not be taken or held to imply the relinquishment by the said City of its power to make other requirements or regulations, and the said City hereby expressly reserves the right to make all regulations which may be necessary to secure in the most ample manner the safety, welfare and accommodation of the public, including among other things the right to pass and enforce ordinances to protect the public from danger or inconvenience in the management and operation of street railways throughout the said City and the right to make and enforce all such regulations as shall be reasonably necessary to secure adequate and sufficient street railway accommodations for the people, and insure their comfort and convenience.

The said Council may vest any or all matters of administration under this ordinance, including such thereof as are herein vested in the Mayor, Comptroller or other City officials named in this ordinance or in said "Exhibit B" attached hereto (but excepting those herein vested in said Board of Supervising Engineers), in a Department or Bureau of Local Transportation, or in its City Engineer, or in any official or employes of said City.

COMPREHENSIVE RECONSTRUCTION AND UNIFIED OPERATION ASSURED.

Section 38. For the purpose of carrying into effect the purpose and desire of the said City to provide for the unified operation and the comprehensive reconstruction of all the street railways within said City, an ordinance similar to this ordinance in general provisions and character, covering the system of street railways now maintained and operated by the Chicago City Railway Company, granting to said Company the right to operate said system, has been presented for passage by the City Council of said City, concurrently with this ordinance, and it is hereby expressly provided that in the event that the Company accepts this ordinance and files the bond as required in this ordinance within the time herein prescribed,

and the said Chicago City Railway Company fails to accept the said ordinance after its passage and within the time and according to the terms provided therein, or in any ordinance amendatory thereof or supplementary thereto, the Company hereby obligates itself to extend and operate its street railway system over and upon the streets and parts of streets in the said City covered by the said ordinance to the said Chicago City Railway Company, so far as and to the extent that the rights of the company or companies now operating the street railways upon such streets and parts of streets cease and expire by limitation or otherwise, the said street railway system of the Company to be extended over each such street or part of street as rapidly as and to whatever extent the said City is able to and does confer upon the Company lawful authority to construct and operate street railways upon such streets and parts of streets, respectively, and deliver to the Company peaceable possession thereof for such purposes. And the Company hereby agrees to construct and operate in each such street and part of street so turned over to it as aforesaid, the street railways and equipment required by the ordinance to said Chicago City Railway Company to be constructed by it therein, including the making of the contribution for the construction of subways and extensions thereof provided for in said last mentioned ordinance.

And the said Company agrees that it will furnish the necessary moneys to pay or to enable said City to pay for the physical property constituting the street railways and equipment in any such street or part of street which the City or its licensee may be authorized or required to purchase under and in accordance with the terms of the ordinances of said City which have been heretofore passed and are now in force with respect to any such street or part of street, respectively, property so purchased to be turned over to the Company as a part of the extension of the Company's system provided for in this section, and the moneys so paid or advanced shall be held and considered as a part of the expense of making such extension. For the purpose of making any such extension the Company agrees that it will, when authorized and required by the City, purchase and pay for the physical property constituting the then existing street railway and equipment located upon any street or part of street turned over to the Company under the foregoing provisions of this section, provided the price to be paid for such property shall not exceed the value of the same for street railway purposes as estimated by the Board of Supervising Engineers, and that, when acquired, said property shall be used by the Company as a part of the extension of its system upon such street or part of street under the provisions of this ordinance, and that the amount paid for such property shall be held and considered as a part of the cost of making such extension under the provisions of this ordinance.

All such extensions of the Company's system and the operations thereof shall be subject to the provisions of this ordinance, in the same manner and to the same extent as if herein expressly provided for as a part of the street railway upon such street or part of street under the provisions of this ordinance, and that the amount paid for such property shall be held and considered as a part of the cost of making such extension under the provisions of this ordinance.

The construction and equipment of all such extensions shall be made under the supervision of and the cost thereof determined by the said Board of Supervising Engineers, and such extensions shall be in all respects subject to the provisions of this ordinance as to purchase by the said City or its licensee, the determination of the character and cost of construction, reconstruction, equipment and re-equipment, the annual return to the Company upon its investment, the division of profits with the said City and the operation of such extensions by the Company, so far as such provisions can be made applicable thereto.

The City agrees that, in case it shall require the Company to extend its street railway system over or upon any street or part of street covered by the said ordinance to the said Chicago City Railway Company, under the provisions of this section, the Company shall have the right to extend its street railway system over and upon all of the streets and parts of streets covered by the ordinance of the said Chicago City Railway Company, upon the terms specified in this section, when and as soon as the now existing rights of other companies in said streets or parts of streets, respectively, shall expire or be terminated.

ORDINANCE BINDING UPON SUCCESSORS AND ASSIGNS.

Section 39. This ordinance shall inure to the benefit of and be binding upon the lessees, successors and assigns of the Company, and they and each of them shall be bound by all and every its provisions by the Company to be kept and performed, precisely as if in every case they had respectively been named herein with the Company.

LEASE OR ASSIGNMENT.

Section 40. No lease or operating agreement and no assignment, except by way of mortgage or trust deed, under the provisions and limitations of this ordinance, shall be made by the Company without the consent of the City Council of said City.

No mortgage, trust deed or other instrument given by the Company shall impose any lien upon or create any rights in the said street railways, property and rights, without the same being made specifically subject to all the limitations, conditions and provisions of this ordinance, including the right of the said City or its licensee to acquire the said property and rights upon the terms and in the manner in this ordinance provided, and in the event of such purchase, the lien of such mortgage, trust deed, or other encumbrance, and all other liens upon said street railways, property and rights or any part thereof, shall be discharged from said street railways, property and rights and shall attach to the proceeds of sale thereof, except in a case in which it is expressly provided by this ordinance that the purchase may be made subject to such lien or encumbrance and in which the City or its licensee has elected to purchase subject thereto; and except in the case last referred to, the City shall be, and by the acceptance of this ordinance is, irrevocably authorized by the Company in the event of such purchase, to pay to the trustee under any such trust deed, or to the holder of any such mortgage, out of said purchase-money, an amount sufficient to pay the principal and interest then due or accrued upon any obligation secured by such mortgage or trust deed, and to make such other appropriate disposition of any part of said purchase-money as may be necessary for the protection of any lien or right hereby transferred to the proceeds of sale.

And the City shall have, and may exercise with respect to any property, claims, liens or encumbrances which it may acquire with any part of said purchase-price, or otherwise, all the rights of the holder thereof from whom the same may be purchased or acquired, anything to the contrary in this ordinance contained notwithstanding.

WARRANTY OF TITLE.

Section 41. Whenever the City, or its licensee, shall desire to purchase and take over the street railway system of the Company within the said City, as in this ordinance provided, and shall comply with the provisions of this ordinance with respect to making such purchase and payment therefor, the Company shall, by good and sufficient written instruments to that end, transfer to the City, or its licensee, as the case may be, all its said street railway system and property, free from all claims and liens, except as otherwise in this ordinance expressly provided in case the City or its licensee elects to take subject to any lien or encumbrance, and the Company shall warrant the title to all of the property so transferred to the City or its licensee, to be complete and free from all claims and liens whatsoever except as aforesaid, and shall pay to the City, upon demand, any amounts which the City may be compelled to pay to perfect such title, if incomplete, or to remove any lien or encumbrance, as provided in subdivision 2 of Section 20 hereof, and shall also warrant that there are no outstanding rights in the streets or parts of streets occupied by its street railways, in any person or corporation, derived through or under said Company, or any of the Companies mentioned in Section 33 hereof, except the rights of the Chicago Consolidated Traction Company, under any operating agreement then in force with the consent of the City, in case the City or its licensee shall elect to take title subject to such operating agreement.

BOND.

Section 42. The Company shall forever indemnify and save harmless the said City against and from all damages, judgments, decrees, costs and expenses which the said City may suffer or which may be recoverable from or obtained against the said City, for or by reason of the granting of the privileges hereby conferred upon the Company, or for or by reason of or growing out of or resulting from the exercise by the Company of the privileges hereby granted, or any of them, or from any act or acts of the Company, its servants or agents, under or by virtue of the provisions of this ordinance.

And the Company shall, within the time limited for the acceptance of this ordinance, file with the City Clerk of said City its bond to the said City, in the penal sum of One Hundred Thousand Dollars, conditioned that it will forever indemnify and save harmless the said City as aforesaid; provided, however, that the giving of said bond or the recovery of a judgment or judgments thereon by the said City shall not be construed as measuring, lessening or limiting the liability of the Company to the said City under any provisions of this ordinance.

PIPE LINE.

The Company shall have the right to maintain and operate during the life of this ordinance the pipe line constructed by the North Chicago Street Railroad Company between its gas plant on Larrabee street and its car barns at Clark street and Sherman place and at Lincoln and Wrightwood avenues under an ordinance of the City of Chicago passed October 15, 1891, entitled "An ordinance authorizing the North Chicago Street Railroad Company to lay a pipe line from Company's gas house to car house," but subject to all the terms and conditions of said last-mentioned ordinance and of this ordinance.

EXHIBIT B.

Chicago Railways Company.

Immediately upon the acceptance of this ordinance by the Company it shall proceed with all due diligence to repair and reconstruct its street railway system and equipment and to secure the necessary supply of electric power to comply with the provisions of this ordinance and under the following specifications:

IMMEDIATE REHABILITATION.

That the character of service required by the accompanying ordinance may be established at the earliest moment practicable, the Company shall, upon the acceptance of said ordinance, proceed immediately, (1) to remove from the streets all of its present cable tracks, slots, and conduits, and substitute therefor electric tracks of the character and type as hereinafter described; (2) to rebuild at least 90 miles (single track) of the present electric track of the Company with track of the character and type hereinafter described; (3) to construct and equip the necessary system of distribution and substations, as may be determined upon by said Company with the approval of the Board of Supervising Engineers, to transmit and transform whatever electric power may be required to enable the Company at all times to operate its street railways efficiently and continuously; (4) to rebuild and re-equip its car houses so as to enable it to properly clean and maintain its cars; (5) to increase as rapidly as possible the number of double truck cars, of the character and type as hereinafter described, until there shall be in operation on its street railway system at least twelve hundred (1,200) such cars, and (6) to reconstruct the Van Buren street and Washington street tunnels and to reconstruct or rebuild the tunnel at La Salle street. The Company shall diligently prosecute the work above specified and required, and complete the same as rapidly as practicable, in accordance with the provisions of said ordinance, and in compliance with the general specifications herein contained, but in any event the said work shall be completed within three (3) years from the date of actual acceptance of said ordinance.

GENERAL SPECIFICATIONS.

In addition to the work hereinabove specifically required the Company shall, as promptly as possible, do the necessary work and purchase the necessary materials and equipment to put its entire street railway system and equipment in the best practicable condition to enable it to furnish to the citizens of Chicago the quality and kind of service contemplated and required by this ordinance, and shall at all times maintain the same at the highest practicable efficiency.

Permits.

The Company, before it makes any excavation in or in any way interferes with the surface of, any street or public way for the purpose of doing any work shall obtain from the Commissioner of Public Works of the City a permit so to do, which permit shall contain a condition requiring the Company to restore said street or way and maintain it for one year thereafter; and in every case the Company, after it has restored such street or way shall maintain it for one year after such restoration.

Permits for Buildings.

All permits issued for the removal of buildings on or across any track of the Company shall provide that the Company be notified at least two days in advance of such removal; that such removal shall only take place, unless with the consent of the Company, between the hours of twelve o'clock midnight and five o'clock A. M.; and that the party to whom the permit is issued shall pay to the Company the actual cost of removing and replacing its overhead equipment, and for the interruption of its traffic from five A. M. to twelve o'clock midnight, if such interruption shall occur.

Tracks.

The tracks to be maintained by the Company shall not be elevated above the surface of the street or public way in which they are placed. They shall be laid and maintained by the Company so as to conform to the grade of such street or public way as the same is, or from time to time hereafter shall be, established by the City Council.

All new tracks shall be laid with the best materials and in the most approved modern manner.

Spacing Tracks.

In laying or relaying rails in any of the streets included in the accompanying ordinance upon which more than one track is located the distance between centers of tracks may remain as at present, but in order to accommodate large, modern cars, and provide for their safe passage, this distance may be at least nine (9) feet eight and one-half (8½) inches between center lines of tracks. The tracks at curves wherever practicable shall be laid to such center as to enable cars to pass with suitable and safe clearance. The exact location of tracks in the streets shall be subject to the approval of the Commissioner of Public Works.

Rails.

All new track construction hereafter laid in streets or public ways shall be laid with modern improved rails of the grooved type, weighing not less than one hundred and twenty-nine (129) pounds per yard, which shall in all respects conform to the specifications for grooved rails as contained in Section 1944 of the Revised Municipal Code of Chicago, as amended by ordinance of the City Council passed October 8th, 1906; provided, that all rail used in the tunnels and on their approaches, and in the subways and on their approaches may be "T" rail weighing not less than eighty (80) pounds per yard.

Joints.

All rail joints shall be either cast-welded, electrically welded, or of a type which will give an equally smooth and even joint, except that the joint used must be one which will provide a carrying capacity for the electric current equivalent to the carrying capacity of the rail.

Track Substructure.

The rails shall be laid upon concrete beams, wooden ties, steel ties or cast-iron chairs or in some other form of first-class modern approved street railway track construction. The foundation shall be either of concrete, crushed stone or other ballast material which in the judgment of the Board of Supervising Engineers shall best suit the conditions of soil and drainage. Said foundation to be brought to the proper height to serve as a suitable foundation for the pavement.

Bonding.

In case the rails are joined by any other form of joint than a cast-welded or electrically-welded joint, there shall be some form of bond used which will connect the ends of the rails in such manner that the conductivity of the joints shall be equivalent to the carrying capacity of the rail. The rails of each single track and the inside rails of the double track of all tracks shall be connected by cross-bonds of No. 2/0 (B. & S. Gauge) copper wire spaced not more than one thousand (1000) feet apart, and properly secured to the rails in such manner that the full conducting effect of the wire may be utilized. The rails shall be so bonded or joined and such return circuits and other necessary devices installed as to prevent damage from electrolysis as effectually as possible.

Special Work.

At all points of intersection of the tracks of the Company with its own tracks or with the tracks of other companies, there shall be provided suitable steel special work of ample strength and weight to correspond with the structure to which it connects. The frogs, switches and mates shall be provided with wearing plates of hardened steel. All special work and curves shall be laid in the same general manner required for straight-line track.

Poles and Wires.

All new overhead construction shall consist of one (1) trolley wire suspended over each track by span wires attached to poles set at the curb-line or suspended from brackets attached to poles.

The design of poles hereafter erected shall be subject to approval of the Board of Engineers, and shall be of iron or steel, weighing approximately nine hundred (900) pounds each, set in concrete and kept thoroughly painted. They shall be spaced on an average of from one hundred (100) to one hundred fifteen (115) feet apart for straight track, except at street intersections, and so as not to obstruct cross streets, alleys, or private driveways. The location of poles shall be subject to the approval of the Commissioner of Public Works.

All material used in the overhead construction shall be of the most modern type and shall be capable of sustaining all the weights and strains that come upon it under normal conditions of operation and from wind, sleet and ordinary accidents.

The trolley wire shall be not less than No. 2/0 (B. & S. Gauge) hard-drawn copper, unless the Board of Supervising Engineers shall approve other sizes for specific cases. Phosphor bronze, silicon bronze or other material equal in strength may also be used. Trolley wires shall be suspended not less than eighteen and one-half (18½) feet above the rails, except when such wires are suspended under viaducts, bridges and other structures. There shall be at least two (2) insulations between the trolley wire and the supporting pole. Span wires shall be galvanized iron or steel or silicon bronze.

Feeders and Transmission Wires.

All feeder and transmission wires within that portion of the City bounded as follows: beginning on Halsted street at the south branch of the Chicago river, thence north on the west side of Halsted street to 22d street; west on the south side of 22d street to Western avenue; north on the west side of Western avenue to Belmont avenue; east on the north side of Belmont avenue to Southport avenue; north on the west side of Southport avenue to Clark street; north on the west side of Clark street to Lawrence avenue; east on the north side of Lawrence avenue to Lake Michigan; south along the shore of Lake Michigan to the Chicago river; thence west and south along the main channel and the South Branch of the Chicago river to the point of beginning, with such territory in the south division of said city as is occupied by the tracks of the Company, shall be laid underground. To this end, authority is hereby conferred upon the Company to enter upon, excavate for, and construct a system of conduits in the streets, alleys, and other public ways of the City of sufficient capacity to carry its said wires. All feeder wires in any other territory shall be similarly placed underground whenever the City shall require all other overhead public service wires (except trolley wires) in such territory to be placed underground. All transmission wires used by the Company within the City limits, carrying a pressure of 1,000 volts or more shall be placed underground.

Feeder and transmission wires, not required to be placed underground, shall be suspended by insulators upon said poles supporting said trolley wires or upon poles placed at the side of streets, alleys or other public ways in locations to be approved by the Commissioner of Public Works. These wires and poles shall be so situated that the Company may conveniently make all the connections authorized by said ordinance and the exhibits thereto. The said trolley wires, feeder wires and all other wires authorized by said ordinance to be installed by the Company, where located in streets, alleys, or other public or private ways in, along or across which are located railroads elevated above the surface of the streets, may be strung upon or from the structures of such railroads, with the consent of the company owning or operating the same. Said wires shall be attached to said structures and maintained under the supervision of the City Electrician.

Conduits.

Underground conduits to carry any of the wires authorized by said ordinance, to be installed by the Company, shall not exceed four (4) feet in width and three

(3) feet in depth, and shall be of tile, cement, iron or other material impervious to moisture and not subject to decay. All transmission and feeder wires and cables laid under ground shall be covered with lead or other impervious material. Before any cable containing such wires shall be put in use it shall be tested by an alternating current of twice the working voltage of the cable. All forms of cable used by the Company containing more than one conductor shall be tested in like manner.

City Conduits.

If at any time the City shall desire to place conduits and manholes in streets or public ways wherein the Company is then about to place conduits and manholes, a single trench may be used for both conduits, but the manholes of the Company shall be kept separate and distinct from those of the City. The expense in such case shall be divided between the Company and the City according to the space used by each therein.

Conductors.

All wires and conductors for the transmission of electricity in and along any street, alley or public way (whether under or above ground) shall be installed in a substantial and workmanlike manner, so as to interfere as little as possible with the other uses of said public places; and all electric work of every kind and character shall comply strictly with the ordinances of the City applicable thereto.

Maintenance of Streets.

The Company, as respects filling, grading, paving, keeping in repair, sweeping, sprinkling, keeping clean, or otherwise improving the streets or parts of streets occupied by its railway, shall fill, grade, pave, keep in repair, sweep, sprinkle, and keep clean and free from snow eight (8) feet in width of all streets and public ways, or portions thereof, occupied by it with a single track railway, and sixteen (16) feet in width of all streets and public ways, or portions thereof, occupied by it with a double track railway.

In removing snow the Company shall not deposit it upon the portions of the street or public way outside of the tracks, except temporarily; and in every case of such temporary deposit it shall be removed within a reasonable time, to be fixed by the Commissioner of Public Works.

Pavement.

The Company, upon the order of the Commissioner of Public Works, and approval of the Board of Supervising Engineers, shall pave, repave, or repair the portions of the streets and public ways which by this grant it is required to keep paved and in repair, whenever and as often as the same shall reasonably require paving, repaving or repairing, and shall at all times keep the surface of all of its paving at least up to the top of the rail.

The pavement which the Company shall be required to lay down and keep in repair in the portion of any street or way which it is required herein to pave and keep in repair shall be of the following kinds, to-wit:

First. In all streets or ways in which the Company has in place, at the date of the passage of this ordinance, a good serviceable pavement, it shall repair and maintain the same while serviceable under the direction of the Commissioner of Public Works, as aforesaid.

Second. Whenever any existing pavement of the Company, in any paved street or way, can no longer be made serviceable by repair; and whenever the portions of any street or public way outside of the strip herein required to be paved by the Company are newly paved or repaved, with asphalt, granite, brick, creosoted block, or other similar material, as aforesaid, and the pavement of the Company therein does not comply with the following specifications; and whenever the Company relays its rails in any such paved street or public way in which its pavement does not comply with the following specifications, then, and in any of such events, the Company shall pave or repave the portion of any such street or public way, which it is herein required to keep paved, with granite paving blocks having a uniform grain and texture, without lamination or stratification, and free from an excess of mica or feldspar. Said blocks shall measure from three and one-half (3½) to five and one-half (5½) inches in width, from seven (7) to eleven (11) inches in length (except that shorter stones may be used to break joints), and not less than five (5) inches in depth. They shall be so dressed as to have substantially rectangular plane surfaces, so that when in place the joints at the ends and sides shall average one-fourth (¼) inch in width. Soft or weather-worn stones, obtained from the surface of the quarry, and stones which wear to a polish under traffic shall not be used. All blocks shall be laid in uniform courses across the roadway; and the space between the blocks, when in place, shall in no case be less than one-eighth (⅛) of an inch nor more than three-eights (⅜) of an inch in width. Each course shall consist of blocks of the same width. They shall be so laid that all longitudinal joints shall be broken by a lap of approximately three inches. The spaces shall be immediately filled to within two (2) inches of the top of the blocks with dry gravel free from loam or dirt, and the blocks rammed to a true surface and firm bed with a seventy-five (75) pound rammer of approved shape. No cracked or chipped blocks shall remain in the pavement. After ramming, the spaces between the blocks shall be completely filled with a paving pitch made by the distillation of "straight run" coal tar and of such quality and consistency as shall be approved by the Commissioner of Public Works. The pitch shall be used at a temperature of not less than two hundred and eighty (280) degrees Fahrenheit and be spread in such quantity as to apply two (2) gallons to each square yard of pavement. The spreading shall be done in sections if the Commissioner of Public Works so directs. Provided, that, in any ordinance providing for the paving of such streets the Company may be required to pave in like manner and with like material as therein specified for other contiguous portions of said streets, except that when asphalt is used a layer of granite blocks shall be put in next to and on both sides of each rail.

Third. Whenever any existing pavement of the Company, in any unpaved street, or public way, can no longer be made serviceable by repairs; and whenever the Company lays down any track or tracks in any unpaved street or public way, then, and in either of such events, the Company shall pave or repave the portions of any such street or public way, which it is required to keep paved or repaved, as aforesaid, with good serviceable granite blocks.

Fourth. In each case whereby said Exhibit A attached to this ordinance the Company is authorized and required to change a single track to a double track, in any street or part of a street, if the roadway therein be not at least thirty-eight (38) feet in width, the Company shall, at its own cost (such cost to be charged to capital account) widen said roadway to said width, and shall rebuild the catchbasins and their connections and curb and pave said street, as may be required by the City Council; provided, that the Company shall not hereby be required to pave, in addition to the part of the street occupied by its double-track street railway, as provided for in this ordinance, more than eight (8) feet in width of such roadway nor to acquire private property in order to secure the necessary width for such roadway.

Power Houses, Buildings.

The Company shall build such power houses and auxiliary buildings, together with the necessary machinery and appurtenances as may be determined upon by said Company with the approval of the Board of Supervising Engineers to supply whatever electric power may be required (in addition to such power as the Company may acquire by lease or contract with such approval from sources other than its own plants) to enable the Company to operate at all times its street railway system efficiently and continuously.

In the construction of power plants, sub-stations and other buildings, the Company shall comply with all general ordinances of the City in regard to buildings and to the installation of machinery, boilers and smoke-consuming appliances. The buildings of said power plants shall be substantially fireproof and supplied with smoke-stacks sufficient to carry off all gases emitted, and the foundations for the machinery therein shall be constructed in a solid and substantial manner.

The machinery and apparatus employed shall be selected and installed with a view of affording uninterrupted operation of the cars upon said railways, and to attain this end the machinery shall be so arranged that a stoppage of one machine shall not prevent the operation of the remaining machines, and reserve machinery shall always be ready to be thrown into service. All boilers, piping, valves, fittings, steam engines, turbines, generators, switchboard apparatus, and other appliances used, shall be of the latest and most approved design and constructed and installed in accordance with the best engineering practice.

In all dynamos and connections where a high voltage current is produced or used approved methods for the protection of human life shall be employed.

The high tension switches shall be entirely enclosed in fireproof material, and shall be operated by levers, compressed air, auxiliary currents, or by such other means as will, as far as practicable, prevent personal contact with high tension current.

All feeders leading out of power plants and sub-stations shall be provided with some form of safety switches or automatic circuit-breakers designed to instantaneously open the circuit in case of a short circuit occurring on the feeder or on the trolley which it feeds.

All the foregoing specifications regarding modern and approved apparatus, protection from fire, and provisions for the protection of human life, shall apply with equal force to the sub-stations in case a system of transmission involving the use of sub-stations is adopted.

In case it is found desirable to secure power from any other source than the Company's own power plant no contract for supplying such power shall be entered into by the Company without the consent of the Board of Supervising Engineers.

Car Shops and Machinery.

It is contemplated that the present car shops and machinery contained therein will remain as at present installed with such additions thereto as may be necessary and located as follows:

Complete plant east of West 40th avenue, extending from Washington boulevard to the Chicago & Northwestern Railroad.

Cars.

All new cars hereafter put in service shall be of the type known as double truck cars, seating from 40 to 50 passengers; and in construction, design and equipment shall conform strictly to all the provisions of Section 10 of the ordinance.

The Company may retain in operation on said streets until the Board of Supervising Engineers otherwise directs, 486 closed and 564 open cars of the present single truck cars now in service, it being understood that these cars shall be selected from the best cars now in service and shall conform in every respect to all general ordinances of the City regulating such cars.

All the above cars shall be equipped with sufficient motor capacity to properly operate the cars at the schedule speed required by the service over the particular lines that they may be operated upon.

Electric or hot water heaters or heaters of other types approved by the Board of Supervising Engineers, of sufficient capacity to heat the above cars as stipulated in the accompanying ordinance, shall be used.

Every passenger car used by said Company which is not now equipped with a power brake shall, on or before nine (9) months after the passage of this ordinance, be equipped with a power brake of a type approved by the Board of Supervising Engineers.

Every passenger car used by said Company which is not now vestibuled shall, on or before nine (9) months after the passage of this ordinance, be vestibuled in such manner as may be approved by the Board of Supervising Engineers.

Rolling Stock.

The Company shall provide all necessary snow-plows, sweepers, repair cars, work cars, etc., to properly take care of its system and maintain it in first class working condition.

EXHIBIT D.

THIS AGREEMENT, Made this.....day of....., A. D, 1907, by and between the.....Trust Company, a corporation duly organized and existing under and pursuant to the laws of Illinois, hereinafter called the "Trustee," party of the first part, the Chicago Railways Company, also a corporation duly organized and existing under and pursuant to the laws of Illinois, hereinafter called the "Railways Company," party of the second part, and the several persons, firms and corporations owning or controlling certificates of stock of the Chicago West Division Railway Company, the North Chicago City Railway Company, the West Chicago Street Railroad Company, the North Chicago Street Railroad Company and the Chicago Union Traction Company, respectively, who may become parties hereto by depositing their certificates of stock and receiving certificates of deposit therefor, as herein provided, hereinafter called the "Depositors," parties of the third part.

By an ordinance of the City Council of the City of Chicago, passed on the .....day of....., A. D. 1907, entitled "An Ordinance authorizing the Chicago Railways Company to construct, maintain and operate a system of street railways in streets and public ways of the City of Chicago," it was, among other things, provided that no right, permission or authority should thereby vest in the Railways Company, and the Railways Company should not have the right to accept said ordinance, unless at the time of such acceptance there should have been deposited with the Trustee under an agreement substantially in the form of this agreement certificates of stock duly endorsed in blank for transfer, representing not less than certain specified amounts of the capital stock of the Chicago West Division Railway Company, the North Chicago City Railway Company, the West Chicago Street Railroad Company, the North Chicago Street Railroad Company and the Chicago Union Traction Company, respectively, with reservation of the right to the City to modify the aforesaid provisions and conditions so as to reduce the proportion of stock of each or all of said Companies to be so deposited to such amount as to the said City should seem proper.

The Depositors, in order to enable the Railways Company to accept said ordinance, have severally deposited their certificates of stock hereunder, upon the trusts and under the conditions and stipulations of this agreement hereinafter contained as follows:

First: This agreement shall be signed by the Trustee and the Railways Company and deposited with the Trustee at its office in the City of Chicago, Illinois. Holders of stock of the Chicago West Division Railway Company, the North Chicago City Railway Company, the West Chicago Street Railroad Company, the North Chicago Street Railroad Company and the Chicago Union Traction Company, respectively, may become parties hereto by depositing the certificates for their stock with the Trustee, duly endorsed in blank for transfer. Each of the Depositors shall thereafter, upon demand of the Trustee, execute or procure such further transfers, assignments, powers of attorney and proxies in respect of the stock so deposited as the Trustee may deem necessary or proper. Each of the Depositors shall be entitled to receive from the Trustee a certificate in form substantially as follows:

The.....Trust Company, as Trustee under the Agreement hereinafter referred to, hereby certifies that..... .....has delivered to said Trustee certificates duly endorsed in blank for transfer for.....shares of the .....stock of the.....

Company, in acceptance of a certain Agreement, dated..... .....A. D. 1907, between the Chicago Railways Company, the Depositing Stockholders of said..... Company, and other depositors, and said.....Trust Company, as Trustee, to be held and disposed of as in said Agreement provided and the registered holder, at the time, of this certificate will be entitled, upon receipt thereof by said Trustee and upon surrender hereof and upon compliance by him with the terms and conditions of said allotment, to the securities or other proceeds allotted in respect of said deposited shares under such Plan of Reorganization as may be finally approved in accordance with the provisions of said Agreement. On the conditions in said Agreement specified, said deposited certificates first above mentioned shall be returned to said registered holder upon surrender hereof. This certificate is transferable but only on the books of the Trustee and subject to the terms of said Agreement in that behalf; and the Trustee and all other persons interested in or under said Agreement shall be entitled to treat the registered holder as the absolute owner and beneficiary for all purposes.

This.....day of....., A. D. 1907.

.....Trust Company,

Trustee,

Each such certificate shall be transferable only on the books of the Trustee by the registered holder thereof in person or by attorney upon surrender of such certificate, duly endorsed or assigned. Each such transfer shall entitle the transferee to all the rights, powers and advantages represented by such certificate of deposit, but no such transfer shall relieve the party making such transfer from any obligation herein expressed.

Second: If, prior to the last day allowed for acceptance of said ordinance by the Railways Company, under the terms of said ordinance or any ordinance amendatory thereof or supplemental thereto, there shall not have been deposited hereunder with the Trustee certificates of stock of said several Companies in the amounts which may be necessary to enable said Railways Company to accept said ordinance, or if said Company shall for any reason fail to accept said ordinance, then the Trustee shall return the stocks deposited hereunder to the holders of the respective certificates of deposit therefor upon surrender of such certificates, duly endorsed or assigned.

Third: In the event that the Railways Company shall accept said ordinance and a plan of reorganization or readjustment shall be approved as in said ordinance and in this agreement provided, then and in that event the Trustee or the Railways Company with the approval of the Trustee, is hereby authorized to enter into any contract or contracts, or to take any action not inconsistent with the provisions of said ordinance or of this agreement for the disposition of all or any part of the beneficial interest appertaining to said shares of stock deposited hereunder which shall or may be necessary to carry into effect the terms of such plan of reorganization and readjustment, provided the Trustee shall receive the stocks, securities or other benefits allotted under such plan in respect of the stocks deposited hereunder for delivery to the holders of certificates of deposit representing such last-named stocks, upon performance of the conditions, if any, attached to such delivery by the terms of said plan of reorganization or readjustment, but only in case the said plan shall conform to the conditions and requirements in this agreement set forth.

Fourth: No plan or any modification thereof shall be operative, unless and until the allotment of securities of the Railways Company, or other benefits, to the depositors, as well as any other provisions of said plan (or modification thereof) affecting said depositors shall be approved by Peter S. Grosscup, and by John C. Gray, as being based on the legal rights of said depositors as of the date of the passage of said ordinance under the respective leases to and from said Companies and as being fair and just to each class of depositors relatively to the treatment accorded to every other class of stocks, securities and evidences of indebtedness; and in determining said questions no discrimination against any of said stocks shall be made because of the passage of this ordinance or the deposit of said stocks hereunder, or because of any proceedings heretofore or hereafter taken in the Circuit Court of the United States for the Northern District of Illinois under the amended and supplemental bills filed by the Guaranty Trust Company of New York in said Circuit Court in the three cases of said Guaranty Trust Company of New York vs. the North Chicago Street Railroad Company and the West Chicago Street Railroad Company and the Chicago Union Traction Company, respectively, the said amended and supplemental bills against the North Chicago Street Railroad Company and the West Chicago Street Railroad Company, respectively, having been filed on July 23, 1906, and against the Chicago Union Traction Company on June 30, 1906, or because of the pleadings filed therein in response or pursuant thereto, or because of any action of the Directors of any of the Companies named in this agreement in authorizing or purporting to authorize the filing of such pleadings, or because of any action hereafter taken by any of the Boards of Directors of any of said Companies. Any plan approved in accordance with this agreement shall contain a provision for paying out of the securities and benefits set apart for the stock of said Chicago West Division Railway Company and North Chicago City Railway Company such allowance for expenses and attorneys' fees of depositing stockholders of said companies last named, respectively, as to the said John C. Gray shall seem reasonable and proper. In case of a disagreement between said Peter S. Grosscup and said John C. Gray as to said plan, or any part thereof, then the said Peter S. Grosscup and John C. Gray shall submit the question in disagreement to a third person to be selected by them. In case they fail to agree on such third person then such third person shall be selected by George W. Wickersham and Edward B. Burling. The decision of such three persons, or a majority of them, as to such plan, or any part thereof, shall be final and binding upon all the parties. The fees and expenses of the said Gray and the said third person shall be fixed by the said Gray and shall be paid as one of the expenses of the reorganization.

In case no plan shall be approved as in this agreement provided, then upon the expiration of two hundred and ten days after the passage of said ordinance, the Trustee hereunder shall return the deposited stock of the Chicago West Division Railway Company and North Chicago City Railway Company, respectively, to the holders of certificates issued hereunder upon the surrender thereof properly endorsed. In case a plan shall be approved as in this agreement provided, the deposited stock of said Chicago West Division Railway Company and North Chicago City Railway Company shall nevertheless be returned to the holders of the certificates issued by the Trustee hereunder upon the surrender thereof properly endorsed, unless within a reasonable time (which time shall be fixed by said Gray) the holders of said certificates shall have received or shall have been given an opportunity of receiving the securities or other benfits allotted to them by said plan.

It is further expressly provided that, until holders of certificates representing stock of said two Companies last named shall have received or shall have been given the opportunity or receiving said securities or other benefits, allotted to them by said plan, the right is reserved to such holders to continue or to institute any legal proceedings (which they would have had if such stocks had not been so deposited) for the purpose of protecting or establishing any rights they may have to prevent any sale of the assets of said Companies or change in the legal relations existing between, on the one hand, either of the said two companies last named, and, on the other hand, any of the other Companies in this agreement named, or the City of Chicago, or for the purpose of protecting or establishing any other rights they may have, and until such stockholders shall have received or shall have been given the opportunity of receiving such securities or other benefits, the entire beneficial interest in the stock deposited hereunder of the said Chicago West Division Railway Company and of the North Chicago City Railway Company, including the right to dividends payable thereon, shall remain in the said respective registered holders of certificates representing such stock. And the said Trustee agrees that the certificates of stock of the said Chicago West Division Railway Company and North Chicago City Railway Company deposited hereunder shall remain in the respective names of the depositors of such certificates until that time.

Sixth: Said plan of reorganization and readjustment shall extend to the holders the opportunity mentioned in sub-paragraph (c) of Section 1 of said ordinance of making deposit under said plan of all the stock, bonds and evidences of indebtedness of the North Chicago City Railway Company, the Chicago West Division Railway Company, the Chicago Passenger Railway Company, the West Chicago Street Railroad Tunnel Company, the West Chicago Street Railroad Company, the North Chicago Street Railroad Company and the Chicago Union Traction Company, respectively, and shall determine the stocks, securities or other benefits to be allotted to the depositors of such bonds, stocks or evidences of indebtedness, respectively, and shall specify the conditions upon which the same are to be delivered, and shall make provision for the expenses and compensation of any receivers appointed of the property of any of said corporations and for the expenses of reorganization and readjustment; and shall make all said provisions to such extent and in such manner as may be deemed fair and just by those charged with the formation and approval of such plan, provided, that equal treatment be accorded to the holders of all stocks of the same class deposited hereunder and all bonds or evidences of indebtedness of the same rank and class, but the foregoing provision shall not be construed to prevent the requirement of a cash payment as a condition of deposit under said plan after such time as may be fixed in the plan or pursuant to its terms. Such plan shall also provide that all stocks or securities representing any interest in the funds described in subdivisions (1) and (2) of Section 20 of said ordinance which may be allotted in respect of the bonds, stocks or evidences of indebtedness of any of said corporations in this Article named, to the extent that such bonds, stocks or evidences of indebtedness shall not be deposited under the plan, shall nevertheless be delivered to the Trustee to be held in trust and to be applied by the Trustee under the direction of the Board of Directors of the Railways Company to perfect the title of said Railways Company to the system of street railways mentioned in and authorized by said ordinance and to remove therefrom liens and encumbrances, excepting such as are by said ordinance authorized to be created; and that such stocks, securities or other benefits shall be applied to no other purpose until such title be made complete and free from liens and encumbrances as aforesaid.

pany by said ordinance shall cease and determine by reason of the failure of the Railways Company to comply with any of the covenants or conditions of said ordinance, then (subject to the qualifications hereinafter stated) the said shares of stock deposited hereunder and all the beneficial interest appertaining to said stock shall pass to, vest in and become the property of, or be subject to the control and disposition of, the City of Chicago, or of such person or persons or corporation as said City shall by ordinance designate, and the Trustee shall deliver the certificates for said stock in its possession to or upon the order of said City; provided, however, that such title to the deposited stocks of the Chicago West Division Railway Company and of the North Chicago City Railway Company shall not pass or vest nor shall possession be so delivered unless the registered holders of the certificates issued by the Trustee hereunder representing such stocks shall have actually received or shall have been given an opportunity of receiving the securities or other benefits awarded to such holders by the plan of reorganization or any modification thereof, which may be finally approved as in Article fourth of this agreement provided; provided, further, that such title to the stocks deposited hereunder of Companies other than said Chicago West Division Railway Company and said North Chicago City Railway Company shall not so pass or vest, nor shall possession be so delivered of any of said certificates except in one or the other of the following events:

(1) In case a plan of reorganization and readjustment shall have been approved, as provided in said ordinance, and stocks or securities or other benefits shall have been delivered to the Trustee, pursuant to said plan, for distribution to the holders of certificates of deposit for such stock.

(2) In case the City of Chicago shall deliver to said Trustee an agreement in writing to the effect that the holders of certificates of deposit for such stock, issued under this agreement, shall share equally in all respects with the holders of outstanding non-deposited stock of said Companies, respectively, in any sum or value which the City, or any licensee of the City, may at any time allow or pay for the assets of said respective Companies.

Eighth: The benefits of this agreement shall be confined strictly to the parties hereto and to the City of Chicago and the same shall not be construed to create any trust or obligation to or in favor of any person or persons or corporation other than the City of Chicago, the Railways Company, the Trustee and the holders from time to time of certificates of deposit issued hereunder.

Ninth: The Railways Company agrees to accept said ordinance in case the amounts of stocks specified in said ordinance or such amounts as the City Council of the City of Chicago may specify shall be deposited hereunder; and it agrees that it will abide by any plan of reorganization approved as in this agreement provided, and will deliver its securities and take all steps and execute instruments and perform all acts which may be provided for by said plan or which to the Trustee may seem necessary or proper for the purpose of carrying out said plan.

The following veto messages:

MAYOR'S OFFICE,
CHICAGO, February 11, 1907.

To the Honorable, the City Council:

GENTLEMEN—I return herewith, without my approval, an ordinance passed at the last regular meeting of your Honorable Body, and published at pages 2944 to 2990, inclusive, of the current printed Council Proceedings, entitled "An Ordinance Authorizing the Chicago City Railway Company to Construct, Maintain and Operate a System of Street Railways in Streets and Public Ways of the City of Chicago."

Respectfully,

E. F. DUNNE,
Mayor.

I also return herewith, without my approval, an ordinance passed at the last regular meeting of your Honorable Body, and published at pages 2990 to 3054, inclusive, of the current printed Council Proceedings, entitled "An Ordinance Authorizing the Chicago Railways Company to Construct, Maintain and Operate a System of Street Railways in Streets and Public Ways of the City of Chicago."

Respectfully,

E. F. DUNNE,
Mayor.

My reasons for withholding my approval of the above mentioned ordinances are as hereafter stated.

In my letter addressed to Ald. Werno, Chairman of the Committee on Local Transportation, dated April 27, 1906, I stated that in dealing with the traction question "the controlling consideration must be that nothing shall be done which will impair the right of the City to acquire the street railway systems as soon as it has established its financial ability to do so." This being the controlling consideration in framing these ordinances, the right of the city to acquire the street railway properties should be fully protected in the same. This, in my judgment, has not been done.

While purporting upon their face to give the city the right to acquire the traction systems of the companies at any time upon six months' notice, the ordinances fail to provide practical methods for the acquisition of the systems. The properties can only be purchased by the payment of money. The city can only secure money by the issuance of Mueller certificates. At the present time the authority of the city to issue certificates is limited to $75,000,000. After the payment of the usual brokerage fees these certificates will not net to exceed $72,000,000 in cash. The price of the present properties—tangible and intangible—as fixed in the ordinances aggregates $50,000,000. The cost of rehabilitation, it is admitted, will be from $40,000,000 to $50,000,000 and may run up to an unlimited amount, making the total cost to the city at least $90,000,000 to $100,000,000.

One of the ordinances, to-wit: that running to the Chicago City Railway Company, requires the payment of all cash. The other requires the payment of all cash except the cost of rehabilitation which, under the terms of that ordinance, may become a lien subject to which the city may acquire.

It has been roughly estimated and stated before the Committee on Local Transportation that the cost of rehabiltation of both companies will be divided in the ratio of two-fifths in the case of the Chicago City Railway Company and three-fifths in the case of the Chicago Railways Company. If both the companies accept the ordinances and complete rehabilitation, it might be possible for the city to acquire both plants at any time under the terms of the ordinances with $75,000,000 worth of Mueller certificates. But it was admitted during the negotiations that a consolidation of both companies is highly probable in the immediate future. Indeed, Mr. Wilson, representing the Chicago City Railway Company, in an address before the Committee on Local Transportation, flatly stated as an objection to his company agreeing to sell its plant to the city subject to the lien of the cost of rehabilitation, that he expected that that company would be called upon to expend $75,000,000 in the acquisition of the north and west side plants and in the rehabilitation of the three systems, and that he would not, therefore, consent to have incorporated in the ordinance to the Chicago City Railway Company a provision permitting the city to take over the plant subject to the lien of the cost of rehabilitation.

If the ordinance becomes effective and consolidation takes place, as is highly probable, in view of Mr. Wilson's statement and in view of the fact that the same financial interests dominate and control both companies, that consolidation will operate under the more favorable to the companies of the two ordinances and the more favorable of the two ordinances is that which runs to the Chicago City Railway Company. This ordinance must and, if it becomes effective, will be accepted within ninety days. The other ordinance need not be accepted until one hundred and sixty-five days after its passage and, in my judgment, it is highly probable that it will never be accepted. I confidently predict from what has come to my knowledge during these negotiations that a consolidation will take place within the early future and that when that consolidation does take place it will be under the ordinance of the Chicago City Railway Company which provides that the city may not acquire the plant unless upon the payment of cash to the amount of the total cost of all the properties and the rehabilitation of the same. The city being in the position of having only $72,000,00 worth of cash on hand, as at present authorized by the Mueller certificate ordinance, it will never be in a position to acquire these plants until the City Council shall see fit to pass supplemental ordinances authorizing Mueller certificates to the aggregate of at least $100,000,000.

It may be said that the City Council can pass such ordinances in the future, but from all our experience within the last two years we must know what almost insuperable obstacles will be offered to the passage of such supplemental ordinances. Although the citizens of Chicago declared for immediate municipal ownership of the traction systems of this city in the election of April, 1905, by a vote of 141,518 to 55,660, and although I was elected Mayor by a majority of nearly 25,000 on that sole issue, we all know how difficult it was, notwithstanding that tremendous popular vote, to obtain any ordinance authorizing the issuance of Mueller certificates and that when the ordinance was finally passed, it was the result of a sudden and most remarkable change in aldermanic sentiment as expressed in previous votes.

Unless a provision is now incorporated in these ordinances, limiting the cost of rehabilitation at any time to the amount of Mueller certificates authorized to be issued, in my judgment, it will be most difficult, if not impossible, judging of the future by the past, to obtain the passage of such ordinances, no matter what may be the popular sentiment upon the question.

Already the influences inimicable to municipal ownership are making themselves manifest in the State Legislature where a bill is now pending to limit the issuance of bonds for the acquisition of public utilities. If a provision were inserted in these ordinances, as in my judgment it should be, limiting the amount to be expended by the companies on rehabilitation to an amount within the limit of the Mueller certificates now authorized or which shall hereafter be issued, it would be to the interest of both the traction companies and the people to have such ordinances passed, and as both the traction companies and the people would be interested in the passage of such ordinances, we could confidently count upon the enactment of ordinances authorizing such certificates. Nor would this delay the progress of rehabilitation. Such an ordinance could be passed with the co-operation of the traction companies and submitted to the people within one year and during that year the companies could hardly expend $22,000,000 in rehabilitation.

If these ordinances become effective in their present form without any such provision, it will be plainly and clearly to the interest of the traction companies in order to prolong the life of their tenure in the public streets to oppose at all times the passage of such ordinances. That they would exert their influences in that direction will not be denied. I, therefore, unhesitatingly state that in the present condition of these ordinances and with the strong probability that consolidation of these companies will take place under the ordinance of the Chicago City Railway Company, that it will be impossible for the city to purchase from $90,000,000 to $100,000,000 worth of property with cash while our resources under the present ordinance are limited to but $72,000,000 in cash.

Nor can we hope with any confidence, under the terms of these ordinances, that a fund will certainly be acquired out of the fifty-five per cent net receipts which becomes the property of the city. The traction companies have been very loud in their protestations that the city's portion of the net receipts will aggregate $1,350,000 during the first year of the ordinances and that these profits will increase year by year. But when they were asked in committee to guarantee that such returns would come to the city by amending their ordinances so as to guarantee at least eight per cent of the gross receipts, they utterly refused to do so. We must, therefore, view with serious misgivings their assertions that the net receipts coming to the city will be any substantial part of the gross receipts.

Before the Committee on Local Transportation an effort was made by the city's representatives to obtain a guarantee of at least eight per cent of the gross receipts but the companies refused this most reasonable proposition. Notwithstanding that refusal, you have passed these ordinaces without any provision of any character for gross receipts.

Not only do the ordinances fail to guarantee to the city an income of any character, but, if the ordinances become effective, approximately $125,000 per year, which is now paid to the city under existing ordinances, will be wiped out.

While under the terms of these ordinances the city would be compelled to pay from $90,000,000 to $100,000,000 in cash with less than $72,000,000 available, and while there is no provision for a guarantee of a sinking fund, the city is further embarrassed by a provision in the same which permits these companies to charge ten per cent contractor's profit upon the cost of rehabilitation and at the same time the ordinances permit them to make sub-contracts. Sub-contractors will not work without a contractor's profit and presumably the sub-contractor will obtain his ten per cent profit, and yet after the payment of the sub-contractor with his profit the company is empowered under the ordinances to charge ten per cent additional both on the cost of sub-contracts and the profit obtained therefrom. There is nothing in the ordinances to prevent the gentlemen in control of these properties from organizing construction companies and having these construction companies obtain a contract, with the approval of the Board of Supervising Engineers, for the building of power houses, railway barns and other costly structures in which event the construction company will be paid its usual profit and the company in addition to this profit will be permitted to charge the people in case of purchase an additional ten per cent for the letting of these contracts.

Under the terms of the ordinances no licensee company to which the city may give a license may acquire the plants of the present companies unless upon the payment of a twenty per cent bonus over and above the price the city would have to pay if it acquired the properties for municipal ownership and operation. The reason advanced by the traction companies for insisting upon this premium was that they should be protected against the sandbagging operations of rival capitalists. That some protection, if not to this amount, should be given against the machinations of other capitalists might well be conceded but an effort was made before the Committee on Local Transportation to have the present companies consent to the incorporation in the ordinances of a provision that if a licensee company should offer to the city to accept an ordinance of similar character and give the citizens of Chicago a four cent fare, that, in such case, the companies should take the money invested in the plant and turn over the properties to the company that would give the citizens of Chicago a four cent fare. This provision the companies absolutely refused to accept. In my judgment a rival company that offered such terms to the citizens of Chicago could in no aspect of the case be considered in the light of a sandbagging corporation, and I believe that in the interest of the people of this community such a provision should be incorporated in these ordinances, particularly in view of the fact that three cent fares now prevail in Cleveland and Detroit, and will soon obtain in many other American cities, and that a four cent fare with universal transfers now obtains in Indianapolis.

Even at the expiration of twenty years, under the ordinances as at present framed, the city or any licensee company could not take possession of the property until it has paid the present companies the value of their present properties and the total cost of the rehabilitation; although at that time and for many years prior thereto the $9,000,000 worth of unexpired franchises now existing and the $4,358,743 worth of cable property, which is now part of the contract purchase price of $50,000,000, will have wholly disappeared.

There are other objections to the ordinances of quite serious character. In the precipitous haste with which the ordinances were pressed through to passage in an all-night session immediately after the adjournment of the Committee on Local Transportation at seven o'clock p. m., some twenty-eight amendments, which had not before the meeting of the Council been printed were incorporated in the ordinances, and some thirty-eight amendments were voted down. Many of the amendments offered, accepted and rejected were long and complicated, one of those accepted containing over three thousand words, and could not in the nature of things have been understood, even if heard, by the members of the City Council during the exciting session.

It is not to be wondered at, therefore, that such laudable amendments as those which provided for the arbitration of disputes between the companies and their employes, a provision limiting the cost of rehabilitation to the amount of Mueller certificates authorized, amending the clause permitting sub-contractor's profits, requiring a guarantee of eight per cent of the gross receipts and protecting the public in the right to secure a four cent fare or a three cent fare, should have been voted down; and that no provision now appears in the ordinances regulating the maximum hours or the minimum wage to be paid to employes; nor that the agreement between John A Spoor, Thomas E. Mitten, the City of Chicago and the First Trust and Savings Bank, which purports to remove the obstruction created by the existence of the present General Electric ordinance, is not signed by any of the parties.

The ordinances have not only failed to thoroughly secure the demands of the people for early municipalization of the traction systems but the method of their passage lacked the deliberation and careful consideration which measures of such importance to the public require.

Under the provision relating to power houses and buildings, the companies are permitted to secure power from any source other than the companies' own power plants, with the approval of the Board of Supervising Engineers. This provision would permit the companies, subject only to the approval of the Board of Supervising Engineers, to make contracts for any length of time and for any price with the Edison or Commonwealth companies, and if the city took over the systems, it might be compelled to assume the burden of such a contract, no matter how remunerative it might be to the power company or however onerous it might be upon the city, or however desirable it may be for the city to furnish its own power.

Because of the foregoing serious objections, some of which, in my judgment, will make it impossible for the city, as at present circumstanced, to acquire the funds necessary to purchase these properties I am deliberately of the opinion, after receiving light from all available sources, that these ordinances, while ostensibly permitting the city to acquire the plants at any time upon six months' notice, really and in fact place the city in such a position as to make it impossible to carry out the purchase under the terms of the ordinances.

As, in my judgment, it will be impossible for the city under the terms of these ordinances, from its present existing resources procured by the sale of Mueller certificates to acquire the properties at any time for municipal ownership, these ordinances are not municipal ownership measures, but ordinances masking under the guise of municipal ownership while really and in fact giving the present companies a franchise for twenty years if not longer. This is in violation of my letter to Alderman Werno, referred to above, to which it is claimed these ordinances conform, and which letter distinctly stated that these companies should be given the right to operate "under revocable licenses," and further stated that "It is absolutely essential that nothing shall be done to enlarge these present rights of the existing companies or to deprive the city of its option of purchase at any time."

The people have demanded that any ordinances which may be passed dealing with this traction question must preserve the right of the people to municipalize at the earliest possible moment and they have a right to have their repeated demands carried out in spirit and in letter and no ordinances which in fact prevent the city from acquiring these properties for many years to come should be passed contrary to their instructions.

Respectfully,

E. F. Dunne,

Mayor.

Ald. Werno moved to reconsider the votes by which the ordinances referred to in the veto message of His Honor, the Mayor, were passed.

The motion prevailed.

Ald. Werno moved to pass the ordinance running to the Chicago City Rail-Company, the veto of His Honor, the Mayor, to the contrary, notwithstanding.

In connection with the foregoing motion, Ald. Werno presented a certain report of Messrs. Bion J. Arnold, M. E. Cooley and A. B. du Pont to the Committee on Local Transportation, under date of December 22, 1906, which was ordered read by the Clerk.

Ald. Werno moved that the report be printed in the printed record of the Council Proceedings.

The motion prevailed

The following is the report:

CHICAGO, December 22, 1906.

Hon Charles Werno, Chairman, and Members of the Local Transportation Committee, Chicago City Council:

GENTLEMEN:

On December 11th you referred to your Commission on Traction Valuations the petition of the local divisions of the Amalgamated Association of Street Railway Employees of America for an increase of wages and a betterment of their conditions, requesting that we investigate the matter and report back to your committee such information as would admit of intelligent consideration of the several requests by your committee.

Your Commission met the Committee of the aforesaid local division of Street Railway Employees at the office of Mr. Arnold in the evening of December 11th, and canvassed the entire situation with these gentlemen, as set forth in their petition, a copy of which is appended to this report.

The several requests presented by the Committee representing the Street Railway Employees are briefly, as follows:

First: That a minimum of eight hours, and a maximum of ten hours, inside of twelve consecutive hours, constitute a day's work.

Second: That the minimum rate of wages for all motormen and conductors be 33 1-3 cents per hour.

Third: That all trailers be abolished.

Fourth: That all cars be vestibuled, including open summer cars.

Fifth: That all employees except those in official positions, other than motormen and conductors, viz: car cleaners, car pushers, car couplers, motor repairers, motor inspectors, car repairers, switch tenders, lamp men, grade men and signal men not affiliated with, or eligible to, other trade organizations, shall receive the same proportionate increase as trainmen, based on the highest rate of wages paid for the different classes of work by any street railway in the City of Chicago; and that all employees included in this section shall work not more than nine hours a day inside of ten consecutive hours, except in case of emergency, when time and one-half shall be paid for all overtime.

Sixth: That the ratchet and hand brake be replaced by an efficient type of power brake.

In considering the first request, it does not appear to your Commission to be practicable to adopt a minimum eight-hour and a maximum ten-hour day inside of twelve consecutive hours for reasons which on discussion the Committee representing the Street Railway Employees did not effectually disprove, and seemed to very frankly concur in.

The third, fourth and sixth requests appear to your Commission to be reasonable and we recommend they be granted as soon as practicable.

In reference to the second and fifth requests, those relating to increased wages, you asked us to furnish your Committee information in answer to three questions as follows:

1. What would the increased wages represent in money?

2. What would be the effect financially on the companies?

3. What changes would be required in the ordinance?

On obtaining exact information from the Committee representing the Street Railway Employees as to what different classes of employees the proposed increase was to apply to, the increased costs were computed on the basis proposed by the Committee.

The effect on the Chicago Street Railway Company, based on last year's business, is an increase of $704,068 for motormen and conductors, and an increase of $90,288 for other employees, or a total increase of $794,356 for its system. This is an increase of 38.3 per cent over the present wages paid to trainmen and 38 per cent for other employees.

The effect on the Chicago Union Traction Company, based on last year's business, is an increase of $893,225.55 for motormen and conductors, and $129,-452.05 for other employees, or a total increase of $1,022,677.60 for its system. This is an increase of 35.5 per cent over the present wages to trainmen.

In answer to the second question, the effect on operation would be as follows:

For the last fiscal year the gross earnings of the two companies, were $16,-791,887. The operating expenses, based on 70 per cent of the gross earnings, were $11,754,321.

The increase of wages requested would bring the operating expenses to a total of $13,571,354, which is an increase from 70 per cent to 80.82 per cent.

The combined net earnings of the two companies on the same 70 per cent basis were $5,037,566. Of this amount $2,500,-000 would be required to support a capital of $50,000,000 at 5 per cent, leaving a balance for division between the city and the companies of $2,537,566, of which 55 per cent, or $1,395,661, would have gone to the city, and 45 per cent, or $1,141,905, to the companies.

If the wages be increased $1,817,032, as called for by the request of the Committee representing the Street Railway employees, the final net earnings for division between the city and the companies for the last fiscal year would have been $720,522, of which $396,293 would have gone to the city, and $324,240 to the companies.

The effect in detail on each company is given in the accompanying table, in which columns 1 and 3 contain the data and results as given in the anual reports of the two companies for the last fiscal year, and columns 2 and 4 the data and results based on an operating expense of 70 per cent of the gross earnings. The lower line gives the amounts available for division between the city and the companies. It will be observed that for the Chicago City Railway the final net earnings as operated last year lacked $100,259 of being sufficient to take care of the proposed increase of wages.

In answer to the third question relating to changes in the ordinance. The first and most obvious change would be to provide for an increased fare, or a limitation of the transfers granted, if it be desired to have any final net earnings of consequence for division between the city and the companies.

Your Commission finds on investigation that the maximum rate of 25 cents per hour now paid to motormen and conductors in Chicago is exceeded only in Denver, San Francisco and Seattle.

In Chicago the rates are 19c for the first 6 months, 24c for the second 6 months, and 25c beginning with the second year and thereafter.

In Denver the rates are 22c for the first year, 24½c for the second year, and increased thereafter at the rate of ½c per year to 27c, beginning with the sixth year, and thereafter.

In San Francisco the rates are 25c for the first year, and increased to 27½c the fifth year, and thereafter.

In Seattle the rates are 22c for the first six months, 23c for the second six months, 24c the second year, and increased to 30c the eighteenth year, and thereafter.

In New York the motormen receive a maximum of 26c and the conductors 24½c after the fifth year.

In Boston, Buffalo, Pittsburg and Detroit, the maximum rate is 25c after periods varying from four to fourteen years.

In other large cities the maximum rate varies from 19c in Indianapolis and Montreal to 23c in St. Louis, Brooklyn and Milwaukee, and 24c in Cleveland. The foregoing rates include twenty-six of the largest cities in the United States and Canada.

The rate of 27½c in San Francisco is made possible on account of the short haul and the consequent large earnings per car. In Chicago the haul is long and the earnings per car correspondingly low. This is made clear from the reports showing the percentage of passenger receipts paid to trainmen in twenty-two of the largest cities. Minneapolis is the lowest with 14.48 per cent, and Chicago the highest with 24.15 per cent. San Francisco is eleventh with 19.72 per cent, and Seattle is next under Chicago with 24.07 per cent. In thirteen of these cities including New York, Buffalo, Cleveland and Pittsburg, the trainmen receive less than 20 per of the passenger earnings.

It appears from such information as your Commission has been able to obtain that Chicago pays the largest percentage of passenger earnings to trainmen of any city in the United States, not excepting the three cities before mentioned, in which the rate per hour is greater than in Chicago.

In explanation of this somewhat startling state of affairs your Commission is of the opinion that at least one of the contributing causes must be a less effective schedule than that used in other cities. Obviously a high rate of pay ought to go with a high percentage of gross receipts paid to trainmen. If it does not, then the conditions in Chicago must be different than those in other cities where the percentage is less and the rate higher.

An examination of the schedule in Chicago shows that the trainmen have a large amount of lay-over time, and time out for luncheon, which is all included in the day's work, and paid for the same as time running. This lay-over time we are informed amounts to 7½ per cent of the total time paid. Again, the average speed in Chicago is low on account of team traffic. As the speed is increased the number of cars may be decreased, and also the expense of operation.

To these two causes alone must be attributed in considerable degree the exceptionally large proportion of gross earnings now being paid to trainmen in Chicago. The trainmen themselves, by a more diligent dispatch of cars with less lay-over time, and by exerting themselves to avoid delays, can help largely to the increase of wages asked for. The City by a better control of team traffic can make possible a higher rate of speed and thus save in number of cars, and in cost of operation, and at the same time give a more satisfactory service. In short your Commission is of the opinion that a more hearty co-operation with the Companies on the part of the trainmen, by eliminating dead time, and by working such hours as will best serve the interests of the Companies, and of the City, by relieving the congestion due to team traffic, will not only add greatly to the comfort and satisfaction of the public, but will also make possible a reduction of operating expenses and pave the way for an increase of wages to the street railway employees.

This co-operation, if made a cardinal principle now at the beginning of the period of rehabilitation, cannot fail to result in large measure to the advantage of the City, the Companies, their employees and to the public.

ADDENDA.

The following requests were submitted by a committee representing the local Divisions of the Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railway Employes of America to the Local Transportation Committee of the City Council of the City of Chicago, through their Chairman, Charles E. Werno, a copy of which is presented to you for your consideration:

GENTLEMEN—Believing the negotiations now pending between your body and the officials of the street railways, who are seeking concessions from the city, will result in some solution of the problem before you:

We, the committee selected to represent ten thousand electric railway employes, in the preparation and presentation of conditions which would make our occupation more desirable and remunerative, and to better conserve the interests and safety of the public, beseech your honorable body to consider the following requests in regard to wages and conditions:

And we further earnestly request that you give to our committee appointed to represent this large body of employes, a hearing before your body to present to you, in detail, information supporting our requests.

First—The minimum work day shall be eight hours, and maximum work day ten hours, inside of twelve consecutive hours.

In making this request we hold that the public is vitally interested in that when a man has worked eight hours, his vitality wanes to such a degree that he is not an efficient operative and therefore endangers the safety of the traveling public, and public policy recognizes that the best results are obtained through not requiring that men filling responsible positions work more than eight hours.

Second—We request thirty-three and one-third (33 1-3) cents per hour be established as the minimum rate paid to all motormen and conductors.

You can readily perceive that men receiving the above hourly rate for an eight-hour day, would receive only two dollars and sixty-six and two-thirds cents; and if they worked nine hours would receive three dollars, which is anything but an excessive amount of money upon which to support a family and educate children.

Third—We request that trailers be absolutely abolished.

In making this request we consider the running of trains in the public streets as exceedingly dangerous.

Fourth—We request that all cars be vestibuled throughout the year. Glass pane in front (single).

This is not alone a protection for the motorman from dust and storms, but also tends to a safer operation of the cars.

Fifth—All men, except those employed in official positions, employed by any street railway, other than motormen and conductors, viz.: Car cleaners, car pushers, car couplers, motor repairers, motor inspectors, car repairers, switch tenders, lamp men, grade men and signal men not affiliated with or eligible to other trade organizations, shall receive the same proportionate increase as trainmen, based upon the highest rate of wages paid for the different classes of work by any street railway in the City of Chicago. All employes included in this section shall work not more than a nine-hour day, inside of ten consecutive hours, except in a case of emergency, when time and one-half shall be paid for all overtime.

Our reason for putting this request in the form that we have is that hitherto various rates have been paid these classes of employes by the different street railway companies, wherein they claim that all should be paid the same for like service.

Sixth—We request that the rachet and hand brake be eliminated and an efficient type of power brake be substituted.

The granting of the foregoing requests would attract more capable and efficient men to the street railway occupation, thereby insuring better service to the public.

J. H. LARKIN,
President.

In connection with the subject under consideration, Ald. Werno presented the following communications, which were ordered published:

CHICAGO COMMERCIAL ASSOCIATION,
February 8, 1907.

Mr. Charles Werno, Chicago, Ill.:

DEAR SIR—By direction of the Executive Committee, of this Association, I beg to transmit to you herewith copy of resolution adopted by that Committee at its meeting today.

I am also directed to convey to you the Committee's endorsement of your attitude on the important question, as evidenced by your vote, Monday, February 4, 1907.

Yours very truly,

H. C. BARLOW,
Executive Director.

Resolution adopted by the Executive Committee of the Chicago Commercial Association at meeting held February, 8th, 1907:

WHEREAS, On the 24th day of December, 1906, the Chicago Commercial Association passed certain resolutions reciting the necessity for immediate improvement of the local transportation systems, and the advantages to the city which would arise therefrom and by said resolutions called upon its members, as well as all citizens of Chicago, having at heart its best interests, to urge upon the city authorities the necessity of bringing this vexatious matter to a final and satisfactory conclusion, without further delay; and

WHEREAS, The Local Transportation Committee of the City Council recommended for passage certain ordinances, which subsequently were passed by the City Council of the City of Chicago by a vote of a large majority of the members thereof, which ordinances make all adequate provision for securing the end which this Association desires for the benefit of the city,

Be It Resolved, That the Chicago Commercial Association hereby extends its thanks to said Committee and said Council for its prompt, efficient and satisfactory action relative to said ordinances, and urges upon its members, and its fellow citizens, to leave no stone unturned to secure the approval of said ordinances at the polls at the coming April election; and that a Committee of five, with power to act, be appointed by the President of said Association, to take all necessary steps for the attainment of this object, to the end that immediate improvement may be had in street railway service, and that said improvement may be continued until Chicago attains the best and most perfect modern transportation system.

THE CHICAGO REAL ESTATE BOARD,

Hon. Charles Werno, Chairman Committee on Local Transportation, City Hall, Chicago:

DEAR SIR—The Chicago Real Estate Board, in regular session, February 6, 1907, by resolution, appointed a Committee charged, among other matters, to convey to the fifty-six (56) members of the City Council who, on last Tuesday morning voted for the Traction Ordinances, their high appreciation of the service to Chicago—so rendered. This we now desire to do through you.

We believe the action taken in supporting these ordinances was wise and for the best interests of the people of Chicago, and will receive their hearty approval.

We also believe you cannot better carry out the wishes of the people of Chicago, whom you represent, than by standing firmly, solidly and persistently for these ordinances until they shall become law.

An analysis of the vote on these ordinances shows that both aldermen of twenty-five out of the total thirty-five Wards of the city, and one of the aldermen from six of the remaining ten Wards, supported them—also that the supporting vote came equally from the Democrats and Republicans. This indicates that the action was based upon a broad conception of your responsibility to the people, as a whole, irrespective of the party.

We believe the great mass of the people will support your action loyally with their influence and at the polls because it secures to the people the best street car service obtainable, on the best possible terms and at the earliest possible date.

The end is in sight, for which you deserve great credit. Stand by your guns. The people will finish the battle.

GOODMAN, being duly sworn, on oath deposes and says that he is the Secretary of the General Electric Railway Company, and has been continuously the Secretary of said Company from the 8th day of June, A. D. 1898, to date. Affiant further deposes and says that the capital stock of the General Electric Railway Company consists of fifty thousand (50,000) shares of stock, of the par value of One Hundred ($100.00) Dollars each, making a total of Five Million ($5,000,000.00) Dollars of capital stock, which is all the capital stock of said Company, and that all of said stock has been issued, and is outstanding.

Affiant further deposes and says that the bonded indebtedness of said Company consists of five hundred (500) first mortgage bonds of the face value of One Thousand ($1,000.00) Dollars each, making a total bond issue outstanding of Five Hundred Thousand ($500,000.00) Dollars, and that said bonds are all the bonds of the General Electric Railway Company that have been issued, and comprise all the bond issue of said Company now outstanding.

JOSEPH D. GOODMAN,

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 8th day of February, A. D., 1907.

MASON B. STARRING,
Notary Public.

(Seal.)

Ald. Foreman asked leave to address the Council on the pending motion.

Which leave was granted.

Subsequently Ald. Bennett moved that the address of Ald. Foreman, with his consent, be printed in the record.

The motion prevailed.

The following is the text of the address:

"The so-called 'Werno Letter' of April 27, 1906, from his Honor, Mayor Dunne, to Alderman Charles Werno, Chairman of the Committee on Local Transportation, was accepted by the Committee on Local Transportation shortly after that date by a formal vote as a basis upon which it was willing to negotiate with the traction companies, at that time occupying the streets, for the settlement of the traction question.

In that letter the Mayor said amongst other things:

'The important question in this connection is whether the existing street railway service can be thoroughly and promptly improved without impairing the present rights of the City as defined by the Supreme Court. I think this can be done. The controlling consideration must be that nothing shall be done which will impair the right of the City to acquire the street railway system as soon as it has established its financial ability to do so.

The first practical step to be taken, then, appears to me to be to request the existing companies at once to indicate to your Committee whether or not they are able and willing to enter into an agreement to sell to the City all their tangible property and unexpired rights at a price to be now fixed, and to undertake the improvement of their service immediately . . . . the City to have the right to take over this property at any time upon reasonable notice. If they will join, if possible, as one company, in the reconstruction of their entire system upon plans to be adopted by the City, with their concurrence, which shall provide for unified service, through routes, universal transfers and operation under revocable license, then they should be adequately assured of the payment of the value of their present property (to be now fixed before rehabilitation) and additional investment when the City does take over the lines, and they should receive a fair return upon this present and future investment and some share of the remaining net profits while they continue to operate. Subject to these provisions, the profits of operation should go to the City as a sinking fund for the purpose of the property. The details of any such arrangement can all be worked out in conference, if the companies promptly indicate their acceptance of the fundamental principles involved. . . . The time has come for action; and if the present companies are either unable or unwilling to act within the lines indicated in the immediate future, the City should and must definitely turn to other sources for relief from these conditions which are no longer to be endured.

In this later event, I suggest that arrangements be made at once with a construction company, along the general lines of 'contract plan,' or otherwise, providing that such company shall at once proceed to take possession of the streets and parts of streets now occupied by the present companies, to which the City will then be entitled, and construct and equip in them the best possible street railway system upon agreed terms which shall include a fair construction profit."

Then follows a discussion of the features of the proposed "contract plan."

His Honor then proceeds to say:

'Municipal ownership cannot be acquired until we do this. There may be delay, but the final result will inevitably be the adoption of municipalization. . .

As between these various methods of obtaining improved service, there are certain obvious advantages, both to the City and to the companies, in favor of proceeding by amicable agreement with the present companies, always preserving the right of municipalization. The City could probably secure in this way a more immediately complete reconstruction of the system and a greater immediate improvement of service. The price which the City would have to pay for the present property and future improvements would be definitely fixed at the present time, so that it would be known exactly how much money it is necessary to raise for municipal purchase. The work of reconstruction would proceed under plans and specifications prepared by the City and under efficient public audit and account. The City would avoid a further period of controversy and strife with the companies. It might obtain a larger percentage of the profits of operation than could be obtained by a system of car licenses or reduction of fares under the police power.'

Pursuant to this letter and the subsequent action of the Committee the companies were communicated with and promptly signified their willingness and did proceed soon afterward to take up negotiations with the Committee.

About that time his Honor retained Mr. Walter L. Fisher as his personal traction counsel, and, at his request, Mr. Fisher was also employed by the Committee on Local Transportation as its counsel. He continuously represented and advised both the Mayor and the Committee in the negotiations from the date of his employment until the ordinances were reported to the City Council.

The negotiations proceeded without interruption from that time until the 15th day of January, 1907, and resulted in the preparation of the ordinances, which ordiances were on that date reported to the City Council by the Committee.

It was not until the work of the Committee was about completed that his Honor, the Mayor, found that he must withhold his approval of the ordinances because of the inclusion and omission of certain provisions which at that time his Honor set out in some detail.

I submit that a candid, unprejudiced analysis of the ordinances will disclose the fact that they conform in every essential respect to the requirements set down by his Honor in his letter. In fact, they contain concessions which are beyond any that seemed to be either suggested or required in that document.

It is to be regretted that the Mayor has permitted short-sighted advisors to cause him to reverse his position and to abandon the admirable program which he laid down in his letter and which has resulted in what is without doubt the best piece of public utility legislation which has ever been passed by any legislative body in this country.

I desire to analyze some objections published and to briefly discuss them.

One of the objections is that the ordinances contain no provision for labor arbitration and for a wage scale.

The Street Railway Commission in its report suggested that future street railway ordinances should contain provisions for arbitration, but investigation at that time disclosed a wide divergence of opinion amongst thinking labor leaders on the subject. This was further demonstrated when the subject was discussed during the pendency of the present ordinances before the Committee.

A scrutiny of the propositions for compulsory arbitration and a fixed wage scale leads to the conclusion that the result thereof can be nothing less than disastrous to the Unions and without benefit to the cause. I am confirmed in this opinion by expressions of an officer of the Federation of Labor, who should have the right to speak with authority upon this subject.

I quote from an article by James Duncan, First Vice-President American Federation of Labor, which recently appeared in a public print on February 9, 1907:

'Compulsory arbitration would not be arbitration at all. There is no arbitration under compulsion.

It may be said that society arbitrates the disputes of its members in matters affecting every human interest, and compels acquiescence in its decisions. That is true only in a limited sense.

Society compels obedience to law, but society does not pretend to establish legislation on many matters which are recognized as the sole business of the individual, and society does recognize "certain inalienable rights."

One of these rights is formally announced in the declaration of independence as "liberty." Now compulsory arbitration would destroy the right of the individual to the liberty of disposing of his labor by voluntary agreement in the market that he chooses to enter. That, of course, would be slavery.

There is yet another—"inalienable right" which is mentioned in the declaration of independence; it is the right to "the pursuit of happiness." Compulsory arbitration would destroy this right by compelling the individual to dispose of his labor at a price and under conditions which he might regard as entirely improper. Under these circumstances he would not very effectively engage in the pursuit of happiness.

Government by injunction and compulsory arbitration would succeed in crushing our liberties. The wage earner would be doomed to that serfdom from which he has toiled up so painfully and slowly through the long and bitter centuries.

When we talk about compulsory arbitration we need only ask: "What progress would labor ever have achieved toward the realization of its admitted rights if there had been compulsory arbitration during the years that organized labor has been developing'"?

Nor is this all. If an arbitration clause were contained in these ordinances it would put a non-union man upon as good a basis as a union man. It would take from the Union opportunity to secure concessions through its organization. It would place the question of determining what hours, wages, and conditions of labor are best for the men, not in the councils of the men who do the work, but in a Board of Arbitration, with the result that the operative would no longer find the Union necessary for the protection of his interests. The question of wages is one of contract to be controlled by the men themselves.

If a fixed minimum wage were placed in these ordinances, it would soon become the maximum wage, and the defense to a request for an increase would probably be that the wage as fixed in the ordinances was intended to be and is the proper wage. And if this were to be denied, the question would have to be referred to this Board of Arbitration, and once more the decision would be taken out of the hands of the men and their own organization.

But it may be urged that the amendment introduced on this floor last Monday night made no provision for binding the men, but merely binds the companies.

The utter absurdity of this proposition from any point of view of effectiveness must be apparent. Of what possible value can arbitration be that is binding on only one of the parties?

This amendment proposed that each of the parties, the company and the employes, should each select one arbitrator. If the men were not to be bound by the arbitration, how could they be anything but prejudiced by a finding by a board of arbitration upon which they were represented by an arbitrator, and whose finding they had refused to adhere to?

Again, in order to secure adherence of the men to the proposition as outlined in the amendment it would be necessary to secure the individual signature to these ordinances of every man sought to be bound.

His Honor has objected that the price agreed to be paid for the properties and the amount shown by the engineers' estimate to be necessary for rehabilitation will exceed the amount of the authorized issue of Mueller certificates, and that therefore if the amount required to properly rehabilitate the properties is expended, it will require another issue of certificates in order to consummate the purchase of the roads.

This was known to his Honor all the time during the pendency of the negotiations.

The price to be paid for the properties is not the price asked by the companies, but is the price fixed by the City's own experts, one of whom is the Mayor's personal appointee, Mr. A. B. DuPont, of Detroit. The other two, as is well known, were Mr. Bion J. Arnold, who has represented the City for many years in street railway matters and whose knowledge, experience and honesty cannot be assailed, and Mr. M. E. Cooley, whose work for the State of Michigan in estimating the values of railway property, has given him a world-wide reputation on that subject.

The companies after long negotiations and over strenuous objections accepted the City's figures, and it will be recalled that Mayor Dunne at that time expressed great satisfaction at the price which the City had been able to force the companies to accept for their properties. The amount properly required for rehabilitation was well known at that time. As a matter of fact it has been known for five years. The original Arnold report set out in detail what the requirements and probable cost would be, and those requirements have not since that time decreased, but rather increased.

The proposition now is, as I understand it, that the amount that shall be expended for rehabilitation shall be the difference between the amount agreed to be paid the companies for their properties and the total amount derived from the sale of Mueller certificates.

We will assume that the Mueller certificates are held valid by the Supreme Court and that they are marketed at par. After reserving fifty millions for the purchase of the roads, we will have twenty-five millions, a part of which it is proposed we shall expend for rehabilitation. The inadequency of this sum and the proposal to postpone the complete rehabilitation until the further issue of certificates can be obtained is one that cannot fail to find and should have the street car riding public as objectors.

The one urgent and sovereign need of the City of Chicago is good street railway service; not passable street railway service, but street railway service that is perfect and up to date in all particulars.

The installation of the service which is promised by these ordinances will not endanger municipalization. That is a matter which rests entirely with the people, and if they desire to embark in ownership and operation of street railways, they will have no hesitancy in authorizing a sufficient issue of certificates to consummate it.

The next objection that has been urged is the unwillingness of the companies to guarantee a fixed amount to the City as its share of the net profits.

It occurrs to me that while this would be very desirable it is entirely inconsistent with the spirit of the Werno letter and the theory of the ordinances.

The ordinances proceed upon the condition that the companies shall be limited to 5% of the value of the property as fixed by the experts plus the new money to be invested in rehabilitation, the latter to be expended under the direct control of the Board of Surpervising Engineers, and that the City and the companies shall divide the net profits upon the basis of 55% for the City and 45% for the companies.

There is also provided in the ordinances that two funds, one of 6% and one of 8% shall be maintained, the first for the purpose of maintenance, and the second for the purpose of extension and replacement. Whatever remains of these two funds at the termination of the grant goes either to the City or its licensee and never to the Companies.

The ordinances specifically provide that the City shall not be limited in the amount which may be in those funds for either of the denominated purposes, but, on the contrary, may require as much more as may be necessary for the maintenance of the lines at par and their extension and re-equipment wherever deemed necessary by the Board of Supervising Engineers. There is also no limit of what the City may require in subway and underground trolley extensions.

We all would like such a provision if it were obtainable, but all suggestions to that end have been met by the companies with positive refusals.

The companies point out that if they guarantee the City a fixed sum as its share of the net profits, the City might easily under the terms of the ordinances require the expenditure of such sums of money in the betterment and improvement and extension of the lines and of subway and underground trolley extensions as to entirely wipe out the companies' part of the net receipts.

In view of the many benefits flowing to the City from the ordinances, it was not deemed wise to sacrifice them all because of the failure to secure this one point.

An objection that has been very vigorously urged is the provision that if the City requires the sale of property to another licensee, that there shall be 20% bonus paid to the company or companies by such other licensee.

So far as I can discover, that provision has been in the ordinances ever since the first draft was presented to the Committee. Nor do I at this time see any reason why it should be removed.

The right of the City to require the sale by the companies to a pro bono publico corporation at the same price the City could have bought and through which the City will get all the profits, except 5% interest and 5% brokerage, is preserved in these ordinances.

Speculation in Chicago's streets should cease. The City should have no choice as to which profit making corporation occupies its streets. What is wanted now is peace and good street railway service.

It must be borne in mind that the demand for 20% bonus is one to protect the companies from other companies who seek to oust them from the streets. They contend and not without some force, that if the City becomes a party to such intent, at least they should be compensated for their removal and that they should not be made the prey of a form of promoters who trade on other people's asssets.

The suggestion that such a licensee company should give 4-cent fares was met by the companies by the statement that this would be no protection to the companies but would inure to the benefit of the City.

A licensee company of this class could not be required to spend any money on subways, or underground trolleys or to make extensions or to pay the City compensation, or a part of its net profits. It might get a term grant for twenty years. None of these things were taken care of in the proposed amendment.

Another objection is the construction profit of 10%, which it is complained is broad enough to include sub-contracts let by the companies.

The part of the ordinances relating to contracts, the method of their letting and the percentage of contractor's profit was one that was properly guided by Mr. Arnold, Mr. DuPont and Mr. Cooley. The price of every article installed by any of the companies must be approved by the Board of Supervising Engineers upon which the City has one member and of which Board Mr. Arnold is the Chairman, and there is therefore no danger that the City's interests will not be amply protected.

It must be clear that it is impossible to successfully differentiate between what is a contract and what is a sub-contract, and I know of no better way to guard against the evils feared than by resting the matter finally and definitely in the hands of the Board of Supervising Engineers.

The brief of Judge Magruder and C. N. Goodwin upon these ordinances was not given out for the purpose of illuminating the pathway to settlement, but rather with a view to obstructing it. It, therefore, need not be discussed or considered by this Council.

The question of the proper form of referendum is no longer open to discussion. There can be no doubt that a veto referendum is the only practicable and effective form. The validity of the referendum provision incorporated in these ordinances is amply sustained by the legal authorities.

The adoption of these ordinances by the City Council and their subsequent ratification by the people will do more towards the material progress of Chicago than anything that has been accomplished in this decade."

Hereupon the Chair announced that news had been received of the death of Ald. Uhlir's mother.

By unanimous consent, Ald. Uhlir was given leave to announce his vote on the passage of the pending ordinances vetoed by His Honor, the Mayor, and to have his vote entered on the record.

Whereupon Ald. Uhlir announced that he desired to be recorded as voting "nay" on the passage of each of the ordinances vetoed by His Honor, the Mayor, and it was so ordered.

After further debate, the question being put, the motion of Ald. Werno to pass the ordinance running to the Chicago City Railway Company, the veto of His Honor, the Mayor, to the contrary notwithstanding, prevailed, and the ordinance was passed by yeas and nays as follows:

Yeas—Kenna, Coughlin, Dixon, Foreman, Pringle, Dailey, Martin, McCormick, Young, McCoid, Bennett, Snow, Moynihan, Harris, Fick, Scully, Hurt, Cullerton, Hoffman, Riley, Considine, Harkin, Maypole, Smith, Nowicki, Shermann, Brennan, Conlon, Powers, Bowler, Stewart, Reese, Foell, Sullivan, Dougherty, Werno, Jacobs, Hahne, Krumholz, Dunn, Williston, Lipps, Reinberg, Siewert, Blase, Larson, Herlihy, Wendling, Golombieswki, Burns, Bradley, Roberts, Fisher, Badenoch, Hunt, Bihl, Race—57.

Nays—Harding, Richert, Derpa, Zimmer, Uhlir, Beilfuss, Sitts, Dever, Finn, O'Connell, Kohout Nolan—12.

Ald. Werno then moved that the Council do pass the ordinance running to the Chicago Railways Company, the veto of His Honor, the Mayor, to the contrary notwithstanding.

The motion prevailed, and the ordinance was passed by yeas and nays as follows:

Yeas—Kenna, Coughlin, Dixon, Foreman, Pringle, Dailey, Martin, McCormick, Young, McCoid, Bennett, Snow, Moynihan, Harris, Fick, Scully, Hurt, Cullerton, Hoffman, Riley, Considine, Harkin, Maypole, Smith, Nowicki, Schermann, Brennan, Conlon, Powers, Bowler, Stewart, Reese, Foell, Sullivan, Dougherty, Werno, Jacobs, Hahne, Krumholz, Dunn, Williston, Lipps, Reinberg, Siewert, Blase, Larson, Herlihy, Wendling, Golombiewski, Burns, Bradley, Roberts, Fisher, Badenoch, Hunt, Bihl, Race—57.

The following is the *ordinance running to the Chicago City Railway Company, as passed:

AUTHORIZING THE CHICAGO CITY RAILWAY COMPANY TO CONSTRUCT, MAINTAIN AND OPERATE A SYSTEM OF STREET RAILWAYS IN STREETS AND PUBLIC WAYS OF THE CITY OF CHICAGO.

PREAMBLE.

WHEREAS, The Chicago City Railway Company, hereinafter called the Company, now maintains and operates a system of street railways in the streets and public ways in the south division of the City of Chicago; and

WHEREAS, The said City desires, for the proper accommodation of the public, to provide for the reconstruction, re-equipment and extension of the said street railway system now maintained and operated by the Company and for the unified operation of said street railway system together with the street railway system now maintained and operated by the Receivers of the Chicago Union Traction Company, and to be in a position as soon as practicable freely to deal with the subject of transportation in its streets as a whole, and to fix and determine the definite terms and conditions upon which the said City shall have the right to purchase and take over at any time the street railway system of the Company; now, therefore,

Be it ordained by the City Council of the City of Chicago:

AUTHORITY.

SECTION 1. That in consideration of the acceptance by the Company of this ordinance, subject to all of the provisions, conditions, requirements and limitations hereof, consent, permission and authority are hereby granted to the Company, its lessees, successors and assigns, to construct, reconstruct, maintain and operate a system of street railways in, upon and along the streets and public ways or portions thereof, in the City of Chicago, set out in the schedule marked "Exhibit A" hereto attached and made a part hereof.

The said consent, permission and authority hereby granted to said Company, its lessees, successors and assigns, to construct, reconstruct, maintain and operate the said street railways in, upon and along 22d street from the east bank of the Chicago River to Wabash avenue, are granted subject to all of the rights, franchises and privileges of the Chicago General Railway Company upon said 22d street between the points mentioned, under and by virtue of a lease of said tracks from the Chicago City Railway Company to the Chicago General Railway Company dated July 5, 1897; but shall wholly cease and determine on the 8th day of February, A. D. 1912, and are subject at all times to all the provisions, conditions and limitations of this ordinance, including the right of the City or its licensee to purchase and acquire said tracks and all of the rights hereby granted, at the times and upon the terms hereinafter provided.

The said consent, permission and authority hereby granted to said Company, its lessees, successors and assigns, to construct, reconstruct, maintain and operate the said street railways in, upon and along Main street, from Archer avenue to 31st street, and Laurel street from 31st street to 39th street, are granted subject to all of the rights, franchises and privileges of the Chicago General Railway Company upon said Main and Laurel streets between the points mentioned, under and by virtue of a lease of said tracks from the Chicago City Railway Company to the Chicago General Railway Company, dated October 1, 1897, but shall wholly cease and determine on the 4th day of February, A. D. 1915, and are subject at all times to all the provisions, conditions and limitations of this ordinance, including the right of the City or its licensee to purchase and acquire said tracks and all of the rights hereby granted, at the times and upon the terms hereinafter provided.

For the purpose of carrying into effect the desire of the said City to provide for the unified operation of said street railways, an ordinance similar to this ordinance in general provisions and character, running to the Chicago Railways Company, as grantee, covering the system of street railways now maintained and operated by the Receivers of the Chicago Union Traction Company in the north, west, and a portion of the south divisions of said City, has been presented for passage concurrently with this ordinance, and it is hereby expressly provided that, upon the passage and acceptance of said last mentioned ordinance, then in all cases where this ordinance and the said ordinance relating to the street railways now maintained and operated by the Receivers of the Chicago Union Traction Company confer grants upon more than one company in the same part of any street, the rights granted to the respective companies in such part of any street shall be construed to be for a mutual and joint use of tracks, and the rights of each company therein shall be the same as though the said ordinances making such grants had been passed and had taken effect concurrently, without regard to the actual dates of their respective passage and acceptance. Whenever such tracks are to be used jointly, they shall be constructed, maintained and operated at the equal joint expense of the said companies.

RECONSTRUCTION.

SECTION 2. The Company shall proceed at once to reconstruct portions of its track and roadbed and put its entire street railway system, plant and equipment in first-class condition, in full compliance with the specifications and provisions for such work in this ordinance and in the Exhibit hereto attached, marked "Exhibit B" and made a part of this ordinance, with the same force and effect as though herein fully set forth, and to operate and maintain said system in accordance with the provisions of this ordinance and of said "Exhibit B."

Such provisions of this ordinance as are in the nature of specifications shall be given at all times full force and effect, except in cases, if any, in which they conflict with express provisions of "Exhibit B," in which cases the latter shall prevail. The provisions of this ordinance and those of "Exhibit B," however, shall be construed together, and both, so far as practicable, be given full effect throughout the life of this grant.

EXTENSIONS.

SECTION 3. The said City shall have the right, subject to the limitations contained in this ordinance, at any time to require the Company to make extensions of and additions to the lines of street railway enumerated in said "Exhibit A." Such extensions and additions shall be made under the supervision of the Board of Supervising Engineers, as hereinafter in Section 7 provided, and the cost thereof shall be determined as provided in said section. The character and quality of such work shall comply with the specifications set forth in said "Exhibit B," so far as the same may be applicable thereto.

The Company shall promptly and within a reasonable time after the passage of this ordinance construct and equip the extensions of its street railway system provided for in Exhibit "A," and also in Section 36 hereof, subject to the provisions of said Section, and shall operate same as a part of its system in conformity with the provisions of this ordinance, and at any time after three (3) years from the acceptance of this ordinance, the Company shall upon the order of the City Council of the City, construct and equip such additional extensions as may be required by the City and shall operate the same as a part of its system in conformity with the provisions of this ordinance; provided, that the Company shall not be obligated hereby to construct and operate any such additional extensions in any street or public way nearer any then existing parallel street railway tracks of the Company than one-half mile, and that the Company shall not be obligated hereby to construct more than four miles of double track railway or eight miles of single track railway in any one calendar year during the term of this grant.

The Company shall, however, upon the order of the City Council of the City, construct, equip and operate such extensions of its street railway system in addition to those hereinabove provided for as may be required by the City Council subject to the conditions and limitations contained in Section 25 of this ordinance.

The Company shall not be authorized or obligated to construct any extension of its street railway system upon streets on which street railways are not located when this ordinance goes into effect until the City has granted to the Company whatever authority in addition to this ordinance may be necessary to comply with the frontage consent laws of the State of Illinois.

MOTIVE POWER.

SECTION 4. The motive power to be used in the operation of said street railways shall be electricity, applied by the overhead trolley system or otherwise, as more particularly set forth in said "Exhibit B"; provided that the said City (subject to the limitations contained in Section 25 hereof), at any time after three years from the date of the acceptance of this ordinance, may require by ordinance, that the Company shall operate under the provisions of this ordinance any of its street railways herein authorized by electric power transmitted through working conductors carried in conduits below the surface of the street and between and underneath the rails, otherwise known as the underground trolley system, and shall thereafter cease to operate the same by overhead trolley.

USE OF POLES, CONDUITS, ETC.

SECTION 5. The Company may use its trolley poles, feeder poles, trolley wires, feeder wires and the conduits authorized and provided for in said "Exhibit B," for all purposes solely connected with the operation of its street railways, such as power, light, heat and telephonic and other signals. For such purposes the Company may connect such conduits, poles and wires with its transmission and feeder wires, power plants, substations, car houses, repair shops or other property of the Company, and with any transmission, feeder or other wires of any other individual or corporation.

JOINT USE WITH THE CITY.

The said City shall have the right, without the payment of any compensation therefor, during the life of this grant, to use the poles of the Company to carry the signal, telephone, telegraph and electric light wires and lamps of the said City. The transmission wires of the said City for such purposes shall be placed on poles of the Company, on that side of each street or way (where poles are located on both sides thereof) designated by the said Board of Supervising Engineers, without cost or expense to the Company, but the Company shall repair and maintain its poles as one of the operating expenses of the said street railway system under this ordinance; provided, that the said City shall indemnify and save harmless the Company against and from all damages, judgments, costs or expenses which the Company may suffer by reason of any negligence of the said City in installing, maintaining or using its said wires and lamps upon said poles.

SUBWAYS.

SECTION 6. The Company hereby gives to said City and said City reserves the power by ordinance to require the Company to join with the Chicago Railways Company and with the said City in defraying the cost of the construction of a system of subways for the joint use of the said companies as down town terminals of their street railway systems, and for the use of said City and of its licensees, the legal title to said subways to be in said City, subject to the rights of the said companies under this ordinance, it being, however, an express condition of the Company being required to join in defraying the cost of such construction of such system of subways, that said subway system and the extensions thereof shall not be used for street railway purposes during the life of this grant except by the street railway systems of said companies; provided, that the companies shall not be required to contribute to the cost of said subway system any amount in excess of the pro rata cost of that part of said subway system which is to be devoted to the use of said companies or either of them and that the total amount which the said companies shall be required to contribute toward the construction of said system of subways shall not exceed the sum of five million dollars ($5,000,000), exclusive of the cost of (1) reconstructing the present tunnels under the Chicago River, (2) or of converting said tunnels into a part of said system of subways. Two-fifths of that part of the cost of the said subways (exclusive of the tunnels under the Chicago River), payable by said companies shall be borne by the Company and three-fifths of the said cost shall be borne by said Chicago Railways Company; and provided, further, the Company shall not be obligated to join in defraying the cost of the construction of such subway system until (1) the said City shall authorize the construction of said subway system by an ordinance which shall prescribe the location, character and extent of said subway system and the plans and specifications therefor, which plans and specifications shall include provisions specifying the portions thereof to be devoted to the use of said companies, respectively, and to the use of the said City and its licensees, and regulating the manner of such uses, and specifying the share of the cost of such subway system to be borne by said companies and the extent of the user to which each said company shall be entitled in that part of said subway system devoted to street railway purposes, and until, (2) the Board of Supervising Engineers shall approve the location, character and extent of and the plans and specifications for such subway system. The limitation of five million dollars as above defined shall apply to the subway system above mentioned, but shall have no application to the extensions and additions herein next mentioned.

When said subway system shall have been fully completed (but not before the expiration of five years from and after the acceptance of this ordinance) the Company (subject to the limitations contained in Section 25 hereof) may be required by ordinance to join with the said Chicago Railways Company and with the said City in defraying the cost of the construction of extensions and additions to such subway system and the Company agrees that it will pay to the said City the pro rata cost of constructing that portion of such extensions which is to be devoted to the use of the Company and its proportionate part of the pro rata cost of constructing that portion of such extensions which is to be devoted to the joint use of the said companies; provided, however, the Company shall not be obligated to join in defraying the cost of the construction of such extensions and additions to said subway system until (1) the said City shall authorize the construction of said extensions and additions by an ordinance which shall prescribe the location, character and extent of said extensions and additions and the plans and specifications therefor, which plans and specifications shall include provisions specifying the portions to be devoted to the use of said companies and to the use of said City and its licensees, and regulating the manner of such uses and specifying the part of the total estimated cost of such extensions and additions to be borne by the said companies, respectively, and until (2) the location, character and extent of said extensions and additions and the plans and specifications therefor shall be approved by the said Board of Supervising Engineers.

The provisions of this ordinance under which the said Company obligates itself to contribute to the cost of constructing subways and extensions of subways and fixing the conditions under which the said Company is so obligated shall not have the effect or be construed to have the effect of depriving the said City of any right which the said City may have or acquire (otherwise than by virtue of this ordinance) to construct subways or extensions thereof, or to compel said Company to contribute to the cost of such subways or extensions, or to compel said Company to use the subways in whole or in part, in connection with its street railways or to fix the terms and conditions of such use. By the acceptance of this ordinance the Company admits that the City has the right and authority to construct subways and extensions of subways in the streets and parts of streets described in "Exhibit A" and in all other streets or parts of streets in which the Company is now or hereafter authorized to construct or operate street railways and the Company by such acceptance consents to the exercise of such right by the City; but the Company by the acceptance of this ordinance shall not be construed as admitting that the City now has any right otherwise than by virtue of this ordinance to compel said Company to contribute to the cost of any subway or extension thereof, or to compel said Company to use subways in whole or in part in connection with its street railways or to fix the terms and conditions of such use, or that it could acquire such right, and the exercise by the City of any such right shall not impair or in anywise affect the rights of the Company under the provisions of this ordinance in that part of any subway, or extensions thereof, to the cost of constructing which the Company shall have contributed.

Nothing in this ordinance contained shall be construed to give the said City the power to require the Company in case of the construction of said subway system, or extensions and additions thereto, and the placing of its railway tracks therein, or in a part thereof, to cease the operation of its railway, during the life of this grant, upon the surface of any of the streets or parts of streets under which the said subway system, or said extensions and additions thereto, may be constructed, so long as or whenever the City shall permit the construction or operation of any street railways upon the surface of such streets or parts of streets, respectively.

It is expressly provided that in case the capacity of that portion devoted to street railway purposes, of any subways or extensions of subways, constructed under the provisions of this section of this ordinance, shall at any time be greater than necessarily and properly required for the use of the said company or companies which have contributed to the cost of said subways or extensions thereof in the operation of their street railways therein, the City may authorize or require any other Company operating elevated railways in said City to use said subways and extensions, or parts thereof, to the extent of such surplus capacity, but only to such extent, provided that such Company shall pay a reasonable rental for such use by it, which rental shall be apportioned between the parties who have contributed to the cost of constructing the portion of such subways or extensions so used by such other company in proportion to the extent of their respective contributions; and the portion of such rental so paid to the Chicago City Railway Company shall be considered and treated as part of its gross receipts, to be disposed of under the provisions of this ordinance as other gross receipts from the operation of the street railways of said Company are to be disposed of. The City shall have the right to use the said subways and extensions for any elevated railway belonging to said City to the same extent and upon the same terms that it may authorize or require their use by any elevated railway company.

CITY TO HAVE SUPERVISION OF REHABILITATION.

SECTION 7. All of the construction, re-construction, equipment, re-equipment, extensions and additions to plant and property provided for or required by this ordinance or the Exhibits thereto, including underground trolleys, new lines, extensions, and other additions to plant and property (but not subways or extensions thereof), shall be done, performed and acquired by the Company under the direction and supervision of said Board of Supervising Engineers, and the cost and expense thereof shall be borne and paid by the Company, but no contract, subcontract or payment therefor shall be made without the written approval of said Board.

The Company shall purchase materials and equipment, and employ engineers, superintendents, clerks, foremen and workmen and shall pay all expenses of every nature, including legal expenses necessary to the proper, complete and prompt performance of the above mentioned work, upon the lowest advantageous terms and subject to the approval of the said Board of Supervising Engineers, and to the actual amount paid by the Company in and about carrying out each and all of the requirements of this Section, shall be added ten per cent. of such amount as a fair and proper allowance to the Company for conducting the said work and furnishing said equipment and five per cent. for its services in procuring funds therefor, including brokerage.

The said Board of Supervising Engineers shall, on or before the fifteenth day of each month, make a report in writing, dated the first day of such month, to the City Comptroller of the amount of money actually expended during the previous month by the Company with the approval of said Board of Supervising Engineers in and about carrying out the requirements of this Section together with the percentages of such amount in the next preceding paragraph provided for, and all amounts contributed by the Company to the cost of the said subway system or extensions thereof together with five per cent. of the amounts so contributed; and the interest provided in Section 24 hereof as a deduction from gross receipts shall begin to run upon the total amount of each such certificate from and after the date thereof.

The total amount so certified by the said Board of Supervising Engineers (including the said additional percentages thereof as hereinabove provided) shall be final and binding upon both parties hereto and shall be conclusively held and taken as the cost of the said construction, reconstruction, equipment, re-equipment, extensions and additions to plant and property, including subways, underground trolleys, new lines, and other additions to plant and property, which shall be paid by the said City upon the taking over of the said street railway system as in this ordinance provided, except that said Board may at any time within sixty (60) days after the date of any such certificate correct any error or omission therein.

The said Board of Supervising Engineers shall have power to determine what work shall be treated as construction, reconstruction, equipment, re-equipment, extensions, new lines, underground trolleys or additions to plant or property to be paid for by the Company out of the capital funds to be provided by it for that purpose, and what shall be treated as maintenance, repairs and renewals, to be paid for out of the gross receipts of the Company from the operation of the street railway system hereby authorized. But any such determination of said Board shall be governed by the following provisions:

During the three (3) year period of "Immediate Rehabilitation" seventy (70) per cent. of the gross receipts shall be set apart and shall be used so far as required in defraying the operating expenses, including maintenance and repairs, and the residue of said seventy (70) per cent. shall be applied to the cost of renewals and no part of the cost of any renewal paid for out of such seventy (70) per cent. shall be charged to additional capital, and all expenditures for renewals during said three (3) years in excess of such residue of said seventy (70) per cent. shall be charged to capital account.

After such three (3) year period of "Immediate Rehabilitation," the cost of renewals shall be paid as provided in Section 16 hereof, but such expenditures (and only such expenditures) as are made for the purpose of extensions of or additions to property shall be thereafter considered as additions to capital, provided, however, that in the replacement of any principal part of the property, either existing or hereafter acquired, there shall be charged to capital the excess amount that the new property cost over the original cost of the property displaced, excepting that the value of property contained in the appraisal inventory of the property of the Company, referred to in Paragraph 1 of Section 20 hereof, shall be used instead of first cost for all property listed in such appraisal inventory.

REMOVAL OF TRACKS.

SECTION 8. The Company shall forthwith remove all tracks now owned or operated by it which it is not expressly authorized by this ordinance hereafter to maintain and operate. If it shall hereafter cease to operate over any of its tracks or any portion thereof, it shall remove such unused tracks upon the order of the City Council. Failure to operate cars for the carriage of passengers at least once each way within every hour of each day between the hours of six (6) A. M. and eight (8) P. M. over any part of a street or public place in which tracks of the Company are laid, shall be treated as a cessation of operation of its tracks in such part of street or public place within the meaning of this Section, unless such operation is interfered with by unavoidable accidents, labor strikes or litigation brought without connivance of the Company; provided, however, that the foregoing provisions of this Section shall not be construed to require or authorize the removal of curves or turn-outs or of connecting tracks specifically authorized by this ordinance or the exhibits hereto to be constructed and maintained for use during rush hours or for emergency use in case of fire or accident, or such tracks as may be necessary for a connection with the Company's property used for street railway purposes.

The City shall have the right by ordinance to require the Company to remove any tracks or portions thereof, the further maintenance of which is at any time no longer warranted by the traffic, or reasonably required in the operation of the said street railway system, provided that the Company shall not be required to remove such tracks but may maintain or reconstruct and operate the same during the life of this grant so long as or whenever the City shall permit the construction or operation of any street railways upon the streets or parts of streets respectively from which such tracks have been so required to be removed and in every case of removal of tracks as aforesaid, the Company shall restore the street or public way to the condition of the other portions thereof, all at its own cost, such cost to be treated as an operating expense.

If the Company shall fail within a reasonable time (not to exceed 30 days) to remove any such tracks on order of the Commissioner of Public Works, the said City may remove them, charging the expense thereof to the Company; provided, however, that nothing in this section contained shall relieve the Company from its obligations at all times to render adequate service on its street railways.

RIGHT TO SELL UNNECESSARY PROPERTY.

SECTION 9. The Company shall not hereafter sell any of the property belonging to it at the time of the passage of this ordinance (except that described in Exhibit "D") or thereafter acquired by it as an addition to or extension of, or for use in connection with its said street railways, except as the same may become unnecessary or unadapted to the proper operation and maintenance of said street railways under the terms of this ordinance, and before making any such sale the Company shall secure the written approval of such sale and of the amount and terms thereof by the said Board of Supervising Engineers, and such written approval of said Board shall be conclusive of the right of the Company to transfer complete title to the purchaser, who shall not be obliged to look to the application of the proceeds of such sale.

In the event of any such sale made during the period of "Immediate Rehabilitation," the proceeds shall be deducted from the amount allowed to the Company for such reconstruction, and in the event of a sale after such "Immediate Rehabilitation" is completed, the proceeds thereof shall be deposited with the depositary or depositaries selected under the provisions of Section 16 of this ordinance and shall constitute a part of and an addition to the reserve fund provided for in said section for Renewals and Depreciation.

SERVICE REGULATIONS.

SECTION 10. The Company hereby agrees to comply with all reasonable regulations of the service of the said street railway system which may be prescribed from time to time by the City Council of said City and that the approval of any such regulation by the Board of Supervising Engineers shall be binding upon the Company (but not upon the City) as to the reasonableness thereof.

STYLE OF CARS.

All passenger cars operated by the Company shall be used for the carriage of passengers only. All such cars hereafter built or purchased shall be of the best and most approved finish, style and design to be approved by the Board of Supervising Engineers; they shall have center aisles; they shall be without running footboards along the sides, and shall be equipped with sufficient motor capacity. Cross-seats facing forward shall be used, but longitudinal seats, each seating not more than four passengers, may be used at the ends of the cars. All closed cars shall be vestibuled, and shall be of the style and description specified and provided in said "Exhibit B," and at least one hundred fifty (150) cars of such description shall be acquired by and placed in operation upon the tracks of the Company within one (1) year from the passage of this ordinance, exclusive of delays occasioned by strikes or other causes beyond the control of the Company.

PUSH BUTTONS.

All cars operated by the Company shall be supplied with a sufficient number of electric bells, connections and push buttons to enable passengers without inconvenience to notify the conductor of their desire to leave the car.

FENDERS.

All cars shall be equipped with efficient and serviceable fender devices, headlights and sand-boxes.

BRAKES.

Each double-truck car shall be equipped with two sets of brakes, one of which shall be a hand-brake and the other an efficient power-brake of modern, improved type.

CLEANLINESS AND VENTILATION.

Said cars shall at all times be kept clean and in good repair, and shall be thoroughly ventilated.

HEATING.

The said cars shall be kept heated at the temperature of fifty (50) degrees Fahrenheit, as nearly as practicable, and each car shall contain a standard thermometer appropriately placed to enable passengers to see that this provision is complied with.

LIGHTING.

All cars shall be kept well and sufficiently illuminated by electric light or other illuminants approved by said Board of Supervising Engineers.

SIGNS.

Each car shall bear appropriate and conspicuous signs upon both its sides and ends so placed as to indicate, both day and night, the route and destination of such car. At night such signs shall be illuminated.

ADVERTISEMENTS.

The Company may permit advertisements in its cars, but no advertisement shall be placed upon the outside of any car, and only the space between the top of the windows and the transom of the car shall be used for advertisements on the inside of cars.

FUNERAL CARS AND MAIL CARS.

The Company is hereby authorized and permitted to operate funeral cars, and separate cars for the use of the United States Post Office Department, for the carriage of mail.

SINGLE CARS ONLY.

Every electric car shall be in charge and under the control of two competent men, a motorman and a conductor, and (after the expiration of one year from the date of the passage of this ordinance, or at such earlier time as the Company shall be able to acquire the necessary rolling stock to enable it to abandon trailers) shall be operated singly.

RATES OF FARE.

SECTION 11. The Company, except as to chartered cars to private parties and as in this ordinance provided, shall be entitled to charge passengers, during the term of this ordinance, the following rates of fare, to wit:

For a continuous trip in one general direction, within the present or future limits of the City, over its street railways covered by this ordinance and all extensions thereof (whether owned, leased or operated by it) the sum of five cents (5c) for each passenger twelve years of age or over, and three cents (3c) for each passenger under twelve (12) years of age; provided that children under seven (7) years of age accompanied by a person paying fare shall be permitted to ride free.

UNIVERSAL TRANSFERS.

Every such passenger may demand and upon such demand shall receive from the conductor of the car upon which he first takes passage, or from some authorized agent of the Company, a transfer. Said transfer shall entitle such passenger to ride upon any other line of said street railway system owned, leased or operated by the Company or any other line of street railway operated by any other corporation from which the Company is by this ordinance obligated to accept transfers, which connects with, crosses, intersects or comes within a distance of two hundred (200) feet of the line of said street railway upon which the passenger first took passage and paid his fare. But this obligation shall not apply to any connecting point in the south division of the City of Chicago north of Twelfth street, except that upon the completion and operation of subways under the provisions of this ordinance, transfers shall be given at all points within said subways where lines of railway of any such corporation or corporations connect with each other.

The payment of a single fare shall not entitle a passenger to reverse his general direction of travel. If necessary to enable a passenger to reach his destination the conductor or other authorized agent of the Company shall issue without additional charge, a transfer upon a transfer, the same as required upon payment of a cash fare; the intention being that for a single fare the Company shall carry any passenger for a single continuous ride over any of the said lines of street railway owned, operated or leased by it, within the limits of the said City, so long as such ride is in the same general direction, although some of the lines necessary to be used by such passenger in arriving at his destination intersect or cross one another, or do not conform to such direction.

In every instance the transfer given to a passenger may designate the point or place of transfer, and the same must be used at such point or place, within a reasonable time, not exceeding fifteen (15) minutes after such point or place is reached by the car from which the passenger is transferred, provided that within said fifteen minutes a car shall pass such point or place of transfer in the direction and upon the route indicated by said transfer; but if no car shall pass such point within said time the passenger shall have the right to take the first available car passing such point in the direction indicated upon the passenger's transfer. A passenger upon any car delayed through the fault, negligence or inability of the Company shall be entitled to receive a transfer to a car upon the nearest line of the Company going in the same general direction as the delayed car.

The Company shall also on its cars accept and honor as fares, transfers issued to passengers upon any line of street railway covered or authorized by the said ordinance to the Chicago Railways Company, hereinabove referred to as presented for passage in the City Council of said City, concurrently with this ordinance, which connects with any of said lines of the Company, under the same conditions and with like effect as though both lines of street railway were owned by the Company and the transfers were issued under the foregoing provisions of this ordinance, but this obligation shall not apply to any connecting points north of Twelfth street and east of the south branch of the Chicago River and south of the main Chicago River, except that upon the completion and operation of subways under the provisions of this ordinance, transfers shall be given by and between said companies at all points within said subways where their lines of railway connect with each other.

The Company shall also accept and honor as fares transfers issued by the Chicago General Railway Company at all points where the railway lines of the Company connect with or intersect the lines of said Chicago General Railway Company, constructed and in operation at the time of the passage of this ordinance, with like effect as though both said lines of street railway were owned by the Company and the transfers were issued under the foregoing provisions of this ordinance; upon condition, however, that said Chicago General Railway Company shall accept and honor at such transfer points, as fares, transfers issued by the Company.

The said proposed arrangement contemplates that in every instance the street railway company accepting any such transfer shall give to the passenger presenting it the same accommodations and the same transfers, if requested, to its other line or lines, as such passenger would be entitled to receive if he had paid a cash fare. The Company shall also exchange transfers with all existing street car lines operating in the City of Chicago, not heretofore mentioned, under reasonable regulations and at all points of connection between such lines and the lines of the Company, after such time as said several franchises of said other lines now operating shall have expired and shall be extended or renewed.

The Company, acting by itself or in conjunction with the other companies to which the provisions of this Section apply, may, with the approval of the said Board of Supervising Engineers, adopt reasonable rules and regulations not inconsistent with the provisions of this ordinance, for the transfer of passengers as provided for herein, and for the prevention of the fraudulent use of transfer privileges.

The purchase or acquisition by the City or its licensee of any street railway or railways of any company other than the Chicago City Railway Company shall not affect or impair the obligations of the Company under the provisions of this ordinance with regard to transfers and through routes in connection with, or over the line or lines so purchased or acquired, but the same shall thereafter continue in full force and effect.

NO PASSES: EMPLOYES, POLICEMEN AND FIREMEN FREE.

SECTION 12. No passes of any kind or description shall be issued or given to any person, and no person, except employes of the Company, policemen and firemen, respectively, in full uniform, shall be permitted to ride upon any street railway without the payment of fare; provided that the Company may issue to its employes free tickets for use while engaged in the performance of their duties, and may permit them to ride free when wearing an official badge of the Company conspicuously in view. The Company shall keep a record of the number of such free tickets and to whom issued.

MAIL CARRIERS.

In the event that the United States Post Office Department shall pay to the Company a sum of money based upon the system of sales of tickets in effect between the Post Office Department and the Company for the use of letter carriers during the year 1906, the said amount of money to be not less than Ten Thousand, One Hundred, Thirty-seven Dollars and Seventy-five Cents ($10,137.75) per annum, with proportionate increase in said amount for any increase in the number of letter carriers employed in the City of Chicago over the number of such carriers so employed in the year 1906, then the Company shall carry on its street railways United States letter carriers, in full uniform, at all times, without the payment of fare.

THROUGH ROUTES.

SECTION 13. The Company will co-operate with any corporation operating the street railway in Halsted street, from O'Neil street north, to operate a through line of cars in said street. Whenever the said City shall so direct and shall grant to the Company and to any corporation operating a street railway north of the South Branch of the Chicago River in Western avenue a license or franchise to connect their lines in said avenue, the Company shall co-operate with such other corporation to operate a through line of cars in said avenue; also, whenever the said City shall grant to the Company and to any corporation operating a street railway north of the South Branch of the Chicago River in Kedzie avenue a license or franchise to connect their lines in said avenue, the Company will co-operate with such other corporation to operate a through line of cars in said avenue; and, also, whenever the said City shall grant to the Company and to any corporation operating a street railway in Ashland avenue north of the South Branch of the Chicago River a license or franchise to connect their lines in said avenue, the Company shall co-operate with such other corporation to operate a through line of cars in said avenue; and said corporations shall thereafter operate and maintain said through lines of cars in the said streets and avenues, respectively; and the Company agrees to obtain forthwith the right to operate its cars over the street railways on Kedzie avenue between Thirty-first street and Twenty-second street and on Ashland avenue between Archer avenue and Twenty-second street, from said Chicago General Railway Company, and to use that right in the establishment of through routes, as in this ordinance provided, so long as any rights of said Chicago General Railway Company in said streets shall continue. But nothing in this ordinance contained shall be construed as enlarging or extending any right of said Chicago General Railway Company in or over any of the streets of the City; provided, that the Company shall only be required to operate said through lines across or over any river or canal, when the said City or some third party shall provide and maintain a bridge across the same upon which it may operate its cars.

The Company will co-operate with any corporation or corporations operating such of the street railway lines now operated by the Receivers of the Chicago Union Traction Company as may be parts of the through routes in this ordinance or in "Exhibit C" referred to in establishing and maintaining through lines of cars over the street railway lines of the Company and the street railway lines of the Union Traction system entering the south division of the said City, north of Twelfth street, which shall carry passengers from the south division of the said City to the other two divisions of the said City, or in the reverse directions, through the portion of the south division of said City north of Twelfth street, for a single fare.

As many cars shall be operated upon said through lines as the traffic shall require and warrant.

The parties now concerned have agreed upon certain through routes which are particularly described in "Exhibit C," which is attached hereto and made a part hereof, with the same force and effect as if herein fully set out.

The Company may establish other through routes from time to time and may discontinue the same, if and when the traffic warrants such establishment or discontinuance; but no through route specifically established by this ordinance and said Exhibit "C" shall be discontinued without the consent of the City Council of said City, and the City may by ordinance at any time require the Company to re-establish any through route and to establish new and additional through routes whenever the traffic warrants or requires such establishment or re-establishment; provided, however, that if the Company shall consider that the traffic does not in fact warrant or require the establishment or re-establishment of any through route so required by the City to be established or re-established, then in such case it shall be the duty of the Board of Supervising Engineers, upon demand either of the City or of the Company to furnish the certificate of said Board certifying as to whether or not, in the opinion of said Board, the traffic does warrant or require the establishment or re-establishment of such through route, and such certificate of the Board of Supervising Engineers shall be prima facie evidence as to whether, in fact, the traffic does or does not warrant or require the establishment or re-establishment of such through route; and the obligation of the Company in respect to such routes shall be governed by such certificate pending a judicial determination of its obligations in respect to the establishment or re-establishment of any such through route under this ordinance.

The through routes herein mentioned shall be established and put in operation immediately after the necessary reconstruction of the tracks covered by such routes.

To carry out the establishment of the through lines provided for in this section, the Company will enter into a reasonable operating agreement approved by the said Board of Supervising Engineers, with any other corporation or corporations concerned, whenever required by the said City. If the Company and the corporation or corporations operating the lines of street railway constituting said through routes, or any of them, shall be unable or fail to agree upon terms as between themselves for establishing, maintaining and operating all of said through routes within sixty (60) days after the passage of this ordinance, then and in such case it shall be the duty of the Board of Supervising Engineers to fix and determine the basis and terms, as between said Company and said corporation or corporations, upon which said through routes shall be established, maintained and operated and to notify each of the companies operating the lines of street railway constituting said through routes of said basis and terms, and thereupon it shall be the duty of the Company to proceed forthwith to establish, maintain and operate said through routes upon the basis and terms so fixed and determined by said Board of Supervising Engineers. Said companies may by agreement (with the approval of said Board of Supervising Engineers) modify such basis and terms or they failing to agree, the Board of Supervising Engineers may from time to time modify said basis and terms as to said Board shall seem fit and just.

Passengers upon the through cars operated upon any through routes, while traveling over the tracks of each company shall be entitled to the same facilities as to transfers as such companies shall be required to give to their own passengers paying cash fares.

STREET SPRINKLING AND CLEANING.

SECTION 14. The Company shall sprinkle, sweep, keep clean and free from snow that portion of each of the streets occupied by its right-of-way, as provided in "Exhibit B," and if it shall be found practicable to have the streets occupied by its tracks swept and sprinkled their entire width by the Company, or to have street sweepings, garbage or other refuse removed by means of street cars at night, the Company shall perform said service, or so much thereof as shall prove practicable, when so ordered by the Mayor and Commissioner of Public Works, and it shall receive for such service reasonable compensation. In case the Company is called upon to remove street sweepings or other refuse, the said City shall furnish suitable and convenient dumping grounds and permit the connection of the Company's tracks therewith. The Company shall have the right to carry on suitable cars the snow required by this ordinance to be removed by it, and also, materials for its own use or for the use of the said City, and to connect its tracks and wires with property necessary to be used for such purposes.

STREET PAVING.

GROOVED RAILS.

MAINTENANCE, REPAIRS, RENEWALS AND DEPRECIATION.

SECTION 16. After the expiration of the three (3) year period of reconstruction and re-equipment, particularly required by the terms of said "Exhibit B," under the heading of "Immediate Rehabilitation" and until the rights conferred upon the Company by this ordinance are terminated by the purchase of the said street railway system by the said City or its licensee or by reason of the default of the Company or otherwise, the Company at all times shall maintain the said street railway system and its entire equipment, plant and appurtenances (including pavement and any subways or extensions thereof, together with their appurtenances and equipment, which may be built under the provisions of this ordinance) in first class condition, by making from time to time such expenditures thereon for maintenance, repairs and renewals, as may be necessary or appropriate to give to the public first class street railway service in all respects. To this end, the Company shall make the following expenditures:

(1) The Company shall expend for maintenance and repairs during each and every year that the Company continues to operate said street railway system after the expiration of the said three (3) year period of "Immediate Rehabilitation," at least a sum equal to six (6) per cent. of the gross receipts for the particular year, and if the said amount is not so expended for the said purpose by the Company during any one year, then at the end of such year the unexpended portion thereof shall be deposited in a fund, appropriately designated, with one or more of the banks or trust companies authorized to act as depositaries of such funds, under the terms and subject to the conditions of this ordinance (herein referred to as the depositary) for the purpose of being used whenever necessary for such maintenance and repairs.

The said depositaries or depositary shall make payment out of said fund upon the order of the Company, countersigned by the said Board of Supervising Engineers.

(2) On or before the fifth (5th) day of each and every month of each and every year that the Company continues to operate said street railway system after the expiration of said three (3) year period of "Immediate Rehabilitation," the Company shall deposit with one or more of the said depositaries in a separate fund, appropriately designated, a sum equal to eight (8) per cent. of the gross receipts of said street railways and property, which shall constitute a reserve fund, for taking care of renewals and depreciation of said street railways and property for the preceding month; and out of the said fund the Board of Supervising Engineers shall from time to time authorize the payment by the Company of such amounts as are necessary to pay for renewals of the said street railways and property, the portion of said fund remaining unexpended to continue in said fund as a provision for the depreciation of said street railways and property; and shall be disposed of as hereinafter provided. No payments shall be made by said Company out of said fund except on the written certificate of the Board of Supervising Engineers for renewals, which are hereby defined to be the replacement of any principal part of said street railways or of their equipment or appurtenances; and the Board of Supervising Engineers shall determine by classifications made from time to time what particular items of expenditure shall be considered as renewals and what particular items of expenditure shall be considered as maintenance and repairs under the provisions of this ordinance.

The whole or any portion of such reserve fund for maintenance and repairs may be used for maintenance and repairs in addition to the annual expenditure for maintenance and repairs. The fixing of the said amount herein as the minimum amount to be expended annually for maintenance and repairs, and the fixing of the said amount herein as the minimum amount to be deposited for renewals and depreciation, shall not be held or considered as lessening or limiting in any way the obligation of the Company to expend whatever sum or sums may be necessary to be expended for maintenance and repairs and to expend whatever sum or sums may be necessary for renewals, to keep the said street railway system and equipment in first class condition in every respect and at all times.

The amounts expended or deposited respectively as reserve funds, under the foregoing provisions of this section, shall be considered a part of the Operating Expenses of the street railway system hereby authorized, but in the event that the said street railway system shall be purchased by the said City or its licensee at any time under the provisions of this ordinance, the amount then on deposit in each of said reserve funds, or due to be deposited therein at the time of such purchase, shall be turned over to and become the property of the said City or of its said licensee.

The obligation herein assumed by the Company as to the maintenance, repairs and renewals of subways and extensions thereof, shall be held to be confined to that portion of any such subways or extensions, together with the structures and the appurtenances and equipment thereof, which may be used by or be subject to the use of, the said Company under the provisions of this ordinance, and to its fair proportionate share of the cost of maintenance, repairs and renewals of that part of any such subway or extensions or the appurtenances or equipment thereof, which may be used by or be subject to the use of the Company jointly with the said City or its licensees or with the said Chicago Railways Company, such proportionate amount to be fixed and determined by the Board of Supervising Engineers.

INSURANCE.

SECTION 17. The Company shall at all times keep insured to its full insurable value, in responsible companies, all buildings, cars and other insurable property, against loss by fire, and the premiums for such insurance shall be paid out of the receipts of said Company, as one of the operating expenses thereof, and in case of the destruction or damage by fire of any such property, the Company shall restore the same or its substantial equivalent at its own cost and not out of the receipts of its said street railways, or in lieu of such restoration, the Company shall deposit, as a part of the reserve fund required by the preceding Section 16, the value of the property so destroyed or damaged, which value shall be estimated by the Board of Supervising Engineers. The Company shall apply to any such deposit or to the cost of any such restoration the insurance moneys received on account of any such loss or damage. If such moneys are not equal in amount to the cost of such restoration or to the amount of the said deposit hereinabove required, the Company will at its own cost and not out of the receipts of said street railway system supply any deficit, and if the amount of such insurance moneys is greater than the said cost or deposit, the overplus shall be deposited with and become a part of and be an addition to the fund provided for in the preceding Section 16 for renewals and depreciation.

PERSONAL INJURY CLAIMS.

SECTION 18. Out of the gross receipts derived from the operation of the street railway system hereby authorized the Company shall pay as a part of the operating expenses, all damages arising or growing out of injuries to persons or to the property of others incident to the construction, reconstruction or operation of said street railway system accruing subsequent to January 31st, A. D. 1907, and the Company may set aside as a separate fund such percentage of said gross receipts as the said Board of Supervising Engineers shall estimate to be sufficient to protect the Company against all such claims, to the end that if the said City, or its licensee, shall elect to purchase the street railway property of the Company as provided by this ordinance, there shall be then available to the Company a fund sufficient to meet and discharge all legitimate claims for such damages. The percentage thus reserved may be changed from time to time by said Board of Supervising Engineers if and whenever they shall consider that the percentage theretofore reserved is either inadequate or excessive.

In case the balance of said fund at any time remaining shall be, in the judgment of the Board of Supervising Engineers, more than sufficient to protect the Company against all then unsettled claims, the Company shall pay to the said City fifty-five (55) per cent. of the estimated excess, and the Company at the same time shall be entitled to apply to its own use and benefit forty-five (45) per cent. of such estimated excess.

If the said City or its licensee shall purchase the property of the Company as in this ordinance provided, the Company shall deposit with one or more of the depositaries herein authorized the fund then accumulated under the provisions of this Section, together with all of the "net receipts" of the Company from the operation of its street railways as shall not have been divided between the Company and the City prior to the giving of the notice by the City or its licensee of its intention to purchase, and the Company shall assume and pay and save the said City or such licensee harmless from all such claims for damages, payment for the same to be made out of the fund so deposited, upon the order of the Company countersigned by the said Board of Supervising Engineers; but if the fund so retained and deposited shall be more than sufficient to pay and discharge said claims in full, then the said depositary or depositaries shall pay to the said City (or its licensee, as the case may be) fifty-five (55) per cent. of such excess and to the Company forty-five (45) per cent. of such excess.

The salaries and expenses of the Board of Supervising Engineers after any such purchase and so long as said Board shall continue to act under the provisions of this ordinance shall be paid out of the fund deposited under the provisions of this section.

REGULATION OF SALARIES.

SECTION 19. The Company may pay to the directors, officers, agents and attorneys of the Company as a part of the operating expenses, compensation for their services commensurate with the service actually rendered by them respectively, taking into consideration the compensation paid to directors, officers, agents and attorneys of other corporations or enterprises of similar magnitude and general character for like services, but the said City by written notice thereof may object to the payment thereafter of compensation in excess of an amount or rate specified in such objection to any such director, officer, agent or attorney, and in the event of a disagreement between the Company and the said City as to the proper amount to be paid as such compensation, the matter shall be submitted to the judgment of the said Board of Supervising Engineers whose decision shall be final and binding upon the parties, except that, if either party shall be dissatisfied with such decision of said Board, then such dissatisfied party may make application to any court of competent jurisdiction to pass upon such objection and to determine the amount of the compensation or salary to be paid.

RIGHT OF CITY TO PURCHASE AT ANY TIME.

SECTION 20. The Company by the acceptance of this ordinance, shall and does grant to the said City, and the said City hereby reserves to itself the right, upon the first day of February or upon the first day of August of each and any year after such acceptance upon giving at least six (6) months' previous notice in writing of its intention so to do, to purchase and take over (but only for municipal operation in case of purchase prior to February first, A. D. 1927), the entire street railway system of the Company within the said City, including all property then existing which now constitutes the said street railway system of the Company (except such as is enumerated in "Exhibit D" hereto attached), with all renewals and repairs thereof, and including all the property, franchises, rights and claims described in the appraisal inventory of said Street Railway System as of June 30th, 1906, made by Bion J. Arnold, Mortimer E. Cooley and A. B. du Pont, a copy of which has been filed with the Comptroller of the said City on the fourth day of February, A. D. 1907, except such as may have been sold or extinguished as authorized by this ordinance, destroyed or impaired (ordinary wear excepted), and all property then existing which has been purchased or acquired by the Company after June 30th, 1906, for use as a part of or in connection with the said system of street railways, the cost of which shall have been certified by the Board of Supervising Engineers, as in this section and in Section 7 hereof provided, and also all extensions of and additions (including underground trolleys, if any) to said street railways made under the provisions of this ordinance, and all rights of every kind under this ordinance in or to any subways or extensions thereof constructed under the provisions of this ordinance.

PRICE TO BE PAID BY CITY.

In case the said City shall purchase and take over the street railway system of the Company, as in this ordinance provided, then it shall pay for the same the aggregate of the following items:

1. The value of the property described in the said appraisal inventory and the value of all the franchises, rights and claims of every description, to construct, maintain or operate street railways in the said City now belonging to the Company, or claimed by it, which said value of such property and all of said franchises, rights and claims is hereby fixed (for the purpose of such purchase) at the sum of Twenty-one Million Dollars ($21,000,000).

2. The value of any and all property and equipment and additions thereto supplied, purchased or acquired by said Company as a part of its street railway system, between the 30th day of June, A. D., 1906, and February 1st, A. D., 1907, including any equipment and additions thereto which were in process on June 30th, 1906, of being so supplied, purchased or acquired, but excluding any property described in the aforesaid inventory, and repairs to and maintenance thereof and any expenditures in connection therewith properly chargeable to operating expenses. From such value shall be deducted the value of any property included in said inventory which shall have been lost, destroyed or impaired (ordinary wear excepted) after the 30th day of June, A. D., 1906, and prior to the 1st day of February, A. D., 1907. The value to be allowed under this paragraph Number 2 of this section shall be determined by the Board of Supervising Engineers immediately after the assumption by said Board of their duties in supervising the work of reconstruction and re-equipment in this ordinance provided for, and shall be reported by said Board to the City Comptroller of said City; and the amount so reported by said Board shall be final and binding upon the parties hereto and shall be conclusively held and taken as the value of the property and equipment in this paragraph specified.

3. The cost of reconstruction and re-equipment of said street railway lines of the Company and of the construction of new lines, extensions, underground trolleys and other additions to property actually paid by said Company at and prior to said purchase by said City and certified by the Board of Supervising Engineers, or incurred for work actually done or materials furnished with the approval of said Board under completed or pending contracts, except those for which special provision is made in subdivision 4 of this section, together with the percentages thereon as in Section 7 hereof provided, and all amounts which shall then have been contributed by the Company to the City for the construction of subways or extensions thereof, together with five (5) per cent. of said last named amounts as hereinbefore provided.

4. After the giving of the notice of the election of the said City to purchase said street railway system of the Company, as herein provided, and prior to the date fixed for said purchase, the said Board of Supervising Engineers shall make a written estimate (and furnish a copy thereof to the said Company and the said City) of the probable cost of completing any work of construction or equipment provided for by this ordinance, including the construction of new lines, extensions, underground trolleys, or other additions to property and including any extensions of the street railway system of said Company made under the provisions of Section 36 hereof, which work has, and to the extent to which it has, prior to the date of giving said notice, been contracted for by said Company, with the approval of said Board of Supervising Engineers, and the said City shall either take over and assume said contracts and procure the release of the Company from all obligation thereunder, or the said City shall, at or prior to the date of the said purchase of the street railway system of said Company, deposit with a depositary or depositaries (authorized to act as such by this ordinance) a sufficient amount of money to pay the cost of completing such contracts according to the said estimate of the said Board of Supervising Engineers, and the said Company shall proceed, with all due diligence and care, to complete said contracts at its own expense and under the supervision of said Board of Supervising Engineers, and the cost of completing the said contracts after the date of such purchase by the City, together with the said additional percentages thereof, shall be paid from time to time by the said depositary or depositaries out of the funds so deposited, upon the written certificates of the said Board of Supervising Engineers. In the event that the said amount so deposited shall not be sufficient to pay the said cost, including said additional percentages provided for in Section 7 hereof, the said City shall pay such additional amount as may be necessary for such purpose, and in the event that the amount so deposited shall be more than sufficient to pay the said cost, the unexpended balance shall be returned and paid over to the City by the said depositary or depositaries holding the same, and in no event shall the Company be obligated to incur a greater expense in carying out said contract than the amount so deposited.

PAYMENT OR DEPOSIT OF PURCHASE PRICE.

Upon the deposit of the sum, if any, required by the above and foregoing paragraph numbered 4 of this section and the payment in cash of the amounts hereinbefore in paragraphs numbered 1, 2 and 3 of this section provided for, to the Company, or the deposit of said amounts to the order of the Company with one or more of the depositaries authorized to act as such by this ordinance the said City shall have full right and lawful authority, after the notice and upon any of the dates hereinbefore fixed, to take over and possess, as its own property, all the property, plant and equipment of every sort and nature (including underground trolleys), then constituting the street railway system of the Company, and all rights of every kind under this ordinance in or to any subways or extensions thereof constructed under the provisions of this ordinance, free and clear of all liens and claims of every nature, except that the said City shall take subject to the payment of a fractional part of the unpaid taxes for the current year upon the said property, rights and equipment, equal to the fractional part of the year for which such taxes have been levied or assessed remaining unexpired at the date of such purchase, and the balance of the taxes shall be treated and paid as a part of the operating expenses prior to the sale of the property.

The Company further grants to the said City, and the said City hereby reserves to itself, the right (in addition to the right of purchase hereinbefore granted and reserved) to purchase and take over from the Company at any time prior to February first, 1927, the street railway system, rights and property of the Company, free from any limitation and restriction as to the operation thereof, at the same times and in the same manner at and upon which the City has the right under the foregoing provisions of this section to purchase the same. The price to be paid therefor by the City under the right of purchase in this paragraph granted and reserved shall be the price at which the City shall then have the right to purchase said property for municipal operation as hereinbefore specified, and in addition to such price a sum equal to twenty (20) per cent. of such price.

The property to the possession of which the said City shall then be entitled shall include all of the property then existing which constitutes the street railway system of the Company and its appurtenances at the date of the passage of this ordinance (excepting property enumerated in said "Exhibit D") and all of the property purchased or acquired thereafter by the Company, and all extensions of, or additions to, said street railways, including underground trolleys constructed under the provisions of this ordinance, and all rights of the said Company in or to any subways or extensions thereof constructed under this ordinance, and the sum then on deposit as a reserve fund, under the provisions of Section 16 of this ordinance, excepting such property as may have been sold as in this ordinance authorized, or worn out or destroyed, provided that in case of property destroyed and not then replaced in kind or in value as provided in Section 17 of this ordinance, adjustment shall forthwith be made at the time of such purchase and the obligation of the Company in that behalf discharged either in cash or by deduction from the purchase price.

In the event that it shall be determined that the City is, at the time this ordinance is passed or at the time this ordinance takes effect, without lawful power or authority to acquire or own street railways under the provisions of this ordinance or otherwise, and the City shall thereafter acquire such power or authority, thereupon and after such acquirement the City shall have the right to purchase and acquire said street railways, rights and property under the provisions of this ordinance to the same extent and in the same measure as if said City had full right and lawful authority so to purchase or acquire said street railways, rights and property at the date of the passage of this ordinance and at the date when this ordinance takes effect.

CITY PURCHASE DURING RECONSTRUCTION PERIOD.

SECTION 21. In the event that the said City shall elect to exercise its right of purchase, as in this ordinance provided, at any time prior to the completion of the work of construction, reconstruction, equipment and re-equipment within the time and in the manner provided for in said "Exhibit B," under the head of "Immediate Rehabilitation" it shall take over the same subject to the right and obligation of the Company to complete the said work of "Immediate Rehabilitation" as provided in this ordinance, carrying out the terms and conditions of said "Exhibit B" under the supervision and control of the said Board of Supervising Engineers and receiving therefor the cost thereof and the additional percentages thereon as in Section 7 of this ordinance provided.

In such event in addition to complying with the provisions of Section 20 hereof the said City shall deposit at the time of such purchase with some one or more of the banks or trust companies authorized to act as depositaries under the terms of this ordinance a sufficient amount of money to pay for the completion of the said work of "Immediate Rehabilitation," not herein otherwise provided for, which said amount shall be estimated and determined by the said Board of Supervising Engineers, and shall include said additional percentages provided for in Section 7 hereof.

The said cost of completing the said work of "Immediate Rehabilitation," together with said additional percentages thereof shall be paid from time to time by the said depositary or depositaries, out of the funds so deposited with it or them, upon the written certificates of the said Board of Supervising Engineers.

In the event that the said amount so deposited shall not be sufficient to pay the said cost, including said additional percentages provided for in Section 7 hereof, the said City shall pay such additional amount as may be necessary for such purpose.

In the event that the amount so deposited shall be more than sufficient to pay the said cost, the unexpended balance shall be returned and paid over to the said City by the said depositary or depositaries, and in no event shall the Company be obligated to incur a greater expense for the work of such construction, reconstruction, equipment and re-equipment, including underground trolleys and other additions to plant and property, if any, than the amount so deposited.

RIGHT OF LICENSEE TO PURCHASE.

SECTION 22. The Company by the acceptance of this ordinance shall and does grant to the City, and the City hereby reserves to itself, the right to designate any person, firm or corporation having lawful authority to acquire, own and operate street railways in said City (herein called the "licensee") who or which shall have the right to purchase the street railway system, rights and property of the Company, at the same times and in the same manner at and upon which the City hereunder has the right to purchase the same, subject to the condition that the said licensee shall purchase the same property which the City has herein reserved the right to purchase, and that the price to be paid therefor by the said licensee shall be the price at which the City shall have the right to purchase said property for municipal operation, and in addition to such price a sum equal to twenty (20) per cent. of such price; but it is expressly provided, however, that the said licensee shall not be required to pay the said additional twenty (20) per cent. or any part thereof, if, before the purchase of said property by such licensee shall be consummated, a valid and binding contract shall be entered into between the City and its licensee, either by the passage of an ordinance and the acceptance thereof or otherwise, which shall limit the beneficial interest of the said licensee (and its stockholders, if such licensee is a corporation) in the property purchased and any improvements thereof or additions thereto to a return of the actual moneys invested therein by said licensee and not exceeding five (5) per cent. thereof, in addition thereto, and interest upon the said moneys and the said additional per cent. at a rate not exceeding five (5) per cent. per annum, and which shall provide that all net profits derived from the said property in excess of the beneficial interest of said licensee, limited as aforesaid, shall belong and be paid over to the City.

Nothing in this ordinance, however, shall have the effect or be construed to have the effect of lessening or limiting the right of the City to provide for reducing the rates of fare to be charged by such licensee in the operation of said street railway system or from using the moneys so to be paid over to the said City by said licensee for the purpose of retiring from time to time the stock or other securities issued by said licensee, subject to the limitations of this Section, or from using the said moneys in extending or adding to or improving said street railway system.

The right of the licensee of the City to acquire the said street railway system rights and property by purchase under the provisions of this ordinance shall in no way be impaired by any lack of power or authority on the part of the City itself to acquire the said street railway system, rights and property for municipal use and operation or otherwise.

Upon the purchase of the said street railway system, rights and property under the provisions of this ordinance, either by the City or by any licensee of the City, all rights, of the Company, its licensees or assigns under this ordinance in or to said street railways, rights and property or any part thereof, or the operation thereof, or receipts thereof, shall wholly cease and determine.

RIGHTS OF COMPANY IN CASE CITY DOES NOT PURCHASE FOR TWENTY YEARS.

SECTION 23. In the event that the said street railways are not purchased by the said City or its licensee as hereinabove authorized, prior to February first, A. D., 1927 (and nothing in this ordinance contained shall be construed as being in any event a grant to the Company extending beyond February first, 1927), the said City shall have the right to designate any person, firm or corporation having lawful authority to acquire, own and operate street railways in said City as its licensee, to purchase the said street railways, property and rights of the Company at or after February first, 1927, upon the same terms that the City could then purchase, and in case such reserved right of purchase be not exercised by the said City or its licensee and the City shall grant a right to another company to operate a street railway in the streets and parts of streets constituting the said street railway system of the Company, such new company shall be required to and shall purchase and take over the said street railways, property and rights of the Company at or after February first, 1927, upon the same terms upon which the said City might then purchase and take them over.

No mortgage, trust deed or other instrument given by the Company shall impose any lien upon or create any rights in the said street railways, property and rights, without the same being made specifically subject to all the limitations, conditions and provisions of this ordinance, including the right of the said City or its licensee to acquire the said property and rights upon the terms and in the manner in this ordinance provided, and in the event of such purchase the lien of any such mortgage, trust deed or other encumbrance, and all other liens upon said street railways, property and rights, or any part thereof, shall be discharged from said street railways, property and rights and shall attach to the proceeds of the sale thereof.

INTEREST RETURN ON CAPITAL INVESTMENT.

SECTION 24. On or before the tenth day of April in each year the Company shall come to an accounting and settlement with the said City as of the thirty-first day of January last preceding, upon the following basis:

From the gross receipts of the said street railway system and property from all sources and of every kind for the year ending on said thirty-first day of January there shall be deducted for such year:

First: (1) All expenses of operation, including maintenance, repairs and renewals; (2) All amounts contributed during said year and then held in reserve under the provisions of Sections 16 and 18 hereof; (3) All amounts paid out for taxes and assessments levied and imposed upon the real and personal property of the Company, including all capital stock or franchise taxes levied or assessed after the 31st day of January, 1907, but not including any taxes which may by any court be ordered to be levied, assessed or collected after the 31st day of January, 1907, on account of the failure of the Company or any person, firm or corporation owning or having an interest in the said street railways or property, to pay any taxes which should have been paid for or on account of such street railways or property prior to the 31st day of January, 1907, and not including any sums paid by the Company to the City for city license fees, if any, exacted from the Company or its employes. (4) All salaries and expenses of the Board of Supervising Engineers by this ordinance authorized, after the period of "Immediate Rehabilitation"; and

Second: A sum equivalent to five (5) per centum per annum for said preceding year upon the amount of the cash purchase price which the said City would then be obligated to pay on account of the items specified in subdivisions 1, 2 and 3 of Section 20 hereof, if it were purchasing the property for municipal operation on such thirty-first day of January, interest being adjusted as to items added to such purchase price during said year. In case in any year the gross receipts shall not be sufficient to pay in full the items in the "first" and "second" paragraphs of this section mentioned, then the deficit shall be paid out of the gross receipts of the subsequent year or years.

DIVISION OF REMAINING NET RECEIPTS.

After the deduction from the gross receipts of the items hereinbefore in this section provided, the amount remaining shall be considered as the net receipts for such year arising from the operation of the street railway system hereby authorized, and shall be divided between the Company and the said City in the following proportions: forty-five (45) per cent. to be retained by the Company, and fifty-five (55) per cent. to be paid forthwith by the Company to the said City, crediting thereon all amounts paid out during the preceding year by the Company for City license fees, if any, exacted from the Company or its employes.

COMMUTATION OF FARES.

It is understood and agreed that the Company's agreement and obligation to pay to the City the fifty-five (55) per cent. of the "net receipts," as hereinbefore provided is based upon its right to charge and receive the fares prescribed in Section 11 hereof and to retain as its own the forty-five (45) per cent. of the "net receipts" as is hereinabove in this section provided. The said City, however, reserves the right to, and it may at any time commute a sum not exceeding the City's share of the net receipts for the previous year into a reduction of said rates of fare; and thereafter in the event of such reduction of rates of fare the Company may deduct and retain as its share of the net receipts each year an amount equal to what would have been the Company's share of the net receipts of such year had the passengers carried during such year paid the fares prescribed in this ordinance, but the Company, after deducting and retaining its share of said net receipts so determined shall pay over to the said City the remainder, if any, of the net receipts for such year less the deductions therefrom hereinbefore provided to be made from the said City's share of the "net receipts" on account of license fees.

CITY TO ESTABLISH SINKING FUND FOR MUNICIPAL PURCHASE.

It is further provided that, subject to the action of the City Council of said City, the said City shall deposit the amount so paid to the said City to the credit of a separate fund to be kept and used for the purchase and construction of street railways by said City; but any failure to comply with this provision shall in no way affect the rights or obligations of the Company under this ordinance.

CAPITAL INVESTMENT LIMITATION.

SECTION 25. The Company shall not be required on account of any extensions of subways or on account of underground trolleys, or on account of any extensions of its street railways, other than the extensions provided for in Exhibit A, and in Section 36 of this ordinance, and four (4) miles of double or eight (8) miles of single track per annum, as in Section 3 hereof provided, to increase its total capital investment to such an extent that the return thereon over and above the interest charge of five per cent. thereon by this ordinance authorized, would be reduced to an inadequate or unreasonably small amount.

DEPOSITARIES.

SECTION 26. Any state or national bank or trust company in the City of Chicago or in the City of New York which has a capital stock and surplus amounting to at least one million dollars ($1,000,000) may be selected and can act as a depositary under the provisions of this ordinance, provided, that no moneys shall be deposited with any such depositary under the provisions of this ordinance to an amount exceeding the total capital stock and one-half of the surplus of such depositary; and provided further that all deposits authorized or required by this ordinance (except deposits of purchase money in the event of purchase of said street railway system by the City, or its licensee) shall be made with depositaries in the City of Chicago.

DEPOSITS.

SECTION 27. The Company shall have the right to select the particular depositary or depositaries with which it shall deposit any of the funds required to be deposited by the Company under the provisions of this ordinance, and the Company shall at all times be held responsible for any loss or impairment of any such deposit, and shall promptly make good and restore at its own cost, and not out of the receipts of said street railways, any such loss or impairment. The City or its licensee, as the case may be, shall have the right to select the particular depositary or depositaries with which shall be deposited the funds required to be deposited by the City or its licensee, in the event of purchase of the said street railways by the City or its licensee under the provisions of this ordinance, and the City or its licensee, as the case may be, shall at all times be held responsible for any loss or impairment of any such deposit made by it, and shall promptly make good and restore any such loss or impairment.

Provided, that in all cases where, under the terms of this ordinance, the City is authorized or required to make any deposits of money, the City shall be free from any responsibility for loss or impairment of any such deposit, if not less than thirty days prior to the making of such deposit it shall give notice in writing to the Company of the names of the depositaries in which it shall propose to make such deposit. And the Company, if not satisfied therewith, shall give notice in writing to the City not less than twenty days after receiving such notice from the City. The notice of the Company may direct the City not to make such deposit, or any specified portion of it, with any depositary or depositaries so named by the City of which the Company may disapprove, and in such case such notice by the Company shall contain the names of qualified depositaries from which the City may choose in lieu of the names so disapproved of by the Company, and the number of the names of depositaries in such notice by the Company, from which the City is to choose, shall be at least five in excess of the number of depositaries which the Company shall disapprove of as stated in such notice. And the City, upon making deposits, in accordance with the terms of this proviso, shall be free from any responsibility for loss or impairment of any such deposits.

INTEREST ON DEPOSITS.

SECTION 28. Appropriate provision for the payment of reasonable interest on any funds deposited under the provisions of this ordinance shall be made with the depositary or depositaries of such funds by the party making such deposit. All interest which may accrue upon or be payable on account of any funds deposited under the provisions of this ordinance and any commission or allowance made directly or indirectly by any depositary on account of the funds deposited with it shall be held and considered as a part of the principal fund so deposited and shall be added to such fund as a part thereof.

The Company shall make daily deposits, with some depositary or depositaries authorized by this ordinance, of all moneys received by the Company from the operation of the said street railways and property, and shall make appropriate provision for the payment of reasonable interest on the moneys so deposited by such depositary or depositaries, which interest shall be added to and be held and considered as a part of the gross receipts of the said street railway system and property.

ANNUAL REPORTS.

SECTION 29. The Company, so long as it continues to operate any of the said street railways under this ordinance, and on or before the tenth day of April in each year shall prepare and file with the City Comptroller of said City annual reports for the preceding year ending on the 31st day of January.

Such reports shall be in writing, verified by the affidavit of the Auditor of the Company, setting forth in reasonable detail according to forms prescribed by said Comptroller, the character and amount of business done by the Company for the year immediately preceding such report and the amount of receipts from and the expenses of conducting the said business, and the said City Comptroller, or accountants authorized by him, under the direction of the Mayor or City Council of said City, shall have the right at all reasonable times to examine all the books, vouchers and records of the receipts and expenditures of the Company, for the purpose of ascertaining the accuracy of the reports herein required and the rights of the said City under this ordinance. The Board of Supervising Engineers shall have the power to prescribe the form and manner in which the books and accounts of the Company shall be kept subject to the approval of the City Comptroller. There shall be also an annual audit of the accounts of the Company covering all receipts and expenditures for the year ending on the thirty-first day of January next preceding, and a formal written report by public accountants selected by the City and the Company, the expenses of such audit and report to be paid out of the gross receipts of the Company as an operating expense.

In the event of any purchase of the street railways and property of the company under the provisions of this ordinance, on the first day of August of any year, there shall be an accounting and report for the preceding six months similar in character to that hereinbefore provided.

COMPANY TO MAINTAIN OFFICE IN CITY.

SECTION 30. The Company shall not remove its principal office or any of its books (except bond registry and stock transfer books), records, accounts, contracts, or original vouchers of receipts and expenditures beyond the limits of the said City, and shall maintain an office within said City so long as the Company continues to operate any part of the street railways mentioned and provided for in this ordinance under the provisions hereof.

FORFEITURE FOR NON-COMPLIANCE.

SECTION 31. The Company, by the acceptance of this ordinance, expressly agrees with the said City and obligates itself fully to comply with all of the terms and conditions of this ordinance throughout the period of time covered hereby, and so long as the Company continues to operate any street railways in said City under or by virtue of the authority hereof.

The Company further agrees that in the event that it shall make default in the observance or performance of any of the agreements or conditions herein required to be kept and performed by it, and if any such default shall continue for a period of three (3) months (exclusive of all times during which the Company may be delayed or interfered with, without its connivance, by unavoidable accidents, labor strikes or the orders or judgments of any court entered in any suit brought without its connivance), after written notice thereof to it from the said City, then and in each and every such case, the said City by its City Council shall be entitled to declare this grant and all of the rights and privileges of the Company to maintain and operate street railways in any of the streets or public ways of the said City to be forfeited and at an end; provided, however, that should the Company, for its corporate purposes, pledge or mortgage its street railway property or any of the rights secured to it by this ordinance, or any security representing the said property or rights, for the security of the payment of its notes, bonds or other evidences of indebtedness maturing on or before February first, 1927, the amount thereof not being in excess of the value of all the property and rights of the Company, as defined in Section 20 hereof, such right of forfeiture of this grant by reason of any violation by the Company of the provisions of this ordinance shall not be asserted or exist against such pledgee or pledgees, mortgagee or mortgagees, or any of them, and shall not impair or affect the right of such pledgee or pledgees, mortgagee or mortgagees, to recover by foreclosure or other legal process against all the property of the Company, including the rights and privileges hereby granted, the face value of said notes, bonds or other evidences of indebtedness, or any security representing the said property or rights to an amount, however, not in excess of the sum for which the City would then have the right under the terms of this ordinance to purchase the said street railway property; and it is hereby stipulated that any notice of default by the Company, upon which a forfeiture shall be claimed, shall also be given by the said City to the trustee or mortgagee of record in any trust deed or mortgage securing such indebtedness. The purchaser at any foreclosure or other sale shall acquire no other or greater rights or privileges than are hereby conferred, and such purchaser shall hold said property, so purchased at such foreclosure or other sale, subject to the right of purchase at any time thereafter, as herein provided, by the said City, and also subject to the right of purchase by any licensee of the said City, upon the same terms as the said City might purchase and acquire said property for municipal operation, but without payment in either case of the additional twenty (20) per cent. provided for in Sections 20 and 22 of this ordinance; and also subject to the continuing terms, conditions and limitations of this ordinance, including the forfeiture provisions to the same extent as if the said purchaser had been the original grantee hereunder, except that such purchaser shall have no right to execute or deliver any mortgage, trust deed or other encumbrance on said street railways, rights and property or any part thereof without the consent of said City.

The City shall have the right to bid and become the purchaser at any such foreclosure or other sale.

The said Company further expressly agrees that, by the acceptance by it of this ordinance, it is obligated to complete the said work of "Immediate Rehabilitation" provided for in said "Exhibit B" within the time and in the manner set forth in said Exhibit (due allowance being made for any and all delays or interruptions arising without its connivance by unavoidable accidents, labor strikes, or the orders or judgments of any court entered in any suit brought without its connivance), and if the Company shall fail or neglect to proceed with the said work of "Immediate Rehabilitation" with all reasonable diligence and promptness after the acceptance of this ordinance by the Company, or to complete the said work within the time prescribed in said "Exhibit B," and said Board of Supervising Engineers shall certify to the City Council of the said City that the Company has failed or neglected to so proceed with said work, or has failed or neglected to complete the work in the time specified in "Exhibit B," the Company shall be and is obligated to pay to the said City for each day that such default or neglect shall continue, the sum of ten thousand dollars as liquidated damages; and if the Company shall, at any time after the acceptance of this ordinance by it, fail to comply with the provisions hereof with regard to the maintenance of first class street railway service over and upon its said lines of street railways, the said City shall have the right to sue for and recover in any court of competent jurisdiction the sum of not less than fifty dollars and not more than five hundred dollars for each and every such failure and each and every day that such failure shall continue shall be taken and held to be a separate offense; but the payment of such penalties shall not in any manner release the liability of the Company to incur a forfeiture of all its rights and privileges under this ordinance, as hereinabove in this section provided.

WAIVER OF RIGHTS.

SECTION 32. The Company, in consideration of the grant made by this ordinance, upon the terms and conditions herein expressed, agrees to waive, surrender and release, and by the acceptance of this ordinance, the Company does waive, surrender and release all and every one of the rights and claims of the Company of every kind and nature, in the streets of the said City, other than the rights granted by this ordinance.

CITY'S RIGHT TO INTERVENE.

SECTION 33. The Company by the acceptance of this ordinance shall and does grant to the said City, and the said City hereby reserves to itself the right to intervene in any suit or proceeding brought by any person, firm or corporation seeking to enjoin, restrain or in any manner interfere with the Company in the doing of any work called for by this ordinance, or involving the observance or performance of any of the agreements or conditions herein provided to be kept or performed by the Company, or in any suit to foreclose or enforce any lien, mortgage or trust deed against it and to move for a dissolution of such injunction or restraining order in such suit, and take any other appropriate steps to protect the rights of the said City in case it shall deem such action necessary and appropriate to protect the interests of the said City.

BOARD OF SUPERVISING ENGINEERS.

SECTION 34. Immediately upon the acceptance of this ordinance by the Company, there shall be organized a Board of Supervising Engineers in the manner following:

Within thirty (30) days after the acceptance of this ordinance as hereinafter provided, the Company shall appoint an engineer to represent it on said Board, and shall notify the Mayor of said City, in writing, of the name and address of such engineer; and within thirty (30) days after such notice the said City shall appoint an engineer as its representative on said Board (which appointment shall be made by the Mayor of the said City and shall be subject to the approval of the City Council), and shall notify the Company in writing of the name and address of its said engineer.

Bion J. Arnold is hereby selected and appointed the third member of said Board. The said City or the Company may respectively, at any time and from time to time, remove its representative on said Board, and may also respectively from time to time, appoint an engineer to represent it upon said Board, whenever and as often as it shall fail to have a representative upon said Board from any cause whatsoever. No such removal or appointment shall take effect until written notice thereof has been given to the other party by the party making such removal or appointment.

The said City and the Company may, at any time and from time to time, remove the third engineer from said Board, and may also select and appoint a third engineer to be a member of said Board, whenever and as often as a vacancy in said Board shall occur from the death, resignation, removal, refusal or inability to act of the third engineer upon said Board.

In the event that any vacancy in the position of third engineer upon said Board shall not be filled by the selection of a third engineer by said City and the Company within thirty (30) days after such vacancy shall arise, then the persons then acting as judges of the (main) Appellate Court for the First District of Illinois, or a majority of them, may fill such vacancy on said Board by appointing a competent engineer thereto upon the application of said City or the Company, after ten days' written notice having been given to the other party of such application.

In case either the said City or the Company shall at any time desire the removal of the third engineer and the appointment of another engineer in his place, the party desiring such removal and new appointment may, upon giving ten (10) days' written notice thereof to the other party, apply to the said judges for such removal, and the said judges or a majority of them shall within ten (10) days from and after such application set the same for informal and summary public hearing, at which the party desiring the removal shall publicly present its reasons for asking such removal.

Upon such application of either the said City or the Company, the said judges or a majority of them shall have the power, but shall not be required to remove the said third engineer. The third engineer shall not be removed by the said judges or a majority of them at any time, except upon the application of either the said City or the Company.

Upon the refusal or failure of the said Judges then constituting the (main) Appellate Court for the First District of Illinois, or a majority of them, to make the appointment herein authorized within thirty (30) days after being requested so to do, either the said City or the Company may, upon giving ten (10) days' written notice to the other party of its intention so to do, apply to any judge of the Circuit Court of Cook County, Illinois, for the appointment of a third engineer to fill any vacancy existing in said position, and the judge so applied to shall have the power to appoint such third engineer, who, when appointed, shall be a member of said Board, and shall be subject to removal in the manner hereinabove provided.

Either the Company or the City shall have the right to apply to any court of competent jurisdiction for the removal of any member of said Board of Supervising Engineers for fraud, corruption, or failure to perform in good faith his duties under this ordinance.

A majority of said Board of Supervising Engineers shall at all times be authorized to exercise the powers conferred by this ordinance on said Board.

All words in this ordinance contained purporting to give authority to said Board of Superivising Engineers shall be construed as giving such authority to a majority of said Board.

SALARIES AND EXPENSES OF BOARD.

The said Board of Supervising Engineers shall maintain an office in the said City and shall employ the necessary assistance and purchase the necessary supplies and materials to enable it properly to perform its duties under this ordinance.

The said third engineer shall be ex-officio Chairman of the Board, and shall be paid for his services as a member of said Board compensation at the rate of fifteen thousand dollars ($15,000.00) per annum.

During the period of "Immediate Rehabilitation," said Bion J. Arnold, so long as he continues to act as a member of said Board, shall, in addition to his duties as a member of said Board of Supervising Engineers, act as Chief Engineer of the work contemplated in this ordinance, and shall receive as additional compensation for such service, the sum of fifteen thousand dollars ($15,000.00) per annum. In such capacity he shall have charge of the preparation of the plans and specifications, and the general direction of the entire work, and of its inspection during construction. Said plans and specifications and system of inspection shall be subject to the approval of the Board of Supervising Engineers.

Each of the other two members of said Board shall, in addition to attending the monthly meetings of the Board, attend such other meetings as may be called by the Chairman, and be paid for his services as a member of said Board, compensation at the rate of one hundred dollars ($100.00) per day, and his traveling and living expenses while away from his home, and actually engaged upon this work, it being understood that his total compensation for services shall not be less than thirty-six hundred dollars ($3,600.00) nor more than ten thousand dollars ($10,000.00) per year. The Chairman of said Board shall call (in addition to such meetings as he may deem desirable or necessary) a meeting of said Board at any time upon request of the President of either of said companies, or the Mayor of said City.

The salaries and expenses of said Board of Supervising Engineers during the period of "Immediate Rehabilitation" provided for in this ordinance shall be added to and form a part of the cost of such "Immediate Rehabilitation," but thereafter shall be paid out of gross receipts, as an operating expense.

In case the said ordinance to the said Chicago Railways Company is passed and accepted by said Chicago Railways Company, the third engineer and the engineer representing the City on the Board of Supervising Engineers created by said ordinance shall be the same persons who act as the third engineer and the engineer representing the City, respectively, in the Board of Supervising Engineers created by this ordinance; and the said Chicago Railways Company and the Chicago City Railway Company shall agree upon one engineer as their joint representative upon said Board; but in case they do not so agree, each of said Companies may select its own representative, who shall in such case act as a member of said Board only in the consideration and determination of matters relating to the street railways and property of the particular Company he represents.

In the determination of any matter relating to subways and through routes and all other matters in which said companies are jointly interested the representative of each of said companies on said Board of Supervising Engineers shall be entitled to one-half of a vote.

In case said ordinance to said Chicago Railways Company is passed and accepted by said Company, the salaries and compensation of said engineers provided for in this ordinance shall include all compensation or salaries payable to said engineers under said other ordinance without duplication, and shall be equitably apportioned by the said third engineer between the said two Companies, taking into consideration the work done by said Board under the said ordinances, respectively, and the determination of said third engineer as to such apportionment shall be final and binding upon the parties whose interests are therein concerned.

CITY TO RESERVE POLICE POWER.

SECTION 35. Nothing in this ordinance contained shall be construed as depriving the said City of the right of exercising any police power which it would have possessed or enjoyed had this ordinance not been granted.

The enumeration herein of special requirements and specific regulations shall not be taken or held to imply the relinquishment by the said City of its power to make other requirements or regulations, and the said City hereby expressly reserves the right to make all regulations which may be necessary to secure in the most ample manner the safety, welfare and accommodation of the public, including among other things the right to pass and enforce ordinances to protect the public from danger or inconvenience in the management and operation of street railways throughout the said City and the right to make and enforce all such regulations as shall be reasonably necessary to secure adequate and sufficient street railway accommodations for the people, and insure their comfort and convenience.

The said Council may vest any or all matters of administration under this ordinance, including such thereof as are herein vested in the Mayor, Comptroller or other City officials named in this ordinance or in said "Exhibit B" attached hereto (but excepting those herein vested in said Board of Supervising Engineers), in a Department or Bureau of Local Transportation, or in its City Engineer, or in any official or employes of said City.

COMPREHENSIVE RECONSTRUCTION AND UNIFIED OPERATION ASSURED.

SECTION 36. For the purpose of carrying into effect the purpose and desire of the said City to provide for the unified operation and the comprehensive reconstruction of all the street railways within said City, an ordinance similar to this ordinance in general provisions and character, covering the system of street railways now maintained and operated by the Receivers of the Chicago Union Traction Company, granting to the Chicago Railways Company the right to operate said system, has been presented for passage by the City Council of said City, concurrently with this ordinance, and it is hereby expressly provided that in the event that the Company accepts this ordinance and files the bond as required in this ordinance within the time herein prescribed, and the said Chicago Railways Company fails to accept the said ordinance to the said Chicago Railways Company after its passage and within the time and according to the terms provided therein, or in any ordinance amendatory thereof or supplementary thereto, the Company hereby obligates itself to extend and operate its street railway system over and upon the streets and parts of streets in the said City covered by the said ordinance to the said Chicago Railways Company, so far as and to the extent that the rights of the companies now operating the street railways upon such streets and parts of streets cease and expire by limitation or otherwise, the said street railway system of the Company to be extended over each such street or part of street as rapidly as and to whatever extent the said City is able to and does confer upon the Company lawful authority to construct and operate street railways upon such streets and parts of streets, respectively, and deliver to the Company peaceable possession thereof for such purposes. And the Company hereby agrees to construct and operate in each such street and part of street so turned over to it as aforesaid, the street railways and equipment required by the ordinance to said Chicago Railways Company to be constructed by it therein, including the reconstruction of the tunnels under the Chicago River at Washington and La Salle streets, respectively, and the making of the contribution for the construction of subways and extensions thereof provided for in said last mentioned ordinance.

And the said Company agrees that it will furnish the necessary moneys to pay or to enable said City to pay for the physical property constituting the street railways and equipment in any such street or part of street which the City or its licensee may be authorized or required to purchase under and in accordance with the terms of the ordinances of said City which have been heretofore passed and are now in force with respect to any such street or part of street, respectively, property so purchased to be turned over to the Company as a part of the extension of the Company's system provided for in this Section, and the moneys so paid or advanced shall be held and considered as a part of the expense of making such extension. For the purpose of making any such extension the Company agrees that it will, when authorized and required by the City, purchase and pay for the physical property constituting the then existing street railway and equipment located upon any street or part of street turned over to the Company under the foregoing provisions of this Section, provided the price to be paid for such property shall not exceed the value of the same for street railway purposes as estimated by the Board of Supervising Engineers, and that, when acquired, said property shall be used by the Company as a part of the extension of its system upon such street or part of street under the provisions of this ordinance, and that the amount paid for such property shall be held and considered as a part of the cost of making such extension under the provisions of this ordinance.

All such extensions of the Company's system and the operation thereof shall be subject to the provisions of this ordinance, in the same manner and to the same extent as if herein expressly provided for as a part of the street railway system of the Company covered by this ordinance.

The construction and equipment of all such extensions shall be made under the supervision of and the cost thereof determined by the said Board of Supervising Engineers, and such extensions shall be in all respects subject to the provisions of this ordinance as to purchase by the said City or its licensee, the determination of the character and cost of construction, reconstruction, equipment and re-equipment, the annual return to the Company upon its investment, the division of profits with the said City and the operation of such extensions by the Company, so far as such provisions can be made applicable thereto.

The City agrees that, in case it shall require the Company to extend its street railway system over or upon any street or part of street covered by the said ordinance to the said Chicago Railways Company, under the provisions of this section, the Company shall have the right to extend its street railway system over and upon all of the streets and parts of streets covered by the ordinance to the said Chicago Railways Company, upon the terms specified in this section, when and as soon as the now existing rights of other companies in said streets or parts of streets, respectively, shall expire or be terminated.

The obligations of the Company under this section to construct, reconstruct, equip, re-equip and operate street railways, tunnels and subways, and to furnish funds to the City for the purposes specified in this section, may be discharged either by the Company itself, or at its election, from time to time, either in whole or in part, through the agency of the Chicago City Railroad Company (hereinafter called the Railroad Company), a corporation organized under the laws of the State of Illinois, provided that the Company shall first enter into such contracts and arrangements with the Railroad Company as shall secure and make certain the operation of the lines of street railways constructed by the Railroad Company as an integral part of the street railway system of the Company, and also shall secure to the City and its licensee and to the public the same rights in and upon all of the said lines of the street railways, tunnels and subways of the Company, falling within the provisions of this section, which would have existed if the entire obligations of the Company under this section had been discharged by it directly without the intervention of the Railroad Company, including the right of the City or its licensee to purchase all such lines of street railways (including all interest in tunnels and subways), in the same manner and upon the same terms and conditions as though all and every part thereof had been constructed, or the money therefor had been advanced, by the Company, without any interest therein having at any time been in the Railroad Company.

The Railroad Company, in consideration of the passage of this ordinance, hereby assumes and agrees to discharge all of the obligations assumed or imposed, or attempted to be assumed or imposed, upon the Company as to street railways, tunnels and subways within the North and West Divisions of the City of Chicago, in all respects the same as though it had been named in place of the Company in the foregoing clauses of this section; and agrees that all the work done by it and the moneys advanced by it shall be subject to all the provisions of this section, and of all the other sections of this ordinance, to the same extent and in the same manner as though said obligations had been discharged by the Company, and all moneys advanced by the Railroad Company had been advanced by the Company.

The Railroad Company further agrees that the City and its licensee and the public shall have the same rights in and upon any and all of the lines of street railways, tunnels and subways constructed in whole or in part by it, or with moneys advanced by it, which they would have had if the same had been constructed and the contributions to the cost thereof had been made wholly by the Company under the terms and provisions of this section, without the intervention of the Railroad Company, including the right of the City or its licensee to purchase such street railways and other property or interests therein, in the same manner, for the same price and upon the same terms and conditions as though all and every part thereof had been constructed or the money therefor had been advanced by the Company, without any interest therein having at any time been in the Railroad Company; and the Railroad Company hereby consents and agrees that the entire purchase price therefor may be included in one sum paid to or deposited to the credit of the Company under the terms and provisions of this ordinance, the Railroad Company agreeing to rely wholly upon its agreement with the Company for its interest in, or share of, such purchase price. The Railroad Company and the Company further undertake and agree that all street railways, tunnels and subways, and other railway properties acquired, constructed or operated under the provisions of this section, including those constructed by, or the cost of which shall be defrayed in whole or in part by the Railroad Company, shall form, and be operated as, an integral part of the street railway system of the Company, under a lease or leases, or operating agreement or operating agreements, between the Railroad Company and the Company.

The Railroad Company by its acceptance of this ordinance expressly agrees with the said City that all the terms, provisions and conditions of this ordinance shall apply to and control the construction and operation of any street railway properties in which it shall have any interest, or to the cost of which it shall contribute, in like manner and to the same extent as though such street railway properties were wholly constructed and operated, and the contributions to the cost thereof were made by the Company. And the Railroad Company and the Company further covenant and agree with the City, that as between the City and the Railroad Company and the Company, all books of account, settlements, charges to capital account, payments of interest on capital account, expenditures and deposits on account of maintenance, repairs and renewals, and the division of net receipts, shall be made with regard to the entire properties constructed under or operated by both of said companies under this ordinance, as though the ownership, operation and control of the same were wholly and solely in the Company, to the end that the rights of the City under this ordinance shall in no wise be different in any respect from what they would have been if the entire street railway properties (including subways and tunnels) affected by this ordinance had been constructed, operated, and the contributions to the cost thereof made wholly and solely by the Company.

The Company further agrees that a forfeiture of all of its rights and privileges under this ordinance may be declared and enforced for any default of the Railroad Company in the observance or performance of any agreement or condition herein contained to be kept and performed by it, in like manner and with like effect as though such default was the default of the Company; and the Railroad Company covenants and agrees that any forfeiture of the rights and privileges of the Company shall operate and be effective as a forfeiture of all of the rights and privileges of the Railroad Company under this ordinance, to the same extent and with the same effect as the rights and privileges of the Company shall have been forfeited by reason of such default.

The Company further agrees that if any of the agreements or undertakings on the part of the Company in this ordinance contained shall be ultra vires such fact shall in nowise affect or impair the right of the City to declare a forfeiture of all the rights and privileges by this ordinance granted to the Company, on account of the non-performnce of any such ultra vires agreement or undertaking, in the same manner and with like effect as though all of such agreements and undertakings were within the Company's chartered powers, the grants herein made to the Company being expressly conditioned on the performance of each and every of the agreements and undertakings of the Company herein contained, the forfeiture of the Company's rights, however, to be made in the manner and with the effect provided in Section 31 of this ordinance.

ORDINANCE BINDING UPON SUCCESSORS AND ASSIGNS.

SECTION 37. This ordinance shall inure to the benefit of and be binding upon the lessees, successors and assigns of the Company, and they and each of them shall be bound by all and every its provisions by the Company to be kept and performed, precisely as if in every case they had respectively been named herein with the Company.

LEASE OR ASSIGNMENT.

SECTION 38. No lease, or operating agreement, and no assignment (except by way of mortgage or trust deed, under the foregoing provisions and limitations of this ordinance), shall be made by the Company without the consent of the City Council of said City.

WARRANTY OF TITLE.

SECTION 39. Whenever the City, or its licensee, shall desire to purchase and take over the street railway system of the Company within the said City, as in this ordinance provided, and shall comply with the provisions of this ordinance with respect to making such purchase and payment therefor, the Company shall, by good and sufficient written instruments to that end, transfer to the City, or its licensee, as the case may be, all its said street railway system and property, free from all claims and liens whatsoever, and the Company shall warrant the title to all of the property so transferred to the City or its licensee, to be free from all claims and liens whatsoever, and also that there are no outstanding rights in the streets or parts of streets occupied by its street railways, in any person or corporation, derived through or under said Company, except the rights of the Chicago General Railway Company on 22nd, Main and Laurel streets under the leases referred to in Section 1 of this ordinance, and if at the date of said purchase there shall exist any defect in or incumbrance upon the Company's title to any of the real estate now owned by the Company, an amount of the purchase price equal to the appraised value of the real estate, the title to which shall be incumbered or defective, as shown by the appraisal inventory made by Bion J. Arnold, Mortimer E. Cooley and A. B. du Pont, hereinbefore mentioned, shall remain in one or more of the depositaries with which the City or its licensee shall deposit the purchase money for said street railway properties until such defects and incumbrances shall be cured or removed, as security to the purchaser against loss by reason of such defects or incumbrances.

BOND.

SECTION 40. The Company shall forever indemnify and save harmless the said City against and from all damages, judgments, decrees, costs and expenses which the said City may suffer or which may be recoverable from or obtained against the said City, for or by reason of the granting of the privileges hereby conferred upon the Company, or for or by reason of or growing out of or resulting from the exercise by the Company of the privileges hereby granted, or any of them, or from any act or acts of the Company, its servants or agents, under or by virtue of the provisions of this ordinance.

And the Company shall, within the time limited for the acceptance of this ordinance, file with the City Clerk of said City its bond to the said City, in the penal sum of One Hundred Thousand Dollars, conditioned that it will forever indemnify and save harmless the said City as aforesaid; provided, however, that the giving of said bond or the recovery of a judgment or judgments thereon by the said City shall not be construed as measuring, lessening or limiting the liability of the Company to the said City under any provisions of this ordinance.

RIGHTS AND OBLIGATIONS DATE FROM FEBRUARY 1, 1907.

SECTION 41. If the Company shall accept this ordinance within the time limited therein for the acceptance thereof, then the rights and obligations of the City and the Company under this ordinance shall be the same as if this ordinance had been passed on February first, 1907, and had been accepted by the Company on February first, 1907, and accounting shall be had as between the City and the Company as of that date.

ACCEPTANCE.

SECTION 42. This ordinance shall not take effect or be in force unless and until a majority of the votes cast upon the following question of public policy at the election to be held in the City of Chicago, on the first Tuesday in April, A. D. 1907, are in the affirmative:

"For the approval of ordinances substantially in the form of the pending ordinances (reported to the City Council of the City of Chicago on January 15, A. D. 1907), authorizing the Chicago City Railway Company and the Chicago

In the event, and only in the event, that the said question of public policy is submitted to the electors of said city at said election and a majority of the votes cast upon the said question at said election are in the affirmative, then, and in that event, this ordinance shall take effect and be in force from and after its acceptance by the Company and by the Railroad Company, under their respective corporate seals, after the said first Tuesday in April, A. D. 1907; provided, that if the Company shall not file with the City Clerk of the said City the penal bond above herein mentioned, or if either the Company or the Railroad Company shall not file its formal acceptance of this ordinance and of all its terms and conditions within ninety (90) days from the passage hereof, then all rights and privileges hereby granted shall be wholly null and void and of no effect; the acceptance of this ordinance by both of said Companies being hereby made a condition of this ordinance taking effect.

The Company is permitted to construct, maintain and operate all curves, crossings, cross-overs, turnouts, branch-offs, switches and connections within the streets, alleys and public places above specifically described, connecting and necessary and convenient to connect tracks authorized by this ordinance, or to connect said tracks, or any of them, or its tracks or private property, with the tracks of other corporations or with power houses, substations, car houses, shops, yards and other property now used or hereafter required to be used in the operation of its street railways under the powers given by this ordinance; and to erect and maintain all poles and wires necessary to be used in connecting its said property, power houses and street railways.

EXHIBIT B.—CHICAGO CITY RAILWAY COMPANY.

Immediately upon the acceptance of this ordinance by the Company it shall proceed with all due diligence to repair and reconstruct its street railway system and equipment and to secure the necessary supply of electric power to comply with the provisions of this ordinance and under the following specifications:

Immediate Rehabilitation.

That the character of service required by the accompanying ordinance may be established at the earliest moment practicable, the Company shall, upon the acceptance of said ordinance, proceed immediately, (1) to remove from the streets all of its present cable tracks, slots, and conduits, and substitute therefor electric tracks of the character and type as hereinafter described; (2) to rebuild at least 60 miles (single track) of the present electric track of the Company with track of the character and type hereinafter described; (3) to construct and equip the necessary system of distribution and substations, as may be determined upon by said

Company with the approval of the Board of Supervising Engineers, to transmit and transform whatever electric power may be required to enable the Company at all times to operate its street railways efficiently and continuously; (4) to rebuild and re-equip its car houses so as to enable it to properly clean and maintain its cars; and (5) to increase as rapidly as possible the number of double truck cars, of the character and type as hereinafter described, until there shall be in operation on its street railway system at least eight hundred (800) such cars. The Company shall diligently prosecute the work above specified and required, and complete the same as rapidly as practicable, in accordance with the provisions of said ordinance, and in compliance with the general specifications herein contained, but in any event the said work shall be completed within three (3) years from the date of the actual acceptance of said ordinance.

GENERAL SPECIFICATIONS.

In addition to the work hereinabove specifically required the Company shall, as promptly as possible, do the necessary work and purchase the necessary materials and equipment to put its entire street railway system and equipment in the best practicable condition to enable it to furnish to the citizens of Chicago the quality and kind of service contemplated and required by this ordinance, and shall at all times maintain the same at the highest practicable efficiency.

Permits.

The Company, before it makes any excavation in or in any way interferes with the surface of, any street or public way for the purpose of doing any work shall obtain from the Commissioner of Public Works of the City a permit so to do, which permit shall contain a condition requiring the Company to restore said street or way and maintain it for one year thereafter; and in every case the Company, after it has restored such street or way, shall maintain it for one year after such restoration.

Permits for Buildings.

All permits issued for the removal of buildings on or across any track of the Company shall provide that the Company be notified at least two days in advance of such removal; that such removal shall only take place, unless with the consent of the Company, between the hours of twelve o'clock midnight and five o'clock A. M.; and that the party to whom the permit is issued shall pay to the Company the actual cost of removing and replacing its overhead equipment, and for the interruption of its traffic from five A. M. to twelve o'clock midnight, if such interruption shall occur.

Tracks.

The tracks to be maintained by the Company shall not be elevated above the surface of the street or public way in which they are placed. They shall be laid and maintained by the Company so as to conform to the grade of such street or public way as the same is, or from time to time hereafter shall be, established by the City Council.

All new tracks shall be laid with the best materials and in the most approved modern manner.

Spacing Tracks.

In laying or relaying rails in any of the streets included in the accompanying ordinance upon which more than one track is located the distance between centers of tracks may remain as at present, but in order to accommodate large, modern cars, and provide for their safe passage, this distance may be at least nine (9) feet eight and one-half (8½) inches between center lines of tracks. The tracks at curves wherever practicable shall be laid to such center as to enable cars to pass with suitable and safe clearance. The exact location of tracks in the streets shall be subject to the approval of the Commissioner of Public Works.

Rails.

All new track construction hereafter laid in streets or public ways shall be laid with modern improved rails of the grooved type, weighing not less than one hundred and twenty-nine (129) pounds per yard, which shall in all respects conform to the specifications for grooved rails as contained in Section 1944 of the Revised Municipal Code of Chicago, as amended by ordinance of the City Council passed October 8th, 1906.

Joints.

All rail joints shall be either cast-welded, electrically welded, or of a type which will give an equally smooth and even joint, except that the joint used must be one which will provide a carrying capacity for the electric current equivalent to the carrying capacity of the rail.

Track Substructure.

The rails shall be laid upon concrete beams, wooden ties, steel ties or cast-iron chairs or in some other form of first-class modern approved street railway track construction.

The foundation shall be either of concrete, crushed stone or other ballast material, which in the judgment of the Board of Supervising Engineers shall best suit the conditions of soil and drainage. Said foundation to be brought to the proper height to serve as a suitable foundation for the pavement.

Bonding.

In case the rails are joined by any other form of joint than a cast-welded or electrically-welded joint, there shall be some form of bond used which will connect the ends of the rails in such manner that the conductivity of the joints shall be equivalent to the carrying capacity of the rail. The rails of each single track and the inside rails of the double track of all tracks shall be connected by cross-bonds of No. 2/0 (B. & S. Gauge) copper wire spaced not more than one thousand (1000) feet apart, and properly secured to the rails in such manner that the full conducting effect of the wire may be utilized. The rails shall be so bonded or joined and such return circuits and other necessary devices installed as to prevent damage from electrolysis as effectually as possible.

Special Work.

At all points of intersection of the tracks of the Company with its own tracks or with the tracks of other companies, there shall be provided suitable steel special work of ample strength and weight to correspond with the structure to which it connects. The frogs, switches and mates shall be provided with wearing plates of hardened steel. All special work and curves shall be laid in the same general manner required for straight-line track.

Poles and Wires.

All new overhead construction shall consist of one (1) trolley wire suspended over each track by span wires attached to poles set at the curb-line or suspended from brackets attached to poles.

The design of poles hereafter erected shall be subject to approval of the Board of Engineers, and shall be of iron or steel, weighing approximately nine hundred (900) pounds each, set in concrete and kept thoroughly painted. They shall be spaced on an average of from one hundred (100) to one hundred fifteen (115) feet apart for straight track, except at street intersections, and so as not to obstruct cross streets, alleys, or private driveways. The location of poles shall be subject to the approval of the Commissioner of Public Works.

All material used in the overhead construction shall be of the most modern type and shall be capable of sustaining all the weights and strains that come upon it under normal conditions of operation and from wind, sleet and ordinary accidents.

The trolley wire shall be not less than No. 2/0 (B. & S. Gauge) hard-drawn copper, unless the Board of Supervising Engineers shall approve other sizes for specific cases. Phosphor bronze, silicon bronze or other material equal in strength may also be used. Trolley wires shall be suspended not less than eighteen and one-half (18½) feet above the rails, except when such wires are suspended under viaducts, bridges and other structures. There shall be at least two (2) insulations between the trolley wire and the supporting pole. Span wires shall be galvanized iron or steel or silicon bronze.

Feeders and Transmission Wires.

All feeder and transmission wires within that portion of the City lying east of the west line of Halsted street, north of the south line of Thirty-ninth street, and south of the main Chicago River, and also south of Thirty-ninth street east of the right of way of the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern Railroad, shall be laid underground. To this end, authority is hereby conferred upon the Company to enter upon, excavate for, and construct a system of conduits in the streets, alleys, and other public ways of the City of sufficient capacity to carry its said wires. All feeder wires in any other territory shall be similarly placed underground whenever the City shall require all other overhead public service wires (except trolley wires) in such territory to be placed underground. All transmission wires used by the Company within the city limits, carrying a pressure of 1,000 volts or more shall be placed underground.

Feeder and transmission wires, not required to be placed underground, shall be suspended by insulators upon said poles supporting said trolley wires or upon poles placed at the side of streets, alleys or other public ways in locations to be approved by the Commissioner of Public Works. These wires and poles shall be so situated that the Company may conveniently make all the connections authorized by said ordinance and the exhibits thereto. The said trolley wires, feeder wires and all other wires authorized by said ordinance to be installed by the Company, where located in streets, alleys, or other public or private ways, in, along or across which are located railroads elevated above the surface of the streets, may be strung upon or from the structures of such railroads, with the consent of the Company owning or operating the same. Said wires shall be attached to said structures and maintained under the supervision of the City Electrician.

Conduits.

Underground conduits to carry any of the wires authorized by said ordinance, to be installed by the Company, shall not exceed four (4) feet in width and three

(3) feet in depth, and shall be of tile, cement, iron or other material impervious to moisture and not subject to decay. All transmission and feeder wires and cables laid under ground shall be covered with lead or other impervious material. Before any cable containing such wires shall be put in use it shall be tested by an alternating current of twice the working voltage of the cable. All forms of cable used by the Company containing more than one conductor shall be tested in like manner.

City Conduits.

If at any time the City shall desire to place conduits and manholes in streets or public ways wherein the Company is then about to place conduits and manholes, a single trench may be used for both conduits, but the manholes of the Company shall be kept separate and distinct from those of the City. The expense in such case shall be divided between the Company and the City according to the space used by each therein.

Conductors.

All wires and conductors for the transmission of electricity in and along any street, alley or public way (whether under or above ground) shall be installed in a substantial and workmanlike manner, so as to interfere as little as possible with the other uses of said public places; and all electric work of every kind and character shall comply strictly with the ordinances of the City applicable thereto.

Maintenance of Streets.

The Company, as respects filling, grading, paving, keeping in repair, sweeping, sprinkling, keeping clean, or otherwise improving the streets or parts of streets occupied by its railway, shall fill, grade, pave, keep in repair, sweep, sprinkle, and keep clean and free from snow eight (8) feet in width of all streets and public ways, or portions thereof, occupied by it with a single track railway, and sixteen (16) feet in width of all streets and public ways, or portions thereof, occupied by it with a double track railway.

In removing snow the Company shall not deposit it upon the portions of the street or public way outside of the tracks, except temporarily; and in every case of such temporary deposit it shall be removed within a reasonable time, to be fixed by the Commissioner of Public Works.

Pavement.

The Company, upon the order of the Commissioner of Public Works, and approval of the Board of Supervising Engineers, shall pave, repave, or repair the portions of the streets and public ways which by this grant it is required to keep paved and in repair, whenever and as often as the same shall reasonably require paving, repaving or repairing, and shall at all times keep the surface of all of its paving at least up to the top of the rail.

The pavement which the Company shall be required to lay down and keep in repair in the portion of any street or way which it is required herein to pave and keep in repair shall be of the following kinds, to-wit:

First. In all streets or ways in which the Company has in place, at the date of the passage of this ordinance, a good serviceable pavement, it shall repair and maintain the same while serviceable under the direction of the Commissioner of Public Works, as aforesaid.

Second. Whenever any existing pavement of the Company, in any paved street or way, can no longer be made serviceable by repair; and whenever the portions of any street or public way outside of the strip herein required to be paved by the Company are newly paved or repaved, with asphalt, granite, brick, creosoted block, or other similar material, as aforesaid, and the pavement of the Company therein does not comply with the following specifications; and whenever the Company relays its rails in any such paved street or public way in which its pavement does not comply with the following specifications, then, and in any of such events, the Company shall pave or repave the portion of any such street or public way, which it is herein required to keep paved, with granite paving blocks having a uniform grain and texture, without lamination or stratification, and free from an excess of mica or feldspar. Said block shall measure from three and one-half (3½) to five and one-half (5½) inches in width, from seven (7) to eleven (11) inches in length (except that shorter stones may be used to break joints), and not less than five (5) inches in depth. They shall be so dressed as to have substantially rectangular plane surfaces, so that when in place the joints at the ends and sides shall average one-fourth (¼) inch in width. Soft or weather-worn stones, obtained from the surface of the quarry, and stones which wear to a polish under traffic shall not be used. All blocks shall be laid in uniform courses across the roadway; and the space between the blocks, when in place, shall in no case be less than one-eighth (⅛) of an inch nor more than three-eighths (⅜) of an inch in width. Each course shall consist of blocks of the same width. They shall be so laid that all longitudinal joints shall be broken by a lap of approximately three inches. The spaces shall be immediately filled to within two (2) inches of the top of the blocks with dry gravel free from loam or dirt, and the blocks rammed to a true surface and firm bed with a seventy-five (75) pound rammer of approved shape. No cracked or chipped blocks shall remain in the pavement. After ramming, the spaces between the blocks shall be completely filled with a paving pitch made by the distillation of "straight run" coal tar and of such quality and consistency as shall be approved by the Commissioner of Public Works. The pitch shall be used at a temperature of not less than two hundred and eighty (280) degrees Fahrenheit and be spread in such quantity as to apply two (2) gallons to each square yard of pavement. The spreading shall be done in sections if the Commissioner of Public Works so directs. Provided, that, in any ordinance providing for the paving of such streets the Company may be required to pave in like manner and with like material as therein specified for other contiguous portions of said streets, except that when asphalt is used a layer of granite blocks shall be put in next to and on both sides of each rail.

Third. Whenever any existing pavement of the Company, in any unpaved street, or public way, can no longer be made serviceable by repairs; and whenever the Company lays down any track or tracks in any unpaved street or public way, then, and in either of such events, the Company shall pave or repave the portions of any such street or public way, which it is required to keep paved or repaved, as aforesaid, with good serviceable granite blocks.

Fourth. In each case where by said Exhibit A attached to this ordinance the Company is authorized and required to change a single track to a double track, in any street or part of a street, if the roadway therein be not at least thirty-eight (38) feet in width, the Company shall, at its own cost (such cost to be charged to capital account) widen said roadway to said width and shall rebuild the catchbasins and their connections and curb and pave said street, as may be required by the City Council; provided, that the Company shall not hereby be required to pave, in addition to the part of the street occupied by its double-track street railway, as provided for in this ordinance, more than eight (8) feet in width of such roadway nor to acquire private property in order to secure the necessary width for such roadway.

Power Houses, Buildings.

The Company shall build such power houses and auxiliary buildings, together with the necessary machinery and appurtenances as may be determined upon by said Company with the approval of the Board of Supervising Engineers to supply whatever electric power may be required (in addition to such power as the Company may acquire by lease or contract with such approval from sources other than its own plants) to enable the Company to operate at all times its street railway system efficiently and continuously.

In the construction of power plants, substations and other buildings, the Company shall comply with all general ordinances of the City in regard to buildings and to the installation of machinery, boilers, and smoke-consuming appliances. The buildings of said power plants shall be substantially fire-proof and supplied with smoke-stacks sufficient to carry off all gases emitted, and the foundations for the machinery therein shall be constructed in a solid and substantial manner.

The machinery and apparatus employed shall be selected and installed with a view of affording uninterrupted operation of the cars upon said railways, and to obtain this end the machinery shall be so arranged that a stoppage of one machine shall not prevent the operation of the remaining machines, and reserve machinery shall always be ready to be thrown into service. All boilers, piping, valves, fittings, steam engines, turbines, generators, switchboard apparatus, and other appliances used, shall be of the latest and most approved design and constructed and installed in accordance with the best engineering practice.

In all dynamos and connections where a high voltage current is produced or used approved methods for the protection of human life shall be employed.

The high tension switches shall be entirely enclosed in fireproof material, and shall be operated by levers, compressed air, auxiliary currents, or by such other means as will, as far as practicable, prevent personal contact with high tension current.

All feeders leading out of power plants and sub-stations shall be provided with some form of safety switches or automatic circuit-breakers designed to instantaneously open the circuit in case of a short circuit occurring on the feeder or on the trolley which it feeds.

All the foregoing specifications regarding modern and approved apparatus, protection from fire, and provisions for the protection of human life, shall apply with equal force to the sub-stations in case a system of transmision involving the use of sub-stations is adopted.

In case it is found desirable to secure power from any other source than the Company's own power plants no contract for supplying such power shall be entered into by the Company without the consent of the Board of Supervising Engineers.

Car Shops and Machinery.

It is contemplated that the present car shops and machinery contained therein will remain as at present installed with such additions thereto as may be necessary and located as follows:

Complete plant fronting on Vincennes Road at the corner of Seventy-eighth street, extending from Vincennes Road to Wentworth avenue.

Cars.

All new cars hereafter put in service shall be of the type known as double truck

cars, seating from 40 to 50 passengers; and in construction, design and equipment shall conform strictly to all the provisions of Section 10 of the ordinance.

The Company may retain in operation on said streets until the Board of Supervising Engineers otherwise directs, two hundred fifty-one (251) of the present single-truck cars now in service, it being understood that these cars shall be selected from the best cars now in service and shall conform in every respect to all general ordinances of the City regulating such cars.

All of the above cars shall be equipped with sufficient motor capacity to properly operate the cars at the schedule speed required by the service over the particular lines that they may be operated upon.

Electric or hot water heaters, or heaters of other types approved by the Board of Supervising Engineers, of sufficient capacity to heat the above cars as stipulated in the accompanying ordinance, shall be used.

Every passenger car used by said Company which is not now equipped with a power brake shall, on or before nine (9) months after the passage of this ordinance, be equipped with a power brake of a type approved by the Board of Supervising Engineers.

Every passenger car used by said Company which is not now vestibuled shall, on or before nine (9) months after the passage of this ordinance, be vestibuled in such manner as may be approved by the Board of Supervising Engineers.

Rolling Stock.

The Company shall provide all necessary snow-plows, sweepers, repair cars, work cars, etc., to properly take care of its system and maintain it in first class working condition.

AN ORDINANCE

AUTHORIZING THE CHICAGO RAILWAYS COMPANY TO CONSTRUCT, MAINTAIN AND OPERATE A SYSTEM OF STREET RAILWAYS IN STREETS AND PUBLIC WAYS OF THE CITY OF CHICAGO.

PREAMBLE.

WHEREAS, The Receivers of the Chicago Union Traction Company now maintain and operate a system of street railways in the streets and public ways in the north, west and south divisions of the city of Chicago; and,

WHEREAS, The Chicago Railways Company, hereinafter called the "Company," has been organized for the purpose of acquiring, operating, re-constructing, re-equipping and extending said system under the terms of this ordinance; and,

WHEREAS, The said City desires, for the proper accommodation of the public, to provide for the reconstruction, re-equipment and extension of the said street railway system and for the unified operation of said system together with the street railway system now maintained and operated by the Chicago City Railway Company, and to be in a position as soon as practicable freely to deal with the subject of transportation in its streets as a whole, and to fix and determine the definite terms and conditions upon which the said City shall have the right to purchase and take over at any time the street railway system of the Company. Now, therefore,

Be it ordained by the City Council of the City of Chicago:

AUTHORITY.

SECTION 1. That in consideration of the acceptance by the Company of this ordinance, subject to all of the provisions, conditions, requirements and limitations

---

*Amendments adopted February 4, 1907, are printed in italics. Differences in the ordinance running to the Chicago Railways Company with respect to the ordinance running to the Chicago City Railway Company are denoted by heavy black type.

hereof, consent, permission and authority are hereby granted to the Company, its lessees, successors and assigns, to construct, reconstruct, maintain and operate a system of street railways in, upon and along the streets and public ways or portions thereof, in the City of Chicago, set out in the schedule marked "Exhibit A" hereto attached and made a part hereof.

For the purpose of carrying into effect the desire of the said City to provide for the unified operation of said street railways, an ordinance similar to this ordinance in general provisions and character, running to the Chicago City Railway Company, as grantee, covering the system of street railways now maintained and operated by said Chicago City Railway Company in the south division of said City, has been presented for passage concurrently with this ordinance, and it is hereby expressly provided that, upon the passage and acceptance of said last mentioned ordinance, then in all cases where this ordinance and the said ordinance relating to the street railways now maintained and operated by the Chicago City Railway Company confer grants upon more than one company in the same part of any street, the rights granted to the respective companies in such part of any street shall be construed to be for a mutual and joint use of tracks, and the rights of each company therein shall be the same as though the said ordinances making such grants had been passed and had taken effect concurrently, without regard to the actual dates of their respective passage and acceptance. Whenever such tracks are to be used jointly, they shall be constructed, maintained and operated at the equal joint expense of the said companies.

SPECIAL CONDITIONS.

The permission and authority hereby granted to the Company are, however, subject to the following conditions:

(a) Such permission and authority shall wholly cease and determine, unless within one hundred and twenty (120) days after the passage of this ordinance the Company shall acquire all the property, franchises, rights and claims described or referred to in Section 20 of this ordinance, including all the property constituting the system of street railways now operated by the Receivers of the Chicago Union Traction Company, provided a clear title to all said property, franchises, rights and claims be tendered the Company, free from liens and encumbrances, at a price not exceeding the price for which the City may buy the same under the terms of said Section 20.

(b) If such title be not so tendered the Company within said period, the permission and authority hereby granted shall nevertheless cease and determine without any further action whatever by the City of Chicago, unless within a period of two hundred and ten (210) days after the passage of this ordinance a plan of reorganization and readjustment which shall be consistent with the terms of the deposit agreement referred to in subdivision (e) of this Section shall have been approved as in said agreement provided, under which plan an opportunity shall be conferred upon each individual holder of a direct or indirect interest in or lien upon said property, franchises or claims, or any part thereof, or of any right, claim or demand as creditor or otherwise, entitled to enforcement against said property, franchises, rights or claims, or payable out of the same or any part thereof, to participate in the transfer of said property, franchises, rights and claims to and the acquisition thereof by the Company, and to receive such stocks, securities or other benefits as said plan of re-organization and readjustment may provide, on the terms and conditions in said plan set forth, and which opportunity shall remain open during a period to be specified in said plan and approved as aforesaid, but not extending beyond January 20, A. D. 1908. Nothing in this ordinance contained shall be construed to confer, directly or indirectly, any interest in or right with respect to the authority and permission granted to the Company by this ordinance, or otherwise, upon any holder of any existing interest in or lien upon the property, franchises, rights and claims above mentioned.

(c) Upon the expiration of said period last mentioned, the Company shall proceed promptly to perfect its title to the entire property, franchises, rights and claims aforesaid, using for that purpose if necessary any and all stocks, securities and evidences of indebtedness acquired pursuant to said plan of re-organization and re-adjustment; and, to the extent that it may be necessary to acquire or extinguish any interests in or liens upon said property, franchises, rights and claims, or any debts, claims or demands against the same which are not represented by the stocks, securities and evidences of indebtedness so acquired by the Company, the City of Chicago may in its discretion exercise any and every power with which it may then be vested, whether by virtue of any statute, ordinance, contract or judicial decree, to acquire or extinguish such outstanding interests, or to obtain title to and possession of any part of the aforesaid property, franchises, rights and claims to which the Company shall not have obtained title. The Company, by the acceptance of this ordinance, shall be obligated at the option of the City to buy from the City all such property, franchises, rights and claims so acquired at the price which the City may have to pay for the same, and to make payment therefor at or before the time when the City is to pay the purchase-price of said property, and to indemnify and on demand reimburse the said City for all expenses incurred in the exercise of said powers in acquiring or extinguishing such outstanding interests, or in obtaining title to or possession of such property, or in terminating such possession, use or occupation or in attempting any such action at the suggestion or request of the Company.

The Company shall not be so obliged to buy unless the price to be paid by the City for the title obtained or the property acquired or extinguished in pursuance of this subdivision (c) of this section shall be determined by judicial proceeding or by appraisement by a disinterested tribunal, the City hereby consenting that the Company shall have a right to be heard upon the question of value. In order to reduce the price which the City may have to pay for any property so acquired or extinguished, the Company, by the acceptance of this ordinance, shall be obligated to waive in favor of the City any right of participation in such purchase-price by reason of any stocks, securities or evidences of indebtedness which it shall have acquired, or of which it may have the control through a trustee or otherwise, and to allow the City to use the same in such appropriate manner as the nature of the proceeding will permit in reduction of the purchase-price.

(d) Within a period of three years from and after the passage of this ordinance, the Company shall perfect its title to said entire system of street railways and shall free the same from any lien or encumbrance other than such as are herein expressly authorized to be created. The Company shall not, however, be deemed to be in default with respect to the obligation last above stated so long as there shall have been no notice given by the City of its intention to purchase said street railway system, or to cause the same to be purchased by its licensee, unless notice in writing shall have been given to the Company by the City of some particular defect of title or of some particular lien or encumbrance and the Company shall have failed within sixty (60) days thereafter to remove the same.

And so long as no such notice of intention shall have been given by the City, no default shall be deemed to exist on the part of the Company with respect to said obligation last above stated, in any of the following classes of excepted cases, it being distinctly understood and agreed that the burden of proof rests upon the Company to show that any alleged defect of title, or lien or encumbrance falls within any of said excepted classes, next hereinafter consecutively numbered, to-wit:

(1) Unsubstantial or trivial defects of title.

(2) Defects of title of real property used for the production of power or for office purposes or for the storage of supplies, materials or equipment, or for other like purposes, but only if and so long as the Company shall procure and keep in force a policy of insurance, insuring its title to such property, issued by a Company in good standing authorized to engage in the business of insuring titles in the State of Illinois, indemnifying the Company and the City or its licensee in the event of purchase, as in this ordinance provided, against any and all loss, damage or expense by reason of such defect of title, lien or encumbance for an amount not less than the full value of the particular piece of real property subject to such defect, lien or encumbrance, as set forth in the appraisal inventory referred to in Section 20 of this ordinance, with all additions and improvements thereto as certified by the Board of Supervising Engineers.

(3) Liens or encumbrances securing unmatured obligations for the payment of money, but only if and so long as the Company shall keep on deposit, with one or more of the depositaries appointed in accordance with the provisions of this ordinance, money sufficient to pay the principal of such obligations (and interest on such obligations as the said interest becomes due, to maturity) and also to pay all charges or expenses incident to the release of such lien or encumbrance, upon a specific trust to apply such money to make such payments, or, in case of purchase of said property by the City or its licensee, as in this ordinance provided, and in the event that the City or its licensee shall elect to take title to such property subject to any such lien or encumbrance, then to pay over to the City or its licensee, as the case may be, the entire amount remaining of said deposit.

(4) Defects of title by reason of any estate, interest, right, title, claim, demand, lien or encumbrance acquired by the City after the passage of this ordinance and either held by it or subject to its control, but only if and so long as the Company tenders and stands ready to pay to the City, for a conveyance, release or discharge thereof, an amount equal to the cost and expense to the City of acquiring such estate, interest, right, title, claim, demand, lien or encumbrance, with interest.

(5) Any alleged defect of title arising out of any claim or demand originating after the passage of this ordinance against the Company or its property the validity, amount or extent of which shall be contested by the Company in good faith and upon reasonable grounds by appropriate legal procedure with reasonable diligence, provided the Company shall give to the City indemnity therefor satisfactory to the Mayor of the City in his absolute discretion.

(e) It is further expressly provided that no right, permission or authority under this ordinance shall vest in the Company and the Company shall not have the right to accept this ordinance unless at the time of such acceptance there shall have been deposited with The Chicago Title and Trust Company, Trustee, under an agreement substantially in the form hereto annexed and marked "Exhibit D," which agreement shall then have been duly executed, certificates of stock duly indorsed in blank for transfer, representing not less than the following amounts of the capital stock of the respective corporations hereinafter mentioned, viz.: three thousand, one hundred and twenty-six (3,126) shares of the capital stock of the Chicago West Division Railway Company, and one thousand, two hundred and fifty-one (1,251) shares of the capital stock of the North Chicago City Railway Company (being, respectively, more than a majority of the entire capital stock of said companies, other than that held by Trustees under outstanding mortgages or deeds of trust); also twenty-nine thousand, six hundred and one (29,601) shares of the capital stock of the North Chicago Street Railroad Company, and forty-nine thousand, nine hundred and forty-six (49,946) shares of the capital stock of the West Chicago Street Railroad Company (being respectively more than a majority of the entire capital stock of said two companies last named, other than that held by the Illinois Trust and Savings Bank, as Trustee under a deed of trust); and, also, eighty thousand and one (80,001) shares of the preferred stock and one hundred and thirty-three thousand, three hundred and thirty-four (133,334) shares of the common stock of the Chicago Union Traction Company (being more than two-thirds of each class of said capital stock); provided that the City shall have and hereby reserves the right to modify the aforesaid provisions and conditions so as to reduce the proportion of stock of any or all of said companies to be so deposited to such amount as to the City may seem proper; and provided further that the certificate of said Trustee as to the number of shares of stock so deposited shall be prima facie evidence in respect to the performance of the foregoing conditions and provisions.

In the event that the Company shall accept this ordinance and thereafter by reason of its failure to comply with any of the covenants or conditions hereof, the permission and authority granted by this ordinance shall cease and determine, then and in that event all the shares of stock of the Companies in this subdivision of this section mentioned, then owned by the Company or deposited with the Trustee under said agreement as above provided, and all the beneficial interest appertaining to said stock and assigned to the Company or to said Trustee shall pass to, vest in and become the property of or be subject to the control and disposition of the City or of such person or persons or corporation as the City shall by ordinance designate, subject to the terms of said deposit agreement.

(f) No right, permission or authority under this ordinance shall vest in the Company and the Company shall not have the right to accept this ordinance unless, at the time of such acceptance the Company shall be in lawful possession of all the lines of street railway operated by the Receivers of the Chicago Union Traction Company, on February 1, 1907, with all the plant and equipment in use on or in connection with said lines at the time of said acceptance, with power and authority to comply with the provisions of this ordinance with respect to the operation, maintenance, extension, re-construction, re-equipment and improvement of said railways, and to make from the receipts thereof all the deposits and payments required by the provisions of this ordinance to be made from such receipts, and with power to transfer to the City, or its licensee, all such possession, rights, and powers in accordance with the provisions of this ordinance in that behalf hereinafter set forth.

(g) The Company shall at all times during the life of this grant maintain the possession of the property and the power and authority which by sub-division

(f) of this section the Company is required to have at the time of the acceptance of this ordinance, subject to the provisions contained in this ordinance as to the suspension or termination of such possession.

RECONSTRUCTION.

Section 2. The Company shall proceed at once to re-construct portions of the track and roadbed constituting said system of street railways now maintained and operated by the Receivers of the Chicago Union Traction Company and put said entire street railway system, plant and equipment in first-class condition, in full compliance with the specifications and provisions for such work in this ordinance and in the Exhibit hereto attached, marked "Exhibit B" and made a part of this ordinance, with the same force and effect as though herein fully set forth, and to operate and maintain said system in accordance with the provisions of this ordinance and of said "Exhibit B."

Such provisions of this ordinance as are in the nature of specifications shall be given at all times full force and effect, except in cases, if any, in which they conflict with express provisions of "Exhibit B," in which cases the latter shall prevail. The provisions of this ordinance and those of "Exhibit B," however, shall be construed together, and both, so far as practicable, be given full effect throughout the life of this grant.

The expressions "property of the Company" or "street railway system of the Company" or equivalent expressions as hereinafter used, except where the context clearly indicates a different meaning, shall be deemed to denote all the property from time to time possessed or used by the Company in and about the street railway business conducted under the provisons of this ordinance, including all franchises, rights and privileges of every nature enjoyed or exercised or capable of being enjoyed or exercised in connection therewith, irrespective of the nature or extent of the Company's interest therein, and a similar construction shall be given to expressions relating to particular classes or species of the Company's property.

EXTENSIONS.

Section 3. The said City shall have the right, subject to the limitations contained in this ordinance, at any time to require the Company to make extensions of and additions to the lines of street railway enumerated in said "Exhibit A." Such extensions and additions shall be made under the supervision of the Board of Supervising Engineers, as hereinafter in Section 7 provided, and the cost thereof shall be determined as provided in said section. The character and quality of such work shall comply with the specifications set forth in said "Exhibit B," so far as the same may be applicable thereto.

The Company shall promptly and within a reasonable time after the passage of this ordinance construct and equip the extensions of its street railway system provided for in "Exhibit A," and also in Section 38 hereof, subject to the provisions of said Section 38, and shall operate the same as a part of its system in conformity with the provisions of this ordinance, and at any time after three (3) years from the acceptance of this ordinance, the Company shall upon the order of the City Council of the City, construct and equip such additional extensions as may be required by the City and shall operate the same as a part of its system in conformity with the provisions of this ordinance, provided, that the Company shall not be obligated hereby to construct and operate any such additional extensions in any street or public way nearer any then existing parallel street railway tracks of the Company than one-half mile, and that the Company shall not be obligated hereby to construct more than six miles of double track railway or twelve miles of single track railway in any one calendar year during the term of this grant.

The Company shall, however, upon the order of the City Council of the City, construct, equip and operate such extensions of its street railway system in addition to those hereinabove provided for as may be required by the City Council subject to the conditions and limitations contained in Section 26 of this ordinance.

The Company shall not be authorized or obligated to construct any extension of its street railway system upon streets on which street railways are not located when this ordinance goes into effect until the City has granted to the Company whatever authority in addition to this ordinance may be necessary to comply with the frontage consent laws of the State of Illinois.

MOTIVE POWER.

SECTION 4. The motive power to be used in the operation of said street railways shall be electricity, applied by the overhead trolley system or otherwise, as more particularly set forth in said "Exhibit B;" provided that the said City (subject to the limitations contained in Section 26 hereof), at any time after three years from the date of the acceptance of this ordinance, may require by ordinance, that the Company shall operate under the provisions of this ordinance any of its street railways herein authorized by electric power transmitted through working conductors carried in conduits below the surface of the street and between and underneath the rails, otherwise known as the underground trolley system, and shall thereafter cease to operate the same by overhead trolley.

USE OF POLES, CONDUITS, ETC.

SECTION 5. The Company may use its trolley poles, feeder poles, trolley wires, feeder wires and the conduits authorized and provided for in said "Exhibit B," for all purposes solely connected with the operation of its street railways, such as power, light, heat and telephonic and other signals. For such purposes the Company may connect such conduits, poles and wires with its transmission and feeder wires, power plants, substations, car houses, repair shops or other property of the Company, and with any transmission, feeder or other wires of any other individual or corporation.

JOINT USE WITH THE CITY.

The said City shall have the right, without the payment of any compensation therefor, during the life of this grant, to use the poles of the Company to carry the signal, telephone, telegraph and electric light wires and lamps of the said City. The transmission wires of the said City for such purposes shall be placed on poles of the Company, on that side of each street or way (where poles are located on both sides thereof) designated by the said Board of Supervising Engineers, without cost or expense to the Company, but the Company shall repair and maintain its poles as one of the operating expenses of the said street railway system under this ordinance; provided, that the said City shall indemnify and save harmless the Company against and from all damages, judgments, costs or expenses which the Company may suffer by reason of any negligence of the said City in installing, maintaining or using its said wires and lamps upon said poles.

SUBWAYS.

SECTION 6. The Company hereby gives to said City and said City reserves the power by ordinance to require the Company to join with the Chicago City Railway Company and with the said City in defraying the cost of the construction of a system of subways for the joint use of the said companies as down town terminals of their street railway systems, and for the use of said City and of its licensees, the legal title to said subways to be in said City, subject to the rights of the said companies under this ordinance, it being, however, an express condition of the Company being required to join in defraying the cost of such construction of such system of subways, that said subway system and the extensions thereof shall not be used for street railway purposes during the life of this grant except by the street railway systems of said companies; provided, that the companies shall not be required to contribute to the cost of said subway system any amount in excess of the pro rata cost of that part of said subway system which is to be devoted to the use of said companies or either of them and that the total amount which the said companies shall be required to contribute toward the construction of said system of subways shall not exceed the sum of five million ($5,000,000) dollars, exclusive of the cost of (1) reconstructing the present tunnels under the Chicago River, or (2) of converting said tunnels into a part of said system of subways. Three-fifths of that part of the cost of the said subways (exclusive of the tunnels under the Chicago River), payable by said companies shall be borne by the Company and two-fifths of the said cost shall be borne by said Chicago City Railway Company; and provided, further, the Company shall not be obligated to join in defraying the cost of the construction of such subway system until (1) the said City shall authorize the construction of said subway system by an ordinance which shall prescribe the location, character and extent of said subway system and the plans and specifications therefor, which plans and specifications shall include provision specifying the portions thereof to be devoted to the use of said companies, respectively, and to the use of the said City and its licensees, and regulating the manner of such uses, and specifying the share of the cost of such subway system to be borne by said companies and the extent of the user to which each said company shall be entitled in that part of said subway system devoted to street railway purposes, and until, (2) the Board of Supervising Engineers shall approve the location, character and extent of and the plans and specifications for such subway system. The limitation of five million dollars as above defined shall apply to the subway system above mentioned, but shall have no application to the extensions and additions herein next mentioned.

When said subway system shall have been fully completed (but not before the expiration of five years from and after the acceptance of this ordinance) the Company (subject to the limitations contained in Section 26 hereof) may be required by ordinance to join with the said Chicago City Railway Company and with the said City in defraying the cost of the construction of extensions and additions to such subway system and the Company agrees that it will pay to the said City the pro rata cost of constructing that portion of such extensions which is to be devoted to the use of the Company and its proportionate part of the pro rata cost of constructing that portion of such extensions which is to be devoted to the joint use of the said companies; provided, however, the Company shall not be obligated to join in defraying the cost of the construction of such extensions and additions to said subway system until (1) the said City shall authorize the construction of said extensions and additions by an ordinance which shall prescribe the location, character and extent of said extensions and additions and the plans and specifications therefor, which plans and specifications shall include provisions specifying the portions to be devoted to the use of said companies and to the use of said City and its licensees, and regulating the manner of such uses and specifying the part of the total estimated cost of such extensions and additions to be borne by the said companies, respectively, and until (2) the location, character and extent of said extensions and additions and the plans and specifications therefor shall be approved by the said Board of Supervising Engineers.

The provisions of this ordinance under which the said Company obligates itself to contribute to the cost of constructing subways and extensions of subways and fixing the conditions under which the said Company is so obligated shall not have the effect or be construed to have the effect of depriving the said City of any right which the said City may have or acquire (otherwise than by virtue of this ordinance) to construct subways or extensions thereof, or to compel said Company to contribute to the cost of such subways or extensions, or to compel said Company to use the subways in whole or in part, in connection with its street railways or to fix the terms and conditions of such use. By the acceptance of this ordinance the Company admits that the City has the right and authority to construct subways and extensions of subways in the streets and parts of streets described in "Exhibit A" and in all other streets or parts of streets in which the Company is now or hereafter authorized to construct or operate street railways and the Company by such acceptance consents to the exercise of such right by the City; but the Company by the acceptance of this ordinance shall not be construed as admitting that the City now has any right otherwise than by virtue of this ordinance to compel said Company to contribute to the cost of any subway or extension thereof, or to compel said Company to use subways in whole or in part in connection with its street railways or to fix the terms and conditions of such use, or that it could acquire such right, and the exercise by the City of any such right shall not impair or in anywise affect the rights of the Company under the provisions of this ordinance in that part of any subway, or extensions thereof, to the cost of constructing which the Company shall have contributed.

Nothing in this ordinance contained shall be construed to give the said City the power to require the Company in case of the construction of said subway system, or extensions and additions thereto, and the placing of its railway tracks therein, or in a part thereof, to cease the operation of its railway, during the life of this grant, upon the surface of any of the streets or parts of streets under which the said subway system, or said extensions and additions thereto, may be constructed, so long as or whenever the City shall permit the construction or operation of any street railways upon the surface of such streets or parts of streets, respectively.

It is expressly provided that in case the capacity of that portion devoted to street railway purposes, of any subways or extensions of subways, constructed under the provisions of this Section of this ordinance, shall at any time be greater than necessarily and properly required for the use of the said Company or companies which have contributed to the cost of said subways or extensions thereof in the operation of their street railways therein, the City may authorize or require any other company operating elevated railways in said City to use said subways and extensions, or parts thereof, to the extent of such surplus capacity, but only to such extent, provided that such company shall pay a reasonable rental for such use by it, which rental shall be apportioned between the parties who have contributed to the cost of constructing the portion of such subways or extensions so used by such other company in proportion to the extent of their respective contributions; and the portion of such rental so paid to the Company shall be considered and treated as part of its gross receipts, to be disposed of under the provisions of this ordinance as other gross receipts from the operation of the street railways of said Company are to be disposed of. The City shall have the right to use the said subways and extensions for any elevated railway belonging to said City to the same extent and upon the same terms that it may authorize or require their use by any elevated railway company.

CITY TO HAVE SUPERVISION OF REHABILITATION.

SECTION 7. All of the construction, re-construction, equipment, re-equipment, extensions and additions to plant and property provided for or required by this ordinance or the exhibits thereto, including underground trolleys, tunnel re-construction, new lines, extensions, and other additions to plant and property (but not subways or extensions thereof), shall be done, performed and acquired by the Company under the direction and supervision of said Board of Supervising Engineers, and the cost and expense thereof shall be borne and paid by the Company, but no contract, subcontract or payment therefor except as expressly provided in Section 34 hereof shall be made without the written approval of said Board.

The Company shall purchase materials and equipment, and employ engineers, superintendents, clerks, foremen and workmen and shall pay all expenses of every nature, including legal expenses, necessary to the proper, complete and prompt performance of the above mentioned work, upon the lowest advantageous terms and subject to the approval of the said Board of Supervising Engineers, and to the actual amount paid by the Company in and about carrying out each and all of the requirements of this section, shall be added ten per cent. of such amount as a fair and proper allowance to the Company for conducting the said work and furnishing said equipment and five per cent. for its services in procuring funds therefor, including brokerage; except that no such percentages shall be allowed on the cost of reconstructing the Van Buren street tunnel as provided in the first paragraph of Section 34 of this ordinance, or of lowering and removing obstructions to navigation in the Chicago River under the ordinance of the City of Chicago relating thereto, passed June 18th, A. D. 1906.

The said Board of Supervising Engineers shall, on or before the fifteenth day of each month, make a report in writing, dated the first day of such month, to the City Comptroller of the amount of money actually expended during the previous month by the Company with the approval of said Board of Supervising Engineers in and about carrying out the requirements of this section together with the percentages of such amount in the next preceding paragraph provided for, and all amounts contributed by the Company to the cost of the said subway system or extensions thereof together with five per cent. of the amounts so contributed; and the interest provided in Section 25 hereof as a deduction from gross receipts shall begin to run upon the total amount of each such certificate from and after the date thereof.

The amount or amounts so certified by the said Board of Supervising Engineers (including the said additional percentages thereof as hereinabove provided) shall be final and binding upon both parties hereto and shall be conclusively held and taken as the cost of the said construction, reconstruction, equipment, re-equipment, extensions and additions to plant and property, including subways, underground trolleys, tunnel re-construction, new lines, and other additions to plant and property, which shall be paid by the said City upon the taking over of the said street railway system as in this ordinance provided, except that said Board may at any time within sixty (60) days after the date of any such certificate correct any error or omission therein.

The cost of such construction, reconstruction, equipment, re-equipment, extensions and additions, including said percentages, not exceeding the amount so certified, together with all amounts contributed by the Company to the City for the construction of subways or extensions thereof, with five per cent. of said last named amounts added thereto, may be represented by bonds or obligations to be held, negotiated or sold by the Company, bearing interest at a rate not exceeding five per cent. per annum, payable semi-annually on the first days of February and August in each year, maturing not earlier than twenty years after the passage of this ordinance, in denominations not less than five hundred dollars each, redeemable at par and accrued interest, after published notice, on any day appointed for the payment of interest. Such bonds or obligations may be secured by a mortgage or deed of trust, which shall comply with all the provisions of this ordinance and the form of which shall be submitted to and be subject to the approval of a Trust Company qualified to act as depositary under the terms of this ordinance, to be selected by the Mayor of the City of Chicago, as containing (the circumstances considered) no provision unusual or unreasonable in character. The Company shall not at any time create any lien or encumbrance upon the property or rights conveyed by said mortgage or deed of trust or any part thereof superior to that securing said bonds and obligations. Provided, however, that the Company shall not be authorized to make or issue said bonds or obligations to an aggregate amount exceeding the amount certified by the Board of Supervising Engineers, nor shall the City be bound to recognize any of said bonds or obligations as having been authorized by this ordinance unless and until there shall be endorsed thereon by the City Comptroller or other officer or agent of the City designated by ordinance, a certificate to the effect that such bond or obligation is one of the bonds or obligations by this section authorized. To the extent that the amount certified by said Board of Supervising Engineers (including said percentages) shall not be represented by bonds and obligations as aforesaid, a lien shall exist in favor of the Company, its successors and assigns, of equal rank and like character to that securing the said bonds and obligations hereinabove authorized.

The said Board of Supervising Engineers shall have the power to determine what work shall be treated as construction, reconstruction, equipment, re-equipment, extensions, new lines, underground trolleys, tunnel re-construction, or additions to plant or property to be paid for by the Company out of the capital funds to be provided by it for that purpose, and what shall be treated as maintenance, repairs and renewals, to be paid for out of the gross receipts of the Company from the operation of the street railway system hereby authorized. But any such determination of said Board shall be governed by the following provisions:

During the three (3) year period of "Immediate Rehabilitation" seventy (70) per cent. of the gross receipts shall be set apart and shall be used so far as required in defraying the operating expenses, including maintenance and repairs, and the residue of said seventy (70) per cent. shall be applied to the cost of renewals and no part of the cost of any renewal paid for out of such seventy (70) per cent. shall be charged to additional capital, and all expenditures for renewals during said three (3) years in excess of such residue of said seventy (70) per cent. shall be charged to capital account.

After such three (3) year period of "Immediate Rehabilitation," the cost of renewals shall be paid as provided in Section 16 hereof, but such expenditures (and only such expenditures) as are made for the purpose of extensions of or additions to property shall be thereafter considered as additions to capital, provided, however, that in the replacement of any principal part of the property, either existing or hereafter acquired, there shall be charged to capital the excess amount that the new property cost over the original cost of the property displaced, excepting that the value of property contained in the appraisal inventory of the property of the Company, referred to in paragraph 1 of Section 20 hereof, shall be used instead of first cost for all property listed in such appraisal inventory.

REMOVAL OF TRACKS.

SECTION 8. The Company shall forthwith remove all tracks now owned, operated or maintained by the Receivers of the Chicago Union Traction Company which it is not expressly authorized by this ordinance hereafter to maintain and operate. If it shall hereafter cease to operate over any of its tracks or any portion thereof, it shall remove such unused tracks upon the order of the City Council. Failure to operate cars for the carriage of passengers at least once each way within every hour of each day between the hours of six (6) A. M. and eight (8) P. M. over any part of a street or public place in which tracks of the Company are laid, shall be treated as a cessation of operation of its tracks in such part of street or public place within the meaning of this section, unless such operation is interfered with by unavoidable accidents, labor strikes or litigation brought without connivance of the Company; provided, however, that the foregoing provisions of this section shall not be construed to require or authorize the removal of curves or turn-outs or of connecting tracks specifically authorized by this ordinance or the exhibits hereto to be constructed and maintained for use during rush hours or for emergency use in case of fire or accident, or such tracks as may be necessary for a connection with the Company's property used for street railway purposes.

The City shall have the right by ordinance to require the Company to remove any tracks or portions thereof, the further maintenance of which is at any time no longer warranted by the traffic, or reasonably required in the operation of the said street railway system, provided that the Company shall not be required to remove such tracks but may maintain or reconstruct and operate the same during the life of this grant so long as or whenever the City shall permit the construction or operation of any street railways upon the streets or parts of streets respectively from which such tracks have been so required to be removed and in every case of removal of tracks as aforesaid, the Company shall restore the street or public way to the condition of the other portions thereof, all at its own cost, such cost to be treated as an operating expense.

If the Company shall fail within a reasonable time (not to exceed 30 days) to remove any such tracks on order of the Commissioner of Public Works, the said City may remove them, charging the expense thereof to the Company; provided, however, that nothing in this section contained shall relieve the Company from its obligations at all times to render adequate service on its street railways.

RIGHT TO SELL UNNECESSARY PROPERTY.

SECTION 9. The Company shall not hereafter sell, or permit to be sold to others, any of the property now in the possession of, and operated by, the Receivers of the Chicago Union Traction Company or hereafter acquired by said Receivers or by the Company as an addition to or extension of, or for use in connection with the said street railways, except as the same may become unnecessary or unadapted to the proper operation and maintenance of said street railways under the terms of this ordinance, and before making any such sale the Company shall secure the written approval of such sale and of the amount and terms thereof by the said Board of Supervising Engineers, and such written approval of said Board shall be conclusive of the right of the Company to sell and transfer complete title to the purchaser, who shall not be obliged to look to the application of the proceeds of such sale.

In the event of any such sale made during the period of "Immediate Rehabilitation," the proceeds shall be deducted from the amount allowed to the Company for such reconstruction, and in the event of a sale after such "Immediate Rehabilitation" is completed, the proceeds thereof shall be deposited with the depositary or depositaries selected under the provisions of Section 16 of this ordinance and shall constitute a part of and an addition to the reserve fund provided for in said section for Renewals and Depreciation.

The value of any such property sold after February 1, 1907, and before the acceptance of this ordinance, (not less, however, than the value thereof specified in the appraisal inventory referred to in Section 20 of this ordinance) although the Company may not have made such sale or have received the proceeds thereof, shall be accounted for by the Company as provided in the case of sales made by the Company during the period of "Immediate Rehabilitation," and as if such sales had been made by the Company.

SERVICE REGULATIONS.

SECTION 10. The Company hereby agrees to comply with all reasonable regulations of the service of the said street railway system which may be prescribed from time to time by the City Council of said City and that the approval of any such regulation by the Board of Supervising Engineers shall be binding upon the Company (but not upon the City) as to the reasonableness thereof.

STYLE OF CARS.

All passenger cars operated by the Company shall be used for the carriage of passengers only. All such cars hereafter built or purchased shall be of the best and most approved finish, style and design to be approved by the Board of Supervising Engineers; they shall have center aisles; they shall be without running footboards along the sides, and shall be equipped with sufficient motor capacity. Cross-seats facing forward shall be used, but longitudinal seats each seating not more than four passengers, may be used at the ends of the cars. All closed cars shall be vestibuled, and shall be of the style and description specified and provided in said "Exhibit B," and at least 225 cars of such description shall be acquired by and placed in operation upon the tracks of the Company within one (1) year from the passage of this ordinance, exclusive of delays occasioned by strikes or other causes beyond the control of the Company.

PUSH BUTTONS.

All cars operated by the Company shall be supplied with a sufficient number of electric bells, connections and push buttons to enable passengers without inconvenience to notify the conductor of their desire to leave the car.

FENDERS.

All cars shall be equipped with efficient and serviceable fender devices, head lights and sand-boxes.

BRAKES.

Each double-truck car shall be equipped with two sets of brakes, one of which shall be a hand-brake and the other an efficient power-brake of modern, improved type.

CLEANLINESS AND VENTILATION.

Said cars shall at all times be kept clean and in good repair, and shall be thoroughly ventilated.

HEATING.

The said cars shall be kept heated at the temperature of fifty (50) degrees Fahrenheit, as nearly as practicable, and each car shall contain a standard thermometer appropriately placed to enable passengers to see that this provision is complied with.

LIGHTING.

All cars shall be kept well and sufficiently illuminated by electric light or other illuminants approved by said Board of Supervising Engineers.

SIGNS.

Each car shall bear appropriate and conspicuous signs upon both its sides and ends so placed as to indicate, both day and night, the route and destination of such car. At night such signs shall be illuminated.

ADVERTISEMENTS.

The Company may permit advertisements in its cars, but no advertisement shall be placed upon the outside of any car, and only the space between the top of the windows and the transom of the car shall be used for advertisements on the inside of cars.

FUNERAL CARS AND MAIL CARS.

The Company is hereby authorized and permitted to operate funeral cars, and separate cars for the use of the United States Post Office Department, for the carriage of mail.

SINGLE CARS ONLY.

Every electric car shall be in charge and under the control of two competent men, a motorman and a conductor, and (after the expiration of one year from the date of the passage of this ordinance, or at such earlier time as the Company shall be able to acquire the necessary rolling stock to enable it to abandon trailers) shall be operated singly.

RATES OF FARE.

SECTION 11. The Company, except as to chartered cars to private parties and as in this ordinance provided, shall be entitled to charge passengers, during the term of this ordinance, the following rates of fare, to wit:

For a continuous trip in one general direction, within the present or future limits of the City, over its street railways covered by this ordinance and all extensions thereof (whether owned, leased or operated by it) the sum of five cents (5c) for each passenger twelve years of age or over, and three cents (3c) for each passenger under twelve (12) years of age; provided that children under seven (7) years of age accompanied by a person paying fare shall be permitted to ride free.

UNIVERSAL TRANSFERS.

Every such passenger may demand and upon such demand shall receive from the conductor of the car upon which he first takes passage, or from some authorized agent of the Company, a transfer. Said transfer shall entitle such passenger to ride upon any other line of said street railway system owned, leased or operated by the Company, or any other line of street railway operated by any other corporation from which the Company is by this ordinance obligated to accept transfers, which connects with, crosses, intersects or comes within a distance of two hundred (200) feet of the line of said street railway upon which the passenger first took passage and paid his fare. But this obligation shall not apply in the South Division of the City of Chicago north of Twelfth street, except that upon the completion and operation of subways under the provisions of this ordinance, transfers shall be given at all points within said subways where lines of railway of any such corporation or corporations, which are required by this ordinance to issue or receive transfers, connect with each other.

The payment of a single fare shall not entitle a passenger to reverse his general direction of travel. If necessary to enable a passenger to reach his destination the conductor or other authorized agent of the Company shall issue without additional charge, a transfer upon a transfer, the same as required upon payment of a cash fare; the intention being that for a single fare the Company shall carry any passenger for a single continuous ride over any of the said lines of street railway owned, operated or leased by it, within the limits of the said City, so long as such ride is in the same general direction, although some of the lines necessary to be used by such passenger in arriving at his destination intersect or cross one another.

In every instance the transfer given to a passenger may designate the point or place of transfer, and the same must be used at such point or place, within a reasonable time, not exceeding fifteen (15) minutes after such point or place is reached by the car from which the passenger is transferred, provided that within said fifteen minutes a car shall pass such point or place of transfer in the direction and upon the route indicated by said transfer; but if no car shall pass such point within said time the passenger shall have the right to take the first available car passing such point in the direction indicated upon the passenger's transfer. A passenger upon any car delayed through the fault, negligence or inability of the Company shall be entitled to receive a transfer to a car upon the nearest line of the Company going in the same general direction as the delayed car.

The Company shall also on its cars accept and honor as fares, transfers issued by any other corporation to passengers upon any line of street railway covered or authorized by the said ordinance to the Chicago City Railway Company, hereinabove referred to as presented for passage in the City Council of said City, concurrently with this ordinance, which connects with any of said lines of the Company, under the same conditions and with like effect as though both lines of street railway were owned by the Company and the transfers were issued under the foregoing provisions of this ordinance.

The Company shall also accept and honor as fares transfers issued by the Chicago General Railway Company at all points where the railway lines of the Company connect with or intersect the lines of said Chicago General Railway Company, constructed and in operation at the time of the passage of this ordinance, with like effect as though both said lines of street railway were owned by the Company and the transfers were issued under the foregoing provisions of this ordinance; upon condition, however, that said Chicago General Railway Company shall accept and honor at such transfer points, as fares, transfers issued by the Company.

The said proposed arrangement contemplates that in every instance the street railway company accepting any such transfers shall give to the passenger presenting it the same accommodations and the same transfers, if requested, to its other line or lines, as such passenger would be entitled to receive if he had paid a cash fare.

The Company, acting by itself or in conjunction with the other companies to which the provisions of this Section apply, may, with the approval of the said Board of Supervising Engineers, adopt reasonable rules and regulations not inconsistent with the provisions of this ordinance, for the transfer of passengers as provided for herein, and for the prevention of the fraudulent use of transfer privileges. The purchase or acquisition by the City or its licensee of any street railway or railways of any company other than the Chicago Railways Company shall not affect or impair the obligations of the Company under the provisions of this ordinance with regard to transfers and through routes in connection with, or over the line or lines so purchased or acquired, but the same shall thereafter continue in full force and effect.

NO PASSES: EMPLOYES, POLICEMEN AND FIREMEN FREE.

SECTION 12. No passes of any kind or description shall be issued or given to any person, and no person, except employes of the Company, policemen and firemen, respectively, in full uniform, shall be permitted to ride upon any street railway without the payment of fare; provided that the Company may issue to its employes free tickets for use while engaged in the performance of their duties, and may permit them to ride free when wearing an official badge of the Company conspicuously in view. The Company shall keep a record of the number of such free tickets and to whom issued.

MAIL CARRIERS.

In the event that the United States Post Office Department shall pay to the Company a sum of money based upon the system of sales of tickets in effect between the Post Office Department and the Company for the use of letter carriers during the year 1906, the said amount of money to be not less than Ten Thousand, One Hundred, Five Dollars and Sixty-five Cents ($10,105.65) per annum, with proportionate increase in said amount for any increase in the number of letter carriers employed in the City of Chicago over the number of such carriers so employed in the year 1906, then the Comapny shall carry on its street railways United States letter carriers in full uniform, at all times, without the payment of fare.

THROUGH ROUTES.

SECTION 13. The Company will co-operate with any corporation operating the street railway in Halsted street, from O'Neil street south, to operate a through line of cars in said street. Whenever the said City shall so direct and shall grant to the Company and to any corporation operating a street railway in Western avenue, south of the South Branch of the Chicago River, a license or franchise to connect their lines in said avenue, the Company shall co-operate with such other corporation to operate a through line of cars in said avenue; also, whenever the said

City shall grant to the Company and to any corporation operating a street railway in Kedzie avenue, south of said South Branch, a license or franchise to connect their lines in said avenue, the Company will co-operate with such other corporation to operate a through line of cars in said avenue; and, also, whenever the said City shall grant to the Company and to any corporation operating a street railway in Ashland avenue, south of said South Branch, a license or franchise to connect their lines in said avenue, the Company shall co-operate with such other corporation to operate a through line of cars in said avenue; and said corporations shall thereafter operate and maintain said through lines of cars in the said streets and avenues, respectively; provided, that the Company shall only be required to operate said through lines across or over any river or canal, when the said City or some third party shall provide and maintain a bridge across the same upon which it may operate its cars.

The Company will co-operate with any corporation or corporations operating such of the street railway lines now operated by the Chicago City Railway Company as may be parts of the through routes in this ordinance or in "Exhibit C" referred to, in establishing and maintaining through lines of cars over the street railway lines of the Company and the street railway lines of the Chicago City Railway system entering the South Division of the said City, north of Twelfth street, which shall carry passengers from the North and West Divisions of the said City to the South Division of the said City, or in the reverse directions, through the portion of the South Division of said City north of Twelfth street, for a single fare.

As many cars shall be operated upon said through lines as the traffic shall require and warrant.

The parties now concerned have agreed upon certain through routes which are particularly described in "Exhibit C," which is attached hereto and made a part hereof, with the same force and effect as if herein fully set out.

The Company may establish other through routes from time to time and may discontinue the same, if and when the traffic warrants such establishment or discontinuance; but no through route specifically established by this ordinance and said Exhibit "C" shall be discontinued without the consent of the City Council of said City, and the City may by ordinance at any time require the Company to re-establish any through route and to establish new and additional through routes whenever the traffic warants or requires such establishment or re-establishment; provided, however, that if the Company shall consider that the traffic does not in fact warrant or require the establishment or re-establishment of any through route so required by the City to be established or re-established, then in such case it shall be the duty of the Board of Supervising Engineers, upon demand either of the City or of the Company to furnish the certificate of said Board certifying as to whether or not, in the opinion of said Board, the traffic does warrant or require the establishment or re-establishment of such through route, and such certificate of the Board of Supervising Engineers shall be prima facie evidence as to whether, in fact, the traffic does or does not warrant or require the establishment or re-establishment of such through route; and the obligation of the Company in respect to such routes shall be governed by such certificate pending a judicial determination of its obligations in respect to the establishment or re-establishment of any such through route under this ordinance.

The through routes herein mentioned shall be established and put in operation immediately after the necessary reconstruction of the tracks covered by such routes.

tion, the Company will enter into a reasonable operating agreement approved by the said Board of Supervising Engineers, with any other corporation or corporations concerned, whenever required by the said City. If the Company and the corporation or corporations operating the lines of street railway constituting said through routes, or any of them, shall be unable or fail to agree upon terms as between themselves for establishing, maintaining and operating all of said through routes within sixty (60) days after the passage of this ordinance, then and in such case it shall be the duty of the Board of Supervising Engineers to fix and determine the basis and terms, as between said Company and said corporation or corporations, upon which said through routes shall be established, maintained and operated and to notify each of the companies operating the lines of street railway constituting said through routes of said basis and terms, and thereupon it shall be the duty of the Company to proceed forthwith to establish, maintain and operate said through routes upon the basis and terms so fixed and determined by said Board of Supervising Engineers. Said companies may by agreement (with the approval of said Board of Supervising Engineers) modify such basis and terms or they failing to agree, the Board of Supervising Engineers may from time to time modify said basis and terms as to said Board shall seem fit and just.

STREET SPRINKLING AND CLEANING.

SECTION 14. The Company shall sprinkle, sweep, keep clean and free from snow that portion of each of the streets occupied by its right-of-way, as provided in "Exhibit B," and if it shall be found practicable to have the streets occupied by its tracks swept and sprinkled their entire width by the Company, or to have street sweepings, garbage or other refuse removed by means of street cars at night, the Company shall perform said service, or so much thereof as shall prove practicable, when so ordered by the Mayor and Commissioner of Public Works, and it shall receive for such service reasonable compensation. In case the Company is called upon to remove street sweepings or other refuse, the said City shall furnish suitable and convenient dumping grounds and permit the connection of the Company's tracks therewith. The Company shall have the right to carry on suitable cars the snow required by this ordinance to be removed by it, and also, materials for its own use or for the use of the said City, and to connect its tracks and wires with property necessary to be used for such purposes.

STREET PAVING.

GROOVED RAILS.

MAINTENANCE, REPAIRS, RENEWALS AND DEPRECIATION.

SECTION 16. After the expiration of the three (3) year period of reconstruction and re-equipment, particularly required by the terms of said "Exhibit B," under the heading of "Immediate Rehabilitation" and until the rights conferred upon the Company by this ordinance are terminated by the purchase of the said street railway system by the said City or its licensee or by reason of the default of the Company or otherwise, the Company at all times while in possession of said system of street railways shall maintain the said system and its entire equipment, plant and appurtenances (including pavement, tunnels and any subways or extensions thereof, together wtih their appurtenances and equipment, which may be built under the provisions of this ordinance) in first class condition, by making from time to time such expenditures thereon for maintenance, repairs and renewals, as may be necessary or appropriate to give to the public first class street railway service in all respects. To this end, the Company shall make the following expenditures:

(1) The Company shall expend for Maintenance and Repairs during each and every year that the Company continues to operate said street railway system after the expiration of the said three (3) year period of "Immediate Rehabilitation," at least a sum equal to six (6) per cent. of the gross receipts for the particular year, and if the said amount is not so expended for the said purpose by the Company during any one year, then at the end of such year the unexpended portion thereof shall be deposited in a fund, appropriately designated, with one or more of the banks or trust companies authorized to act as depositaries of such funds, under the terms and subject to the conditions of this ordinance (herein referred to as the depositary) for the purpose of being used whenever necessary for such Maintenance and Repairs.

The said depositaries or depositary shall make payment out of said fund upon the order of the Company, countersigned by the said Board of Supervising Engineers:

(2) On or before the fifth (5th) day of each and every month of each and every year that the Company continues to operate said street railway system after the expiration of said three (3) year period of "Immediate Rehabilitation," the Company shall deposit with one or more of the said depositaries in a separate fund, appropriately designated, a sum equal to eight (8) per cent. of the gross receipts of said street railways and property for the preceding month, which shall constitute a reserve fund, for taking care of Renewals and Depreciation of said street railways and property; and out of the said fund the Board of Supervising Engineers shall from time to time authorize the payment by the Company of such amounts as are necessary to pay for renewals of the said street railways and property, the portion of said fund remaining unexpended to continue in said fund as a provision for the depreciation of said street railways and property and shall be disposed of as hereinafter provided. No payments shall be made by said Company out of said fund, except on the written certificate of the Board of Supervising Engineers, for renewals, which are hereby defined to be the replacement of any principal part of said street railways or of their equipment or appurtenances; and the Board of Supervising Engineers shall determine by classifications made from time to time what particular items of expenditure shall be considered as Renewals and what particular items of expenditure shall be considered as Maintenance and Repairs under the provisions of this ordinance.

The whole or any portion of such reserve fund for Maintenance and Repairs may be used for maintenance and repairs in addition to the annual expenditure for Maintenance and Repairs. The fixing of the said amount herein as the minimum amount to be expended annually for Maintenance and Repairs, and the fixing of the said amount herein as the minimum amount to be deposited for Renewals and Depreciation, shall not be held or considered as lessening or limiting in any way the obligation of the Company to expend whatever sum or sums may be necessary to be expended for Maintenance and Repairs and to expend whatever sum or sums may be necessary for Renewals, to keep the said street railway system and equipment in first class condition in every respect and at all times.

The amounts expended or deposited respectively as reserve funds, under the foregoing provisions of this Section, shall be considered a part of the Operating Expenses of the street railway system hereby authorized, but in the event that the said street railway system shall be purchased by the said City, or its licensee, at any time under the provisions of this ordinance, the amount then on deposit in each of said reserve funds, or due to be deposited therein at the time of such purchase, shall be turned over to and become the property of the said City or of its said licensee.

The obligation herein assumed by the Company as to the maintenance, repairs and renewals of subways and extensions thereof, shall be held to be confined to that portion of any such subways or extensions, together with the structures and the appurtenances and equipment thereof, which may be used by or be subject to the use of, the said Company under the provisions of this ordinance, and to its fair proportionate share of the cost of maintenance, repairs and renewals of that part of any such subway or extensions or the appurtenances or equipment thereof, which may be used by or be subject to the use of the Company jointly with the said City or with the said Chicago City Railway Company, such proportionate amount to be fixed and determined by the Board of Supervising Engineers.

INSURANCE.

SECTION 17. The Company shall at all times keep insured to its full insurable value, in responsible companies, all buildings, cars and other insurable property, against loss by fire, and the premiums for such insurance shall be paid out of the receipts of said Company, as one of the operating expenses thereof, and in case of the destruction or damage by fire of any such property, the Company shall restore the same or its substantial equivalent at its own cost and not out of the receipts of its said street railways, or in lieu of such restoration, the Company shall deposit, as a part of the reserve fund required by the preceding Section 16, the value of the property so destroyed or damaged, which value shall be estimated by the Board of Supervising Engineers. The Company shall apply to any such deposit or to the cost of any such restoration the insurance moneys received on account of any such loss or damage. If such moneys are not equal in amount to the cost of such restoration or to the amount of the said deposit hereinabove required, the Company will at its own cost and not out of the receipts of said street railway system supply any deficit, and if the amount of such insurance moneys is greater than the said cost or deposit, the overplus shall be deposited with and become a part of and be an addition to the fund provided for in the preceding Section 16 for Renewals and Depreciation.

PERSONAL INJURY CLAIMS.

SECTION 18. Out of the gross receipts derived from the operation of the street railway system hereby authorized the Company shall pay as a part of the operating expenses, all damages arising or growing out of injuries to persons or to the property of others incident to the construction, reconstruction or operation of said street railway system accruing subsequent to January 31st, A. D. 1907, and the Company may set aside as a separate fund such percentage of said gross receipts as the said Board of Supervising Engineers shall estimate to be sufficient to protect the Company against all such claims, to the end that if the said City, or its licensee, shall elect to purchase the street railway property of the Company as provided by this ordinance, there shall be then available to the Company a fund sufficient to meet and discharge all legitimate claims for such damages. The percentage thus reserved may be changed from time to time by said Board of Supervising Engineers if and whenever they shall consider that the percentage theretofore reserved is either inadequate or excessive.

In case the balance of said fund at any time remaining shall be, in the judgment of the Board of Supervising Engineers, more than sufficient to protect the Company against all then unsettled claims, the Company shall pay to the said City fifty-five (55) per cent of the estimated excess, and the Company at the same time shall be entitled to apply to its own use and benefit forty-five (45) per cent of such estimated excess.

If the said City or its licensee shall purchase the property of the Company as in this ordinance provided or in case the Company shall become bound to deliver possession of said system of street railways to the City or any licensee of the City in pursuance of any of the provisions of this ordinance, the Company shall deposit with one or more of the depositaries herein authorized the fund then accumulated under the provisions of this Section, together with such of the "net receipts" of the Company from the operation of its street railways as shall not have been divided between the Company and the City prior to the giving of the notice by the City or its licensee of its intention to purchase or to take possession of said system of street railways, and the Company shall assume and pay and save the said City or such licensee harmless from all such claims for damages, payment for the same to be made out of the fund so deposited upon the order of the Company countersigned by the said Board of Supervising Engineers; but if the fund so retained and deposited shall be more than sufficient to pay and discharge said claims in full, then the said depositary or depositaries shall pay to the said City (or its licensee, as the case may be) fifty-five (55) per cent of such excess and to the Company forty-five (45) per cent of such excess. If after taking posession of said system of street railways, the City or its licensee shall become bound by any of provisions of this ordinance to restore such possession to the Company, the depositary or depositaries holding such fund shall deliver the same to the custody of the Company to be thereafter held and dealt with as though the Company's possession had not been interrupted.

The salaries and expenses of the Board of Supervising Engineers after any such purchase and so long as said Board shall continue to act under the provisions of this ordinance shall be paid out of the fund deposited under the provisions of this section.

REGULATION OF SALARIES.

SECTION 19. The Company may pay to the directors, officers, agents and attorneys of the Company as a part of the operating expenses, compensation for their services commensurate with the service actually rendered by them respectively, taking into consideration the compensation paid to directors, officers, agents and attorneys of other corporations or enterprises of similar magnitude and general character for like services, but the said City by written notice thereof may object to the payment thereafter of compensation in excess of an amount or rate specified in such objection to any such director, officer, agent or attorney, and in the event of a disagreement between the Company and the said City as to the proper amount to be paid as such compensation, the matter shall be submitted to the judgment of the said Board of Supervising Engineers whose decision shall be final and binding upon the parties, except that, if either party shall be dissatisfied with such decision of said Board, then such dissatisfied party may make application to any court of competent jurisdiction to pass upon such objection and to determine the amount of the compensation or salary to be paid.

RIGHT OF CITY TO PURCHASE AT ANY TIME.

SECTION 20. The Company by the acceptance of this ordinance, shall and does grant to the said City, and the said City hereby reserves to itself the right, upon the first day of February or upon the first day of August of each and any year after such acceptance upon giving at least six (6) months' previous notice in writing of its intention so to do, to purchase and take over (but only for municipal operation in case of purchase prior to February 1, A. D. 1927), the entire street railway system of the Company within the said City, including all property then existing which now constitutes the said street railway system in the possession of and operated by the Receivers of the Chicago Union Traction Company, with all renewals and repairs thereof, and including all the property, franchises, rights and claims described in the appraisal inventory of said street railway system as of June 30, 1906, made by Bion J. Arnold, Mortimer E. Cooley and A. B. duPont, a copy of which has been filed with the Comptroller of the said City, on the fourth day of February, A. D. 1907, except such as may have been sold as authorized by this ordinance, or destroyed or impaired (ordinary wear excepted), and all property then existing which has been purchased or acquired by the Company or by said Receivers, after June 30, 1906, for use as a part of or in connection with the said system of street railways, the cost of which shall have been certified by the Board of Supervising Engineers, as in this Section and in Section 7 hereof provided, and also all extensions of and additions to said street railways made under the provisions of this ordinance (including tunnels and underground trolleys, if any), and all rights of every kind under this ordinance in or to any subways or extensions thereof constructed under the provisions of this ordinance.

PRICE TO BE PAID BY CITY.

In case the said City shall purchase and take over the street railway system of the Company, as in this ordinance provided, then it shall pay for the same the aggregate of the following items:

1. The value of the property described in said appraisal inventory and the value of all the franchises, rights and claims of every description, to construct, maintain or operate street railways and tunnels in the said City now belonging to or claimed by the Chicago West Division Railway Company, the West Chicago Street Railroad Company, the West Chicago Street Railroad Tunnel Company, the Chicago Passenger Railway Company, the North Chicago City Railway Company, the North Chicago Street Railroad Company, the Chicago Union Traction Company, or any of them, or by the Receivers of any of them, or by any person or corporation claiming under or through any of them (excepting the rights and claims of the Chicago Consolidated Traction Company, hereinafter referred to), which said value of such property and all of said franchises, rights and claims is hereby fixed

(for the purpose of such purchase) at the sum of Twenty-nine Million Dollars ($29,000,000).

2. The value of any and all property and equipment and additions thereto supplied, purchased or acquired by the Receivers of the Chicago Union Traction Company as a part of said street railway system, including tunnel reconstruction between the 30th day of June, A. D. 1906, and February 1st, A. D. 1907, including any equipment and additions threto which were in process on June 30th, 1906, of being so supplied, purchased or acquired, but excluding any property described in the aforesaid inventory, and repairs to and maintenance thereof and any expenditures in connection therewith properly chargeable to operating expenses. From such value shall be deducted the value of any property included in said inventory which shall have been destroyed or impaired (ordinary wear excepted) after the 30th day of June, A. D. 1906, and prior to the 1st day of February, A. D. 1907. The value to be allowed under this paragraph Number 2 of this Section shall be determined by the Board of Supervising Engineers immediately after the assumption by said Board of their duties in supervising the work of reconstruction and re-equipment in this ordinance provided for, and shall be reported by said Board to the City Comptroller of said City; and the amount so reported by said Board shall be final and binding upon the parties hereto and shall be conclusively held and taken as the value of the property and equipment in this paragraph specified.

If, at the time appointed for the consummation of such purchase by the City, the title of the Company shall not be complete and free from any lien or encumbrance (other than such as are herein expressly authorized to be created), that portion of the purchase price specified in subdivisions 1 and 2 of this Section, or so much thereof as the City in its absolute discretion shall deem necessary to be reserved as security, shall be deposited with one or more of the depositaries appointed in accordance with this ordinance, in trust to secure the performance by the Company of its obligations expressed in this ordinance to perfect the title to said street railway system and to provide moneys sufficient to enable the City to perfect such title and to remove liens and encumbrances therefrom, and to indemnify the City against the expenses of such proceedings. The moneys so deposited shall be paid out from time to time by the depositary or depositaries upon the order of the City or the Company for any of the purposes aforesaid, or to reimburse the City or the Company for expenditures made for the purposes aforesaid, or any of them. The certificate of the Mayor of said City or a certified copy of a resolution of the Board of Directors of the Company may be accepted by any such depositary as conclusive evidence of the facts therein stated to warrant any such payment, and shall constitute full authority and protection to such depositary. Provided, that the City shall have the right to designate by ordinance an officer or agent of the City without whose approval no such payment shall be made.

3. The cost of reconstruction and re-equipment of said street railway lines of the Company and of the construction of new lines, extensions, underground trolleys, tunnel re-construction, and other additions to property actually paid by said Company at and prior to said purchase by said City and certified by the Board of Supervising Engineers, or incurred for work actually done or materials furnished with the approval of said Board under completed or pending contracts except those for which special provision is made in subdivision 4 of this Section, together with the percentages thereon as in Section 7 hereof provided, and all amounts which shall then have been contributed by the Company to the City for the construction of subways or extensions thereof, together with five (5) per cent of said last named amounts as hereinbefore provided. Provided that the City may at its option, to be declared by ordinance, either pay or deposit in cash to the order of the Company the portion of the purchase price specified in this subdivision (3) as in this Section provided, or in lieu thereof take over the property purchased by it subject to whatever lien may then exist under and in accordance with the provisions of Section 7 of this ordinance for the security of the bonds or obligations thereby authorized and for the security of the Company in respect of such part of said portion of the purchase price so certified as may not be represented by such bonds or obligations. As against the City and any licensee of the City and any and all other persons having or claiming to have any interest or benefit under this ordinance, the lien securing said bonds and obligations shall at all times be deemed and recognized to be a first lien upon the entire street railway system hereby authorized, including all rights granted to the Company by this ordinance. The City shall have the right, if it elects to take subject to such lien to acquire any or all of the bonds and obligations thereby secured from the holders thereof on any day appointed for the payment of interest, by publishing notice of its intention to do so in like manner as shall be provided in the mortgage or deed of trust mentioned in Section 7 of this ordinance, in case of the exercise by the Company of the right of redemption and by depositing with the trustee or depositary designated in said bonds or in the mortgage or deed of trust securing the same, as in case of redemption, prior to the day specified in such notice, a sum equal to the principal amount of all the said bonds and obligations designated in such notice with interest to said day and, such publication having been completed and such deposit made, said bonds and obligations so designated shall not after the day specified in such notice nor shall any of them be entitled to the benefit or security of any lien upon the system of street railways hereby authorized except and until the said bonds or obligations shall respectively be surrendered to the trustee or depositary specified in said notice, upon payment of an amount equal to the principal thereof and the accrued interest thereon to the date specified in such notice, and such bonds or obligations shall thereafter be held by such trustee or depositary for the account of the City and delivered to or upon the order of the City. If less than the whole number of said bonds and obligations outstanding are to be acquired at any time by the City, the particular bonds or obligations to be so acquired shall be selected by lot in the manner to be provided in said mortgage or deed of trust, with respect to the selection of bonds or obligations for redemption. Such bonds or obligations when so acquired, shall have equal force and validity and be equally secured by lien upon said system of street railways as when in the hands of the original holders.

4. After the giving of the notice of the election of the said City to purchase said street railway system of the Company, as herein provided, and prior to the date fixed for said purchase, the said Board of Supervising Engineers shall make a written estimate (and furnish a copy therof to the said Company and the said City) of the probable cost of completing any work of construction or equipment provided for by this ordinance, including the construction of new lines, extensions, underground trolleys, tunnel re-construction, or other additions to property and including any extensions of the street railway system of said Company made under the provisions of Section 38 hereof, which work has, and to the extent to which it has, prior to the date of giving said notice, been contracted for by said Company, with the approval of said Board of Supervising Engineers, and (except in the case of the improvement of property as to which the title of the Company is defective, in which case the City may, however, at its option, act hereunder as though such title were not defective without thereby waiving any defect) the said City shall either take over and assume said contracts and procure the release of the Company from all obligation thereunder, or the said City shall, at or prior to the date of the said purchase of the street railway system of said Company, deposit with a depositary or depositaries (authorized to act as such by this ordinance) a sufficient amount of money to pay the cost of completing such contracts according to the said estimate of the said Board of Supervising Engineers, and the said Company shall proceed, with all due diligence and care, to complete said contracts at its own expense and under the supervision of said Board of Supervising Engineers, and the cost of completing the said contracts after the date of such purchase by the City, together with the said additional percentages thereof, shall be paid from time to time by the said depositary or depositaries out of the funds so deposited, upon the written certificates of the said Board of Supervising Engineers. In the event that the said amount so deposited shall not be sufficient to pay the said cost, including said additional percentages provided for in Section 7 hereof, the said City shall pay such additional amount as may be necessary for such purpose, and in the event that the amount so deposited shall be more than sufficient to pay the said cost, the unexpended balance shall be returned and paid over to the City by the said depositary or depositaries holding the same, and in no event shall the Company be obligated to incur a greater expense in carrying out said contract than the amount so deposited, and in no event shall there be paid to the Company or upon its order out of the amount so deposited any sum in excess of the actual cost to it of completing such contract or contracts, exclusive of said additional percentages, until full performance of its obligations to perfect the title to said street railway system purchased by the City if incomplete and to provide the City with any moneys necessary to enable the City to perfect such title, if incomplete, and to remove liens and encumbrances therefrom, if any, (other than such as are expressly authorized by Section 7 of this ordinance to be created) and to indemnify the City against the expense of such proceedings as may be necessary for any or all the purposes above specified.

PAYMENT OR DEPOSIT OF PURCHASE PRICE.

Upon the deposit of the sum, if any, required by the above and foregoing paragraph numbered 4 of this Section and the payment to the Company, or the deposit in accordance with the foregoing provisions, in cash of the amounts hereinbefore in paragraphs numbered 1, 2 and 3 of this Section provided for (subject however, to the right of the City to take title subject to certain liens and obligations as in this ordinance provided),—but the City, in lieu of paying direct to the Company any of the amounts payable to the Company, may deposit the same to the order of the Company with one or more of the depositaries authorized to act as such by this ordinance—the said City shall have full right and lawful authority, after the notice and upon any of the dates hereinbefore fixed, to take over and possess, as its own property, all the property, plant and equipment of every sort and nature (including tunnels and underground trolleys), then constituting the street railway system of the Company, and all rights of every kind under this ordinance in or to any subways or extensions thereof constructed under the provisions of this ordinance free and clear of all liens and claims of every nature, other than those, if any, recognized and used by the City in reduction of the purchase price; except that the said City shall take subject to the payment of a fractional part of the unpaid taxes for the current year upon the said property, rights and equipment, equal to the fractional part of the year for which such taxes have been levied or assessed remaining unexpired at the date of such purchase, and the balance of the taxes shall be treated and paid as a part of the operating expenses prior to the sale of the property.

The property to the possession of which the said City shall then be entitled shall include all of the property then existing which now constitutes the said street railway system with its appurtenances in the possession of or maintained or operated by the Receivers of the Chicago Union Traction Company, including all the property, franchises, rights and claims described in said appraisal inventory and all of the property purchased or acquired by the Company or by said Receivers after June 30, 1906, for use as a part of or in connection with the said system of street railways, the cost of which shall have been certified by the Board of Supervising Engineers, as in this section and in Section 7 hereof provided, and all extensions of, or additions to, said street railways, including tunnels and underground trolleys constructed under the provisions of this ordinance, and all rights of the said Company in or to any subways or extensions thereof constructed under this ordinance, and the sums then on deposit as a reserve fund, under the provisions of Section 16 of this ordinance (excepting such property as may have been sold as in this ordinance authorized, or worn out or destroyed: Provided, that in case of property destroyed and not then replaced in kind or in value as provided in Section 17 of this ordinance, adjustment shall forthwith be made at the time of such purchase and the obligation of the Company in that behalf discharged, either in cash or by deduction from the purchase price).

The Company further grants to the said City, and the said City hereby reserves to itself the right (in addition to the right of purchase hereinbefore granted and reserved) to purchase and take over from the Company at any time prior to February 1st, A. D. 1927, the street railway system, rights and property of the Company, free from any limitation and restriction as to the operation thereof, at the same times and in the same manner at and upon which the City has the right under the foregoing provisions of this section to purchase the same. The price to be paid therefor by the City under the right of purchase in this clause granted and reserved shall be the price at which the City shall then have the right to purchase said property for municipal operation as hereinbefore specified, and in addition to such price a sum equal to twenty (20) per cent. of such price.

In the event that it shall be determined that the City is, at the time this ordinance is passed or at the time this ordinance takes effect without lawful power or authority to acquire or own street railways under the provisions of this ordinance or otherwise, and the City shall thereafter acquire such power or authority, thereupon and after such acquirement the City shall have the right to purchase and acquire said street railways, rights and property under the provisions of this ordinance to the same extent and in the same measure as if said City had full right and lawful authority so to purchase or acquire said street railways, rights and property at the date of the passage of this ordinance and at the date when this ordinance takes effect.

CITY PURCHASE DURING RECONSTRUCTION PERIOD.

SECTION 21. In the event that the said City shall elect to exercise its right of purchase, as in this ordinance provided, at any time prior to the completion of the work of construction, reconstruction, equipment and re-equipment within the time and in the manner provided for in said "Exhibit B," under the head of "Immediate Rehabilitation" it shall take over the same subject to the right and obligation of the Company to complete the said work of "Immediate Rehabilitation" as provided in this ordinance, carrying out the terms and conditions of said "Exhibit B" under the supervision and control of the said Board of Supervising Engineers and receiving therefor the cost thereof and the additional percentages thereon as in Section 7 of this ordinance provided.

In such event, in addition to complying with the provisions of Section 20 of this ordinance, the said City shall deposit at the time of such purchase with some one or more of the banks or trust companies authorized to act as depositaries under the terms of this ordinance a sufficient amount of money to pay for the completion of the said work of "Immediate Rehabilitation," not herein otherwise provided, for which said amount shall be estimated and determined by the said Board of Supervising Engineers, and shall include said additional percentages provided for in Section 7 hereof.

The said cost of completing the said work of "Immediate Rehabilitation," together with said additional percentages thereof shall be paid from time to time by the said depositary or depositaries, out of the funds so deposited with it or them, upon the written certificates of the said Board of Supervising Engineers.

In the event that the said amount so deposited shall not be sufficient to pay the said cost, including said additional percentages provided for in Section 7 hereof, the said City shall pay such additional amount as may be necessary for such purpose.

In the event that the amount so deposited shall be more than sufficient to pay the said cost, the unexpended balance shall be returned and paid over to the said City by the said depositary or depositaries, and in no event shall the Company be obligated to incur a greater expense for the work of such construction, reconstruction, equipment and re-equipment, including underground trolleys, tunnel reconstruction and other additions to plant and property, if any, than the amount so deposited, and in no event shall there be paid to the Company, or upon its order, out of the amount so deposited, any sum in excess of the actual cost to it of completing such work, exclusive of said additional percentages, until full performance of its obligations to perfect the title to said street railway system, if the same be incomplete, and to provide the City wth moneys sufficient to enable the City to perfect such title, if incomplete, and to remove liens and encumbrances therefrom, if any, and to indemnify the City against the expense of such proceedings as may be necessary for any or all the purposes above specified.

RIGHT OF LICENSEE TO PURCHASE.

SECTION 22. The Company by the acceptance of this ordinance shall and does grant to the City, and the City hereby reserves to itself, the right to designate any person, firm or corporation having lawful authority to acquire, own and operate street railways in said City (herein called the "licensee") who or which shall have the right to purchase the street railway system, rights and property of the Company, at the same times and in the same manner at and upon which the City hereunder has the right to purchase the same, subject to the condition that the said licensee shall purchase the same property which the City has herein reserved the right to purchase, and that the price to be paid therefor by the said licensee shall be the price at which the City shall have the right to purchase said property, for municipal operation, and in addition to such price a sum equal to twenty (20) per cent. of such price; but it is expressly provided, however, that the said licensee shall not be required to pay the said additional twenty (20) per cent. or any part thereof, if, before the purchase of said property by such licensee shall be consummated, a valid and binding contract shall be entered into between the City and its licensee, either by the passage of an ordinance and the acceptance thereof or otherwise, which shall limit the beneficial interest of the said licensee and its stockholders, if such licensee is a corporation, in the property purchased and any improvements thereof or additions thereto to a return of the actual moneys invested therein by said licensee and not exceeding five (5) per cent. thereof, in addition thereto, and interest upon the said moneys and the said additional per cent. at a rate not exceeding five (5) per cent. per annum, and which shall provide that all net profits derived from the said property in excess of the beneficial interest of said licensee, limited as aforesaid, shall belong and be paid over to the City.

Nothing in this ordinance, however, shall have the effect or be construed to have the effect of lessening or limiting the right of the City to provide for reducing the rates of fare to be charged by such licensee in the operation of said street railway system or from using the moneys so to be paid over to the said City by said licensee for the purpose of retiring from time to time the stock or other securities issued by said licensee, subject to the limitations of this Section, or from using the said moneys in extending or adding to or improving said street railway system.

The licensee of the City shall have the same option which it is provided in Section 20 of this ordinance that the City shall have to take the said property subject to whatever lien may then have been created under and in accordance with the provisions of Section 7 of this ordinance, with a like right to acquire the bonds or obligations secured by such lien from the holders thereof on the same terms and in the same manner set forth in said Section 20.

If, at the time appointed for the consummation of such purchase by the City's licensee, the title of the Company shall not be complete and free from lien or encumbrance (other than such as are herein expressly authorized to be created), all the provisions of the foregoing Section 20, with respect to the deposit of a portion of the purchase price as security, shall be applicable; and the City shall have the same powers and rights in respect to perfecting the title of its licensee and removing liens and encumbrances therefrom, as are herein granted or reserved for the perfecting of the City's title in case it purchases for its own account; and the Company shall be subject to the same obligations, both in respect to furnishing moneys and in respect to the application of stocks, securities and evidences of indebtedness acquired, controlled or held by it, for the purpose of perfecting the title of the City's licensee and freeing the same from liens and encumbrances, as are provided in the foregoing Section 20, if the City were the purchaser.

The additional percentage, if any required to be paid by this Section as an addition to the purchase price shall, in the event above specified, be deposited as additional security to that in subdivision 2 of said Section 20 provided, and shall become a part of the fund required by said Section to be held in trust for the purposes and subject to the powers therein specified.

The right of the licensee of the City to acquire the said street railway system, rights and property by purchase under the provisions of this ordinance shall in no way be impaired by any lack of power or authority on the part of the City itself to acquire the said street railway system, rights and property for municipal use and operation or otherwise.

Upon the purchase of the said street railway system, rights and property under the provisions of this ordinance, either by the City or by any licensee of the City, all rights of the Company, its licensees or assigns under this ordinance in or to said street railways, rights and property or any part thereof, or the operation thereof, or the proceeds or receipts thereof, shall wholly cease and determine.

RIGHTS OF COMPANY IN CASE CITY DOES NOT PURCHASE FOR TWENTY YEARS.

SECTION 23. In the event that the said street railways are not purchased by the said City or its licensee as hereinabove authorized, prior to February 1, A. D. 1927, (and nothing in this ordinance contained shall be construed as being in any event a grant to the Company extending beyond February 1, A. D. 1927), the said City shall have the right to designate any person, firm or corporation having lawful authority to acquire, own and operate street railways in said City as its licensee, to purchase the said street railways, property and rights of the Company at or after February 1, A. D. 1927, upon the same terms that the City could then purchase, and in case such reserved right of purchase be not exercised by the said City or its licensee and the City shall grant a right to another company to operate a street railway in the streets and parts of streets constituting the said street railway system of the Company, such new company shall be required to and shall purchase and take over the said street railways, property and rights of the Company at or after February 1, A. D. 1927, upon the same terms upon which the said City might then purchase and take them over.

RELATIONS WITH CHICAGO CONSOLIDATED TRACTION COMPANY.

Section 24. The Company shall forthwith upon the acceptance of this ordinance secure, at its own cost and not out of the receipts of said street railways, and shall during the life of this grant in like manner maintain the right and privilege to the Company and to the City, and for the benefit of the public, of using all and any of the street railway lines and tracks forming part of the through routes, or any of them, mentioned and described in Exhibit "C," so far as such routes involve the use of the lines and tracks of the Chicago Consolidated Traction Company and, in case of the establishment of new through routes, as in this ordinance provided, which shall be laid out in part over the lines and tracks of said Chicago Consolidated Traction Company, the Company shall secure the right and privilege of using such lines and tracks covered by said new through routes.

The Company may, in its discretion, permit the Chicago Consolidated Traction Company, its successors and assigns, to make such use of the lines of railway hereby authorized as the so-called operating agreement, dated December 1st, 1899, between the Chicago Union Traction Company, of the first part, and the Chicago Consolidated Traction Company, of the second part, as modified by the agreement between the same parties dated June 9, 1900, (certified copies of both of which agreements have been filed with the Comptroller of said City), purports to permit and authorize: Provided, that as one of the considerations for the passage of this ordinance the Company agrees that it will at any time during the life of this grant within six months after being required to do so by ordinance of the said City, procure cancellation and termination of any or all of the agreements which affect or by their terms purport to affect in any manner the right of operation or maintenance of any of the lines of street railway the right to maintain or operate which is granted by this ordinance to the Company, and to which said agreements the Chicago Consolidated Traction Company or any of the corporations, from or through which the said Chicago Consolidated Traction Company has derived any of its property or rights within the corporate limits of the City of Chicago, is a party.

The Company agrees that it will at all times pay or cause to be paid to the City and save the City harmless against the loss or damage if any which may arise to the City by reason of any diminution of the net receipts payable to the City under the provisions of Section 25 of this ordinance occasioned by the said agreements or any of them remaining in effect or by reason of the operation of the street railways under the terms of such agreements or any other operating agreements to which the City has not consented. The amount of such loss, damage or diminution shall be determined annually by the Board of Supervising Engineers, and such loss, damage, or diminution shall be paid over to the City by the Company at the time of and in connection with the annual accounting and division of the net receipts provided for under Section 25 of this ordinance. It is agreed, however, that in determining the amount of loss, damage or diminution the said Board shall take into consideration the value of such use of any lines of railway of the Chicago Consolidated Traction Company as has been enjoyed by the Company for the period of such accounting.

The Company covenants as part of the consideration for the grant of the rights and privileges conferred by this ordinance that it will at all times during the life of this grant secure to passengers the same right of transfer between the lines of the Company and the connecting lines of the Chicago Consolidated Traction Company for continuous travel in one general direction for a single fare within the limits of the City of Chicago as if the said lines of the Company and the said lines of the Chicago Consolidated Traction Company were owned and operated by the Company under the provisions of this ordinance. But this obligation shall cease as to any particular line of said Chicago Consolidated Traction Company upon the expiration of the right of said Company to operate said line under ordinances heretofore passed unless such right be continued in force by proper ordinance.

The Company shall have the right from time to time to make reasonable rules and regulations (approved by the Board of Supervising Engineers) with respect to the transfer of passengers between the lines of street railway operated by it under this ordinance and the connecting lines of the Chicago Consolidated Traction Company, which rules and regulations shall, however, be at all times subject to modification by the City Council of the City of Chicago.

In case the Company shall make default in respect to any of the provisions of this section and any such default shall be established by the judgment or decree of a court of competent jurisdiction, then and thereupon all rights of the Company hereunder shall cease and determine and the Company will on demand, forthwith surrender to the City or to any licensee of the City, possession of the railways and other property described in Section 20 of this ordinance then in its possession, together with all right, title and interest of the Company in said railways and property and any and all funds then on deposit with any of the depositaries under the provisions of Section 16 of this ordinance and the City or its said licensee (or any assignee of said licensee) shall take over and thereafter operate the same subject to the obligation and upon the condition that it shall pay to the Company or upon its order, out of the receipts from the operation of said railways, 5 per cent. per annum in equal semi-annual installments upon an amount equal to the sum which the City would have had to pay as the purchase price of said property for municipal operation if it had then taken possession thereof as the purchaser under the provisions of Section 20 of this ordinance and with the right to retain to its own use all of the remaining net receipts derived from the operation of the said railways. The fund required to be deposited under the provisions of said Section 18 shall be disposed of by the depositary or depositaries under the provisions of said section as if the City or its licensee had purchased the said street railways and property at the time the said City or its licensee took possession of said street railways and property under the provisions of this section.

If at any time after the City or its licensee shall have taken possession as aforesaid and before the first day of February, A. D. 1927, the City shall elect to purchase the said street railway system as provided in Section 20 of this ordinance, or to cause the same to be purchased by its licensee, then the City or such licensee shall consummate said purchase in like manner as if it had not taken possession pursuant to the provisions of this section. In case the City shall not so elect, by giving notice on or before August 1st, A. D. 1926, as in Section 20 of this ordinance provided, then and in such event the City or its licensee shall at least sixty (60) days before the first day of February, A. D. 1927, provided the Company shall then have performed its obligations under subdivision (d) of Section 1 of this ordinance, restore to the Company possession of said system of railways and property so taken from the Company, in its then condition, including all property substituted for property worn out or destroyed, which railways and property shall thereafter be held and enjoyed by the Company under the terms of this ordinance in like manner as if the same had not been surrendered to the possession of the City or its licensee pursuant to the provisions hereof.

The Company further agrees that, in case of purchase by the City, or its licensee, as in this ordinance provided, it will, at the option of the City, or of such licensee, cause its system of street railways hereby authorized to be conveyed to said City, or its licensee, free and clear of any rights or privileges on the part of the Chicago Consolidated Traction Company, its successors and assigns, or any other person or corporation, to use or enjoy any part of said street railway property so conveyed under any operating agreement, or otherwise; or, if the City, or its licensee, shall so elect, it will cause said above mentioned street railway property to be conveyed to said City, or its licensee, subject to any operating agreement then in force which the City or its licensee may elect to have continued in force.

Until the City, or its licensee, shall elect to have said property transferred, free and clear of any rights and privileges on the part of the Chicago Consolidated Traction Company, its successors or assigns, and shall give notice of such election in writing to the Company, the existence of such rights and privileges, to the extent specified in any operating agreement, the cancellation or termination of which has not been required by the City as aforesaid, shall not be deemed a lien or encumbrance upon the property of the Company, or a defect in its title, within the meaning of any section of this ordinance.

Nothing in this ordinance shall be construed to permit the Company to pay or in any manner obligate itself to pay or cause to be paid out of any portion of the receipts of the street railway system hereby authorized other than the forty-five per cent (45%) of the net receipts authorized in Section 25 of this ordinance to be retained by the Company so long as the Company shall be entitled to retain the same under the provisions of this ordinance any of the indebtedness, either principal or interest, of said Chicago Consolidated Traction Company, its successors or assigns; or any of the operating expenses of said Chicago Consolidated Traction Company, its successors or assigns.

INTEREST RETURN ON CAPITAL INVESTMENT.

Section 25. On and before the 10th day of April in each year the Company shall come to an accounting and settlement with the said City as of the thirty-first day of January last preceding, upon the following basis:

From the gross receipts of the said street railway system and property from all sources and of every kind for the year ending on said thirty-first day of January there shall be deducted for such year:

First: (1) All expenses of operation, including maintenance, repairs and renewals; (2) All amounts contributed during said year and then held in reserve under the provisions of Sections 16 and 18 hereof; (3) All amounts paid out for taxes and assessments levied or imposed upon the real and personal property of the Company, including all capital stock or franchise taxes levied or assessed after the year 1906, but not including any taxes which may by any court be ordered to be levied, assessed or collected after the year 1906 on account of the failure of the Company or any person, firm or corporation owning or having an interest in the said street railways or property, to pay any taxes which should have been paid for or on account of such street railways or property prior to the year 1907, and not including any sums paid by the Company to the City for City license fees, if any, exacted from the Company or its employes; (4) all salaries and expenses of the Board of Supervising Engineers by this ordinance authorized, after the period of "Immediate Rehabilitation"; and

Second: a sum equivalent to five (5) per centum per annum for said preceding year upon the amount of the cash purchase price which the said City would then be obligated to pay on account of the items specified in subdivisions 1, 2 and 3 of Section 20 hereof, if it were purchasing the property for municipal operation on such thirty-first day of January, interest being adjusted as to items added to such purchase price during said year. In case in any year the gross receipts shall not be sufficient to pay in full the items in the "first" and "second" paragraphs of this Section mentioned, then the deficit shall be paid out of the gross receipts of the subsequent year or years.

In case at any time the property of the Company, or any part thereof, shall be subject to any lien or encumbrance, securing an indebtedness, upon which an interest charge is accruing, and which is not subordinate to the right of the City to purchase said street railway system, or cause the same to be purchased by its licensee as in this ordinance provided then and in that case at each yearly accounting a sum equal to the amount of such interest charge accrued for such year, not represented by bonds or evidences of indebtedness held by the Company, or by coupons appertaining thereto and held by the Company, shall be set aside out of said sum of five per centum, and deposited with one or more of the depositaries appointed in accordance with this ordinance, to be held in trust for the protection of the City against such interest charge and to be paid out for such protection upon the order of the Company in its discretion. Any surplus of said fund above the amount of such interest charge at any time outstanding, shall be paid to the Company. Provided, that if the City shall take possession of said system of street railways by reason of the default of the Company in respect to the obligation expressed in subdivision (d) of Section 1 of this ordinance, then and thereafter such fund shall be subject to the sole control of the City, to be disbursed and applied in like manner as the net receipts which in that event are provided to be held in trust for the purpose of perfecting the title. Nothing herein contained shall be construed to create or recognize any right or interest in said fund in favor of the holder of any such lien or encumbrance or of any obligation thereby secured.

DIVISION OF REMAINING NET RECEIPTS.

After the deduction from the gross receipts of the items hereinbefore in this Section provided, the amount remaining shall be considered as the net receipts for such year arising from the operation of the street railway system hereby authorized, and shall be divided between the Company and the said City in the following proportions: forty-five (45) per cent. to be retained by the Company and fifty-five (55) per cent. to be paid forthwith by the Company to the said City, crediting thereon all amounts paid out during the preceding year by the Company for license fees, if any, exacted from the Company or its employes.

COMMUTATION OF FARES.

It is understood and agreed that the Company's agreement and obligation to pay the the City the fifty-five (55) per cent. of the "net receipts," as hereinbefore provided is based upon its right to charge and receive the fares prescribed in Section 11 hereof and to retain as its own the forty-five (45) per cent. of the "net receipts" as is hereinabove in this Section provided. The said City, however, reserves the right to, and it may at any time commute a sum not exceeding the City's share of the net receipts for the previous year into a reduction of said rates of fare; and thereafter in the event of such reduction of rates of fare the Company may deduct and retain as its share of the net receipts each year an amount equal to what would have been the Company's share of the net receipts of such year had the passengers carried during such year paid the fares prescribed in this ordinance, but the Company, after deducting and retaining its share of said net receipts so determined, shall pay over to the said City the remainder, if any, of the net receipts for such year less the deductions therefrom hereinbefore provided to be made from the said City's share of the "net receipts" on account of license fees.

CITY TO ESTABLISH SINKING FUND FOR MUNICIPAL PURCHASE.

It is further provided that, subject to the action of the City Council of said City, the said City shall deposit the amount so paid to the said City to the credit of a separate fund to be kept and used for the purchase and construction of street railways by said City; but any failure to comply with this provision shall in no way effect the rights or obligations of the Company under this ordinance.

COMPANY'S RIGHT TO NET RECEIPTS TO BE SUSPENDED IN CERTAIN CONTINGENCIES.

If, at any time, the Company shall be in default with respect to the obligation expressed in subdivision (d) of Section 1 of this ordinance in regard to perfecting title to its property and removing liens and encumbrances therefrom, the Company shall, upon demand, surrender to the City possession of its entire street railway system and the City may enter into possession thereof and of each and every part thereof, maintaining, operating, improving or extending the same, and keeping up the funds described in Sections 16 and 18 of this ordinance, in all respects as the Company might do, and as the Company would be obliged to do, if in possession under the provisions of this ordinance, until the obligation of the Company under said sub-division (d) of Section 1 of this ordinance shall be completely performed, or until the City shall purchase said property, or cause the same to be purchased by its licensee, as in this ordinance provided. Until the happening of one of the events last mentioned, if the City in its absolute discretion shall so elect by notice in writing delivered to the Company, the continuance of the Company in possession shall be subject to the obligation of applying its net receipts as hereinafter in this Section provided until the City elects to take possession as in this paragraph provided.

If, in the event of such default, the City elects to take possession of said property, the Company shall be bound to provide funds sufficient to fulfill all its obligations in respect of extensions, improvements, reconstruction, equipment, re-equipment, and additions to said system of street railways and the contribution of moneys toward the cost of subways and extensions thereof, as though its possession of said system of street railways had not been interrupted.

Whether in case of such default the City elects to take possession or to leave the Company in possession, in either event the receipts of said system of street railways shall be applied as hereinbefore in this Section provided, except that the proportion of net receipts which by this Section the Company is authorized to retain for its own use and benefit shall be paid over to a depositary as in this Section provided, to be, by such depositary, applied in accordance with the provisions of this ordinance next hereinafter set forth to remove any defect of title or any lien or encumbrance, other than such as are herein expressly authorized to be created, which may exist with respect to said system of street railways.

To the extent that the City shall proceed to exercise the powers, or any of them, mentioned in subdivision (c) of Section 1 of this ordinance, said moneys shall be paid out by the depositary upon the certificate of the Mayor of the City and upon the order of such disbursing officer or agent as the City may designate, to provide funds with which to pay the purchase-price of property acquired by the City pursuant to said subdivision, or to indemnify the City for expenses incurred in the exercise, or attempted exercise, of its powers, as in said subdivision provided. In the event that the City shall elect to leave the Company in possession of said property as aforesaid, the City shall have the additional right to require the depositary, upon like certificate and order, to pay out said moneys for any or all the purposes aforesaid in the absolute discretion of the City, irrespective of the limitations contained in said subdivision (c) of Section 1 of this ordinance. Such certificate of the Mayor shall be conclusive evidence to the depositary of the facts therein stated.

The depositary may also pay out said moneys upon the order of the Company for the acquisition or extinguishment of any outstanding title, estate, interest, lien, encumbrance, claim or demand, constituting a defect of title of the Company's property, but no such payment shall be made on the order of the Company without twenty (20) days' previous notice in writing to the City Comptroller of said City, which notice shall specify the particular title, estate, interest, lien, encumbrance, claim or demand to be acquired or extinguished, and the name of the holder or holders thereof, to whom payment is proposed to be made and the amount of such payment. A certified copy of a resolution of the board of directors of the Company, requesting such payment and stating the facts claimed to justify the same, shall be conclusive evidence to the depositary of the facts so stated, in the absence of notice of objection by the City, as next hereinafter provided. If, within said period of twenty (20) days, the City, by notice in writing delivered to the depositary, shall object to such proposed payment and shall agree to waive any default, or supposed default, by reason of the existence of such alleged title, estate, interest, lien, encumbrance, claim or demand, and to take title or cause its licensee to take title to said system of street railways subject thereto in the event of purchase by the City or its licensee, pursuant to the provisions of this ordinance, then and in that event the depositary shall not make the payment referred to in such notice given to the City by the Company, but shall set apart out of the proportion of the net receipts aforesaid in its hands and shall hold an amount equal to such proposed payment upon the specific trust to pay the same, with all accumulations to the City in either of the following events, namely:

(1) If the City shall, at its own expense, cause the said title, estate, interest, lien, encumbrance, claim or demand to be extinguished or conveyed or transferred to the Company.

(2) If the City shall purchase said street railway system, or cause the same to be purchased by its licensee, as in this ordinance provided, and shall take title to said street railway system subject to such outstanding title, estate, interest, lien, encumbrance, claim or demand without deduction from the purchase-price on account thereof.

At the beginning and at the end of any such period during which the Company's right to receive or retain for its own use and benefit a portion of said net receipts shall have been suspended, as hereinbefore provided, there shall be an accounting in respect of the receipts of said street railway system, to which the depositary shall be a party, substantially as provided in Section 25 of this ordinance with respect to the annual account; and any balance of net receipts in the hands of the depositary not expended as aforesaid, accruing prior to the expiration of such period shall be paid to the City, if the City was in possession during such period, or to the Company, if the Company was in possession during such period, and the Company shall be entitled to receive at the time and subject to the conditions hereinbefore in this Section and in Section 18 set forth the share of said net receipts hereinbefore mentioned, accruing after the expiration of such period.

If the City shall enter into possession of said system of street railways, as in this Section provided, it may retain such possession for not more than six months after said title to said system of street railways is perfected as aforesaid and after receiving six months' notice thereof in writing from the Company; and if, while in possession under the authority of this Section, the City shall give notice of its intention to purchase said street railway system of the Company, or to cause the same to be purchased by its licensee at the next succeeding date at which such purchase could be made under this ordinance, the City shall be under no obligation thereafter to surrender such possession by reason of such title having been perfected, unless the City or its licensee shall fail to consummate the purchase at the time specified in such notice.

CAPITAL INVESTMENT LIMITATION.

Section 26. The Company shall not be required on account of any extensions of subways or on account of underground trolleys, or on account of any extensions of its street railways (other than the extensions provided for in Exhibit A, and in Section 38 of this ordinance, and six (6) miles of double or twelve (12) miles of single track per annum, as in Section 3 hereof provided), to increase its total capital investment to such an extent that the return thereon over and above the interest charge of five per cent. thereon by this ordinance authorized, would be reduced to an inadequate or unreasonably small amount.

Section 27. Any state or national bank or trust company in the City of Chicago or in the City of New York which has a capital stock and surplus amounting to at least one million dollars ($1,000,000) may be selected and can act as a depositary under the provisions of this ordinance; provided, that no moneys shall be deposited with any such depositary under the provisions of this ordinance to an amount exceeding the total capital stock and one-half of the surplus of such depositary; and provided, further, that all deposits authorized or required by this ordinance (except deposits of purchase-money in the event of purchase of said street railway system by the City or its licensee) shall be made with depositaries in the City of Chicago.

DEPOSITS.

Section 28. The Company shall have the right to select the particular depositary or depositaries with which it shall deposit any of the funds required to be deposited by the Company under the provisions of this ordinance, and the Company shall at all times be held responsible for any loss or impairment of any such deposit, and shall promptly make good and restore at its own cost, and not out of the receipts of said street railways, any such loss or impairment. The City or its licensee, as the case may be, shall have the right to select the particular depositary or depositaries with which shall be deposited the funds required to be deposited by the City or its licensee, in the event of purchase of the said street railways by the City or its licensee under the provisions of this ordinance, and the City or its licensee, as the case may be, shall at all times be held responsible for any loss or impairment of any such deposit made by it, and shall promptly make good and restore any such loss or impairment.

Provided, that in all cases where, under the terms of this ordinance, the City is authorized or required to make any deposits of money, the City shall be free from any responsibility for loss or impairment of any such deposit, if not less than thirty days prior to the making of such deposit it shall give notice in writing to the Company of the names of the depositaries in which it shall propose to make such deposit. And the Company, if not satisfied therewith, shall give notice in writing to the City not less than twenty days after receiving such notice from the City. The notice of the Company may direct the City not to make such deposit, or any specified portion of it, with any depositary or depositaries so named by the City of which the Company may disapprove, and in such case such notice by the Company shall contain the names of qualified depositaries from which the City may choose in lieu of the names so disapproved of by the Company, and the number of the names of depositaries in such notice by the Company, from which the City is to choose, shall be at least five in excess of the number of depositaries which the Company shall disapprove of as stated in such notice. And the City, upon making deposits, in accordance with the terms of this proviso, shall be free from any responsibility for loss or impairment of any such deposits.

INTEREST ON DEPOSITS

Section 29. The Company shall make daily deposits, with some depositary or depositaries authorized by this ordinance, of all moneys received by the Company from the operation of the said street railways and property, and shall make appropriate provision for the payment of reasonable interest on the moneys so deposited by such depositary or depositaries, which interest shall be added to and be held and considered as a part of the gross receipts of the said street railway system and property.

Section 30. The Company, so long as it continues to operate any of the said street railways under this ordinance, and on or before the tenth day of April in each year shall prepare and file with the City Comptroller of said City annual reports for the preceding year ending on the 31st day of January.

Such reports shall be in writing, verified by the affidavit of the Auditor of the Company, setting forth in reasonable detail, according to forms prescribed by said Comptroller, the character and amount of business done by the Company for the year immediately preceding such report and the amount of receipts from and the expenses of conducting the said business, and the said City Comptroller, or accountants authorized by him, under the direction of the Mayor or City Council of said City, shall have the right at all reasonable times to examine all the books, vouchers and records of the receipts and expenditures of the Company, for the purpose of ascertaining the accuracy of the reports herein required and the rights of the said City under this ordinance. The Board of Supervising Engineers shall have power to prescribe the form and manner in which the books and accounts of the Company shall be kept, subject to the approval of the City Comptroller. There shall be also an annual audit of the accounts of the Company covering all receipts and expenditures for the year ending on the thirty-first day of January next preceding, and a formal written report by public accountants selected by the City and the Company, the expenses of such audit and report to be paid out of the gross receipts of the Company as an operating expense.

In the event of any purchase of the street railways and property of the Company under the provisions of this ordinance, on the first day of August of any year, there shall be an accounting and report for the preceding six months similar in character to that hereinbefore provided.

Section 31. The Company shall not remove its principal office or any of its books (except bond registry and stock transfer books), records, accounts, contracts or original vouchers of receipts and expenditures beyond the limits of the said City, and shall maintain an office within said City so long as the Company continues to operate any part of the street railways mentioned and provided for in this ordinance under the provisions hereof.

FORFEITURE FOR NON-COMPLIANCE.

Section 32. The Company, by the acceptance of this ordinance, expressly agrees with the said City and obligates itself fully to comply with all of the terms and conditions of this ordinance throughout the period of time covered hereby, and so long as the Company continues to operate any street railways in said City under or by virtue of the authority hereof.

The Company further agrees that in the event that it shall make default in the observance or performance of any of the agreements or conditions herein required to be kept and performed by it (other than the obligations stated in subdivision (d) of Section 1 of this ordinance as to which special provision has been made in Section 25 of this ordinance, which obligations, however, are to be excepted only in case the Company has fully complied with the provisions of said Section 25), and if any such default shall continue for a period of three (3) months (exclusive of all times during which the Company may be delayed or interfered with, without its connivance, by unavoidable accidents, labor strikes or the orders or judgments of any court entered in any suit brought without its connivance), after written notice thereof to it from the said City, then and in each and every such case, the said City by its City Council shall be entitled to declare this grant and all of the rights and privileges of the Company to maintain and operate street railways in any of the streets or public ways of the said City to be forfeited and at an end; provided, however, that should the Company, for its corporate purposes, pledge or mortgage its street railway property or any of the rights secured to it by this ordinance, or any security representing the said property or rights, for the security of the payment of its notes, bonds, or other evidences of indebtedness maturing not later than February 1, A. D. 1927, the amount thereof not being in excess of the value of all the property and rights of the Company, as defined in Section 20 hereof, such right of forfeiture of this grant by reason of any violation by the Company of the provisions of this ordinance shall not be asserted or exist against such pledgee or pledgees, mortgagee or mortgagees, or any of them, and shall not impair or affect the right of such pledgee or pledgees, mortgagee or mortgagees, to recover by foreclosure or other legal process against all the property of the Company, including the rights and privileges hereby granted, the face value of said notes, bonds or other evidences of indebtedness, or any security representing the said property or rights to an amount, however, not in excess of the sum for which the City would then have the right under the terms of this ordinance to purchase the said street railway property for municipal operation; and it is hereby stipulated that any notice of default by the Company, upon which a forfeiture shall be claimed, shall also be given by the said City to the trustee or mortgagee of record in any trust deed or mortgage securing such indebtedness. The purchaser at any foreclosure or other sale shall acquire no other or greater rights or privileges than are hereby conferred, and such purchaser shall hold said property, so purchased at such foreclosure or other sale, subject to the right of purchase at any time, thereafter, as herein provided, by the said City, and also subject to the right of purchase by any licensee of the said City, upon the same terms as the said City might purchase and acquire said property, but without payment in either case of the additional twenty per cent. provided for in Sections 20 and 22 of this ordinance; and also subject to the continuing terms, conditions and limitations of this ordinance, including the forfeiture provisions to the same extent as if the said purchaser had been the original grantee hereunder except that such purchaser shall have no right to execute or deliver any mortgage, trust deed or other encumbrance on said street railways, rights and property or any part thereof without the consent of said City.

The City shall have the right to bid and become the purchaser at any such foreclosure or other sale.

The said Company further expressly agrees that, by the acceptance by it of this ordinance, it is obligated to complete the said work of "Immediate Rehabilitation" provided for in said "Exhibit B" within the time and in the manner set forth in said Exhibit (due allowance being made for any and all delays or interruptions arising without its connivance by unavoidable accidents, labor strikes, or the orders or judgments of any court entered in any suit brought without its connivance), and if the Company shall fail or neglect to proceed with the said work of "Immediate Rehabilitation" with all reasonable diligence and promptness after the acceptance of this ordinance by the Company, or to complete the said work within the time prescribed in said "Exhibit B," and said Board of Supervising Engineers shall certify to the City Council of the said City that the Company has failed or neglected to so proceed with said work, or has failed or neglected to complete the work in the time specified in "Exhibit B," the Company shall be and is obligated to pay to the said City for each day that such default or neglect shall continue, the sum of ten thousand dollars as liquidated damages; and if the Company shall, at any time after the acceptance of this ordinance by it, fail to comply with the provisions hereof with regard to the maintenance of first class street railway service over and upon its said lines of street railways, the said City shall have the right to sue for and recover in any court of competent jurisdiction the sum of not less than fifty dollars and not more than five hundred dollars for each and every such failure and each and every day that such failure shall continue shall be taken and held to be a separate offense; but the payment of such penalties shall not in any manner release the liability of the Company to incur a forfeiture of all its rights and privileges under this ordinance, as hereinabove in this Section provided.

WAIVER OF RIGHTS.

SECTION 33. The Company, in consideration of the grant made by this ordinance, upon the terms and conditions herein expressed, agrees to waive, surrender and release, and by the acceptance of this ordinance the Company does waive, surrender and release, all and every one of the rights and claims of every kind and nature in respect to the location, maintenance, operation or exclusion of street railways in the streets, or any of them, of the said City now or hereafter vested or claimed to be vested in the Chicago West Division Railway Company, the Chicago Passenger Railway Company, the West Chicago Street Railroad Company, the West Chicago Street Railroad Tunnel Company, the North Chicago City Railway Company, the North Chicago Street Railroad Company, and the Chicago Union Traction Company, or in the Receivers of any of said Companies, and the Company hereby agrees to execute from time to time such further instruments of waiver, surrender and release of such rights and claims as the City may reasonably require, and the Company by the acceptance of this ordinance further covenants and agrees that it will not permit the stocks, securities or evidences of indebtedness of any of said Companies which it may at any time acquire, or any estate, interest or power of control which may exist in it by reason of the possession of such stocks, securities and evidences of indebtedness, or any of them, to be so used as to promote or sanction the assertion of any right or claim hereby agreed to be waived, surrendered and released.

TUNNEL RE-CONSTRUCTION.

SECTION 34. The Company, upon its acceptance of this ordinance, shall diligently proceed to finish and complete the work of lowering and re-constructing the tunnel under the south branch of the Chicago River at or near Van Buren Street, now in progress according to plans and specifications therefor prepared by Samuel G. Artingstall, Chief Engineer, and approved by the Secretary of War; said work of lowering and re-constructing of said tunnel according to said plans and specifica-

The said Company shall, also, upon its acceptance of this ordinance diligently proceed with the work of construction of a false roof in the tunnel under the south branch of said river at Washington street, and with the removal of the crown of said tunnel, as provided in and by an ordinance of the City Council of the City of Chicago in relation to that subject, passed June 18, 1906, said work being now in progress according to plans and specifications therefor, approved by the Commissioner of Public Works, and being performed by Angus Brothers and Company, under a written contract dated July 24th, 1906, between said Angus Brothers and Company and the Receivers of said Chicago Union Traction Company. The said Board of Supervising Engineers forthwith upon its organization shall prepare plans and specifications for the complete reconstruction of the tunnel under the Main Chicago River at La Salle street, including the work of removing the present tunnel at said La Salle street so far as the same may be necessary to meet the requirements of the Government of the United States as to navigation of the Chicago River at said point, and so far as may be necessary to allow the complete re-construction of the tunnel at said street, and also shall forthwith proceed to prepare plans and specifications for the additional work necessary for the complete reconstruction of said Washington street tunnel and submit both said plans and specifications to the Commissioner of Public Works of the City for his approval subject to such direction, if any, as the City Council of said City may prescribe. Upon such approval the Company shall diligently proceed under contracts to be approved by said Board of Supervising Engineers to the complete reconstruction of said Washington street and said La Salle street tunnels according to said plans and specifications.

Said work of re-construction shall be done in a safe, secure and workmanlike manner to the satisfaction, and with the approval of the Commissioner of Public Works, and under the supervision of said Board of Supervising Engineers. Whatever detailed plans or specifications may be necessary in the opinion of said Board of Supervising Engineers shall be provided during the process of said construction and shall be subject to the approval of said Commissioner of Public Works.

The Company by the acceptance of this ordinance agrees to construct such connections with and modifications of said tunnels and their approaches as may be determined by the Board of Supervising Engineers for the purpose of utilizing such tunnels in connection with any subway constructed under this ordinance.

CITY'S RIGHT TO INTERVENE.

Section 35. The Company by the acceptance of this ordinance shall and does grant to the said City, and the said City hereby reserves to itself the right to intervene in any suit or proceeding brought by any person, firm or corporation seeking to enjoin, restrain or in any manner interfere with the Company in the doing of any work called for by this ordinance, or involving the observance or performance of any of the agreements or conditions herein provided to be kept or performed by the Company, or in any suit to foreclose or enforce any lien, mortgage or trust deed against it and to move for a dissolution of such injunction or restraining order in such suit, and take any other appropriate steps to protect the rights of the said City in case it shall deem such action necessary and appropriate to protect the interests of the said City.

BOARD OF SUPERVISING ENGINEERS.

Section 36. Immediately upon the acceptance of this ordinance by the Company, there shall be organized a Board of Supervising Engineers in the manner following:

Within thirty (30) days after the acceptance of this ordinance as hereinafter provided, the Company shall appoint an engineer to represent it on said Board, and shall notify the Mayor of said City, in writing, of the name and address of such engineer; and within thirty (30) days after such notice the said City shall appoint an engineer as its representative on said Board (which appointment shall be made by the Mayor of the said City and shall be subject to the approval of the City Council), and shall notify the Company in writing of the name and address of its said engineer.

Bion J. Arnold is hereby selected and appointed the third member of said Board. The said City or the Company may respectively, at any time and from time to time, remove its representative on said Board, and may also respectively from time to time, appoint an engineer to represent it upon said Board, whenever and as often as it shall fail to have a representative upon said Board from any cause whatsoever. No such removal or appointment shall take effect until written notice thereof has been given to the other party by the party making such removal or appointment.

The said City and the Company may, at any time and from time to time, remove the third engineer from said Board, and may also select and appoint a third engineer to be a member of said Board, whenever and as often as a vacancy in said Board shall occur from the death, resignation, removal, refusal or inability to act of the third engineer upon said Board.

In the event that any vacancy in the position of third engineer upon said Board shall not be filled by the selection of a third engineer by said City and the Company within thirty (30) days after such vacancy shall arise, then the persons then acting as judges of the (main) Appellate Court for the First District of Illinois, or a majority of them, may fill such vacancy on said Board by appointing a competent engineer thereto upon the application of said City or the Company, after ten days' written notice having been given to the other party of such application.

In case either the said City or the Company desires the removal of the said third engineer and the appointment of another engineer in his place, the party desiring such removal and new appointment may, upon giving ten (10) days' written notice thereof to the other party, apply to the said judges for such removal, and the said judges or a majority of them shall within ten (10) days from and after such application set the same for informal and summary public hearing, at which the party desiring the removal shall publicly present its reasons for asking such removal.

Upon such application of either the said City or the Company, the said judges or a majority of them shall have the power, but shall not be required to remove the said third engineer. The third engineer shall not be removed by the said judges or a majority of them at any time, except upon the application of either the said City or the Company.

Upon the refusal or failure of the said Judges then constituting the (main) Appellate Court for the First District of Illinois, or a majority of them, to make the appointment herein authorized within thirty (30) days after being requested so to do, either the said City or the Company may, upon giving ten (10) days'

written notice to the other party of its intention so to do, apply to any judge of the Circuit Court of Cook County, Illinois, for the appointment of a third engineer to fill any vacancy existing in said position, and the judge so applied to shall have the power to appoint such third engineer, who, when appointed, shall be a member of said Board, and shall be subject to removal in the manner hereinabove provided.

Either the Company or the City shall have the right to apply to any court of competent jurisdiction for the removal of any member of said Board of Supervising Engineers for fraud, corruption or failure to perform in good faith his duties under this ordinance.

A majority of said Board of Supervising Engineers shall at all times be authorized to exercise the powers conferred by this ordinance on said Board.

All words in this ordinance contained purporting to give authority to said Board of Supervising Engineers shall be construed as giving such authority to a majority of said Board.

SALARIES AND EXPENSES OF BOARD.

The said Board of Supervising Engineers shall maintain an office in the said City and shall employ the necessary assistance and purchase the necessary supplies and materials to enable it properly to perform its duties under this ordinance.

The said third engineer shall be ex-officio Chairman of the Board, and shall be paid for his services as a member of said Board compensation at the rate of $15,000 per annum.

During the period of "Immediate Rehabilitation," said Bion J. Arnold, so long as he continues to act as a member of said Board, shall, in addition to his duties as a member of said Board of Supervising Engineers, act as Chief Engineer of the work contemplated in this ordinance, and shall receive as additional compensation for such service, the sum of $15,000 per annum. In such capacity he shall have charge of the preparation of the plans and specifications, and the general direction of the entire work, and of its inspection during construction. Said plans and specifications and system of inspection shall be subject to the approval of the Board of Supervising Engineers.

Each of the other two members of said Board shall, in addition to attending the monthly meetings of the Board attend such other meetings as may be called by the Chairman, and be paid for his services as a member of said Board, compensation at the rate of $100 per day, and his traveling and living expenses while away from his home, and actually engaged upon this work, it being understood that his total compensation for services shall not be less than $3,600 nor more than $10,000 per year. The Chairman of said Board shall call a meeting of said Board at any time upon the request of the President of either of said Companies or of the Mayor of the City.

The salaries and expenses of said Board of Supervising Engineers during the period of "Immediate Rehabilitation" provided for in this ordinance shall be added to and form a part of the cost of such "Immediate Rehabilitation," but thereafter shall be paid out of gross receipts, as an operating expense.

In case the said ordinance to the said Chicago City Railway Company is passed and accepted, as therein provided, the third engineer and the engineer representing the City on the Board of Supervising Engineers created by said ordinance shall be the same persons who act as the third engineer and the engineer representing the City, respectively, in the Board of Supervising Engineers created by this ordinance; and the said Chicago City Railway Company and the Company shall agree upon one engineer as their joint representative upon said Board; but in case they do not so agree, each of said Companies may select its own representative, who shall in such case act as a member of said Board only in the consideration and determination of matters relating to the street railways and property of the particular Company he represents.

In the determination of any matter relating to subways and through routes and all other matters in which said companies are jointly interested the representative of each of said companies on said Board of Supervising Engineers shall be entitled to one-half of a vote.

In case said ordinance to said Chicago City Railway Company is passed and accepted as therein provided, the salaries and compensation of said engineers provided for in this ordinance shall include all compensation or salaries payable to said engineers under said other ordinance without duplication, and shall be equitably apportioned by the said third engineer between the said two Companies, taking into consideration the work done by said Board under the said ordinances, respectively, and the determination of said third engineer as to such apportionment shall be final and binding upon the parties whose interests are therein concerned.

CITY TO RESERVE POLICE POWER.

Section 37. Nothing in this ordinance contained shall be construed as depriving the said City of the right of exercising any police power which it would have possessed or enjoyed had this ordinance not been granted.

The enumeration herein of special requirements and specific regulations shall not be taken or held to imply the relinquishment by the said City of its power to make other requirements or regulations, and the said City hereby expressly reserves the right to make all regulations which may be necessary to secure in the most ample manner the safety, welfare and accommodation of the public, including among other things the right to pass and enforce ordinances to protect the public from danger or inconvenience in the management and operation of street railways throughout the said City and the right to make and enforce all such regulations as shall be reasonably necessary to secure adequate and sufficient street railway accommodations for the people, and insure their comfort and convenience.

The said Council may vest any or all matters of administration under this ordinance, including such thereof as are herein vested in the Mayor, Comptroller or other City officials named in this ordinance or in said "Exhibit B" attached hereto (but excepting those herein vested in said Board of Supervising Engineers), in a Department or Bureau of Local Transportation, or in its City Engineer, or in any official or employes of said City.

COMPREHENSIVE RECONSTRUCTION AND UNIFIED OPERATION ASSURED.

Section 38. For the purpose of carrying into effect the purpose and desire of the said City to provide for the unified operation and the comprehensive reconstruction of all the street railways within said City, an ordinance similar to this ordinance in general provisions and character, covering the system of street railways now maintained and operated by the Chicago City Railway Company, granting to said Company the right to operate said system, has been presented for passage by the City Council of said City, concurrently with this ordinance, and it is hereby expressly provided that in the event that the Company accepts this ordinance and files the bond as required in this ordinance within the time herein prescribed, and the said Chicago City Railway Company fails to accept the said ordinance after its passage and within the time and according to the terms provided therein, or in any ordinance amendatory thereof or supplementary thereto, the Company hereby obligates itself to extend and operate its street railway system over and upon the streets and parts of streets in the said City covered by the said ordinance to the said Chicago City Railway Company, so far as and to the extent that the rights of the company or companies now operating the street railways upon such streets and parts of streets cease and expire by limitation or otherwise, the said street railway system of the Company to be extended over each such street or part of street as rapidly as and to whatever extent the said City is able to and does confer upon the Company lawful authority to construct and operate street railways upon such streets and parts of streets, respectively, and deliver to the Company peaceable possession thereof for such purposes. And the Company hereby agrees to construct and operate in each such street and part of street so turned over to it as aforesaid, the street railways and equipment required by the ordinance to said Chicago City Railway Company to be constructed by it therein, including the making of the contribution for the construction of subways and extensions thereof provided for in said last mentioned ordinance.

And the said Company agrees that it will furnish the necessary moneys to pay or to enable said City to pay for the physical property constituting the street railways and equipment in any such street or part of street which the City or its licensee may be authorized or required to purchase under and in accordance with the terms of the ordinances of said City which have been heretofore passed and are now in force with respect to any such street or part of street, respectively, property so purchased to be turned over to the Company as a part of the extension of the Company's system provided for in this section, and the moneys so paid or advanced shall be held and considered as a part of the expense of making such extension. For the purpose of making any such extension the Company agrees that it will, when authorized and required by the City, purchase and pay for the physical property constituting the then existing street railway and equipment located upon any street or part of street turned over to the Company under the foregoing provisions of this section, provided the price to be paid for such property shall not exceed the value of the same for street railway purposes as estimated by the Board of Supervising Engineers, and that, when acquired, said property shall be used by the Company as a part of the extension of its system upon such street or part of street under the provisions of this ordinance, and that the amount paid for such property shall be held and considered as a part of the cost of making such extension under the provisions of this ordinance.

All such extensions of the Company's system and the operations thereof shall be subject to the provisions of this ordinance, in the same manner and to the same extent as if herein expressly provided for as a part of the street railway upon such street or part of street under the provisions of this ordinance, and that the amount paid for such property shall be held and considered as a part of the cost of making such extension under the provisions of this ordinance.

The construction and equipment of all such extensions shall be made under the supervision of and the cost thereof determined by the said Board of Supervising Engineers, and such extensions shall be in all respects subject to the provisions of this ordinance as to purchase by the said City or its licensee, the determination of the character and cost of construction, reconstruction, equipment and re-equipment, the annual return to the Company upon its investment, the division of profits with the said City and the operation of such extensions by the Company, so far as such provisions can be made applicable thereto.

The City agrees that, in case it shall require the Company to extend its street railway system over or upon any street or part of street covered by the said ordinance to the said Chicago City Railway Company, under the provisions of this section, the Company shall have the right to extend its street railway system over and upon all of the streets and parts of streets covered by the ordinance of the said Chicago City Railway Company, upon the terms specified in this section, when and as soon as the now existing rights of other companies in said streets or parts of streets, respectively, shall expire or be terminated.

And the City shall have, and may exercise with respect to any property, claims, liens or encumbrances which it may acquire with any part of said purchase-price, or otherwise, all the rights of the holder thereof from whom the same may be purchased or acquired, anything to the contrary in this ordinance contained notwithstanding.

And the Company shall, within the time limited for the acceptance of this ordinance, file with the City Clerk of said City its bond to the said City, in the penal sum of One Hundred Thousand Dollars, conditioned that it will forever indemnify and save harmless the said City as aforesaid; provided, however, that the giving of said bond or the recovery of a judgment or judgments thereon by the said City shall not be construed as measuring, lessening or limiting the liability of the Company to the said City under any provisions of this ordinance.

Section 43. If the Company shall accept this ordinance within the time limited therein for the acceptance thereof, then the rights and obligations of the City and the Company under this ordinance shall be the same as if this ordinance had been passed on February first, A. D. 1907, and had been accepted by the Company on February first, A. D. 1907, and accounting shall be had as between the City and the Company as of that date.

ACCEPTANCE.

A. D. 1907), authorizing the Chicago City Railway Company and the Chicago Railways Company, respectively, to construct, maintain and operate street railways in said city, and providing for the purchase thereof by the said City or its licensee."

In the event, and only in the event, that the said question of public policy is submitted to the electors of said city at said election, and a majority of the votes cast upon the said question at said election are in the affirmative, then and in that event, this ordinance shall take effect and be in force from and after the acceptance of this ordinance, in accordance with the conditions hereof, by the Company, under its corporate seal, after the said first Tuesday in April, A. D. 1907; provided, that if the Company shall not file with the City Clerk of said city the penal bond hereinabove mentioned and its formal acceptance of this ordinance and of all its terms and conditions, within one hundred and sixty-five (165) days from the passage hereof, then all rights and privileges hereby granted shall be wholly null and void and of no effect.

EXHIBIT B.

Chicago Railways Company.

Immediately upon the acceptance of this ordinance by the Company it shall proceed with all due diligence to repair and reconstruct its street railway system and equipment and to secure the necessary supply of electric power to comply with the provisions of this ordinance and under the following specifications:

IMMEDIATE REHABILITATION.

That the character of service required by the accompanying ordinance may be established at the earliest moment practicable, the Company shall, upon the acceptance of said ordinance, proceed immediately, (1) to remove from the streets all of its present cable tracks, slots, and conduits, and substitute therefor electric tracks of the character and type as hereinafter described; (2) to rebuild at least 90 miles (single track) of the present electric track of the Company with track of the character and type hereinafter described; (3) to construct and equip the necessary system of distribution and substations, as may be determined upon by said Company with the approval of the Board of Supervising Engineers, to transmit and transform whatever electric power may be required to enable the Company at all times to operate its street railways efficiently and continuously; (4) to rebuild and re-equip its car houses so as to enable it to properly clean and maintain its cars; (5) to increase as rapidly as possible the number of double truck cars, of the character and type as hereinafter described, until there shall be in operation on its street railway system at least twelve hundred (1,200) such cars, and (6) to reconstruct the Van Buren street and Washington street tunnels and to reconstruct or rebuild the tunnel at La Salle street. The Company shall diligently prosecute the work above specified and required, and complete the same as rapidly as practicable, in accordance with the provisions of said ordinance, and in compliance with the general specifications herein contained, but in any event the said work shall be completed within three (3) years from the date of actual acceptance of said ordinance.

GENERAL SPECIFICATIONS.

In addition to the work hereinabove specifically required the Company shall, as promptly as possible, do the necessary work and purchase the necessary materials and equipment to put its entire street railway system and equipment in the best practicable condition to enable it to furnish to the citizens of Chicago the quality and kind of service contemplated and required by this ordinance, and shall at all times maintain the same at the highest practicable efficiency.

Permits.

The Company, before it makes any excavation in, or in any way interferes with the surface of, any street or public way for the purpose of doing any work shall obtain from the Commissioner of Public Works of the City a permit so to do, which permit shall contain a condition requiring the Company to restore said street or way and maintain it for one year thereafter; and in every case the Company, after it has restored such street or way shall maintain it for one year after such restoration.

Permits for Buildings.

All permits issued for the removal of buildings on or across any track of the Company shall provide that the Company be notified at least two days in advance of such removal; that such removal shall only take place, unless with the consent of the Company, between the hours of twelve o'clock midnight and five o'clock A. M.; and that the party to whom the permit is issued shall pay to the Company the actual cost of removing and replacing its overhead equipment, and for the interruption of its traffic from five A. M. to twelve o'clock midnight, if such interruption shall occur.

Tracks.

The tracks to be maintained by the Company shall not be elevated above the surface of the street or public way in which they are placed. They shall be laid and maintained by the Company so as to conform to the grade of such street or public way as the same is, or from time to time hereafter shall be, established by the City Council.

All new tracks shall be laid with the best materials and in the most approved modern manner.

Spacing Tracks.

In laying or relaying rails in any of the streets included in the accompanying ordinance upon which more than one track is located the distance between centers of tracks may remain as at present, but in order to accommodate large, modern cars, and provide for their safe passage, this distance may be at least nine (9) feet eight and one-half (8½) inches between center lines of tracks. The tracks at curves wherever practicable shall be laid to such center as to enable cars to pass with suitable and safe clearance. The exact location of tracks in the streets shall be subject to the approval of the Commissioner of Public Works.

Rails.

All new track construction hereafter laid in streets or public ways shall be laid with modern improved rails of the grooved type, weighing not less than one hundred and twenty-nine (129) pounds per yard, which shall in all respects conform to the specifications for grooved rails as contained in Section 1944 of the Revised Municipal Code of Chicago, as amended by ordinance of the City Council passed October 8th, 1906; provided, that all rail used in the tunnels and on their approaches, and in the subways and on their approaches may be "T" rail weighing not less than eighty (80) pounds per yard.

Joints.

All rail joints shall be either cast-welded, electrically welded, or of a type which will give an equally smooth and even joint, except that the joint used must be one which will provide a carrying capacity for the electric current equivalent to the carrying capacity of the rail.

Track Substructure.

The rails shall be laid upon concrete beams, wooden ties, steel ties or cast-iron chairs or in some other form of first-class modern approved street railway track construction. The foundation shall be either of concrete, crushed stone or other ballast material which in the judgment of the Board of Supervising Engineers shall best suit the conditions of soil and drainage. Said foundation to be brought to the proper height to serve as a suitable foundation for the pavement.

Bonding.

In case the rails are joined by any other form of joint than a cast-welded or electrically-welded joint, there shall be some form of bond used which will connect the ends of the rails in such manner that the conductivity of the joints shall be equivalent to the carrying capacity of the rail. The rails of each single track and the inside rails of the double track of all tracks shall be connected by cross-bonds of No. 2/0 (B. & S. Gauge) copper wire spaced not more than one thousand (1000) feet apart, and properly secured to the rails in such manner that the full conducting effect of the wire may be utilized. The rails shall be so bonded or joined and such return circuits and other necessary devices installed as to prevent damage from electrolysis as effectually as possible.

Special Work.

At all points of intersection of the tracks of the Company with its own tracks or with the tracks of other companies, there shall be provided suitable steel special work of ample strength and weight to correspond with the structure to which it connects. The frogs, switches and mates shall be provided with wearing plates of hardened steel. All special work and curves shall be laid in the same general manner required for straight-line track.

Poles and Wires.

All new overhead construction shall consist of one (1) trolley wire suspended over each track by span wires attached to poles set at the curb-line or suspended from brackets attached to poles.

The design of poles hereafter erected shall be subject to approval of the Board of Engineers, and shall be of iron or steel, weighing approximately nine hundred (900) pounds each, set in concrete and kept thoroughly painted. They shall be spaced on an average of from one hundred (100) to one hundred fifteen (115) feet apart for straight track, except at street intersections, and so as not to obstruct cross streets, alleys, or private driveways. The location of poles shall be subject to the approval of the Commissioner of Public Works.

All material used in the overhead construction shall be of the most modern type and shall be capable of sustaining all the weights and strains that come upon it under normal conditions of operation and from wind, sleet and ordinary accidents

The trolley wire shall be not less than No. 2/0 (B. & S. Gauge) hard-drawn copper, unless the Board of Supervising Engineers shall approve other sizes for specific cases. Phosphor bronze, silicon bronze or other material equal in strength may also be used. Trolley wires shall be suspended not less than eighteen and one-half (18½) feet above the rails, except when such wires are suspended under viaducts, bridges and other structures. There shall be at least two (2) insulations between the trolley wire and the supporting pole. Span wires shall be galvanized iron or steel or silicon bronze.

Feeders and Transmission Wires.

All feeder and transmission wires within that portion of the City bounded as follows: beginning on Halsted street at the south branch of the Chicago river, thence north on the west side of Halsted street to 22d street; west on the south side of 22d street to Western avenue; north on the west side of Western avenue to Belmont avenue; east on the north side of Belmont avenue to Southport avenue; north on the west side of Southport avenue to Clark street; north on the west side of Clark street to Lawrence avenue; east on the north side of Lawrence avenue to Lake Michigan; south along the shore of Lake Michigan to the Chicago river; thence west and south along the main channel and the South Branch of the Chicago river to the point of beginning, with such territory in the south division of said city as is occupied by the tracks of the Company, shall be laid underground. To this end, authority is hereby conferred upon the Company to enter upon, excavate for, and construct a system of conduits in the streets, alleys, and other public ways of the City of sufficient capacity to carry its said wires. All feeder wires in any other territory shall be similarly placed underground whenever the City shall require all other overhead public service wires (except trolley wires) in such territory to be placed underground. All transmission wires used by the Company within the City limits, carrying a pressure of 1,000 volts or more shall be placed underground.

Feeder and transmission wires, not required to be placed underground, shall be suspended by insulators upon said poles supporting said trolley wires or upon poles placed at the side of streets, alleys or other public ways in locations to be approved by the Commissioner of Public Works. These wires and poles shall be so situated that the Company may conveniently make all the connections authorized by said ordinance and the exhibits thereto. The said trolley wires, feeder wires and all other wires authorized by said ordinance to be installed by the Company, where located in streets, alleys, or other public or private ways in, along or across which are located railroads elevated above the surface of the streets, may be strung upon or from the structures of such railroads, with the consent of the company owning or operating the same. Said wires shall be attached to said structures and maintained under the supervision of the City Electrician.

Conduits.

Underground conduits to carry any of the wires authorized by said ordinance, to be installed by the Company, shall not exceed four (4) feet in width and three

(3) feet in depth, and shall be of tile, cement, iron or other material impervious to moisture and not subject to decay. All transmission and feeder wires and cables laid under ground shall be covered with lead or other impervious material. Before any cable containing such wires shall be put in use it shall be tested by an alternating current of twice the working voltage of the cable. All forms of cable used by the Company containing more than one conductor shall be tested in like manner.

City Conduits.

If at any time the City shall desire to place conduits and manholes in streets or public ways wherein the Company is then about to place conduits and manholes, a single trench may be used for both conduits, but the manholes of the Company shall be kept separate and distinct from those of the City. The expense in such case shall be divided between the Company and the City according to the space used by each therein.

Conductors.

All wires and conductors for the transmission of electricity in and along any street, alley or public way (whether under or above ground) shall be installed in a substantial and workmanlike manner, so as to interfere as little as possible with the other uses of said public places; and all electric work of every kind and character shall comply strictly with the ordinances of the City applicable thereto.

Maintenance of Streets.

The Company, as respects filling, grading, paving, keeping in repair, sweeping, sprinkling, keeping clean, or otherwise improving the streets or parts of streets occupied by its railway, shall fill, grade, pave, keep in repair, sweep, sprinkle, and keep clean and free from snow eight (8) feet in width of all streets and public ways, or portions thereof, occupied by it with a single track railway, and sixteen (16) feet in width of all streets and public ways, or portions thereof, occupied by it with a double track railway.

In removing snow the Company shall not deposit it upon the portions of the street or public way outside of the tracks, except temporarily; and in every case of such temporary deposit it shall be removed within a reasonable time, to be fixed by the Commissioner of Public Works.

Pavement.

The Company, upon the order of the Commissioner of Public Works, and approval of the Board of Supervising Engineers, shall pave, repave, or repair the portions of the streets and public ways which by this grant it is required to keep paved and in repair, whenever and as often as the same shall reasonably require paving, repaving or repairing, and shall at all times keep the surface of all of its paving at least up to the top of the rail.

The pavement which the Company shall be required to lay down and keep in repair in the portion of any street or way which it is required herein to pave and keep in repair shall be of the following kinds, to-wit:

First. In all streets or ways in which the Company has in place, at the date of the passage of this ordinance, a good serviceable pavement, it shall repair and maintain the same while serviceable under the direction of the Commissioner of Public Works, as aforesaid.

Second. Whenever any existing pavement of the Company, in any paved street or way, can no longer be made serviceable by repair; and whenever the portions of any street or public way outside of the strip herein required to be paved by the Company are newly paved or repaved, with asphalt, granite, brick, creosoted block, or other similar material, as aforesaid, and the pavement of the Company therein does not comply with the following specifications; and whenever the Company relays its rails in any such paved street or public way in which its pavement does not comply with the following specifications, then, and in any of such events, the Company shall pave or repave the portion of any such street or public way, which it is herein required to keep paved, with granite paving blocks having a uniform grain and texture, without lamination or stratification, and free from an excess of mica or feldspar. Said blocks shall measure from three and one-half (3½) to five and one-half (5½) inches in width, from seven (7) to eleven (11) inches in length (except that shorter stones may be used to break joints), and not less than five (5) inches in depth. They shall be so dressed as to have substantially rectangular plane surfaces, so that when in place the joints at the ends and sides shall average one-fourth (¼) inch in width. Soft or weather-worn stones, obtained from the surface of the quarry, and stones which wear to a polish under traffic shall not be used. All blocks shall be laid in uniform courses across the roadway; and the space between the blocks, when in place, shall in no case be less than one-eighth (⅛) of an inch nor more than three-eights (⅜) of an inch in width. Each course shall consist of blocks of the same width. They shall be so laid that all longitudinal joints shall be broken by a lap of approximately three inches. The spaces shall be immediately filled to within two (2) inches of the top of the blocks with dry gravel free from loam or dirt, and the blocks rammed to a true surface and firm bed with a seventy-five (75) pound rammer of approved shape. No cracked or chipped blocks shall remain in the pavement. After ramming, the spaces between the blocks shall be completely filled with a paving pitch made by the distillation of "straight run" coal tar and of such quality and consistency as shall be approved by the Commissioner of Public Works. The pitch shall be used at a temperature of not less than two hundred and eighty (280) degrees Fahrenheit and be spread in such quantity as to apply two (2) gallons to each square yard of pavement. The spreading shall be done in sections if the Commissioner of Public Works so directs. Provided, that, in any ordinance providing for the paving of such streets the Company may be required to pave in like manner and with like material as therein specified for other contiguous portions of said streets, except that when asphalt is used a layer of granite blocks shall be put in next to and on both sides of each rail.

Third. Whenever any existing pavement of the Company, in any unpaved street, or public way, can no longer be made serviceable by repairs; and whenever the Company lays down any track or tracks in any unpaved street or public way, then, and in either of such events, the Company shall pave or repave the portions of any such street or public way, which it is required to keep paved or repaved, as aforesaid, with good serviceable granite blocks.

Fourth. In each case whereby said Exhibit A attached to this ordinance the Company is authorized and required to change a single track to a double track, in any street or part of a street, if the roadway therein be not at least thirty-eight (38) feet in width, the Company shall, at its own cost (such cost to be charged to capital account) widen said roadway to said width, and shall rebuild the catchbasins and their connections and curb and pave said street, as may be required by the City Council; provided, that the Company shall not hereby be required to pave, in addition to the part of the street occupied by its double-track street railway, as provided for in this ordinance, more than eight (8) feet in width of such roadway nor to acquire private property in order to secure the necessary width for such roadway.

Power Houses, Buildings.

The Company shall build such power houses and auxiliary buildings, together with the necessary machinery and appurtenances as may be determined upon by said Company with the approval of the Board of Supervising Engineers to supply whatever electric power may be required (in addition to such power as the Company may acquire by lease or contract with such approval from sources other than its own plants) to enable the Company to operate at all times its street railway system efficiently and continuously.

In the construction of power plants, sub-stations and other buildings, the Company shall comply with all general ordinances of the City in regard to buildings and to the installation of machinery, boilers and smoke-consuming appliances. The buildings of said power plants shall be substantially fireproof and supplied with smoke-stacks sufficient to carry off all gases emitted, and the foundations for the machinery therein shall be constructed in a solid and substantial manner.

The machinery and apparatus employed shall be selected and installed with a view of affording uninterrupted operation of the cars upon said railways, and to attain this end the machinery shall be so arranged that a stoppage of one machine shall not prevent the operation of the remaining machines, and reserve machinery shall always be ready to be thrown into service. All boilers, piping, valves, fittings, steam engines, turbines, generators, switchboard apparatus, and other appliances used, shall be of the latest and most approved design and constructed and installed in accordance with the best engineering practice.

In all dynamos and connections where a high voltage current is produced or used approved methods for the protection of human life shall be employed.

The high tension switches shall be entirely enclosed in fireproof material, and shall be operated by levers, compressed air, auxiliary currents, or by such other means as will, as far as practicable, prevent personal contact with high tension current.

All feeders leading out of power plants and sub-stations shall be provided with some form of safety switches or automatic circuit-breakers designed to instantaneously open the circuit in case of a short circuit occurring on the feeder or on the trolley which it feeds.

All the foregoing specifications regarding modern and approved apparatus, protection from fire, and provisions for the protection of human life, shall apply with equal force to the sub-stations in case a system of transmission involving the use of sub-stations is adopted.

In case it is found desirable to secure power from any other source than the Company's own power plant no contract for supplying such power shall be entered into by the Company without the consent of the Board of Supervising Engineers.

It is contemplated that the present car shops and machinery contained therein will remain as at present installed with such additions thereto as may be necessary and located as follows:

EXHIBIT D.

THIS AGREEMENT, Made this.....day of....., A. D, 1907, by and between the.....Trust Company, a corporation duly organized and existing under and pursuant to the laws of Illinois, hereinafter called the "Trustee," party of the first part, the Chicago Railways Company, also a corporation duly organized and existing under and pursuant to the laws of Illinois, hereinafter called the "Railways Company," party of the second part, and the several persons, firms and corporations owning or controlling certificates of stock of the Chicago West Division Railway Company, the North Chicago City Railway Company, the West Chicago Street Railroad Company, the North Chicago Street Railroad Company and the Chicago Union Traction Company, respectively, who may become parties hereto by depositing their certificates of stock and receiving certificates of deposit therefor, as herein provided, hereinafter called the "Depositors," parties of the third part.

By an ordinance of the City Council of the City of Chicago, passed on the .....day of....., A. D. 1907, entitled "An Ordinance authorizing the Chicago Railways Company to construct, maintain and operate a system of street railways in streets and public ways of the City of Chicago," it was, among other things, provided that no right, permission or authority should thereby vest in the Railways Company, and the Railways Company should not have the right to accept said ordinance, unless at the time of such acceptance there should have been deposited with the Trustee under an agreement substantially in the form of this agreement certificates of stock duly endorsed in blank for transfer, representing not less than certain specified amounts of the capital stock of the Chicago West Division Railway Company, the North Chicago City Railway Company, the West Chicago Street Railroad Company, the North Chicago Street Railroad Company and the Chicago Union Traction Company, respectively, with reservation of the right to the City to modify the aforesaid provisions and conditions so as to reduce the proportion of stock of each or all of said Companies to be so deposited to such amount as to the said City should seem proper.

The Depositors, in order to enable the Railways Company to accept said ordinance, have severally deposited their certificates of stock hereunder, upon the trusts and under the conditions and stipulations of this agreement hereinafter contained as follows:

First: This agreement shall be signed by the Trustee and the Railways Company and deposited with the Trustee at its office in the City of Chicago, Illinois. Holders of stock of the Chicago West Division Railway Company, the North Chicago City Railway Company, the West Chicago Street Railroad Company, the North Chicago Street Railroad Company and the Chicago Union Traction Company, respectively, may become parties hereto by depositing the certificates for their stock with the Trustee, duly endorsed in blank for transfer. Each of the Depositors shall thereafter, upon demand of the Trustee, execute or procure such further transfers, assignments, powers of attorney and proxies in respect of the stock so deposited as the Trustee may deem necessary or proper. Each of the Depositors shall be entitled to receive from the Trustee a certificate in form substantially as follows:

The.....Trust Company, as Trustee under the Agreement hereinafter referred to, hereby certifies that..... .....has delivered to said Trustee certificates duly endorsed in blank for transfer for.....shares of the .....stock of the.....

Company, in acceptance of a certain Agreement, dated..... .....A. D. 1907, between the Chicago Railways Company, the Depositing Stockholders of said..... Company, and other depositors, and said.....Trust Company, as Trustee, to be held and disposed of as in said Agreement provided and the registered holder, at the time, of this certificate will be entitled, upon receipt thereof by said Trustee and upon surrender hereof and upon compliance by him with the terms and conditions of said allotment, to the securities or other proceeds allotted in respect of said deposited shares under such Plan of Reorganization as may be finally approved in accordance with the provisions of said Agreement. On the conditions in said Agreement specified, said deposited certificates first above mentioned shall be returned to said registered holder upon surrender hereof. This certificate is transferable but only on the books of the Trustee and subject to the terms of said Agreement in that behalf; and the Trustee and all other persons interested in or under said Agreement shall be entitled to treat the registered holder as the absolute owner and beneficiary for all purposes.

This.....day of....., A. D. 1907.

.....Trust Company,
Trustee,
By.....

Each such certificate shall be transferable only on the books of the Trustee by the registered holder thereof in person or by attorney upon surrender of such certificate, duly endorsed or assigned. Each such transfer shall entitle the transferee to all the rights, powers and advantages represented by such certificate of deposit, but no such transfer shall relieve the party making such transfer from any obligation herein expressed.

Second: If, prior to the last day allowed for acceptance of said ordinance by the Railways Company, under the terms of said ordinance or any ordinance amendatory thereof or supplemental thereto, there shall not have been deposited hereunder with the Trustee certificates of stock of said several Companies in the amounts which may be necessary to enable said Railways Company to accept said ordinance, or if said Company shall for any reason fail to accept said ordinance, then the Trustee shall return the stocks deposited hereunder to the holders of the respective certificates of deposit therefor upon surrender of such certificates, duly endorsed or assigned.

Third: In the event that the Railways Company shall accept said ordinance and a plan of reorganization or readjustment shall be approved as in said ordinance and in this agreement provided, then and in that event the Trustee or the Railways Company with the approval of the Trustee, is hereby authorized to enter into any contract or contracts, or to take any action not inconsistent with the provisions of said ordinance or of this agreement for the disposition of all or any part of the beneficial interest appertaining to said shares of stock deposited hereunder which shall or may be necessary to carry into effect the terms of such plan of reorganization and readjustment, provided the Trustee shall receive the stocks, securities or other benefits allotted under such plan in respect of the stocks deposited hereunder for delivery to the holders of certificates of deposit representing such last named stocks, upon performance of the conditions, if any, attached to such delivery by the terms of said plan of reorganization or readjustment, but only in case the said plan shall conform to the conditions and requirements in this agreement set forth.

Fourth: No plan or any modification thereof shall be operative, unless and until the allotment of securities of the Railways Company, or other benefits, to the depositors, as well as any other provisions of said plan (or modification thereof) affecting said depositors shall be approved by Peter S. Grosscup, and by John C. Gray, as being based on the legal rights of said depositors as of the date of the passage of said ordinance under the respective leases to and from said Companies and as being fair and just to each class of depositors relatively to the treatment accorded to every other class of stocks, securities and evidences of indebtedness; and in determining said questions no discrimination against any of said stocks shall be made because of the passage of this ordinance or the deposit of said stocks hereunder, or because of any proceedings heretofore or hereafter taken in the Circuit Court of the United States for the Northern District of Illinois under the amended and supplemental bills filed by the Guaranty Trust Company of New York in said Circuit Court in the three cases of said Guaranty Trust Company of New York vs. the North Chicago Street Railroad Company and the West Chicago Street Railroad Company and the Chicago Union Traction Company, respectively, the said amended and supplemental bills against the North Chicago Street Railroad Company and the West Chicago Street Railroad Company, respectively, having been filed on July 23, 1906, and against the Chicago Union Traction Company on June 30, 1906, or because of the pleadings filed therein in response or pursuant thereto, or because of any action of the Directors of any of the Companies named in this agreement in authorizing or purporting to authorize the filing of such pleadings, or because of any action hereafter taken by any of the Boards of Directors of any of said Companies. Any plan approved in accordance with this agreement shall contain a provision for paying out of the securities and benefits set apart for the stock of said Chicago West Division Railway Company and North Chicago City Railway Company such allowance for expenses and attorneys' fees of depositing stockholders of said companies last named, respectively, as to the said John C. Gray shall seem reasonable and proper. In case of a disagreement between said Peter S. Grosscup and said John C. Gray as to said plan, or any part thereof, then the said Peter S. Grosscup and John C. Gray shall submit the question in disagreement to a third person to be selected by them. In case they fail to agree on such third person then such third person shall be selected by George W. Wickersham and Edward B. Burling. The decision of such three persons, or a majority of them, as to such plan, or any part thereof, shall be final and binding upon all the parties. The fees and expenses of the said Gray and the said third person shall be fixed by the said Gray and shall be paid as one of the expenses of the reorganization.

In case no plan shall be approved as in this agreement provided, then upon the expiration of two hundred and ten days after the passage of said ordinance, the Trustee hereunder shall return the deposited stock of the Chicago West Division Railway Company and North Chicago City Railway Company, respectively, to the holders of certificates issued hereunder upon the surrender thereof properly endorsed. In case a plan shall be approved as in this agreement provided, the deposited stock of said Chicago West Division Railway Company and North Chicago City Railway Company shall nevertheless be returned to the holders of the certificates issued by the Trustee hereunder upon the surrender thereof properly endorsed, unless within a reasonable time (which time shall be fixed by said Gray) the holders of said certificates shall have received or shall have been given an opportunity of receiving the securities or other benfits allotted to them by said plan.

It is further expressly provided that, until holders of certificates representing stock of said two Companies last named shall have received or shall have been given the opportunity of receiving said securities or other benefits, allotted to them by said plan, the right is reserved to such holders to continue or to institute any legal proceedings (which they would have had if such stocks had not been so deposited) for the purpose of protecting or establishing any rights they may have to prevent any sale of the assets of said Companies or change in the legal relations existing between, on the one hand, either of the said two companies last named, and, on the other hand, any of the other Companies in this agreement named, or the City of Chicago, or for the purpose of protecting or establishing any other rights they may have, and until such stockholders shall have received or shall have been given the opportunity of receiving such securities or other benefits, the entire beneficial interest in the stock deposited hereunder of the said Chicago West Division Railway Company and of the North Chicago City Railway Company, including the right to dividends payable thereon, shall remain in the said respective registered holders of certificates representing such stock. And the said Trustee agrees that the certificates of stock of the said Chicago West Division Railway Company and North Chicago City Railway Company deposited hereunder shall remain in the respective names of the depositors of such certificates until that time.

Sixth: Said plan of reorganization and readjustment shall extend to the holders the opportunity mentioned in sub-paragraph (c) of Section 1 of said ordinance of making deposit under said plan of all the stock, bonds and evidences of indebtedness of the North Chicago City Railway Company, the Chicago West Division Railway Company, the Chicago Passenger Railway Company, the West Chicago Street Railroad Tunnel Company, the West Chicago Street Railroad Company, the North Chicago Street Railroad Company and the Chicago Union Traction Company, respectively, and shall determine the stocks, securities or other benefits to be allotted to the depositors of such bonds, stocks or evidences of indebtedness, respectively, and shall specify the conditions upon which the same are to be delivered, and shall make provision for the expenses and compensation of any receivers appointed of the property of any of said corporations and for the expenses of reorganization and readjustment; and shall make all said provisions to such extent and in such manner as may be deemed fair and just by those charged with the formation and approval of such plan, provided, that equal treatment be accorded to the holders of all stocks of the same class deposited hereunder and all bonds or evidences of indebtedness of the same rank and class, but the foregoing provision shall not be construed to prevent the requirement of a cash payment as a condition of deposit under said plan after such time as may be fixed in the plan or pursuant to its terms. Such plan shall also provide that all stocks or securities representing any interest in the funds described in subdivisions (1) and (2) of Section 20 of said ordinance which may be allotted in respect of the bonds, stocks or evidences of indebtedness of any of said corporations in this Article named, to the extent that such bonds, stocks or evidences of indebtedness shall not be deposited under the plan, shall nevertheless be delivered to the Trustee to be held in trust and to be applied by the Trustee under the direction of the Board of Directors of the Railways Company to perfect the title of said Railways Company to the system of street railways mentioned in and authorized by said ordinance and to remove therefrom liens and encumbrances, excepting such as are by said ordinance authorized to be created; and that such stocks, securities or other benefits shall be applied to no other purpose until such title be made complete and free from liens and encumbrances as aforesaid.

pany by said ordinance shall cease and determine by reason of the failure of the Railways Company to comply with any of the covenants or conditions of said ordinance, then (subject to the qualifications hereinafter stated) the said shares of stock deposited hereunder and all the beneficial interest appertaining to said stock shall pass to, vest in and become the property of, or be subject to the control and disposition of, the City of Chicago, or of such person or persons or corporation as said City shall by ordinance designate, and the Trustee shall deliver the certificates for said stock in its possession to or upon the order of said City; provided, however, that such title to the deposited stocks of the Chicago West Division Railway Company and of the North Chicago City Railway Company shall not pass or vest nor shall possession be so delivered unless the registered holders of the certificates issued by the Trustee hereunder representing such stocks shall have actually received or shall have been given an opportunity of receiving the securities or other benefits awarded to such holders by the plan of reorganization or any modification thereof, which may be finally approved as in Article fourth of this agreement provided; provided, further, that such title to the stocks deposited hereunder of Companies other than said Chicago West Division Railway Company and said North Chicago City Railway Company shall not so pass or vest, nor shall possession be so delivered of any of said certificates except in one or the other of the following events:

(1) In case a plan of reorganization and readjustment shall have been approved, as provided in said ordinance, and stocks or securities or other benefits shall have been delivered to the Trustee, pursuant to said plan, for distribution to the holders of certificates of deposit for such stock.

(2) In case the City of Chicago shall deliver to said Trustee an agreement in writing to the effect that the holders of certificates of deposit for such stock, issued under this agreement, shall share equally in all respects with the holders of outstanding non-deposited stock of said Companies, respectively, in any sum or value which the City, or any licensee of the City, may at any time allow or pay for the assets of said respective Companies.

Eighth: The benefits of this agreement shall be confined strictly to the parties hereto and to the City of Chicago and the same shall not be construed to create any trust or obligation to or in favor of any person or persons or corporation other than the City of Chicago, the Railways Company, the Trustee and the holders from time to time of certificates of deposit issued hereunder.

Ninth: The Railways Company agrees to accept said ordinance in case the amounts of stocks specified in said ordinance or such amounts as the City Council of the City of Chicago may specify shall be deposited hereunder; and it agrees that it will abide by any plan of reorganization approved as in this agreement provided, and will deliver its securities and take all steps and execute instruments and perform all acts which may be provided for by said plan or which to the Trustee may seem necessary or proper for the purpose of carrying out said plan.

To the Honorable, the City Council:

GENTLEMEN—I beg to acknowledge the resolution of inquiry introduced by the honorable member from the Seventh Ward, Alderman Snow.

The resolution reached me at so late a date, in view of my absence before the Supreme Court at Springfield, that I was unable to get the details in time to report the same for the next meeting after the date of the passage of the ordinance.

I beg at this time to report that I have requested each department having knowledge of, or supervision of, or the records of the matters requested, to prepare the same in full at the earliest immediate opportunity and place the same on my desk, to be supplemented by such report from me as called for by the resolution. Upon receipt of the same a full report will be made to your Honorable Body, as requested by the resolution, in detail, and in compliance with the several queries therein contained.

I have the honor to be,

Very obediently,

J. HAMILTON LEWIS,

After a careful examination of the record in the case we are of the opinion that the decree is wrong, and that it is quite probable that that decree will be reversed by the Appelate Court, and we have to advise you that we intend to prosecute an appeal from that decree.

To the Mayor and Aldermen of the City of Chicago in City Council Assembled:

PETER L. HOFFMAN,
Chairman.

The following reports accompanied the foregoing report:

February 4, 1907.

To The Honorable The Committee on Health Department:

GENTLEMEN—The undersigned, the members of the sub-committee appointed by you to make an investigation of the conditions surrounding the source of, the handling of and the blame for, the present epidemic, with a view to fixing the responsibility for the same and giving the public definite, unbiased information as to the means which have been and are being taken to guard the health of the citizens of Chicago, respectfully report to your Honorably Body that they have been in conference with Doctors A. C. Cotton, Wm. T. Belfield and Charles L. Mix, who were appointed by your committee to assist in the investigation.

We have made a thorough investigation, with the co-operation and advice of the medical gentlemen above named, into the methods employed in the Department of Health, the efficiency of same, and the actual work accomplished with the means at the disposal of the Department, and we submit in detail the result of our investigation.

We call attention at the outset to the fact, which is not generally known, that the Board of Education took over the work of medical school inspection a number of years ago, employing about 50 inspectors for that purpose. This work was, however, abandoned by the School Board several years ago.

No provision was made to re-establish such school inspection by either the School Board or the City Council. The Department of Health was allowed nine medical inspectors and two antitoxin administrators under the appropriation of 1906. The Commissioner of Health asked for a larger appropriation for the purpose of employing more medical inspectors and the re-establishment of school inspection, but as there was at that time no indication of the present epidemic and the need of additional inspectors was not then apparent, the force provided for was regarded as sufficient by the City Council.

The course of the present scarlet fever epidemic was substantially as follows: It first prevailed in the Northern part of Illinois; then became epidemic in the Northern suburbs, especially Evanston; thence it traveled to Rogers Park, Ravenswood, Irving Park, and reached Logan Square immediately before the Christmas holidays. Since then it has traveled Southward, and has reached about the neighborhood of the canal district. There are indications that in the Northern part of the city the disease is being stamped out. There are about four hundred thousand children in the city who are susceptible to scarlet fever.

Long before the disease became epidemic specimens of throat cultures which reached the city laboratories for examination, contained germs which indicated catarrhal conditions that presage a favorable field for the spread of scarlet fever, diphtheria, etc. Science has not yet discovered the scarlet fever germ, but the findings of the laboratory in the fall of 1906 were to the effect that a scarlet fever epidemic might possibly occur because of the lowered vitality of the mucous membranes brought on by the catarrhal conditions mentioned above. Thereupon, in the weekly bulletin of the department, dated October 20, 1906, special attention was called to the abandonment of school medical inspection and the possibility of disastrous consequences. The medical profession and the public generally were warned of the danger. The department was not able to undertake the inspection of the schools with the limited force at its command, since that would have required 100 inspectors at least, but began at once, with what means it had, to battle with the impending contagious diseases. The inspectors employed were all men of long experience, most of them being medical men of high professional standing.

The methods adopted by the Health Department which have been followed for a long period include a complete system of registration, whereby the full history of every case is kept by a card-index system.

Upon the report of a case to the Department an inspection is made and placards are put up on the house in both the front and the rear. Notice is at once sent to the school in the district to the effect that all children in the building, whether they have been exposed to the disease or not, be excluded until the report of the inspector has come in. It is then determined whether or not the children who have not been exposed can safely be permitted to go to school.

Precautions had also been taken during the year 1906 to prevent contagion in schools, through notices and circulars, addressed to teachers, instructing them how to maintain cleanliness among the school children and pointing out the danger of contagion resulting from the transfer of books, pencils, etc., among the children.

The attention of the public was also called to the danger through the weekly bulletins and the newspapers besides the bulletin of October 20th, which called particular attention to the possibility of such epidemic.

Advice and warnings were given in the bulletin of December 1, 1906, and the principals of the schools were notified and cautioned concerning the rule of the department which was not to allow children recovered from scarlet fever or diphtheria to re-enter school without a termination card from the Department of Health. Warnings to the same effect were also issued on December 8th and December 22nd.

As soon as a case was reported to the Health Department, besides notifying the school and sending the inspector, the physician in charge was given a report card, which required a full report to the Health Department. Upon the recovery of the patient the physician's report was not accepted as final, but the inspectors were again sent to such premises, and in case the child was still in the stage of convalescence, or in the peeling or scaling stage, the final disinfection of the place did not take place and the child was still excluded from the schools. Upon the final disappearance and the elimination of all danger from contagion, the premises in question were thoroughly disinfected and the school notified that the child or children in the building could return to school. This has been done in every case in spite of the fact that the department was handicapped by not having a sufficient force, all inspectors and disinfectors working practically night and day.

When the disease reached Logan Square, just before Christmas, the chief medical inspector notified the Board of Education, and all schools in the 28th, 15th, 16th, 9th and 10th wards were thoroughly disinfected, and during the vacation which followed all the schools in the city were, on the recommendation of the Department of Health thoroughly washed and cleaned. In the wards mentioned a thorough inspection was made of all homes where cases had been reported and the same were disinfected, as were also the homes of neighbors where there was danger of contagion.

The department has also, in every case where diphtheria, scarlet fever or small pox has been reported, sent to the family a circular prescribing the care and management of the patient and the household generally during the contagion period.

In case of death the inspectors attended each funeral. It was required that the body be interred within thirty-six hours; no church or other public funerals were allowed; no flowers, and no visitors were permitted at such funerals; and upon the removal of the body the premises were thoroughly disinfected.

In the case of diphtheria the department has urged the use of antitoxin and immunization in all cases, and maintains a corps of antitoxin administrators, who are prepared to administer same in all cases where it is found that there is danger from the disease, in case the people in danger are unable to employ a physisician of their own; also in all cases where conditions indicated danger of immediate contagion that were brought to the attention of the department.

The department at all times keeps on hand a supply of antitoxin which it furnishes free to all who apply for same.

The department has also rigidly insisted on the report of physicians in all cases, in strict compliance with the ordinances. There have been no willful violations of the ordinances by physicians so far as could be ascertained. The ordinances governing the handling of bodies by undertakers have also been strictly enforced.

The Commissioner of Health in the fall of 1906 asked for an appropriation for additional disinfectors and an appropriation was made on December 3rd. In the meantime means were found for increasing the force of inspectors and disinfectors from 11 to 16 and finally to 20, and when the appropriation was passed the force of disinfectors was about doubled.

On January 4, 1907, the Commissioner notified the Finance Committee that the contagious diseases showed no indications of abating, and asked that he be allowed to retain the extra force then at work pending the passage of the appropriation bill.

On January 18, 1907, the Commissioner again addressed a letter to the Chairman of the Finance Committee in which he stated that the department was utterly unable to cope with the epidemic of diphtheria and scarlet fever with the force of men then at its command and asked for an immediate appropriation of $15,000,000 for the purpose of putting additional medical school inspectors at work and also to increase the force of its disinfectors.

The City Council responded by making the appropriation and 100 men were put at work as soon as they could be obtained and have since rendered good service, the indications being that the epidemic is receding.

On January 28, 1907, the Commissioner again addressed the Finance Committee asking for a special appropriation for a staff of visiting nurses to supplement the work of the medical inspectors.

Inasmuch as attention has been directed to the milk and food supply as a possible vehicle for the spread of contagion we called for a report as to the work done in the food inspection department. The following table indicates what was done during the year 1906 as compared with the two preceding years:

The above showing demonstrates that the department has been active in inspection and prosecution of violations of the ordinances.

From the investigation that we have made we have come to the conclusion that the Department of Health has employed every method within its control and at its command to fight the diseases which have become epidemic; that there has been no dereliction or indifference to duty or lack of vigilance on the part of the Commissioner of Health or any of the officers or employes of the Department of Health, and that the work of the department has been very effective in checking the spread of the diseases, fully as much so as in other large cities where scarlet fever now prevails.

The physicians with whom we have conferred, as stated above, give it as their opinion that the department has done everything that was possible with the means at its command, to subdue and combat the diseases, and agree that the methods employed were scientific and were of the character best calculated to bring about the results aimed at. They declare, however, that better results can be obtained if the department is not hampered as it has been by lack of funds, and if it is given full power to act in case of an emergency. It is their opinion that the needs of the city have outgrown the means of the department, which they say are comparatively primitive and better adapted to a large village than to a great city. They have joined in making some recommendations designed to prevent a recurrence of such epidemic, which we submit with this report.

These physicians first call attention to the fact that the amount appropriated for the Department of Health is wholly inadequate when the immense population and the needs of the city are taken into consideration. From the statistics obtainable it appears that the per capita appropriation in this city amounts to about 8 cents, while in the other large cities of the country the per capita is as follows: New York, 34 cents; Philadelphia, 25 cents; St. Louis, 24 cents; Boston, 32 cents; Pittsburg, $1.02; Baltimore, 18 cents; San Francisco, 27 cents; Cleveland, 18 cents; Buffalo, 10 cents.

It is therefore urged that the department be allowed a sufficient appropriation to carry on efficiently the work of all the various bureaus and divisions, and in that case much more effective work will be accomplished.

It is next recommended that a corps of medical inspectors who shall be detailed for regular and systematic school inspection during 8 months in the year should be employed at a salary of $50.00 per month and that power be given to the Commissioner to increase this number by 100 temporary or alternate men whenever an emergency arises, without waiting for action by the City Council. This would require a fixed appropriation of from $40,000 to $60,000, according to whether or not these men shall be employed at other work during the months of June, July, August and September. It is suggested that the work of these men during these summer months in the congested sections would be very effective in saving the lives of infants.

The next recommendation is that the regular medical inspection staff be increased to 25 men at a salary of $75.00 per month, calling for an appropriation of $22,500, such a number being none too great for the city, which has grown at a much more rapid rate than the number of inspectors, the increase of population being largely made up of foreign emigrants.

The next recommendation is that the ordinances of the city be amended so that it will be possible to establish a high-class contagious disease hospital. One of these hospitals has already been endowed and if it were possible to secure a site for same it would not only furnish better opportunity for immunization and prevention of the spread of such diseases, but would also afford opportunity for more accurate scientific recording, experimentation and investigation, with the chances largely in favor of discoveries that would finally stamp out such diseases. Attention is called in this connection to the excellent results obtained through the establishment of the small-pox hospital. For this purpose it is suggested by the medical gentlemen who assisted us that a hospital of this character be permitted wherever a whole square is controlled by the hospital management and no part of the hospital building approaches nearer than 50 feet to the streets surrounding same. They declare that there is absolutely no danger to the residents of the neighborhood in such an institution, and have asked us to submit their recommendation so that it may be considered by the City Council.

The final recommendation is that the city should also establish on some suitable site a permanent contagious disease hospital with from 200 to 300 beds. The expense of such an institution will be from $900 to $1,000 per bed.

With such an equipment as is suggested above it is the opinion of these medical experts that contagious diseases can at all times be controlled so that an epidemic of any magnitude would be practically impossible.

We believe all the above recommendations are entitled to the earnest consideration of the City Council.

Your sub-committee has also investigated the report that the building department was doing the work of the health department in making inspections of the sanitary conditions of dairies, but finds that there has been no conflict or misunderstanding between these departments. There have been some reports of unsanitary conditions made by inspectors of the building department, but this arises from an understanding which exists between the various departments of the city employing inspectors to the effect that if any violation of the ordinances is discovered by any of them, even if it does not come within the jurisdiction of the department in which they work, it shall be reported. In this way the sanitary inspection department frequently reports violations of the building ordinance, and the building inspectors frequently report unsanitary conditions. This interchange of labor has always been regarded as adding to the efficiency of the departments and it is to the best interests of the city to continue the practice.

It is the opinion of your sub-committee and the medical experts called in that the epidemic of scarlet fever and diphtheria is now abating and that the most dangerous period is passed.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN J. BRADLEY,

PATRICK J. NOLAN,

MICHAEL C. CONLON,

Sub-Committee of Committee on Health Department.

We concur in the above report and recommendations.

The following report also accompanied the report of the Committee on Health Department:

CHICAGO, February 6, 1907.

Alderman Peter L. Hoffman, Chairman Committee on Health Department:

DEAR SIR—The undersigned, responding to your request dated January 30, beg to submit the following suggestions concerning the Health Department:

This department is entirely inadequate to furnish needful municipal protection to life, health and business interests chiefly because its development has not kept pace with the rapid growth of the city. Other large cities in the United States expend from three to twelve times as much per head as does Chicago for municipal sanitation. Among the improvements immediately and imperatively required are these:

1. The number of regular medical inspectors should be increased from nine to any part of one hundred, at the discretion of the Health Commissioner; their duties should include the inspection of pupils in the public and parochial schools. The Commissioner should be authorized to employ extra inspectors in an emergency, entirely at his own discretion. The equipment of the department in other essentials, including the laboratories, should be correspondingly increased. In short the Health Department should be so developed as to make it adequate to the sanitary needs of the city.

2. The municipal ordinances should be so modified as to permit the erection of a hospital for infectious diseases other than small-pox; because efficient isolation of such patients at home is for economic reasons usually impracticable. The McCormick Institute is ready to build and maintain such a hospital without expense to the city.

3. Since neglect or incompetence of the Health Commissioner may entail needless sickness, death and business losses among our citizens, that officer should be required to devote his entire working time to the public service, and should be selected solely for his competence, by a trustworthy medical commission. No competent man will devote his entire time to the office except upon two conditions: 1. That his salary shall be commensurate with the responsibilities of his office; and 2. That his tenure of office shall be entirely independent of the fluctuations of local politics. Taxpayers are certainly entitled to as much consideration as is accorded to the patients in the County Hospital, whose physicians are selected for competence through competitive examination, and for a six year term.

CORPORATION COUNSEL.

The Clerk presented the following report from the Corporation Counsel, which was deferred and ordered published:

OFFICE OF CORPORATION COUNSEL,
February 15, 1907.

To the Honorable, the City Council:

GENTLEMEN—I have the honor to respond to the resolution of your Honorable Body, introduced by the Honorable Member of the Seventh Ward, Alderman Snow.

The resolution directs itself to the inquiry as to the work of the Corporation Counsel's office, compensations paid, number of men engaged.

At the outset I beg the liberty of enforcing upon your attention that under the law pertaining to the Corporation Counsel he is responsible for all employes, assistants, as well as all doings engaged or committed under his name.

I most respectfully insist that, as I am willing to accept approval for conduct meriting commendation, it is my duty to accept criticism if there be anything the subject of condemnation. I respectfully urge that upon no other person whatsoever should this responsibility rest, and I beg the privilege to protest against any other person, official or private, being called upon to bear, to any degree whatsoever, what may be regarded by any one errors of the conduct of the Law Department. I take the full responsibility as well as the full consequences.

I beg to invite your Honorable Body—in answer to the preamble of the resolution—to the fact that the Law Department, under my command, has been compelled in the last year to dispose of and conduct litigation, in number of cases and amount involved, of more than six times that disposed of in the full term of my honorable predecessors, and with less force of men and with less money paid out. This was not because my predecessors did not bring to bear the greatest diligence and ability in the discharge of their duty, but because of the clog in the business of the courts, which was not removed until just as I assumed the office, when, through the change of courts and the addition of courts, the blockade was removed and the whole heap came tumbling down upon the present administration for attention and disposal.

In this connection I beg to advert to a statement which has gone to the public, through misinformation given to a reputable press, towit: That the expenses of this office have within the last three months, or quarter, been in excess of those incurred in any similar period in years preceding. I beg to say that, notwithstanding the fact that the office has been compelled to conduct a greater volume of litigation and business in this period of time than was ever conducted in any similar length of time, it has done so with less cost than that expended in any preceding similar period. To illustrate:

In 1904, for the months of October, November and December, the legal expenditure was $18,714.31.

In 1905, for the months of October, November and December (which included a large portion of the traction litigation), the legal expenditure was $20,043.42.

In 1906, for the months of October, November and December (including all the litigation and expenses I have referred to), the sum is $16,032.03.

Thus you will see that the amount expended in 1906, instead of being in excess, is less by $2,000.00 than that expended in 1904 and less by $4,000.00 than that expended in 1905.

I beg to call to your attention—referring to the general sums expended for the whole of the years 1904, 1905 and 1906—that the sum of $47,000.00 (salaries of the Special Assessment Law Department) was chargeable to the Board of Local Improvements. In 1905, that particular sum was added to the expenditures of the Corporation Counsel's office. Thus there appears to be an increase against the Corporation Counsel's office, which in fact is merely a transfer of the account of the Law Department of the Board of Local Improvements from the books of the Board of Local Improvements to those of the Corporation Counsel.

The total for 1905, including part of the year 1904, of amounts paid in salaries and special vouchers, was $143,459.97.

The total for 1906 of amounts paid in salaries and special vouchers was $148,441.76, an increase of only $5,- 000.00, notwithstanding the magnitude of the increase of the business which had to be discharged in 1906, as hereafter appears—being six times of volume and twenty times the amount.

SPECIAL COUNSEL PAID BY THEIR COLLECTIONS.

Here I beg to call to the attention of your Honorable Body an important fact. It is: That all of the special counsel of the City of Chicago employed under my administration have been paid out of the earnings of their own collections; that whatever sum has been paid to any of the employes of the Corporation Counsel's office has been paid without taking, in the net result, one cent from the Corporation Counsel's general allowance as appropriated by the Council for the expenses of the office; without taking one cent from the tax payers out of the general fund; and without the expenditure of one cent of any money whatsoever provided for the expenditures of the Law Department.

From the sources of what have been heretofore regarded as defaulted bonds, dead warrants, collections barred by limitation of time and other obligations which the city has held within and more than ten years, the counsel employed by me, under my directions, have collected more than enough to pay the salaries of the employes of the Corporation Counsel's office, special counsel fees, law books, stationery and every other conceivable item of costs and expenditure, leaving all the volume of the court litigation conducted by the city done for the city without the expenditure of one penny. I illustrate: Under the most diligent attention of the Comptroller there was brought to the Corporation Counsel's attention warrants and outstanding old indebtedness, amounting to hundreds of thousands of dollars, which I ordered collected by such proceedings as the law would permit, under my directions, placing the same under the general supervision of Assistant Corporation Counsel Lee D. Mathias, under whose vigilant attention, aided by the special assistants I placed at his service (paid only upon a percentage of their collections), the sum of $230,755.89 was collected. I attach a report of the Comptroller certifying to this result, together with a list of the warrants and debts secured by the city in the manner here pointed out. This report is marked "Exhibit A." You will see that this sum alone is far in excess of all the sums, of every wise whatsoever, paid to the whole Law Department of the City of Chicago for counsel fees and salaries of assistants.

In the City Prosecutor's office, where many of the assistants named in my list were assigned, I ordered the collection of old fines of justices which had been removed for some reason, and old bonds forfeited but not collected, and old costs that should have been collected, placing at the head of this work Mr. Vincent H. Perkins, who brought to bear exceptional diligence, and, with the aid of special assistants placed under him, ravaged the police courts and the justices with investigations, suits and other proceedings, and under the supervision of the office conducted by the Hon. Howard S. Taylor, from these different proceedings, long abandoned by the city, $5,000.00 in cash was collected for 1905; and $15,000.00 for the matters through the years 1904, 1905 and 1906. In other words, $20,000.00 of dead matter was revived and put into the city treasury, which exceeds by $16,500.00 the full sum for all the money paid for special assistants to that department. I beg append report of Mr. Vincent H. Perkins, marked "Exhibit B," in support of these items.

TAXES.

I beg to report that many of the special assistants employed by me were likewise put to work on contingency, addressing their labors, under my directions, to the increasing of assessments against property and the compelling of delinquents to pay taxes. I beg to report that through this labor on the part of these men, under my direction, the sum of more than $3,000,000.00 was added in excess to what otherwise would have been secured and to what otherwise had been secured through the taxing bodies of the City of Chicago. I beg to suggest that the Board of Review and the Board of Assessors are entitled to much credit in this direction, because, while it is true I was forced to resort to the courts to reverse the Board of Review, it had to follow the constructions of the law which had been previously given by eminent counsel and respectable sources. After these victories in the courts the Board of Review freely followed the directions of the judges, and as a result of their conclusion, much secured in this direction must be attributed. State's Attorney Healy was so constantly crowded with the business of the State on the criminal side that it was impossible, with the demand for trial on the part of the defendants, for him to provide counsel to the Board of Review—the counsel previously attending having resigned—there was left only the Corporation Counsel's office to conduct this work in its entirety, in which, however, it had the privilege of the services of the attaches of the State's Attorney and County Attorney and such co-operation as could be had under the existing circumstances. However, it was the Corporation Counsel's office conducted the investigations, secured the evidence and figures from all markets and places available, the Corporation Counsel himself making the legal arguments, in most cases personally attending, through the heat of all the summer and thus affording the Board of Review the basis and evidence upon which the judgments came forth.

You will observe that if there had been no collections from the different subject matter which I have heretofore pointed out, and nothing but the work of the taxes accomplished, the expenses of the Law Department could have been paid out of this excess alone, and still without taking one dollar from any of the appropriations or from the tax payers, as previously provided, and leave to the city an excess to the treasury of more than $1,250,000.00. I beg append the report of Mr. Maxwell Edgar, together with references to the books of the Board of Review, Board of Assessors and Board of Equilization, fortifying these items of detail, marked "Exhibit C."

May I take the liberty to bring to the attention of the Honorable Council that, aside from all of these results—from what is generally known as the work outside of what the Corporation Counsel's office is assumed to be under obligation to do—I found when I entered in my administration many judgments against the city,, two of which can be noted, one in excess of $550,000.00 in favor of Weir, McKechney & Co. against the city for damages, which had been affirmed through all the courts against the city. This was taken hold of through the excellent services of my assistant Mr. Sutherland and his aid, Mr. Frank W. Walker, and, under my direction, this final judgment was overturned, the verdict set aside, a retrial had, the verdict wiped out and a judgment entered in favor of the city and for all costs which had heretofore been paid out by the city or for which the city had incurred liability.

The next was a decision of the courts compelling the city to remove the Van Buren Street Tunnel, at the cost of the city, for what would have been $650,000.00 in actual expenditure and $50,000.00 in incidental expenses. It fell to my lot personally to assume this case, with the aid of Mr. Granville W. Browning, whose services command my commendation, and a reversal by the Supreme Court of the United States was secured which wiped out this judgment against the city; affirmed the State Supreme Court in charging the expenses to the railway company, and thus not only saved the city from paying these judgments but also recovered back the costs which we had been put to. The city was saved more than $1,000,000.00 of judgments which had previously received the sanction of the courts against the city.

In this connection may I also make note that in most of the litigation involving the taxes and collections heretofore referred to, wherever the city was successful in securing the taxes it likewise secured the return of all expenses and costs incurred for special attorneys' fees and costs of court previously expended to secure the result in favor of the city. However, such does not appear from the Corporation Counsel's bookkeeping, for the reason I never would allow any assistant to take his fees out of his collections and turn the net over to the Comptroller. I would pay them all upon a percentage basis in proportion to what they collected, but would pay them on a voucher straight from my funds and compel them to return the whole of their collections to the Comptroller. This was to provide for a system to prevent any man from handling the cash of the City of Chicago. It was also to provide that no receipts or compromise should be made whatever, that was not done through the Comptroller or the honorable Finance Committee of the Council. Thus the expenditure for these services would be made by me with no credit appearing opposite showing the amount of collections from which the percentage was taken.

As an example, the Board of Review, upon advice of counsel, subsequently sustained by the lower courts, refused to place any taxes upon the Chicago Tunnel. After I secured a reversal of these rulings from the Supreme Court, having as my assistants, E. N. Zoline and J. P. O'Shaughnessey, I secured an assessment from the Board upon the basis of $3,000,000.00, yielding to the city $127,000.00 cash. I had expended for these assistants and court costs $1,840.00 through the whole proceedings of this test fight. But in excess to the taxes secured, I made the tunnel company pay to the city $2,250.00 to cover all the costs and expenses and special attorneys' fees and such Supreme Court costs as might arise in executing and bringing about obedience to the order of the Supreme Court. Yet this offset only appears in the Comptroller's books.

The cases disposed of in this office, by number and amount involved, are shown by a list which has been prepared for your Honorable Body by this office, through the docket clerk of this office, and which are at the service of your Honorable Body, but which are withheld at this time rather than encumber this report, and will be sent to such Committee as your Honorable Body may commit this report, said list showing the great number of cases which fell to be taken care of by the present Corporation Counsel's office in the manner heretofore pointed out.

CITY ATTORNEY'S OFFICE.

I beg leave to transmit the report of Assistant Corporation Counsel John R. Caverly, Acting City Attorney, for the period requested in the resolution of your Honorable Body.

At the outset I beg to call to your attention that the office, on the first of January, fell under my control by virtue of the operation of the act of the Legislature; and here I beg to correct what likewise has crept through the public press, through some error of misinformation, to-wit, that the matters of January, 1907, were less in number of cases and in excess of expenditures of January, 1906. The contrary exists to a degree that is worthy to be noted. To illustrate: In January, 1906, 8 cases were tried by the City Attorney's office; January, 1907, 49; disposed of finally, January, 1906, 75; January, 1907, 115. Here you will note that the number of cases disposed of under my administration was three and four times that disposed of under the administration of Mr. Smulski. The judgments against the city for January, 1906, were $22,211.00; in January, 1907, though three and four times as many cases were disposed of, the judgments were only one-half as much, or $10,265.00.

The disparity of the number of cases tried under Mr. Smulski and that under Mr. Caverly, through my direction, was due likewise to the congestion of the courts, which prevented Mr. Smulski from proceeding any faster at that time than the record discloses, but which being relieved by the Municipal Courts placed this extra burden upon my administration.

The expenses of the office, excluding salaries, in January, 1906, were $5,391.-00; in January, 1907, $6,820.00, an excess of only $1,000.00, approximately speaking, with an excess of three and four times the number of cases conducted and disposed of. I beg to append the report of my assistant, Mr. Caverly, disclosing the items upon this subject and calling to your attention how the municipal courts have increased the burdens as well as the expenses of the office and the necessity of the employment of more men, and which I wish, in justice, to point out is responsible for the fact that this office has tried so many more cases than Mr. Smulski, as Mr. Smulski had no courts in which he could try them, while all of the cases which have been pending trial have fallen upon the present administration to conduct. See "Exhibit D."

Might I take the liberty here to call to your attention the saving of the city in this, that heretofore the City Attorney as an officer received $6,000.00 a year. Under the present conditions the Corporation Counsel is made to be responsible for the conduct of the affairs of the City Attorney's office and is not allowed one dollar.

I here beg to append a summary of the special assistants and the line of work to which their services were addressed.

Mr. Granville W. Browning was retained in the cases which he had been conducting under the administration of Ex-Mayor Harrison, and will be compensated according to the work remaining to be done. Mr. A. L. Gettys acted as assistant under his direction; likewise Mr. David R. Levy, who was also under the administration of Ex-Mayor Harrison.

I did not and do not regard it wise to take cases out of the hands of lawyers who are conducting them properly merely because of political or partisan affiliations of the particular counsellor.

Mr. Jacob G. Grossberg was designated, with the advice of the Mayor, as counsel to the Transportation Bureau, and has as his assistant Mr. Addison Blakely, and as examiner, Mr. Herman Meyersburg.

Mr. Henry M. Ashton and David K. Tone were designated by the Mayor as proper men to be appointed by me to conduct the litigation as my assistants in those cases known as Mills v. City, being the gas case and in the test for taxes against the street railways, both causes still pending. A bill of Mr. David K. Tone of more than $2,000.00 is still unpaid, and, with others, will be sent to the Finance Committee. I must correct the misapprehension that has gone abroad that $6,600.00 was paid Mr. Tone by the Mayor as fees, in my absence. The $6,600.00 paid to Mr. Tone was merely given to him to pay the clerk of the Supreme Court of the United States as costs due in the case now pending of Raymond et al. v. The City Railway, etc.—the tax case. The records of the Comptroller's office show receipts from the Supreme Court clerk of this amount.

Major Tolman was retained by me in matters with which he had been connected previous to the advent of my administration and in which his excellent services were commanded out of due regard for the public service.

Mr. Maxwell Edgar served as investigator of the statistics, reports and valuations in matters touching the tax contest, and with him were Mr. E. N. Zoline, who, in a single case, as shown by his report, under my direction, secured more than $30.000.00 to the treasury of the city; and Mr. John C. Richberg, Mr. John P. O'Shaughnessey, Mr. D. W. Sullivan, Mr. J. N. Duffy, Mr. Wm. B. Fleming, Mr. Park Phipps, all being engaged in the tax matters, and wholly and solely compensated only in proportion as the amount paid bore percentage not exceeding five per cent. in most cases, and never in excess of ten per cent. in any, and in a great many not equaling one per cent. of the results secured in actual collections.

Mr. W. H. Sexton was retained in the two cases which were personally in his hands before he left the Corporation Counsel's office and which had been partly tried by him while in this office. He was aided by Mr. C. E. Kremer, who had been assigned in the previous administration and retained by me in those cases involving matters of admiralty.

Mr. C. D. Foss and Mr. M. T. Normoyle were appointed as investigators to aid Mr. Sutherland, night and day, in the Weir-McKechney case.

Mr. Walter L. Fisher and Mr. Samuel Adams, aided by Mr. Daniel J. Murphy, addressed their services solely to the traction litigation and Transportation Committee, under the directions of the Mayor, and, in my judgment, rendered most commendable service in point of attention and time given.

Mr. J. Butler acted as examiner in obtaining evidence in the matter of the Gage farm controversy, looking up witnesses who could testify to ancient matter, in order to preserve to the city more than $170,000.00 worth of real estate, heretofore regarded as lost, but which, under my direction and the service of Mr. Zoline, has been saved to the city, the said real estate satisfying the forfeiture upon the bond of the City Treasurer.

Mr. Edward J. Darragh, together with Mr. Rocco De Stefano, Mr. George L. Reker and Mr. Jas. C. O'Brien, aiding Mr. Frank C. Souhrada, Assistant Corporation Counsel, have been employed in matters of collections by justices of the courts, which matters are regarded as live, but which have to be collected by levying the judgments in certain quarters. They all have paid for themselves in the manner heretofore pointed out.

Mr. George F. Milligan has been acting as assistant and aid in certain litigation conducted by Mr. Barge, while Mr. Roy D. Keehn, Mr. Walter T. Stanton and Mr. H. R. Harris have rendered Mr. Mathias assistance in matters shown by report marked "Exhibit E."

Mr. Edward F. Bogart and Mr. Samuel C. Herrin were paid by me, but did their work in trying cases for the City Attorney's office; likewise Mr. D. J. M. Malmin, doing work in the municipal courts, as disclosed in the more general report.

I beg to transmit herewith something of a general report of the finances; also the names of the counsel and the amounts obtained by them, together with the fees paid out, that your Honorable Council may have the same for any information which your resolution seems to comprehend.

You will note from this list that the money paid in 1904 was for counsel retained in certain litigation because of the importance of keeping that litigation in the hands of the counsel who had been conducting it skillfully. In 1906 Mr. Beckwith was retained in the "loop" litigation and in certain civil service cases in which he has rendered splendid service to the city. The same must be said of Mr. Roswell B. Mason and Mr. Mitchell Follansbee, who had charge of certain street litigation, preserving one of the streets of the city after the same had been regarded as lost. The work of Mr. Duffy and Mr. Fleming, Mr. Edgar, Mr. Richberg and Mr. O'Shaughnessey cannot be commended too highly, in view of the results secured, under my direction, from the taxing bodies of the State. Much of the information I secured for the taxing bodies came to me through the results of my personal investigation and personal services and from sources of an important and confidential character, which I could not disclose without injury to the public service, but which it gave me great pleasure to confide to the Honorable Chairman of the Finance Committee and the Comptroller and placed at the service of any executive session of the Finance Committee, to the end that they may see for what the Corporation Counsel's office has had its expense, apart from the results secured and to whom.

I also send herewith pay-roll, disclosing the items of the different departments with which I have had to do, and the amount secured by each and all, to the end that your Honorable Body may see that the conclusion I have heretofore pointed out, to-wit, that the special collections upon what heretofore was regarded as doubtful, if not wholly dead matter, have paid the expenditures for salaries, special voucher fees, special charge and expenses of the Law Department.

In conclusion may I be permitted to commend the very excellent practice of calling for reports from the different departments of the city, to be made to the people, through their representatives, the City Council, and to commend such diligence as is disclosed by Alderman Snow, and to be bold enough to express the hope that such may serve as a precedent to be applied to all departments, to the end that by such diligent attention, laxity, incompetence or extravagance may be avoided.

With respects to your Honorable Body, I remain,

Very obediently,

J. Hamilton Lewis,

Corporation Counsel.

DEPARTMENT OF FINANCE,
CHICAGO, February 11, 1907.

Hon. J. Hamilton Lewis, Corporation Counsel:

DEAR SIR—I transmit herewith a list of warrants numbering 75, amounting to $230,755.89, collected by Mr. Mathias since he was assigned to aid this department in the collection of delinquent warrants. Many of these warrants date back to 1901.

There are still many warrants outstanding that have ceased to be in our active account, and are in what is known as the contingent warrant record, that represent in the aggregate many thousands of dollars but they represent more than this to the City of Chicago because we have made so many visits to these people to collect that the City is held in contempt and people refuse to pay their legitimate dues. I write this that you may see the need of still further exertion in the good work of this character in your department. I am aware that there is also very important litigation pending representing many hundred of thousands of dollars that requires attention but these ordinary delinquent accounts if once settled, I believe, will enable us in the future to more easily collect amounts due.

Thanking you for the valuable assistance you and your assistant, Mr. Mathias, has given in this work, I remain,

Very truly yours,

L. E. McGann,

Comptroller.

EXHIBIT B.

Hon. James Hamilton Lewis, Corporation Counsel, Chicago:

SIR—In obedience to your request of yesterday, I would respectfully state that during the year 1906 I was engaged, under your direction, in making an examination of the records of the various justice courts of this city, and the Criminal Court of this county, for the purpose of ascertaining the amount due the City of Chicago in judgments obtained in said courts by said City against various defendants, and in making collection of those judgments.

My investigation in the Justice and Criminal Courts covered a period of one year (1905) except in Justice Gibbons' court, which covered a period of three years (1904, 1905 and 1906.)

My work in conjunction with that of the Prosecuting Attorney resulted in the collection of approximately $5,000.00 in the courts I have mentioned for the year 1905, and $15,000.00 in Justice Gibbons' court, where a majority of city cases were brought, for the years 1904, 1905 and 1906.

The establishment of the Municipal Court interfered with this work, I being assigned to trial work in the Municipal Courts, but as soon as the records and files of the various justices are properly arranged in the Municipal Court Clerk's office, collections will again prove a fruitful field for operation.

I will add that ever since my appointment, I have been engaged in city work every working day during ordinary working hours.

I express the hope that there is no impropriety in the suggestion that I collected from a single bondsman an amount in excess of one-half of what I have thus far received for my whole year's work.

Sincerely yours,

VINCENT H. PERKINS,
Assistant Prosecuting Attorney.

EXHIBIT C.

TAXES.

CHICAGO, February 9, 1907.

Hon. James Hamilton Lewis, Corporation Counsel, Chicago:

DEAR SIR—In accordance with your request for a summary of the results of the tax investigation carried on during the past year by the city's attorneys under your direction, the following report is respectfuly submitted.

ESTATES.

Thirty-two of the largest estates were examined. Thirteen were found to be omitted entirely from the tax list and the balance greatly under assessed. The full valuation for taxation purposes of these estates on personal property was increased from the Board of Assessor's valuation of $22,262,716 to $145,327,286, being an increase of $123,064,570. This increase at a flat 7 per cent rate will produce $1,622,907 in additional taxes payable now.

PULLMAN COMPANY.

The full valuation of the personal property of this company in Hyde Park alone was increased from $1,961,700 to $2,998,565, an increase of $1,036,865. The full valuation of the net capital stock assessment of the company was increased by the Board of Equalization from $8,250,000 in 1905, to $11,550,000 in 1906, an increase of $3,330,000. The total increase in the two foregoing valuations amounts to $4,396,865, of which the assessed valuation is $879,373. This amount at the flat rate of 7 per cent will net $61,556 additional taxes for 1906 from the Pullman Company.

PUBLIC SERVICE AND MERCANTILE CORPORATIONS.

The full valuation of the capital stock of the following corporations was increased by $3,629,215 over the assessment of 1905:

Illinois Tunnel Co.	$1,000,000
Chicago Edison Co.	1,416,115
Commonwealth Electric Co.	500,000
Universal Gas Co.	113,100
Ogden Gas Co.	150,000
Marshall Field & Co.	200,000
The Fair	75,000
Montgomery-Ward & Co.	50,000
Sears, Roebuck & Co.	125,000

The above increases in capital stock valuations will produce over $50,000 in additional taxes. The annual report of the Board of Equalization will be issued shortly and will show increases in the capital assessments of a large number of smaller corporations not included in the above list.

BANKING CORPORATIONS.

In 1905 the stockholders of all banks in Cook County were assessed on a full valuation of $70,981,745. In 1906 this valuation was raised to $83,481,745, an increase of $12,500,000, netting $175,000 more taxes.

SAFE DEPOSIT AND BUILDING CORPORATIONS

As your representative before the Board of Equalization I argued that a capital stock tax should be assessed against the above corporations. The Board has accordingly assessed these companies for the first time in its history. It is estimated that these new assessments will produce about $20,000 additional taxes annually.

MISCELLANEOUS TAX REVENUE.

In addition to the foregoing, the Illinois Tunnel Company was assessed at $3,000,000 in 1906 on its tangible property. This property has hitherto escaped taxation and the Company contested the assessment, but the Supreme Court upheld the contention of the city. Even at the above low valuation the assessment will yield $40,000 additional taxes annually.

You will recollect that you insisted before the Board of Review that certain Illinois Steel Company bonds of a face value of $4,000,000, which had hitherto escaped taxation, should be assessed, and that the Board acceded to your request. This action will net over $52,000 more taxes.

The claim against the Oak Park Elevated and the Northwestern Elevated Companies, which had lain dormant in suit for a number of years was resurrected, and finally settled by these railroads agreeing to pay personal property taxes amounting to $30,000.

RECAPITULATION.

The following is a tabulated statement showing the sources and amounts of the increased taxes secured over 1905:

From 32 Chicago estates	$1,622,907
From Pullman Company	61,566
From Banking Corporations	175,000
From nine corporations—capital stock tax	50,000
From safe deposit and building corporations (estimated)	20,000
From Illinois Tunnel Company (tangible property)	40,000
From Illinois Steel Company (bonds taxed)	52,000
From Oak Park and Northwestern "L" cases	30,000
Total	$2,051,473

The above amount does not include a large number of smaller estates, the assessments of which were raised on the showing of the city's attorneys. Nor does it include a large number of smaller miscellaneous corporations whose capital stock assessments and tangible property valuations have been materially increased by the efforts of your department.

It is a matter of congratulation to report that the present administration has been the direct cause of compelling the large estates and great corporations of Chicago to pay over two million dollars in taxes, all of which escaped in former years, and would have been again evaded this year but for the vigilance of the city's tax attorneys acting under your direction. There are still, however, millions of dollars' worth of property escaping taxation in whole or in part in Cook County, due entirely to the negligence of the county taxing officers. One example of this kind is the A. M. Billings estate. This estate was assessed last year at only $300,000, although it contains $4,451,762, of which over $4,000,000 consists of notes, bonds and cash, all taxable in this county. It has been under-assessed for ten years last past and is today taxed at only 7 per cent of its fair cash value. In accordance with your instructions, the city is preparing to commence suit to compel the Board of Review to properly assess this estate.

Some of the newspapers seem inclined to criticise the Law Department of the city for payments to special counsel. These journals overlook the fact that one branch alone of the Law Department has compelled the tax dodgers of this city to pay over two millions more taxes this year than last. They also forget that the total appropriation and expense of the Law Department for the year 1906 has been defrayed by the profits of the Tax Bureau and a surplus profit of $1,657,000 left over.

The results of the work of the city's tax attorneys are extremely gratifying when it is remembered that the city officials have been compelled to take up and carry on this work to prevent the city from being starved to death for lack of funds, through the neglect of the county officials to properly perform those functions of assessing and collecting taxes, for which they are paid absurdly large salaries by the tax payers.

Very respectfully yours,

MAXWELL EDGAR.

EXHIBIT D.

February 14, 1907.

Hon. J. Hamilton Lewis, Corporation Counsel, City:

DEAR SIR—In answer to your communication of the 7th, inst., requesting statement of the work performed by this department, expenses, amount of judgments, etc., for the months of January, 1906, and January, 1907, respectively, I beg to report as follows:

Average on pay roll during month, 70 men..... 7,491.70

Increase in pay roll and expense is in part due to the fact that a number of cases have been started in the Municipal Court. This court alone will cost the city to defend its cases $3,500.00 per month additional.

Attorneys paid by special vouchers:
January, 1906 .....$ 475.00

Colonel James Hamilton Lewis, Corporation Counsel:

DEAR SIR—In accordance with your request I have the pleasure to submit a report with reference to the business of the Law Department of the city which has come into my hands.

When I came into the employ of the city about a year ago I was assigned to the work of adjusting numerous old accounts or claims which the City of Chicago had against numerous persons. I enclose herewith a list of the actual cash which we have been able to collect from these accounts; the sum total being $230,755.89.

Besides these collections I have made careful investigations with reference to the legality of the city's claims covering other matters, and in those cases where I considered that the city's claims were not well founded in law or fact I have advised that the same be cancelled, which has been done by the City Comptroller.

In connection with this work for the Comptroller I have prepared and filed a bill in equity against the Chicago & Oak Park Elevated Railroad Company to compel it to pay to the city large sums of money which it owes to the city as compensation under its franchises. I have also brought a suit in debt against the bondsmen of Mr. Paul Redieske for the sum of about $12,000.00, which he has owed to the city since 1896 on account of collections which he made as North Town Collector.

I have personally conducted the case of Jankoski vs. the City and Schuler vs. the City, and with the assistance of the attorney for property owners, have successfully fought the case of the Chicago Union Hospital vs. the City.

I have also investigated and advised a settlement of all the claims against the city on account of damage to real estate growing out of the construction of the intercepting sewer in 39th street, and have, from the start to the finish of the Wide Tire litigation, with the assistance of Mr. Roy D. Keehn, taken charge of the legal end of the city's interests.

Besides the foregoing I have had my share of the council work in the office, and have prepared many ordinances and contracts with reference to the City's affairs. The work in connection with the Comptroller's office, together with other matters in my charge, became so voluminous that it was necessary for me to have some assistance, and at my request you were good and kind enough to assign Mr. Roy D. Keehn to work under my supervision, and I have the pleasure to state that his services in the Wide Tire matter were efficient and valuable; that he is now assisting me with reference to the case of the City vs. the Chicago & Oak Park Elevated Railroad Company; that he has in charge a suit against the Illinois Central Railroad Company to establish the principle that it is the legal duty of the railroad company to maintain sidewalks and keep the same in good repair through the railroad viaducts, and he is also assisting me with reference to a number of claims against the Chicago & Northwestern Railway Company, which the city will have to sue for in order to collect.

Mr. George F. Mulligan has also been assigned to assist me, and he has prepared in a skillful manner the declaration in the case of the City vs. the Chicago Terminal Transfer Railroad Company, an action brought in the Municipal Court to compel that railroad company to pay its share of the cost of the Taylor street viaduct, which part amounts to $4,009.11. I collected that amount from the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad Company, and the same amount from the Pennsylvania Railroad Company without any suit. I have also assigned to Mr. Mulligan the work of drawing the declaration against the Chicago Terminal Transfer Railroad Company, Chicago & Northwestern Railway Company, Pennsylvania Railroad Company and the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad Company to establish the principle that it is the duty of the railroad companies to keep viaducts in repair and to compel them to pay to the city the cost of repairing the sidewalks on the Ogden avenue viaduct.

Mr. Ross C. Hall, who has been assigned to assist me, has in charge the claim against the Santa Fe Railroad Company for a sum exceeding $6,000.00 for the re-paving of 26th street near the Bridewell. He also is preparing a declaration against the General Electric Street Railway Company to compel it to pay to the city divers sums charged to it for cleaning the streets upon which its railway tracks are laid. He also has in hand the argument of the demurrer of the receiver to a petition which I filed in the United States Circuit Court to compel the receiver of the Calumet Electric Street Railway Company to pay the city the sum of $18,000.00 due to the city under a contract between that company and the city executed during Mayor Swift's administration, and also to establish the principle that that company is liable to the city under that contract in the amount of $50,000.00. However, the sum of $18,000.00 being the amount due thereon at this time.

I am gratified at our success in collecting and adjusting so many old matters which have been upon the city's books for so many years, and the Comptroller and I are working to the end that before the termination of this year all the old matters may be adjusted or settled. There are numerous accounts involving small amounts which require considerable time to adjust. Mr. Darragh has been assigned to assist me in these matters, and I enclose herewith a list of the matters which he has in charge and which he is pushing vigorously.

Respectfully submitted,

LEE D. MATHIAS,
Assistant Corporation Counsel.

EXHIBIT F.

February 14, 1907.

Hon. James Hamilton Lewis, Corporation Counsel:

DEAR SIR—Complying with your instructions I hand you herewith a list of expenses incurred by me during the months of October, November and December, 1906, outside of the usual stenographers' and printers' charges and court costs, in the cases on which I have been at work:

William C. Shaw.....	$ 50.00
Martin H. Kendig.....	10.00
Howard Bartells	10.00
George L. Reker.....	100.00

All of the above bills were incurred in the case of Frank A. Becker vs. City of Chicago, No. 256,188, Superior Court, which is still on hearing before Master in Chancery George T. Kelly. The item allowed Mr. Shaw was for expert testimony on handwriting, and included the examination of the documents, preliminary consultations and three appearances before the Master. Mr. Kendig was allowed $10.00 as expert on printing, and Mr. Bartells was allowed $10.00 for expert testimony on market quotations. Mr. Reker assisted in the work of abstracting the record in the case, the testimony being voluminous.

Hoping the above will cover the points on which you desire information from me, I am

Yours truly,

LEON HORNSTEIN,

Assistant Corporation Counsel.

REPORT OF E. N. ZOLINE.

CHICAGO, February 7, 1907.

Hon. James Hamilton Lewis, Corporation Counsel, City of Chicago:

DEAR SIR—Pursuant to your verbal request, I hereby take pleasure in making a report of legal work done by me, and cases handled by me, under your direction, for the City of Chicago, since the first day of October, 1906, to the first day of February, 1907.

SERVICES DURING THE MONTH OF OCTOBER, 1906.

Procured mandate from the Supreme Court in the matter of the City of Chicago vs. Board of Review and the Illinois Telephone and Telegraph Company and the Illinois Tunnel Company, and collected costs from said companies for the City of Chicago in said cause, and turned same over to your Financial Clerk for transmission to the City Collector. In this connection permit me to state that I acted as Special Counsel in the Lower Court as well as in the Supreme Court in the Tunnel Tax litigation, which case resulted in a great victory to the city, and is now yielding a revenue of $87,000.00 per year. I do not intend to take entire credit for the result of this case, as it was commenced by you, and argued in the Supreme Court jointly by yourself and myself, but the victory achieved was due mainly to the research of the authorities made by me, and to the uncomfortable position into which we drove the able counsel on the other side. During the same month I filed the mandate in the Circuit Court.

Some months prior to that I was directed to look into the title of the City of Chicago to the various properties commonly known as the "Gage Farms." I have examined voluminous abstracts, and have rendered opinions in those matters to you. It was a great task, inasmuch as the litigation attending these "Farms" and other properties of Gage and his bondsmen covered a period of something like thirty-four years, and it was in a most unsatisfactory condition. I found a great deal of confusion in those matters. I had all the abstracts continued, and thoroughly examined same in connection with various decisions of the Supreme Court rendered in prior years relating to these same lands. I turned over to you my written opinions in relation to same, which were by you duly transmitted to the Comptroller of the City of Chicago. As a result of my investigation I found that in 1898 former Corporation Counsel Thornton had commenced a suit in behalf of the City of Chicago against one E. V. Carey, for the partition of sixty-five acres of land commonly known as the Gage-Grossdale Farm. I also found that said case was not looked after by the city, and that same was stricken from the docket several years ago. I was then instructed by you to get said suit reinstated and place same at issue, in which I well succeeded. The suit was reinstated on the docket during the month of October. I also succeeded in getting the court to enter a decree of partition without a reference to a Master in Chancery, thus saving the city several hundred dollars' costs usually taxed in cases referred to Masters in Chancery. I had various consultations with the Comptroller of the City of Chicago and yourself in relation to said partition suit, as well as with the counsel representing the other side.

Some time prior to the month of October, 1906, I was directed by you to intervene in three tax suits, wherein the Northwestern, Lake Street and the Union Consolidated Railroads procured in 1901 injunctions enjoining the collection of taxes for the year 1901, which amounted to something like $30,000.00. These cases were pending in the Circuit Court since 1901. The County Collector being the only defendant, the County Attorney was supposed to have looked into these cases, but in view of the fact that no move was made to have these injunctions dissolved on the part of the county, you did instruct me to get leave of court to have the City of Chicago made a party defendant in these cases, and thus give the city the right to defend the suits and get the injunctions dissolved. After a hard fight the court granted me leave to intervene on behalf of the City of Chicago, and during the month of October the cases were on the trial calendar before Judge Honore. As the points of law involved in these cases were numerous and complicated, I devoted a great deal of time during the month of October preparing said cases for trial.

During the same month I also examined the law and the pleadings filed in the City of Chicago vs. the Pullman Estate and Board of Review Tax matter; I also examined pleadings and the law relating to same in the matter of the City of Chicago vs. Keith Estate, pending in the Circuit Court.

SERVICES DURING THE MONTH OF NOVEMBER, 1906.

Under your direction I carefully looked into the suit brought by Annie G. Evans et al. against the City of Chicago and Lawrence E. McGann as Comptroller, which is a suit for an accounting against the city growing out of the former litigations of the City of Chicago and the defaulting Treasurer, Gage; in this suit the said Annie G. Evans is attempting to collect something like a million and a half from the City of Chicago. In this case I heretofore filed a demurrer, and during the month of November I examined a great many authorities relating to said case, and also was collecting information with a view of preparing an answer to the suit should the demurrer filed by me be overruled. The numerous matters involved in said appeal, and the amount involved, and the lapse of time since the transaction occurred, has given me a great deal of worry and trouble. Thus far the counsel on the other side have not called up my demurrer, which may be taken as a tacit admission that the demurrer filed by me is well taken.

The case of the Lake Street Elevated Railroad Company, enjoining the collection of the taxes for the year 1901, as heretofore detailed by me, was reached for trial before Judge Honore during the month of November, and took four days of actual trial work during that month, outside of time in watching the case.

During the same month I prepared a voluminous brief and abstracted testimony in the case of the Northwestern Elevated Railroad Company vs. the City of Chicago and the County before Judge Honore, which was to be tried, and was tried, immediately upon the conclusion of the case of the Lake Street Elevated Railroad Company.

SERVICES DURING THE MONTH OF DECEMBER, 1906.

The hearing of the Elevated Railroad cases, as heretofore detailed, was partly resumed during the month of December, and I devoted several days in the month of December in winding up said cases before Judge Honore. In these cases I succeeded in getting the injunctions sued out in 1901 dissolved, and compelled the Elevated Railroads to turn over in open court to the County Treasurer certified checks amounting to thirty thousand dollars. The suits were very hotly contested by Mr. Clarence Knight and H. Adams for the Railroad Companies, and involved not only the collection of these taxes in question, but the validity of the entire tax levy for the year 1901, as well as for the years 1906 and 1907; in fact the entire method of the Board of Review was attacked. An adverse decision might have crippled the finances of the city and county, and hundreds of injunctions would have followed these suits.

During the same month I appeared before Judge Clifford and argued a demurrer in the Mandamus suit of the City of Chicago against the Board of Review and the Keith Estate; and also prepared brief for Judge Clifford.

SERVICES DURING THE MONTH OF JANUARY, 1907.

During this month I have amended the petition for Mandamus for the City of Chicago vs. Board of Review and Keith Estate, examined the records in the Probate Court in the matter of the said suit for the purpose of getting data for the amendment. I appeared before Judge Clifford and got a rule on the other side to answer the amended petition.

I also appeared before Judge McEwen of the Superior Court in the partition suit of the City of Chicago vs. Carey on a motion directing the Commissioners to act. I held conferences with the counsel on the other side for the purpose of adjusting the partition suit without expense to the city, and got various propositions from the other side looking towards an equitable partition of same, and submitted same to the Comptroller of the City of Chicago for investigation, which matter, as I understand it, will be presented to the Finance Committee with a view of taking action upon the propositions made by the counsel on the other side.

During the same month I also made preparations for the purpose of calling up the demurrer in the case of Evans vs. the City of Chicago, but in view of the death of Francis M. Barrett, formerly connected with the Comptroller of the City of Chicago, I deemed it best not to call said demurrer up at this time.

Permit me to suggest that in performing my duties for the City of Chicago, I have rendered services which were not only beneficial to the city for the time being, but which, in my opinion, will have a lasting effect upon the welfare of the city in future generations to come.

Sincerely yours,

E. N. ZOLINE.

In connection with the foregoing report, Ald. Harkin, with unanimous consent, presented the following resolutions:

Be it resolved by the City Council of the City of Chicago:

That, Whereas, the City Council at a late meeting passed a resolution requesting the Corporation Counsel's office to furnish a list of the assistants and expenditures, as well as to report as to the manner of the conduct of the office; and

WHEREAS, Said resolution gave rise to the public report and public print that might carry the suggestion that the object of the resolution was to reflect upon Corporation Counsel James Hamilton Lewis or upon the manner in which he had discharged some particular duty; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, By the City Council, that the passage of the said resolution had in no wise any purpose of reflection upon the Corporation Counsel as an official or as a citizen. Be it resolved that the City Council takes pleasure in certifying to its very high respect and admiration of the Corporation Counsel, both as to his work in his official capacity and his character as a gentleman and citizen.

Be It Further Resolved, That the Council acknowledges the ever existing courtesy and urbanity with which Colonel Lewis has met all the demands of the Council either as an assembled body or as individuals. That it recognizes his services in his office as that of a diligent and capable official, disclosing the highest class of merit as a lawyer and the strictest degree of honor and devotion to the public in the discharge of his services.

Resolved, That, notwithstanding any political differences that may exist upon the mere matter of party opposition between that represented by the Corporation Counsel and that by any Alderman, the Aldermen nevertheless express in session assembled that the service of the Corporation Counsel to the city as its head law officer has been of an exceptional character of the highest merit, producing a success to the city to its great benefit and to the credit of the administration he represents.

Be It Further Resolved, That the object of the resolution as passed by the Council and the object of the Council in passing the resolution was to obtain information of the character necessary to control the expenditures and to ascertain the manner of service rendered by certain attaches of the Corporation Counsel's office, and to further ascertain whether the same should be longer necessary, and if found to be no longer necessary to relieve the Corporation Counsel of their further engagement.

Ald. Harkin moved to adopt the resolutions.

The motion prevailed.

(By letters, telephone and conversation.)

Over thirty-five hundred (3,500) letters have been sent out mainly to injured parties and to witnesses of accidents. As a result we have valuable information as to the cause of transportation accidents. More help is needed in order to thoroughly tabulate and digest this information for the safety of passengers.

By attending the inquests and making special inquiry as to certain details which could only be obtained by sworn testimony much valuable information has been secured.

The efforts made as to the broken fenders, cold cars, dusty streets, dangerous holes and rails, bad order brakes, broken windows, school speed, railroad crossings, met with very fair results as the City Code covers these points well enough to secure conviction and levy fines.

The overcrowding, dirty cars, ventilation, vestibule, wheelguard, and sign section of the code were found to be defective or too indefinite to hold in court.

The department has been seriously embarrassed by the fact that there is no police power ordinance requiring the car companies to operate their cars at certain intervals and imposing a fine for its violation. As a consequence, the efforts to compel the companies to obey certain sections of the code only drove cars out of service, and it had to be abandoned.

Ordinances found necessary by accidents and by defects in the City Code, and an ordinance providing schedules for all lines are now before the Local Transportation Committee. Most of the overcrowding cases were obtained while gathering figures on which to base the schedule ordinance.

The seven hundred and eighty-seven (787) cases of dangerous pavements were places that were liable to upset a fire engine or patrol wagon.

The letters received from citizens have covered about every phase of transportation—overwork, noisy cars, car routes, leaky elevated, sprinkling, dust, broken cars, switching back, teamsters, elevated stations, railroad suburban crowds, elevated station sanitation, new schemes of all kinds, track elevation, expectoration, petitions, dangerous curves, switches, dark crossings and viaducts, broken wires, waiting for time, ill tempered employes, running by stations and streets, transfers, dark cars, etc., and about a dozen inquiries from officials of other cities.

The officers detailed to examine "accidents" cars have furnished valuable reports as to the cause of many accidents that were formerly classified as "unknown," "slippery rail," or "brakes wouldn't work."

An average of ten (10) officers has been detailed to this department. However, their duties have been such as would practically amount to police duty. As a result of this detail of police being constantly on the hunt for poor service, the car companies have made extra efforts to provide good service if there was a penal ordinance back of the officers.

All complaints of the traction companies as to blockades, street repairs or other delays to traffic have been promptly attended to, and these officers detailed there until the trouble was over.

The mounted police have done admirable service in looking after teams and other street traffic. The officers at the crossings and the mounted police are now handling the downtown traffic, so that there is very little delay to cars in the loop district, other than that due to defective cars, trolley wire curves, wagon breakdowns and street repairs, in which case officers from this department are detailed to help out.

Patrolmen whose regular beats include the car barns have been reporting the number of good order cars held in the barns during the rush hours. As a result the car barns are fairly well cleared of idle cars during the rush hours.

The change made last summer from cable to trolley has improved the service as to quality, but the number of standing passengers during the hours of the day remains about the same.

The work or field of this department increased considerably during the latter part of the year. This was due to the assistance previously rendered to both transportation companies and the public in the direction of better service. This is true of all lines—surface, steam, elevated, local and suburban. Therefore, arrangements should be made which will enable this department to properly handle the demands made upon it by the public.

Respectfully submitted,

M. F. Doty,

Superintendent of Transportation.

For the improvement, adjusting sewers, catch basins and manholes, constructing new catch basins, constructing a granite concrete combined curb and gutter, grading and paving of the roadways of a system of streets, as follows, to-wit: School street, from the west line of North Robey street to the east line of North Western avenue; North Seeley avenue, from the north line of School street to the south curb line of Waveland avenue; North Hamilton avenue, from the north line of School street to the south curb line of Waveland avenue; North Oakley avenue, from the north line of Belmont avenue to the south curb line of Cornelia avenue; North Claremont avenue, from the north line of School street to the south curb line of Cornelia avenue, and also the roadways of all intersecting streets and alleys extended from the curb line to the street line produced on each side of each of said above specified streets between said points (except the intersections of North Hoyne avenue and North Leavitt street with said School street, and also except street railway rights of way thereon, between said points), in the City of Chicago, County of Cook and State of Illinois.

Be it ordained by the City Council of the City of Chicago:

SECTION 1. That a local improvement shall be made within the City of Chicago, in said county and state, the nature, character, locality and description of which local improvement is as follows, to-wit:

That the roadway of School street, from the west line of North Robey street to the east line of North Western avenue, the width of which roadway is hereby established at thirty feet; also the roadway of North Seeley avenue, from the north line of School street to the south curb line of Waveland avenue, the width of which roadway is hereby established at thirty feet; also the roadway of North Hamilton avenue, from the north line of School street to the south curb line of Waveland avenue, the width of which roadway is hereby established at thirty feet; also the roadway of North Oakley avenue, from the north line of Belmont avenue to the south curb line of Cornelia avenue, the width of which roadway is hereby established at thirty feet; also the roadway of North Claremont avenue, from the north line of School street to the south curb line of Cornelia avenue, the width of which roadway is hereby established at thirty feet, and also the roadways of all intersecting streets and alleys extended from the curb line to the street line produced on each side of each of said above specified streets, between said points, except as hereinafter specifically provided, be and the same are hereby ordered improved as follows:

A granite concrete combined curb and gutter shall be constructed on each side of the roadway of each of said above specified streets between the points hereinbefore described (except the intersections of North Hoyne avenue and North Leavitt street with said School street, and except across the roadways of all other intersecting streets and all the intersecting alleys between said points), in such a manner that the roadway face of the curb shall be parallel with and fifteen feet from the center line of said School street, said North Seeley avenue, said North Hamilton avenue, said North Oakley avenue and said North Claremont avenue; and a granite concrete combined curb and gutter shall be constructed on each side of the roadways of all streets and alleys intersecting the several streets specified above and extending from the curb line to the street line produced on each side of each of said above specified streets between said points (except the intersections of North Hoyne avenue and North Leavitt street with said School street), in such a manner that the roadway face of the curb shall conform with the curb line on each side of all said intersecting streets, and in such a manner that the back of the curb shall conform with the alley lines produced on each side of all said intersecting alleys, between said points.

Said combined curb and gutter shall be made as follows, to-wit: The concrete to be used shall consist of the best quality of Portland cement mixed with fine crushed granite in the proportion of one part cement and two parts fine granite, into which shall be incorporated four parts of broken granite of varying sizes which will pass through a ring of one and one-half inches internal diameter, and be held on a ring of one-fourth of an inch internal diameter. The cement shall be mixed thoroughly with fine crushed granite, after which it shall be moistened with water to form a mortar, and into which shall be incorporated the four parts of broken granite as specified above and rammed into forms until solid.

The material to be used in finishing the surface of said combined curb and gutter shall consist of the best quality of Portland cement mixed with finely crushed granite, in the proportion of two parts cement and three parts granite, which, after being moistened with water to form a mortar, shall be evenly spread over the surface of said combined curb and gutter to a thickness of one-half inch, and so as to insure a smooth and even surface on the face of the curb and gutter flags, after being evenly troweled and finished with a broom.

The curb shall be seven inches thick and the height at the back shall vary from fourteen inches at the catch basin inlets to nine inches at the summits, and the gutter flags shall be eighteen inches in width and five inches in thickness. The upper roadway edge of the curb shall be rounded to a true arc of a circle having a radius of one and one-half inches.

Said combined curb and gutter shall be constructed upon a bed of cinders six inches in depth after being flooded with water and thoroughly compacted to an even surface, and shall be back filled with earth free from animal or vegetable matter. Said filling to be four feet wide at the top of the curb and even therewith and shall slope down at the rate of one and one-half feet horizontal to one foot vertical.

Said combined curb and gutter shall be so constructed that the upper surface of the gutter flags shall conform to the surface of the finished roadways hereinafter described, and the top edge of the curb shall coincide with the grade of said above specified streets between the points hereinbefore described, which grade is hereby established as follows, to-wit:

The above heights as fixed shall be measured from the plane of low water in Lake Michigan of A. D. 1847, as established by the Trustees of the Illinois and Michigan Canal, and adopted by the late Board of Drainage Commissioners and by the late Board of Public Works of the City of Chicago, and now represented by the ordinance of July 11th, A. D. 1898, relating to the corrected elevation of the Old Lind Block bench mark, which determines the base or datum for city levels.

The several roadways of the several streets specified above, between the points hereinbefore described, and also the roadways of all streets and alleys intersecting the several streets specified above and extending from the curb line to the street line produced on each side of the above specified streets, between the points hereinbefore described (except the intersections of North Hoyne avenue and North Leavitt street with said School street, and also except any and all space occupied and used as street railway rights of way thereon between said points, which rights of way are by the ordinances granting them agreed to be paved and kept in repair by the railway companies owning, operating and controlling the same), shall be so graded that after being thoroughly puddled and rolled with a roller of ten tons weight until the several roadbeds are thoroughly compacted, and after the pavement hereinafter described shall have been placed thereon the surface of the pavement at the center of the finished roadway of each of said above specified streets and the center of the finished roadways of all streets intersecting the said above specified streets and extending from the curb line to the street line produced on each side of each of said above specified streets, except where the roadways are occupied by street railway rights of way, shall coincide with the established grade of said above specified streets hereinbefore described, and where said roadways are occupied by street railway rights of way the entire width of all such rights of way shall coincide with the established grade of said above specified streets hereinbefore described, and the surface of the finished roadways at the summit in the gutter between catch basins and adjoining the roadway face of the curb shall be four inches below said established grade, and the surface of the said finished roadways at the catch basin inlets in the gutters, adjoining the roadway face of the curb, shall be nine inches below said established grade.

The slope of the gutters adjoining the roadway face of the curb shall be uniform from the summits to the catch basins, and a transverse section of each of said finished roadways and said gutter flags, where the same is not occupied by street railway rights of way, shall be an arc of a circle passing through the said gutter grades and the grade of the center of each of said finished roadways, and a transverse section of each of said finished roadways and said gutter flags where the same is occupied by street railway rights of way shall be an arc of a circle passing through the said gutter grades and the established grade of each of said above specified streets at each side of said street railway rights of way, at every part of the several roadways of said above specified streets and at every part of the roadways of all streets intersecting the several streets specified above, between the points hereinbefore described.

The surface of the finished pavement in all intersecting alleys hereinbefore specified shall be four inches below the top of the curb on each side of said alley intersections at the street line produced of each of said above specified streets, and shall slope thence at a uniform grade to its intersection with the several gutters hereinbefore described.

Upon the several roadbeds thus prepared, between said points and between said gutter flags, shall be spread a layer of Portland cement concrete six inches in thickness. Said cement shall be so ground that ninety-two per cent will pass through a standard number 100 sieve having 10,000 meshes per square inch.

Briquettes made from a mortar composed of one part said Portland cement and three parts torpedo sand, or three parts of limestone screenings, or other material equal thereto for concrete purposes, exposed to the air for one day, and immersed in water for six days, shall develop an ultimate tensile strength of 200 pounds per square inch.

One part cement which will stand the above test and comply with the above requirements, and three parts of torpedo sand, or three parts of limestone screenings, or other material equal thereto for concrete purposes, shall be thoroughly mixed dry, and then made into a mortar with the least possible amount of water.

Six parts of the best quality of limestone, or other stone which shall be equal in quality for concrete purposes, of a size that will pass through a ring of two inches internal diameter and be held on a ring of one-half inch internal diameter, all of which stone shall be thoroughly cleaned, free from all foreign substances and drenched with water, shall then be incorporated immediately with the mortar; each batch of concrete shall be thoroughly mixed and at once spread upon the surface of said roadbeds, and thoroughly compacted by ramming until free mortar appears on the surface. The surface of said layer of concrete shall be parallel with and three and one-half inches below the top of the finished pavement.

Upon the concrete foundation as above specified shall be laid a "binder" course, composed of clean, broken limestone crusher run, and of varying sizes which will pass through a ring of one inch internal diameter and be held on a ring of one-fourth inch internal diameter, and asphaltic cement. The stone shall be heated and thoroughly mixed with the asphaltic cement in the proportion of fifteen gallons of asphaltic cement to one cubic yard of stone. This binder shall be spread on the base above described and, while in a hot and plastic condition, shall be rolled until it has a uniform thickness of one and one-half inches. The upper surface shall be exactly parallel with and two inches below the finished surface of the pavement.

Upon this "binder" course shall be laid a wearing surface or pavement proper, which shall be composed of asphaltic cement seventeen parts, sand seenty-three parts and pulverized carbonate of lime ten parts. The sand and asphaltic cement shall be heated separately to a temperature of three hundred degrees Fahrenheit. The pulverized carbonate of lime shall be mixed with the sand and these ingredients then mixed with the asphaltic cement at the above temperature in an apparatus which shall effect a perfect mixture.

All asphaltum used in the making of the asphaltic cement for both the binder and the wearing surface shall be asphaltum obtained from Pitch Lake in the Island of Trinidad, or asphaltum which shall be equal in quality for paving purposes to that obtained from Pitch Lake in the Island of Trinidad.

The material for pavement, when mixed as above, shall be spread at a temperature of two hundred and fifty degrees Fahrenheit. It shall be carefully spread by means of hot iron rakes in such manner as to give uniform and regular grade to such a depth that, after having received its ultimate compression, it will have a thickness of two inches.

The entire surface of the roadways thus improved shall then be compressed by hand rollers, after which natural hydraulic cement in the proportion of one barrel to each one thousand square yards of surface shall be swept over it, and the whole then thoroughly compressed by rolling with a steam roller of ten tons weight, the rolling being continued for five hours for each one thousand square yards of surface.

Sixteen new catch-basins shall be constructed and connected and trapped with the sewer in North Hamilton avenue and located in the roadway of said North Hamilton avenue at necessary points adjacent to the curb lines; sixteen new catch-basins shall be constructed and connected and trapped with the sewer in North Seeley avenue and located in the roadway of said North Seeley avenue at necessary points adjacent to the curb lines; sixteen new catch-basins shall be constructed and connected and trapped with the sewer in School street and located in the roadway of said School street at necessary points adjacent to the curb lines; eight new catch-basins shall be constructed and connected and trapped with the sewer in North Claremont avenue and located in the roadway of said North Claremont avenue at necessary points adjacent to the curb lines, and eight new catch-basins shall be constructed and connected and trapped with the sewer in North Oakley avenue and located in the roadway of said North Oakley avenue at necessary points adjacent to the curb lines.

LINN H. YOUNG,
Chairman.

Ald. Young moved to concur in the report.

The motion prevailed.

The following is the opinion recommended for publication in the foregoing report:

CHICAGO, January 11, 1907.

Hon. P. H. Moynihan, Chairman of Sub-Committee of Committee on Gas, Oil and Electric Light, City Hall, Chicago:

DEAR SIR—At the last meeting of your Sub-Committee you requested me, as special counsel of the Committee, to take up the complaints made by residents of South Chicago as to excessive telephone rates, and report to you whether the Company was charging illegal rates.

During the past two years I have received many complaints from telephone subscribers all over the city, including some from South Chicago. Other complaints addressed to the Mayor have been referred to me likewise.

Alderman Derpa of the Eighth Ward, at the last meeting of your Committee, presented written complaints from some of his constitutents as to the charges of the Chicago Telephone Company. It would serve no useful purpose to burden this letter with an analysis or discussion of each of the complaints received from residents of South Chicago. In substance they are the same, and the present situation of each of these subscribers is practically the same.

Under Section six of the city ordinance of January 4th, 1889, the Chicago Telephone Company was forbidden to charge during the term of its grant, any of its present or future subscribers for service, more than the rates then established, and the Company was required to file with the City Clerk a schedule showing the rates of the Company then in effect.

Pursuant to the ordinance, the Company filed with its acceptance, in the City Clerk's office, a schedule showing that within a certain district of the City of Chicago, bounded by blue lines, which district was practically the center of the City, it was charging $125.00 annually for telephones for business use, $100.00 for telephones in residences and $150.00 for telephones for business use which the patron might also permit to be used by the public.

This schedule also shows that beyond the blue line district the Company was charging in addition to these rates for the classes of telephones mentioned, $25.00 additional for each mile or fraction of a mile.

The southern boundary of the blue line district is a very uneven line, which for present purposes may be said to be 39th street.

Prior to the decision of our Supreme Court in the case of People ex rel City of Chicago vs. Chicago Telephone Company, in 220th Illinois, the Company was in the habit of charging for metallic circuit telephone service $175.00 within the blue line district, and claimed the right, and in some instances insisted upon it, of charging for this service $40.00 instead of $25.00 mileage.

After the decision in question when complaint was made to the officers of the Telephone Company, I was promised by Judge Payne, one of the counsel of the Company, and by A. S. Hibbard, the General Manager of the Company, that thereafter no charges would be made that were forbidden by the ordinance of 1889, and I know of no case where this agreement has been violated, nor have I received any complaint showing that that agreement has been violated.

In all the complaints received from South Chicago it will be found upon investigation that at the present time the Company is not charging annually for telephone service a rate in excess of the amount which results from the addition to the sum of $125.00 of $25.00 mileage. The Company is then not in South Chicago violating the terms of the ordinance.

I have repeatedly said to your Committee and to the City Council, verbally at meetings and in written opinions, that in my judgment many of the rates charged to subscribers in South Chicago are excessive, and if attacked in court by the proper person and by proper means, would be held unreasonable and therefore invalid.

Said ordinance of 1889 does not attempt to fix reasonable telephone rates, or say that the rates then established by the Company are reasonable. It merely provides that the Company shall not exceed the established rates in the future.

I believe I have now fully covered the ground, and will therefore await the further pleasure of your Committee.

Very truly yours,

MACLAY HOYNE.

WHEREAS, The ordinance under which the Chicago Telephone Company is operating expires in 1908, and

WHEREAS, The Chicago Telephone Company is asking a renewal of its franchise, while other corporations and individuals are asking for a franchise to operate a telephone business in Chicago, and

WHEREAS, The telephone business is a public utility which is essentially a monopoly in character and should therefore be carried on under strict regulations of public control, and

WHEREAS, Such effective public control cannot be exercised through a franchise grant running for a definite long period of time and containing conditions irrevocable during the term of the grant, and

WHEREAS, The service furnished by such a public service corporation should be secured to users of the service at the full actual cost of the service rendered, plus an amount sufficient to pay a reasonable rental for the use of the money involved in the rendering of the service, and

WHEREAS, The charge for such service should be based upon the cost of such service at the time rendered, and not a fixed charge for a long period based upon cost of the service at the beginning of the period; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Committee on Gas, Oil and Electric Light be and it hereby is directed to prepare and report to this Council a telephone franchise ordinance drawn in a general way to conform with the outline appended to this resolution, and

Be it further Resolved, That the said Committee on Gas, Oil and Electric Light is further directed to enter into negotiations with the Chicago Telephone Company with a view to inducing said company to accept an ordinanee of the character outlined, and to give said company a reasonable length of time to agree to such acceptance. In case such company shall refuse to accept within a reasonable time such an ordinance, then said committee is directed to enter into negotiations with any other corporation, individual or individuals prepared to accept such an ordinance and guarantee ability to raise a sufficient capital to install and equip in complete working order within a period of three years from the acceptance of the ordinance, a telephone plant sufficient to care for the telephone business of the City of Chicago.

The following memorandum accompanied the foregoing resolution:

PUBLIC CONTROL TO BE RESERVED IN TELEPHONE FRANCHISE ORDINANCE—TO BE EXERCISED THROUGH PROPOSED BOARD OF PUBLIC SERVICE CONTROL.

Terms.

Franchise to be indeterminate.

Right to revoke to rest in City Council.

May be revoked either for city operation or to grant to another corporation.

Capitalization.

In case of franchise extension to existing corporation amount of capitalization to represent existing property to be fixed in the franchise ordinance.

In case of new corporation, stocks, bonds or other forms of capitalization or of indebtedness to be issued only upon conditions and in such amount as Board after public hearing may determine is reasonably necessary for purpose for which such issue is authorized, and all of such issue shall be for the purpose of carrying out duties imposed in franchise ordinance.

In case of franchise extension, corporation shall not hereafter issue any stocks or bonds or other evidence of indebtedness except as Board may determine is reasonable in amount and for a purpose contemplated in the franchise. Corporation may issue bonds to run for 20 or more years from date of issue and secure payment of such bonds by mortgage of the franchise and the corporeal property of the corporation, but the rate of bond interest shall not be above 5 per cent.

No stocks or bonds shall be sold at less than par value, except when directly authorized by the Board after public hearing.

Corporation shall not issue bonds, notes or other form of indebtedness which including all such then outstanding shall exceed the amount of capital stock then actually paid in and applied to the purposes of its incorporation.

In case the franchise is revoked either for the purpose of city operation or to grant the franchise to another corporation, the capital stock shall be retired by payment to its holders of the amount paid into the treasury of such corporation for the purchase of such stock, in the case of stock issued after the franchise was granted. In the case of capital stock if the amount of such stock was fixed in the franchise the payment for such stock shall be as so fixed. All bonds or other evidences of debt then outstanding shall be either paid off if due, or assumed if they have a term yet to run.

All extensions shall be charged to capital stock account, and shall be represented either by stock or bonds issued.

Earnings.

From the gross earnings there shall be paid the following charges in the order named:

First. Operating expenses, including maintenance, repairs and renewals, and assessment for expenses of Board of Control.

Second. Taxes and assessments.

Third. Fixed charges, including such sinking fund as the Board shall direct for the purpose of retiring bonds or other indebtedness, and maintenance other than current repairs and renewals.

Fourth. Five per cent dividend upon capital stock.

Fifth. Two per cent figured on capital stock to be set aside as stock retirement sinking fund.

Sixth. Any balance remaining after the above requirements are met up to 6 per cent, figured upon the capital stock, to be divided equally between the City of Chicago and the holders of the capital stock.

Seventh. Any further balance to be applied to the stock retirement sinking fund.

If in any year the earnings of the corporation shall not be sufficient to meet the first five requirements above, they shall be met in full so far as possible in the order named, and any deficiency in any requirement in one year shall be made good again, in the order named, from the earnings of the subsequent year or years, it being the intention that the amount required for each item each year shall eventually be secured from the earnings of the corporation. In case of a deficiency in the fourth item, interest at the rate of 5 per cent shall be calculated upon such deficiency and such interest charge shall be treated as a charge to be made good from earnings in subsequent years.

Sinking Funds.

The sinking funds for the payment of bonds and for the retirement of stock shall be separately kept. They shall be invested under the direction of the Board in municipal securities, and the income from the stock retirement fund shall be treated as part of the gross earnings of the corporation. The principal of the stock retirement sinking fund so invested, shall be held intact for the purpose of retiring the capital stock or such part of it as it shall equal whenever the City Council shall determine either to assume city operation or to grant the franchise to another corporation. The capital stock sinking fund shall not be accumulated to an amount greater than the capital actually paid in, and when that point shall have been reached the Board shall assign the amount accruing under item 5 above to the distribution provided for in item 6, and if there still be a surplus above all requirements provided, rates of charge shall be correspondingly reduced.

Charges for Service.

The ordinance granting the franchise shall fix the rates which the corporation shall charge for its service. The Board shall have authority to revise such rates whenever it shall appear that such rates are calculated to produce a revenue greater than is needed to properly meet the earning requirements provided for, or are too low to produce revenue sufficient to provide for the first five earning requirements set forth above. This power of the Board to revise charges for service shall be based upon the actual experience of the corporation in operating under either the requirements of its franchise or such character of service as the Board shall have required under authority granted it. The rates prescribed shall be such as to produce revenue only sufficient to meet the earning requirements provided for in the franchise ordinance, it being the intention to limit this authority of the Board simply to the working out of such details as will make effective the declared purpose of the franchise ordinance.

Control.—Accounts.

The corporation shall keep all its accounts in form as prescribed by the Board. Accounts shall be closed annually on June 30th so that balance sheet of that date may be taken. It shall keep such records of manufacture, distribution or operation as the Board may require.

On or before the 2nd Monday of September, the corporation shall make to the Board on form prescribed by it, signed and sworn to by the President, Treasurer and a majority of the directors, a statement showing outstanding capital, and expenses during preceding year, dividends declared and paid out, a list of stockholders with the amount held by each, and a balance sheet of its accounts as of June 30th preceding. It shall at all time furnish any information required by the Board relative to its condition, management and operation. The Board shall have full authority to examine all books and papers, or to delegate such power to any properly authorized agent or agents.

Operation.

The corporation shall enter into no lease, agreement, assignment or contract affecting either the operation of its business, the performance of the duties imposed upon it, or the income received from such business, except with the consent of the Board.

The Board shall have authority to prescribe character and quality of service and enforce such regulations and requirements as may be necessary to carry out the requirements of the franchise ordinance.

The Board shall be furnished each year with a list of the names of all salaried officers, the amount paid to each, and the character of service rendered by each. The salaries so paid shall not be in excess of those usually paid for such service in other corporations of similar importance, and power to regulate such salaries shall be vested in the Board.

Right shall be reserved to the City Council to regulate, restrict and control all acts of the corporation which in any manner affect health, safety, convenience or property of citizens, such control to be exercised through the Board. For violation of the terms of the franchise or failure to obey all lawful orders of the Board, fines may be inflicted and the amount of such fines recovered shall be deducted from the amount set aside to pay the 5 per cent dividend provided for capital stock.

Ald. Snow presented the following ordinance, which was deferred and ordered published:

WHEREAS, It is essential that there shall be some definite municipal agency charged with the enforcement of such powers of control over public service corporations as are inherent in the municipality or are specifically reserved in the franchise grant under which such corporations operate, and

WHEREAS, At the present time the duty of enforcing such public control is either scattered among different departments of municipal administration or is specifically lodged nowhere, and

WHEREAS, Such lack of definite and centralized responsibility results in irregular and uncertain enforcement of powers of public control over public service corporations; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Committee on Judiciary be and it is hereby directed to prepare and report to this Council an ordinance for creating a Board of Public Service Control, such ordinance to conform in a general way to the following outline of powers, duties, and administrative machinery:

MAYOR'S OFFICE,
March 4, 1907.

To the Honorable, the City Council:

GENTLEMEN—I transmit herewith a letter addressed to me by the Board of Local Improvements concerning an ordinance passed by your Honorable Body at the meeting of February 18, 1907, Council Proceedings 3328, repealing an ordinance for the opening of West court, from Briar place to Belmont avenue.

I would suggest that inasmuch as the repealing ordinance is a nu'lity it would be well to repeal it so that our records will not be encumbered with ordinances that are null and void.

Respectfully,

E. F. DUNNE,
Mayor.

BOARD OF LOCAL IMPROVEMENTS,
March 2, 1907.

Honorable Edward F. Dunne, Mayor, City of Chicago:

DEAR SIR—At the meeting of the Council of February 18th, as shown from the Council Proceedings of that date (page 3328), an ordinance was introduced and passed purporting to repeal and annul an ordinance for the opening of West court from Briar place to Belmont avenue.

I am directed by the Board to request Your Honor to veto this ordinance for the following reasons:

First. This assessment proceeding is now pending in court and was instituted by the Board at the request of every property owner assessed for the improvement except one individual and is apparently a desired and needed improvement.

Second. The statute provides that "No repeal of any ordinance ordering an improvement shall be made except on written recommendation of the Board of Local Improvements stating therein its reasons therefor."

This ordinance purporting to repeal this proceeding does not emanate from the Board and does not bear the recommendation of the Board, and, consequently, is void; but, in order to save possible confliction in the proceedings, would recommend that Your Honor veto the ordinance as passed.

Respectfully,

By JOHN A. MAY,

Secretary.

Ald. Bennett moved to reconsider the vote by which the ordinance referred to in the communication of His Honor, the Mayor, was passed.

The motion prevailed.

Ald. Bennett moved that the ordinance be passed.

The motion was lost.

COMMISSIONER OF PUBLIC WORKS.

The Clerk presented the following communication and report from the Commissioner of Public Works, which were ordered published and placed on file:

DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC WORKS,
February 28, 1907.

To the Honorable, the Mayor, and the City Council:

GENTLEMEN—In compliance with your request of February 11 I beg to submit herewith a report from the Superintendent of Sewers as to the condition of sewers in the Tenth Ward.

Very truly yours,
WM. L. O'CONNELL,
Commissioner of Public Works.

BUREAU OF SEWERS,
February 26, 1907.

Hon. Wm. L. O'Connell, Commissioner of Public Works:

DEAR SIR—As directed I beg to submit the attached report of Foreman

James F. Gleeson as to the condition of sewers in the Tenth Ward, ordered by the City Council February 11th, 1907, page 3221.

As the report shows most of the sewers are in fairly good condition; this being due more to the complaints which we receive from the ward than anything else, as we cannot do much else than attend to complaints. Our appropriation will not allow of much systematic cleaning. In our annual estimate I have asked for an increase, and the Council should be requested to give the additional amount, as it would allow us to go over the entire system once a year and do some systematic cleaning.

Yours very respectfully,

WM. E. QUINN,

Supt. Bureau of Sewers.

Wm. E. Quinn, Supt. of Sewers:

SIR—The main sewers in Tenth Ward examined, as per Council order, by Timothy Corkery. The following are in good condition:

Your Committee on Judiciary to whom was referred an ordinance and an order in re storage of gasoline, having had the same under advisement, beg leave to report and recommend the passage of the accompanying substitute ordinance, and the publication of accompanying communications:

AN ORDINANCE

Concerning the storage of gasoline under the alleys of the City of Chicago and providing for the construction, maintenance and use of tanks imbedded under said alleys for the storage of gasoline in the City of Chicago, by private persons.

Be it ordained by the City Council of the City of Chicago:

SECTION 1. It shall not be lawful for any person or persons, corporation, firm or co-partnership to construct, maintain and use tanks imbedded under the surface of the alleys in the City of Chicago for the storage of gasoline, except upon compliance by the said person or persons, corporation, firm or co-partnership with the conditions hereinafter mentioned.

SECTION 2. No person or persons, corporation, firm or co-partnership shall use any space underneath the surface of any alley in the City of Chicago for the construction, maintenance or use of any tank thereunder for the storage of gasoline, without first obtaining a permit so to do from the Commissioner of Public Works of the city, and no such permit shall be issued without first being approved by the Commissioner of Buildings and the Fire Marshal of the City of Chicago, and no such permit shall be transferred or assigned nor shall any right or privilege thereunder be transferred or assigned without the written consent of the Commissioner of Public Works, and said permit may be revoked by the Mayor at any time.

SECTION 3. Applications for such permits shall be in writing, stating specifically the space desired, its length, breadth and depth, together with the measurement in feet from the surface of the alley to the top of such tank. The application shall also contain the specifications of the tank to be used which shall be as follows: The capacity of such tanks shall not exceed 500 gallons and said tanks shall be made of 12 gauge steel either galvanized or coated with rust proof paint, and shall be riveted, soldered, caulked and coated on the outside with tar or other rust resisting material, shall have no openings or pipe connections except on the tops thereof, and shall not be connected either directly or indirectly with any public or private sewer, drain or catch-basin in the City of Chicago. If said tanks be of a capacity exceeding three hundred gallons they shall be reinforced. The applicant for such permit shall pave with concrete and smooth cement surface the portion of the alley covering such tank, and also two feet in each direction outside thereof, said paving to be slightly concave.

SECTION 4. Every applicant for such a permit shall file with his application his bond in the penal sum of ten thousand ($10,000.00) dollars, with surety or sureties to be approved by said Commissioner of Public Works; and such bond shall be conditioned that the person or persons, corporation, firm, or co-partnership to whom such permit shall be issued, his or their heirs, successors or assigns, will save and keep the city free and harmless from any and all loss or damage or claim for damage arising from or out of the use of the space or tank therein mentioned, and for the maintenance of the alley over such space in such condition that such alley shall at all times after the placing of such tank is completed or such space is covered, be safe for public use, and for the full and complete protection of the city against all litigation growing out of the granting of such permit or anything done under such permit, and for the removal, at the applicant's cost and expense, of such tank and the placing of said alley in a condition satisfactory to the Commissioner of Public Works upon the termination of such permit by lapse of time or otherwise, and for the prompt and full payment of the compensation hereunder required during his, their or its ownership of said property, so long as such permit shall be outstanding and for the faithful performance and observance of all conditions of this ordinance. Any person or persons, corporation, firm or co-partnership to whom a permit shall be granted hereunder or who has heretofore given a bond for the occupation of space under any alley who shall convey, lease or assign the premises for the benefit of which such permit has been granted, may notify the Commissioner of Public Works in writing of the conveyance, lease or assignment of said premises and furnish to such Commissioner, in writing, the name and address of the grantee, lessee or assignee thereof, and upon the giving of such notice in writing and furnishing the name and address of said grantee, lessee or assignee, all liability under the bond theretofore given by such person or persons, corporation, firm or co-partnership shall cease and determine, except as to acts happening or causes of action accruing prior to the giving of such notice.

SECTION 5. Every such tank shall be placed so that there shall be a space of not less than three feet between the top of the same and the surface of the alley; and all pipes leading to or from said tank shall be galvanized and protected against injury, and so laid that the contents thereof shall drain back to said tank, which tank shall be so placed that the top thereof shall be lower than the level of the lowest pipe in the building used in connection therewith; and that no artificial light shall be required while filling. The filling pipes shall terminate in an iron box, extending not more than three (3) inches above the surface of the alley and so placed that it shall not constitute an obstruction to traffic. Each tank shall be provided with a one-inch iron vent pipe connected with the top of such tank (provided with a screen of 30 mesh brass wire at or near the tank connection), and carried up to the outer air at least four feet above the roof of the said building and terminate in a (double) goose neck covered with a brass wire screen of 1-16 inch mesh, and said tanks and the installation thereof shall be subject to the supervision and approval of the Commissioner of Public Works.

SECTION 6. When the space for the tank so used does not extend more than fifteen feet below the surface of the alley the person or persons, corporation, firm or co-partnership constructing, maintaining or using any such tank for the storage of gasoline under the surface of any alley shall render to the city the annual compensation for such use as is provided in, and make payment thereof, in accordance with an ordinance heretofore passed on February 5th, 1906, entitled "An ordinance concerning the use of streets and alleys and the space under sidewalks by private persons."

SECTION 7. If any person, or persons, corporation, firm or co-partnership now using any space under any alley for the maintenance or use of such tank for the storage of gasoline therein, shall fail to take out a permit for such use as herein provided within thirty days after this ordinance is in effect, then the Commissioner of Public Works shall proceed to remove every such tank so maintained and used, and close the space theretofor occupied by the same.

SECTION 8. Whenever the Commissioner of Public Works shall be of the opinion that the sureties on any bond given for any permit issued herein, have become insufficient, he shall notify the holder of such permit to give a new bond hereunder, and if such new bond is not given, with sureties satisfactory to said Commissioner of Public Works, within ten days after such notice is given, such permit shall be revoked.

SECTION 9. If any person or persons, corporation, firm or co-partnership obtaining a permit hereunder shall at any time fail or neglect to comply with the terms of this ordinance, then such permit may be revoked by such Commissioner of Public Works.

SECTION 10. Every person convicted of a violation of this ordinance shall be fined not less than twenty-five ($25.00) dollars nor more than two hundred ($200.00) dollars for each offense.

SECTION 11. This ordinance shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and due publication.

WILLIAM E. DEVER,
Chairman.

The following are the communications recommended for publication in the foregoing report:

CHICAGO, February 26, 1907.

Hon. William E. Dever, Chairman Judiciary Committee, City Council:

DEAR SIR—With regard to an ordinance concerning the storage of gasoline under the alleys of the City of Chicago, etc., a copy of which was submitted to this department for consideration and suggestion, I would respectfully state that I referred the matter to our Department Inspector, John C. McDonnell, who has had considerable experience in affairs of this nature, and whose duty it is to look after matters of this kind, and herewith please find his report to me after giving the subject his careful attention for the past few days. His report meets with my approval.

Yours respectfully,

JAMES HORAN,

Fire Marshal.

CHICAGO, February 26, 1907.

Mr. James Horan, Fire Marshal and Chief of Brigades:

SIR—In reference to an ordinance covering the storage of gasoline buried in alleys, on which I was called before the Judiciary Committee of the City Council on Tuesday last and on which final action was deferred for one week, I would respectfully report that I made a very careful inspection of the automobile garages and the system of storing gasoline in the alleys along Michigan avenue. I have taken the subject up with Professor Smith of the Underwriters' Laboratory, also discussed the matter with several of the chief officers of this department, including yourself, and I am convinced that while there always remains some element of danger in the storage of gasoline and that, measured by the quantity, the system aimed at in this ordinance, with a few suggestions which I shall make, is the best possible measure.

I was much impressed with the condition of the pump and the system in the Ford garage after the fire in that place recently. All remained in perfect order except the burning off of the wooden handpiece on the pump handle.

I only regret that this ordinance is not made to amend Article XXIV, Section 719, of the Municipal Code, because I consider this, even in a much larger quantity, a safer method than storing and handling a great deal less in tanks or barrels within premises. I consider the repair shops attached to public automobile garages, thus or otherwise equipped, in a great measure a menace to public safety, not so much because of the presence of gasoline, but because of the utter disregard of the employes, the management and the proprietors of them to cleanliness or precautionary measures, which fact, beyond a doubt, is responsible for most, if not all, the fires we have in automobile garages.

Referring again to the ordinance under consideration, I would suggest that in Section 3, that at least twelve-gauge steel be required, galvanized or coated with rustproof paint, and that the tanks, if in excess of three hundred gallons' capacity, be reinforced. In Section 5, that all pipes leading to or from said tank shall be galvanized and protected. Insert a clause for the paving with concrete and smooth cement surface the space occupied by the tank and two feet each way in excess thereof, the same to be slightly pitched to the center.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN C. MCDONNELL,

Asst. Fire Marshal and Dept. Inspector.

CHICAGO BOARD OF UNDERWRITERS,
CHICAGO, February 26, 1907.

Daniel B. Harkin, Esq., Chairman Subcommittee of the Committee on Judiciary, Chicago Common Council, City Hall:

DEAR SIR—We have been handed a copy of the proposed ordinance governing the installation of gasoline storage tanks under the surface of alleys of the City of Chicago, for criticism, with the request that we state our opinion of the ordinance to you and enclose said copy herewith.

We find no objection to the ordinance from our point of view (which is that of safeguarding property) except that we think that at the end of the third line, Section 5, the words "or from" should be inserted after the word "to" at the end of the line, making it read "all pipes leading to or from said tank."

While we think that the one-inch iron vent pipe will be sufficient for a tank located outside of the building, we would recommend a two-inch vent pipe if the tank was installed inside of the building.

We see no necessity for the double screen, nor for the double goose neck, but have no objection to these requirements as made in the ordinance.

We are glad to note that the ordinance prohibits the drainage of tanks into the sewers of the city, thus avoiding much of the hazard of explosion at manholes.

Yours truly,

H. H. GLIDDEN,

Manager.

ALSO,

The same committee, to whom was referred an ordinance requiring elevated railroad companies to keep their stations open, warmed and lighted, submitted a report recommending that the ordinance be referred to the Committee on Local Transportation.

Ald. McCormick presented the following opinion from the County Attorney, which was ordered published and referred to the Committee on City Hall and Public Buildings:

OFFICE OF COUNTY ATTORNEY,
February 9, 1907.

Hon. James J. McCormick, Chairman of the Committee on City Hall and Public Buildings, Chicago:

DEAR SIR—Your communication of January 29 to Hon. Edward J. Brundage, President of the Board of Commissioners of Cook County, has been referred to us with a request that we comply with the desire of the Common Council of the City of Chicago for an opinion from this office as to the legal rights still remaining in and possessed by the County of Cook with reference to the west half of Block 39, Original Town of Chicago, whereon is situated the City Hall; also as to whether the Board of Commissioners of Cook County is vested with legal power to guarantee title to said property, and in compliance with said requests we submit:

The title to said Block 39 was given to the State of Illinois by Act of Congress, March 2d, 1827, to aid in the construction of the Illinois and Michigan Canal.

By Act of the Legislature February 15, 1831, the Canal Commissioners were authorized to give not exceeding ten acres of land in any municipality, to aid in the erection of public buildings and in conformity to said act the Canal Commissioners on November 10, 1831, executed a deed of donation, and the Governor issued a patent, to the County Commissioners of Cook County to Block 39 for erection of public buildings.

The Act of June 15, 1831, creating Cook County provided that public buildings at Chicago should be erected on the public square. The City of Chicago was incorporated in 1837. The legislature by Act of February 4, 1851, forbids the County of Cook or Common Council of the City of Chicago to encumber, sell or mortgage said Block 39 or any part thereof. The City of Chicago and the County from the date of the incorporation of the City have continuously occupied said Block 39, though no formal contract was entered into between the parties until August 28, 1872, after the fire of '71 had destroyed the building on said property. The contract is in conformity to resolutions adopted by the Board of Commissioners of Cook County and the City Council on August 5, 1872. We quote certain sections of said contract concerning the relations between City and County.

"WHEREAS, The County of Cook is the owner of Block 39 in original town of Chicago, commonly known as the Courthouse square, * * * subject to certain rights of the city of Chicago in the West ½ of said block, and it is the desire that all former arrangements between the said City and said County in reference to same shall be merged into a new agreement.

WHEREAS, It is for the convenience of the public and of all persons who desire to transact business with public officers, that the courts and all officers connected with the administration of the affairs of the County of Cook and the City of Chicago should be located at some one convenient point, and readily accessible to each other, therefore," "etc."

SECTION 6. "And it is hereby covenanted and agreed by and on the part of the said party of the first part that the said City of Chicago shall have the control and occupancy of the said west half of said block for the said City Hall and public offices incidental to the government of said city without hindrance, henceforth and forever. Provided, that whenever the City of Chicago shall cease to use the same for the purposes aforesaid, or shall rent the same or any portion thereof for any other purposes than herein specified, then the said County shall have the right to resume possession thereof, and in such case the city shall forfeit all its rights therein, and this contract shall be null and void," etc.

This contract was properly executed by the County and City, and is the last contract between the County and City respecting title to said premises.

The Supreme Court of this state in the case of the County of Cook vs. The City of Chicago, 167 Ill. 109, opinion filed May 11, 1897, has passed upon the rights of the City and County in and to the said West ½ of said Block 39.

In view of the above stated facts, we are of the opinion that the City of Chicago has a perpetual right in and to the West ½ of Block 39, Original Town of Chicago, subject only to a reversionary interest in the County in case said city should vacate said premises or should cease to use the same for a City Hall and offices incidental to the city government.

We are further of the opinion that the County of Cook cannot guarantee to the City any greater title to said premises than said City now possesses; that the Act of 1871 repealed the limitations as contained in the Act of 1851 to the extent only of allowing the City of Chicago the right to erect a City Hall on the West ½ of said block, and that in all other respects the Act of 1851 is still in force, and the County as well as the City of Chicago are subject to its inhibitions.

Respectfully submitted,

HARRY A. LEWIS,
County Attorney.

WILLIAM F. STRUCKMANN,
Assistant County Attorney.

HERBERT S. DUNCOMBE, Of Counsel.

MAYOR'S OFFICE,
March 11, 1907.

To the Honorable, the City Council.

GENTLEMEN—I return herewith, without my approval, an ordinance passed by your Honorable Body at the meeting of March 4, 1907 (Council Proceedings, page 3361), amending Sections 279 and 691 of the Revised Municipal Code of Chicago of 1905 upon the recommendation of the Corporation Counsel. It being the opinion of the Corporation Counsel that, if this ordinance is passed, it will seriously imperil the health of citizens living in the neighborhood of hospitals. I would respectfully recommend that the vote by which said ordinance was passed be reconsidered and that the ordinance be referred to the Committee on Health for further consideration.

Respectfully,

E. F. DUNNE.
Mayor.

ALSO,

The following veto message:

MAYOR'S OFFICE,
March 8, 1907.

To the Honorable, the City Council.

GENTLEMEN—I return herewith, without my approval, an ordinance passed by your Honorable Body at the meeting of March 4, 1907 (Council Proceedings, page 3399), vacating a twenty-foot parkway in the center of Superior street, between Central avenue and Pine avenue, and converting said parkway into a public street, for the reason that, inasmuch as this strip of land was laid out and dedicated as a parkway, it is not within the power of the city to change the use, and the ordinance is void.

It has been held several times by our

Supreme Court that whenever any person dedicates any land to a street as public ground, or as a park, it is not within the power of the City Council or of the Legislature to change the use to be made of such ground, and if the ground is in fact put to some use other than that specified by the instrument dedicating it, such use becomes a public nuisance that can be restrained by any individual, and one that the municipal authorities may be compelled to abate. (City of Jacksonville v. Jacksonville Railway, 67, Ill. 540; Village of Princeville v. Auten, 77 Ill. 325; Maywood Co. v. Village of Maywood, 118 Ill. 61 (72).)

I would recommend that the vote by which the ordinance was passed be reconsidered and the ordinance be placed on file.

Respectfully,

E. F. DUNNE.

Mayor.

Ald. Race moved to reconsider the vote by which the ordinance referred to in the veto message of His Honor, the Mayor, was passed.

DEPARTMENT OF LOCAL TRANSPORTATION.

The Clerk presented the following communication from the Superintendent of Transportation, which was referred to the Committee on Local Transportation:

DEPARTMENT OF TRANSPORTATION,
CHICAGO, March 8, 1907.

To the Honorable, the Mayor, and the City Council of the City of Chicago.

GENTLEMEN—Referring to the resolution introduced by Alderman Culleton, and passed by your Honorable Body, October 29, 1906, instructing the Local Transportation Investigator to ascertain whether there exists any method by which trolley wires could be protected so as to prevent live wires from falling to the ground, and report conclusions at the earliest possible date, I beg leave to state.

That beyond excellence of workmanship and material, there seems to be no more that can be done to keep trolley wires from breaking and falling to the ground, than additional supports. I understand there is a scheme by which the current can be cut off automatically at the nearest post upon the breaking of the trolley wire, but I have not been able to get definite information in regard to the matter. The trolley wires almost invariably break at either side of the ear to which the wire is soldered and by which it is supported from the cross wires reaching from pole to pole. Just how and why the wires break at these two particular points is not definitely known, and several different reasons have been given, but that they do break at those points, almost invariably has been thoroughly demonstrated in this city.

As to additional supports, there is one which would undoubtedly clearly assist in preventing wires from falling to the ground after they had broken. This support consists of two small ears attached to the upper side of the trolley wires, about three feet on either side of the present support. These two ears are then connected by wire which passes over the cross wires which reach from pole to pole. The trolley wires will still break at the old place, but this additional support will prevent the falling end from dropping more than a foot or two, depending upon the length of the short wires.

It is stated that in one case where these supports or anchors were installed with an average of twenty accidents per month, only three cases were reported in one year in which the trolley wire fell and interfered with traffic.

I would suggest that these supports be installed at all intersections, transfer points, bridges and other similar situations, and I have requested the Corporation Counsel to prepare an ordinance to that effect which will be presented direct to the Transportation Committee.

Respectfully submitted,

MAURICE F. DOTY,

Supt. of Transportation.

Referred to the Committee on Local Transportation.

The above heights as fixed shall be measured from the plane of low water in Lake Michigan of A. D. 1847, as established by the Trustees of the Illinois and Michigan Canal, and adopted by the late Board of Drainage Commissioners and by the late Board of Public Works of the City of Chicago, and now represented by the ordinance of July 11th, A. D. 1898, relating to the corrected elevation of the Old Lind Block bench mark, which determines the base or datum for city levels.

The said roadway of said West 12th street, between said points, and also the roadways of all intersecting streets and alleys extended from the curb line to the street line produced, on each side of said West 12th street, between said points (except the intersections of South California avenue, South Sacramento avenue and Douglas boulevard with West 12th street, and except that part of the intersection of South Central Park avenue from the north line of the street railway right of way on West 12th street to the north line of West 12th street, and except that part of the intersections of South Albany avenue and South Springfield avenue from the north line to the north curb line of West 12th street, and except that part of the intersections of South Central Park avenue, South Avers avenue, South Springfield avenue, South Harding avenue and the first alley west of Douglas boulevard, from the south line to the south curb line of West 12th street, and also except any and all space occupied and used as street railway rights of way thereon between said points, which rights of way are by the ordinances granting them agreed to be paved and kept in repair by the railway companies owning, operating and controlling the same), shall be so graded that after being thoroughly puddled, and rolled with a roller of ten tons weight until the roadbeds are thoroughly compacted, and after the pavement hereinafter described shall have been placed thereon, the surface of the pavement at the center of the finished roadway of said West 12th street, and the center of the finished roadways of all intersecting streets extended from the curb line to the street line produced, on each side of said West 12th street, except where the roadways are occupied by street railway rights of way, shall coincide with the established grade of said West 12th street, hereinbefore described, and where said roadways are occupied by street railway rights of way the entire width of all such rights of way shall coincide with the established grade hereinbefore described, and the surface of the said finished roadways at the summits in the gutters, between catch-basins and adjoining the roadway face of the curb, shall be four inches below said established grade, and the surface of the finished roadways at the catch-basin inlets in the gutters adjoining the roadway face of the curb shall be twelve inches below said established grade.

The slope of the gutters adjoining the roadway face of said curb shall be uniform from the summits to the catch-basins, and a transverse section of said finished roadways and said gutter flags, where the same are not occupied by street railway rights of way, shall be an arc of a circle passing through the said gutter grades and the grade of the center of said finished roadways, and a transverse section of said finished roadways and said gutter flags where the same are occupied by street railway rights of way shall be an arc of a circle passing through the said gutter grades and the established grade of the street at each side of said street railway rights of way, at every part of said West 12th street, and at every part of all intersecting streets, between said points.

The surface of the finished pavement in all intersecting alleys hereinbefore specified shall be four inches below the top of the curb on each side of said alley intersections, at the street lines produced of said West 12th street, and shall slope thence at a uniform grade to its intersection with the gutter hereinbefore described.

Upon the roadbeds thus prepared between said points and between said gutter flags shall be spread a layer of Portland cement concrete six inches in thickness. Said cement shall be so ground that ninety-two per cent will pass through a standard number 100 sieve having 10,000 meshes per square inch.

Briquettes made from a mortar composed of one part said Portland cement and three parts torpedo sand, or three parts of limestone screenings, or other material equal thereto for concrete purposes, exposed to the air for one day, and immersed in water for six days, shall develop an ultimate tensile strength of 200 pounds per square inch.

One part cement which will stand the above test and comply with the above requirements and three parts of torpedo sand, or three parts of limestone screenings, or other material equal thereto for concrete purposes, shall be thoroughly mixed dry, and then made into a mortar with the least possible amount of water.

Six parts of the best quality of limestone, or other stone which shall be equal in quality for concrete purposes, of a size that will pass through a ring of two inches internal diameter and be held on a ring of one-half inch internal diameter, all of which stone shall be thoroughly cleaned, free from all foreign substances and drenched with water, shall then be incorporated immediately with the mortar; each batch of concrete shall be thoroughly mixed and at once spread upon the surface of said roadbeds and thoroughly compacted by ramming until free mortar appears on the surface. The surface of said layer of concrete shall be parallel with and five inches below the top of the finished pavement.

Upon the concrete foundation as above specified shall be spread a layer of sand in such quantity as to insure when compacted a uniform depth of one inch, and upon said layer of sand shall be placed blocks of Southern Long Leaf Yellow Pine. Said blocks shall be four inches in depth and four inches in width and shall be not less than five inches nor more than ten inches in length, with the fiber of the wood running in the direction of the depth.

The blocks shall be cut from sound timber and shall be square edged, free from bark, shakes, loose or rotten knots, red heart or dead timber. Said blocks shall first be placed in an air-tight chamber, where by means of superheated steam and the use of the vacuum pump the sap in the blocks shall be vaporized and the moisture in them removed. When the blocks are thoroughly dry, a wood preserving oil shall be admitted into said chamber and subjected to a pressure which shall be maintained until sixteen pounds of the oil shall have been forced into each cubic foot of timber and until the oil shall have impregnated the timber through the entire depth of the blocks. The wood preserving oil to be used shall be "Kreodone," Creosote Paving Oil, or any creosote paving oil which shall be equal in quality thereto, for the purpose above described.

The blocks shall be laid in parallel courses across the said roadways at an angle of fory-five degrees with the center line thereof. The courses shall break joints alternately, and the blocks shall be driven tightly together, except where spaces for expansion shall be left, as follows: The joints parallel with and adjoining the roadway face of said gutter flags shall be one inch in width, and at intervals of one hundred feet along the said roadways the joints running across same shall be one-half inch in width. All the joints shall be filled with bituminous cement which will resist the solvent action of the wood preserving oil, and which shall be applied on the work at a temperature of not less than three hundred degrees Fahrenheit.

The blocks when set shall be rolled with a roller of five tons weight until the blocks are well settled and made firm. When said blocks are firmly bedded in said layer of sand the surface of the pavement must be true to the form of roadway hereinbefore described.

Immediately after the spreading of the paving cement, and while it is still hot, the surface of the pavement shall be covered to a depth of one-fourth of an inch with clean, dry torpedo sand.

Thirty new catch-basins shall be constructed and connected, and trapped with the sewer in West 12th street, and located in the roadway of said West 12th street at necessary points adjacent to the curb lines. Each of said catch-basins shall be seven feet two inches deep, measuring from the top of the brickwork, and shall have an internal diameter of four feet at the bottom and to a plane five feet above and parallel therewith. The walls of said catch-basins shall be eight inches thick and shall be built of two courses of sewer brick laid edgewise in perpendicular courses, except as hereinafter provided, upon a floor of pine plank two inches in thickness. The top of each of said catch-basins shall decrease to two feet internal diameter, being drawn in by means of nine header courses, the diameter being decreased uniformly for each course.

Each of said catch-basins shall be connected with the sewer with vitrified tile pipe of nine inches internal diameter and shall be trapped with a half trap also of vitrified tile pipe of nine inches internal diameter. The connection with the sewer where said sewer is of brick shall be made in such a manner that the top of the nine inch pipe shall be at the elevation of the center of said sewer, and the connection with the sewer where said sewer is of vitrified tile pipe shall be made by means of a fifteen inches by nine inches "Y" branch where said sewer is of fifteen inches internal diameter, and by means of a twelve inches by nine inches "Y" branch where said sewer is of twelve inches internal diameter. The said trap of each of said catch-basins shall be set so that the elevation of the bottom of the inside of the same shall be three feet six inches above the floor of the catch-basin.

All brickwork and the joints of the vitrified tile pipe above referred to shall be laid in the best quality of natural hydraulic cement mortar, composed of one part natural hydraulic cement and two parts clean, sharp sand.

Each of said catch-basins shall be provided with a cast-iron cover, with a projecting lip to receive the water from the gutters, each of which covers shall weigh four hundred and seventy pounds and shall be of the same size and pattern as those used in new work by the City of Chicago during the year 1902. Each of said cast-iron covers shall be set so that the top of the same shall coincide with the finished surface of the pavement hereinbefore described.

The nine-inch vitrified tile pipe specified above shall be straight, smooth and sound, thoroughly burned, well glazed, and free from lumps and other imperfections, and the standard of thickness shall be seven-eighths of an inch.

That the several manholes and catch-basins located along the line of said improvement shall be raised or lowered as may be necessary to make them conform to the finished roadway of said West 12th street as above specified.

Said work to be done under the superintendence of the Board of Local Improvements of the said City of Chicago.

SECTION 2. That the recommendation of the Board of Local Improvements of the City of Chicago, providing for said improvement, together with the estimate of the cost thereof made by the Engineer of said Board, both hereto attached, be and the same are hereby approved.

SECTION 4. Said bonds shall be issued in accordance with and shall in all respects conform to the provisions of the Act of the General Assembly of the State of Illinois, entitled "An Act Concerning Local Im-

REPORTS OF VARIOUS COMMITTEES TO THE COUNCIL.

FINANCE.

The Committee on Finance submitted the following reports, which were, on motion of Ald. Bennett, deferred and ordered published:

CHICAGO, Monday, March 18, 1907.

To the Honorable, the Mayor and Aldermen of the City of Chicago in City Council Assembled:

GENTLEMEN—Your Committee on Finance, to whom was referred the Departmental and Comptroller's estimates for the fiscal year 1907, beg leave to report that after giving them careful consideration, they submit herewith for your approval a draft of an appropriation ordinance for the fiscal year ending December 31, 1907.

Your Committee have used their best judgment, after conferences with the heads of various departments, in distributing the meagre revenues over the extensive and pressing needs of the city. In the judgment of your Committee the ordinance should be passed in the form herewith submitted.

Very respectfully,

FRANK I. BENNETT,

Chairman Committee on Finance.

To the Honorable the City Council:

Your Committee on Finance respectfully reports that during its deliberations on the annual appropriation bill it has given serious and careful consideration to the questions of increase of pay and the installation of the double platoon system.

As to the question of increase of pay your committee endeavored to bring about an adjustment of the same, but was unable at this time to find the means of complying with the requests owing to the increased demands arising out of the city's urgent necessities, and in this connection the committee desires to say that it has been compelled to omit from the appropriation bill many absolute necessities.

The matter of the installation of the double platoon system was considered from all points of view. The opinion of the committee was that if the system could be installed as a complete system throughout the city, with a full quota of men, and properly adjusted salaries, it would be a desirable system and should be installed, but that it should not be installed partially at this time. From the fact that the city's income is not on a basis that will warrant its installation now, your committee could not see its way clear to recommend its installation at once.

This conclusion was reached by the committee at a joint conference between the committee and the Fire Marshal, at which the Mayor was present.

Your committee regrets that it was not able to comply with the request of an increase to the members of the Fire Department whose pay was not increased last year, and recognizes that a measure of injustice has been done to that portion of the department.

Your committee further reports that the expenditure of the items contained in the bill will have to be controlled by the Council, so that the revenue may be in hand before such expenditures are made.

Respectfully submitted,

FRANK I. BENNETT,

Chairman.

JUDICIARY.

The Committee on Judiciary, to whom was referred an ordinance amending Section 121 of the Revised Code of 1905, forbidding the "scalping" of tickets of admission to places of amusement, submitted a report recommending the passage of an accompanying substitute ordinance.

Ald. Harkin moved to concur in the report and pass the ordinance recommended by the Committee.

Ald. Kohout objected to the consideration of the question.

Ald. Harkin moved to suspend the rules temporarily for the purpose of considering the report immediately.

Ald. Finn raised the point of order that, objection having been made to its consideration, the report should be deferred and published.

The Chair ruled that the point of order was well taken, and it was so ordered.

The Clerk presented the following veto message from His Honor, the Mayor:

MAYOR'S OFFICE,
March 27, 1907.

To the Honorable, the City Council:

GENTLEMEN—I return herewith, without my approval, an ordinance passed by your Honorable Body at the meeting of March 18, 1907 (Council Proceedings, p. 3567), authorizing C. P. Zacher to construct, maintain and operate a railroad switch track across South Elizabeth street, for the reason that, in my judgment, the provisions of the ordinance as to the bond required of the beneficiary are insufficient to protect the city.

As the ordinance reads the bond will protect the city against anything happening "on account of any negligence on the part of" Zacher. It may be that the city could prove that some person received a severe injury by reason of the condition or operation of the track, and yet would be unable to prove that Zacher was guilty of any negligence, and this being so, we would have no redress against him.

I would suggest that the ordinance be amended by striking out the words "any negligence on the part of" in line 6, first column, page 3568, and inserting in lieu thereof the words "anything done by."

I would suggest that the vote by which the ordinance was passed be reconsidered and that the amendment suggested be made.

Respectfully submitted,

E. F. DUNNE,
Mayor.

Ald. Moynihan moved to reconsider the vote by which the ordinance referred to in the veto message of His Honor, the Mayor, was passed.

The motion prevailed.

Ald. Moynihan moved that the ordinance be amended in accordance with the veto message of His Honor, the Mayor.

The motion prevailed.

Ald. Moynihan moved the passage of the ordinance as amended.

The motion prevailed, and the ordinance as amended was passed by yeas and nays as follows:

Yeas—Kenna, Coughlin, Foreman, Pringle, Dailey, McCormick, Young, McCoid, Moynihan, Derpa, Harris, Fick, Scully, Cullerton, Hoffman, Uhlir, Riley, Considine, Harkin, Maypole, Smith, Nowicki, Sitts, Conlon, Powers, Bowler, Finn, Reese, Foell, Sullivan, Dougherty, Werno, Jacobs, Hahne, Krumholz, Dunn, Williston, Reinberg, Blase, Larson, Wendling, Golombiewski, Hunt, Bihl, Kohout, Nolan and Race—47.

Nays—Brennan—1.

The following is the ordinance as passed:

Be it ordained by the City Council of the City of Chicago:

SECTION 1. That permission and authority be and the same are hereby given and granted to C. P. Zacher, his heirs, executors or assigns, to lay down, construct, maintain and operate one single railroad switch track connecting with the tracks of the Pittsburg, Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis Railway Company at a point about one hundred and ten (110) feet west of the west line of South Elizabeth street, thence running in a northeasterly direction across South Elizabeth street and into and across the south line of Lot two hundred and eighty-seven (287), Centre Avenue Addition, in the northwest one-quarter (N. W. ¼) of Section seventeen (17), Township thirty-eight (38), Range fourteen (14); thence in an easterly direction across the sixteen (16) foot public alley running north and south between Lots two hundred and eighty-seven (287) and three hundred and fifty-four (354) of the said Centre Avenue Addition and into the said Lot three hundred and fifty-four (354), Centre Avenue Addition, northwest one-quarter (N. W. ¼), Section seventeen (17), Township thirty-eight (38), Range fourteen (14), as shown on the blue print hereto attached, which for greater certainty is made a part of this ordinance, for and during a period of ten (10) years from and after the date of the passage of this ordinance.

SECTION 2. The permission and authority herein granted are upon the express condition that said C. P. Zacher, the grantee herein, will, within thirty (30) days after the date of the passage of this ordinance, file with the City Clerk of the City of Chicago a bond in the penal sum of ten thousand ($10,000.00) dollars, with sureties to be approved by the Mayor, and conditioned to at all times hereafter indemnify, save and keep harmless the City of Chicago from any and all liabilities, damages, loss, judgments, cost and expense whatsoever which may be suffered by, may accrue against, may be charged to or may be recovered from said City of Chicago by reason or on account of the passage of this ordinance, or by reason or on account of any act or thing done by said grantee herein by virtue of the authority herein given, or by reason or on account of anything done by said grantee in the maintenance and operation of said switch track or failure to keep in repair such parts of said Elizabeth street and said alley as are occupied by said switch track, or by reason or on account of any failure on the part of said grantee to comply with all the terms and conditions of this ordinance.

Said bond and liability of the sureties thereon shall be kept in force throughout the life of this ordinance, and if at any time during the life of this ordinance said bond shall not be in full force, then the privileges herein granted shall thereupon cease.

SECTION 3. The permission and authority hereby granted may be revoked by the Mayor at any time in his discretion, whereupon this ordinance shall become null and void.

This ordinance shall be subject to modification, amendment or repeal at any time, and in case of repeal, all privileges hereby granted shall thereupon cease and determine.

SECTION 4. During the life of this ordinance the grantee herein shall keep such portion of said Elizabeth street and said alley as is occupied by said switch track in good condition and repair, to the satisfaction and approval of the Commissioner of Public Works. At the termination of the rights and privileges herein granted, by expiration of time or otherwise, said grantee shall remove said switch track and all the appurtenances thereto and shall forthwith restore said street and said alley so occupied by said switch track to a condition similar to the remaining portion of said street and said alley in the same block and safe for public travel, to the satisfaction and approval of the Commissioner of Public Works.

Should said grantee fail to keep in repair any such part of said street and said alley in such manner as the Commissioner of Public Works shall direct, then the said Commissioner may repair the same and the expense thereof shall be paid by the said grantee. Should said grantee, at the expiration of the privileges herein granted, either by lapse of time or otherwise fail to remove said track and restore said part of said street and said alley so occupied by said track to the proper condition as herein required, said work shall be done by or under the direction of the Commissioner of Public Works of the City of Chicago, and the cost and expense of such work shall be paid by said grantee.

SECTION 5. The maintenance and operation of the switch track herein provided for shall be subject to all the existing ordinances of the City of Chicago now in force or which may hereafter be in force relating to the use and operation of switch tracks and railway tracks and the maintenance thereof shall be under the supervision and to the satisfaction of the Commissioner of Public Works.

SECTION 6. In consideration of the privileges herein granted, said C. P. Zacher shall pay to the City of Chicago the sum of eighty-four ($84.00) dollars per annum in advance each and every year during the life of this ordinance, the first payment to be made as of the date of the passage of this ordinance and each succeeding payment annually thereafter.

It is hereby made an express provision of this ordinance that the privileges herein granted shall terminate and this ordinance become null and void if said grantee, his executors or assigns, fail to promptly pay any installment of said compensation.

SECTION 7. This ordinance shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage and approval, provided that within thirty (30) days from the date of its passage said C. P. Zacher shall file with the City Clerk of the City of Chicago his written acceptance of this ordinance and a bond as hereinbefore provided.

ALSO,

The following veto message:

MAYOR'S OFFICE,
March 27, 1907.

To the Honorable, the City Council:

GENTLEMEN—I return herewith, without my approval, an ordinance passed by your Honorable Body at the meeting of March 18, 1907 (Council Proceedings, p. 3581), authorizing Elias Greenebaum to construct, maintain and operate a switch track in Dominick street, for the reason that, in my judgment, the bond required by this ordinance would not adequately protect the city.

A bond given under this ordinance would require the city to prove not only that it had expended money in defending suits brought by persons injured by the operation of this track, but also that Greenebaum was guilty of negligence.

I would suggest that the words "any negligence on the part of" in lines 3 and 4, second column, Section 2, be stricken out and the words "anything done by" be inserted in lieu thereof.

I would suggest that the vote by which the ordinance was passed be reconsidered and that the ordinance be amended as suggested above.

Respectfully submitted,

E. F. DUNNE,
Mayor.

Ald. Sullivan moved to reconsider the vote by which the ordinance referred to in the veto message of His Honor, the Mayor, was passed.

The motion prevailed.

Ald. Sullivan moved that the ordinance be amended in accordance with the veto message of His Honor, the Mayor.

The motion prevailed.

Ald. Sullivan moved the passage of the ordinance as amended.

The motion prevailed, and the ordinance as amended was passed by yeas and nays as follows:

ton, Reinberg, Blase, Larson, Wendling, Golombiewski, Hunt, Bihl, Kohout, Nolan and Race—47.

Nays—Brennan—1.

The following is the ordinance as passed:

Be it ordained by the City Council of the City of Chicago:

SECTION 1. That permission and authority be and the same are hereby given and granted to Elias Greenebaum, his heirs, executors and assigns, to lay down, construct, maintain and operate one single railroad switch track in, along and upon the westerly side of Dominick street from a point about opposite the north line of Lot twelve (12) and running in a northwesterly direction into and across the northeasterly line of Lot ten (10), all in Sub-block two (2), N. F. Dominick's subdivision of Lots one (1), two (2) and three (3), Block fourteen (14), in Sheffield's Addition to Chicago, in northwest one-quarter (N. W. ¼) of Section 32-40-14, as shown in blue print hereto attached, which for greater certainty is made a part of this ordinance, for and during a period of ten (10) years from and after the date of the passage of this ordinance.

SECTION 2. The permission and authority herein granted are upon the express condition that said Elias Greenebaum, the grantee herein, will, within thirty (30) days after the date of the passage of this ordinance, file with the City Clerk of the City of Chicago a bond in the penal sum of Ten Thousand Dollars ($10,000), with sureties to be approved by the Mayor, and conditioned to at all times hereafter indemnify, save and keep harmless the City of Chicago from any and all liabilities, damages, loss, judgments, cost and expense whatsoever which may be suffered by, may accrue against, may be charged to or may be recovered from said City of Chicago by reason or on account of the passage of this ordinance, or by reason or on account of any act or thing done by said grantee herein by virtue of the authority herein given, or by reason or on account of anything done by said grantee in the maintenance and operation of said switch track or failure to keep in repair such parts of said Dominick street as are occupied by said switch track, or by reason or on account of any failure on the part of said grantee to comply with all the terms and conditions of this ordinance.

Said bond and liability of the sureties thereon shall be kept in force throughout the life of this ordinance, and if at any time during the life of this ordinance said bond shall not be in full force, then the privileges herein granted shall thereupon cease.

SECTION 3. The permission and authority hereby granted may be revoked by the Mayor at any time, in his discretion, whereupon this ordinance shall become null and void.

This ordinance shall be subject to modification, amendment or repeal at any time and in case of repeal all privileges hereby granted shall thereupon cease.

SECTION 4. During the life of this ordinance the grantee herein shall keep such portion of Dominick street as is occupied by said switch track in good condition and repair, to the satisfaction and approval of the Commissioner of Public Works. The following veto message:

MAYOR'S OFFICE,
March 27, 1907.

To the Honorable, the City Council:

GENTLEMEN—I return herewith, without my approval, an ordinance passed by your Honorable Body at the meeting of March 18, 1907 (Council Proceedings, p. 3583), authorizing the American Malting Company to construct, maintain and operate a railroad track across Bliss street, for the reason that, in my judgment, the bond required by this ordinance does not adequately protect the city.

If such a bond as is provided for by this ordinance should be given, then the city, in order to maintain any suit upon that bond to recover the damages paid to any person suffering any injury by reason of the maintenance or operation of the track, would have to prove that this Company was guilty of negligence. I would suggest that the ordinance be amended by striking out of Section 2 the words "or by reason or on account of any negligence on the part of said grantee in the maintenance and operation of said switch track" and inserting in lieu thereof "or by reason or on account of the maintenance or operation of said switch track."

I would suggest that the vote by which the ordinance was passed be reconsidered and that the ordinance be amended as suggested above.

Respectfully submitted,

E. F. DUNNE,
Mayor.

Ald. Sullivan moved to reconsider the vote by which the ordinance referred to in the veto message of His Honor, the Mayor, was passed.

The motion prevailed.

Ald. Sullivan moved that the ordinance be amended in accordance with the veto message of His Honor, the Mayor.

Nays—Brennan—1.

The following is the ordinance as passed:

Be it ordained by the City Council of the City of Chicago:

SECTION 1. That permission and authority be and the same are hereby given and granted to the American Malting Company, a corporation, its successors and assigns, to lay down, construct, maintain and operate one single railroad switch track across Bliss street, between Cherry and Hickory avenues, said switch track to extend from the center of a fourteen (14) foot private alley on the northwest side of said Bliss street, which said alley commences at a point one hundred (100) feet northeasterly from said Cherry avenue, said switch track thence to cross said Bliss street parallel with the northeast line of said Cherry avenue, as shown in the plat attached hereto, which for greater certainty is made a part of this ordinance, for and during the period of ten (10) years from and after the date of the passage of this ordinance.

SECTION 2. The permission and authority herein granted are upon the express condition that said American Malting Company, the grantee herein, will, within thirty (30) days after the date of the passage of this ordinance, file with the City Clerk of the City of Chicago a bond in the penal sum of ten thousand ($10,000.00) dollars, with sureties to be approved by the Mayor, and conditioned to at all times hereafter indemnify, save and keep harmless the City of Chicago from any and all liabilities, damages, loss, judgments, cost and expense whatsoever which may be suffered by, may accrue against, may be charged to or may be recovered from said City of Chicago by reason or on account of the passage of this ordinance, or by reason or on account of any act or thing done by said grantee herein by virtue of the authority herein given, or by reason or on account of the maintenance or operation of said switch track, or failure to keep in repair such parts of said Bliss street as are occupied by said switch track, or by reason or on account of any failure on the part of said grantee to comply with all the terms and conditions of this ordinance.

Said bond and liability of the sureties thereon shall be kept in force throughout the life of this ordinance, and if at any time during the life of this ordinance said bond shall not be in full force, then the privileges herein granted shall thereupon cease.

SECTION 3. The permission and authority hereby granted may be revoked by the Mayor at any time in his discretion, whereupon this ordinance shall become null and void.

This ordinance shall be subject to modification, amendment or repeal at any time, and in case of repeal all privileges hereby granted shall thereupon cease and determine.

SECTION 4. During the life of this ordinance the grantee herein shall keep such portion of Bliss street as is occupied by said switch track in good condition and repair, to the satisfaction and approval of the Commissioner of Public Works. At the termination of the rights and privileges herein granted, by expiration of time or otherwise, said grantee shall remove said switch track and all the appurtenances thereto, and shall forthwith restore said street so occupied by said switch track to a condition similar to the remaining portion of said street in the same block and safe for public travel, to the satisfaction and approval of the Commissioner of Public Works.

Should said grantee, at the expiration of the privileges herein granted, either by lapse of time or otherwise, fail to remove said track and restore said part of said street so occupied by said track to the proper condition as herein required, said work shall be done by or under the direction of the Commissioner of Public Works of the City of Chicago, and the cost and expense of said work shall be paid by said grantee.

SECTION 5. The maintenance and operation of the switch track herein provided for shall be subject to all the existing ordinances of the City of Chicago now in force or which may hereafter be in force relating to the use and operation of switch tracks and railway tracks, and the maintenance thereof shall be under the supervision and to the satisfaction of the Commissioner of Public Works.

SECTION 6. In consideration of the privileges herein granted, said American Malting Company shall pay to the City of Chicago the sum of fifty-eight ($58.00) dollars per annum in advance each and every year during the life of this ordinance; the first payment to be made as of the date of the passage of this ordinance, and each succeeding payment annually thereafter.

It is hereby made an express provision of this ordinance that the privileges herein granted shall terminate, and this ordinance become null and void if said grantee, its successors or assigns, fail to promptly pay any installment of said compensation.

SECTION 7. This ordinance shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage and approval, provided that within thirty (30) days from the date of its passage said American Malting Company shall file with the City Clerk of the City of Chicago its written acceptance of this ordinance and a bond as hereinbefore provided.

SECTION 7. Provision shall be made for the drainage of the several depressed subways provided for in this ordinance, by the construction of receiving basins properly located in or immediately adjacent to said subways which said receiving basins shall be connected with and discharge their contents into the adjacent city sewers. In case the lowest point of the surface of any of said subways shall be below the grade of the adjacent sewers, some other adequate means of drainage satisfactory to the Commissioner of Public Works must be devised and provided by said Chicago and Illinois Western Railroad at its own expense.

SECTION 8, Paragraph 1. The subways and approaches thereto so to be constructed by said Chicago and Illinois Western Railroad in said streets and avenues aforesaid shall all conform to the following structural requirements, viz.: The roadways shall be paved with a single course of vitrified brick of standard quality, laid at right angles with the curb lines and set upon a solid foundation of hydraulic cement concrete of not less than six (6) inches thick or deep when solidly tamped in place and otherwise finished and properly crowned ready for the brick wearing surface between which and the concrete there shall be interposed a layer of screened sand not less than one-half inch thick. The curb shall be of sound, hard limestone or concrete masonry of standard dimensions and finish, and the sidewalks in the subways shall be finished and paved with Portland cement concrete of standard quality and workmanship; and the curbing and roadway paving shall be made, finished and put in permanent place in accordance with the requirements of the Department of Public Works of the City of Chicago. The approaches to subways shall be excavated to the grade established by this ordinance and shall be in all other respects restored as near as may be to their former condition before being so excavated. Said Chicago and Illinois Western Railroad shall execute a good and sufficient bond in the amount of twenty-five thousand ($25,000) dollars conditioned that it shall furnish and use such material and workmanship in the construction of the improvements heretofore specified as to insure the same to be free from all defects and to remain in continuous good order and condition, ordinary wear excepted, from and after the completion and acceptance of the same; and as a guarantee of the faithful performance of the work, the quality of the material furnished and the proper construction of said improvement, said railroad hereby agrees to keep and maintain the improvement made by it without additional charge or cost to the City of Chicago, in such order and condition as will be satisfactory to the Commissioner of Public Works, ordinary wear excepted, from and after the completion and acceptance of the same, which keeping and maintaining shall include repairs or the entire reconstruction of the same, the necessity for which may be occasioned by or through the use of faulty material or workmanship; provided, however, said railroad shall not be required to keep or maintain any part of said improvement made under this guarantee which after its completion and acceptance shall have been removed for the purpose of laying or repairing any gas, sewer, water or other pipe or conduit laid by any individual or private corporation in accordance with a permit granted by the City of Chicago, or to maintain or to renew any part of said improvement that may have been damaged in any manner by any work which shall have been done by any individual or private corporation in accordance with or under the authority of a permit granted by the City of Chicago.

If said Chicago and Illinois Western Railroad shall fail, neglect or refuse to repair, keep and maintain the said work done by it in accordance with this paragraph within ten (10) days after notice so to do from the Commissioner of Public Works, the Commissioner of Public Works may proceed to do, or cause to have done the work necessary to comply with the same and collect the cost and expense thereof from the said railroad as is mentioned in this ordinance.

Provided, further, that the making of any public improvement by the City of Chicago or the repair of any sewer or water pipe or conduit or other thing belonging to the City of Chicago in any of said streets shall not relieve said Chicago and Illinois Western Railroad of its obligation to keep said street in repair.

Paragraph 2. As to the streets in this section mentioned which are already paved or provided with sidewalks, such paving and sidewalks shall be restored to a condition satisfactory to the Commissioner of Public Works by said Chicago and Illinois Western Railroad except that said railroad is not required to restore any part of the paving of approaches or subways which it may be the duty of any street railway company or other corporation itself to restore under existing laws and ordinances.

Paragraph 3. Said Chicago and Illinios Western Railroad shall pave the entire length and width of the roadway in such portions of the subways as are required to be constructed by said railroad as is mentioned in this ordinance, except that said railroad shall not be required to pave any part of the subways to be occupied by or adjacent to street railway tracks which by reason of existing laws or ordinances it will be the duty of any street railway company or other corporation itself to pave.

Paragraph 4. Any street railway company occupying any of the streets in the City of Chicago crossed by said elevated railroad shall when and as the grade of such street shall be changed, as in this ordinance provided, at its own expense, without claim for damages conform the grade of its track or tracks to the said change of grade of said street and nothing in this ordinance shall operate or be held to relieve such street railway companies from any liability now existing, however created, to pave or bear the expense of paving such streets between or on either side of the rails of its said tracks in the manner and form as now required.

Section 9. All the work hereinbefore in this ordinance required to be done by said Chicago and Illinois Western Railroad or in connection with the public avenues and streets of the city, shall be done and performed under the superintendence and subject to the inspection and approval of the Commissioner of Public Works of said city. At least ten (10) days prior to the commencement of any part of such work the plans and specifications therefor shall be submitted to said Commissioner of Public Works for his examination and if found to be in accordance with the provisions of this ordinance so far as this ordinance contains specific provisions, and in the absence of such specific provisions if they shall be satisfactory to the Commissioner of Public Works in regard to the matters and details which by this ordinance are left to his discretion and judgment, such plans shall be approved by him and after such approval all of the work outlined and included therein shall be constructed in strict conformity therewith.

Section 10. Permission and authority is hereby given to said Chicago and Illinois Western Railroad whenever the same shall be necessary in the prosecution of the work which it is herein authorized or required to perform, to obstruct temporarily any public street, avenue or alley to such extent and for such length of time as may be approved by the Commissioner of Public Works, and it is also hereby authorized whenever the same shall be necessary to erect and maintain temporary structures and false work in any of said streets and avenues during the construction of its said elevated railroad tracks, subject to like approval of the Commissioner of Public Works.

SECTION 11. The permission and authority hereby granted are upon the further express condition that the said Chicago and Illinois Western Railroad, its successors, lessees and assigns shall and will forever indemnify and save harmless the City of Chicago against any and all damages, judgments, decrees and costs and expenses of the same which it may suffer or which may be recovered or obtained against said city by reason of the granting of the privileges herein contained or for or by reason of or growing out of or resulting from the exercise by the said Chicago and Illinois Western Railroad of the privileges hereby granted or for or by reason of or growing out of or resulting from the passage of this ordinance or any matter or thing connected therewith, or for any act or acts of said Chicago and Illinois Western Railroad, its servants or agents, under or by virtue of the provisions of this ordinance.

SECTION 12. When said railroad in Section 1 of this ordinance mentioned shall have elevated its tracks in accordance with this ordinance, so that the same shall be ready for use, then and thereupon all provisions of the ordinances of the City of Chicago relating to the speed of railway trains, the length of trains, the number of cars to constitute a train, the ringing of locomotive bells, the use of train or engine lights, the sounding of signals before starting trains, and the maintenance of gates, flagmen, watchmen, signals and signal towers shall cease to be applicable to said railroad where the roadbed and tracks are elevated, provided, however, that this ordinance is not to be construed as a waiver or surrender by the City of Chicago of any of its police powers or of the right at any time hereafter to pass necessary and reasonable police ordinances in relation to the matters last above enumerated. After such elevation it shall be unlawful for any person or persons save employes of said Chicago and Illinois Western Railroad in the discharge of their duties, to enter or be upon or to walk along or across the roadbed and tracks of said railroad at any place where the same are elevated. If any person shall willfully trespass upon said elevated roadway such person and all others aiding, abetting or assisting therein shall be liable to a fine of not less than five dollars nor more than one hundred dollars for each and every offense. And provided, further, that nothing herein contained shall relieve said Chicago and Illinois Western Railroad, its successors, lessees or assigns from full compliance with any and all ordinances of the City of Chicago relating to the speed of trains and other incidents of operating railroads wherever the railroad company, its successors, lessees or assigns shall operate at grade.

SECTION 13. The permission and authority hereby granted are upon the express condition that the tracks hereby authorized shall be laid and in operation within three (3) years after the passage, approval and acceptance of this ordinance, but should the operation of the said tracks or any portion thereof be delayed by strike or strikes, riot or riots, or unavoidable accidents, or restrained by injunction or order or process of a court of competent jurisdiction, the time during which said railroad shall be so prevented as aforesaid, shall be added to the time hereby limited for the completion of said work; provided said Chicago and Illinois Western Railroad give notice to the Corporation Counsel of the City of Chicago of the institution of said legal proceedings. The City of Chicago shall thereupon have the right to intervene in any suit or proceedings brought by any person or persons seeking to enjoin or restrain or in any manner interfere with the prosecution of said work and move for a dissolution of such injunction or restraining order or for any other proper order in such suit.

SECTION 14. The Chicago and Illinois Western Railroad shall within six (6) months after the passage of this ordinance, procure and dedicate for the purpose of a public street, the following described property, to-wit: Beginning at a point in the west right of way line of the Pittsburgh, Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis Railway Company, thirty-three (33) feet north of the north line of Marshall boulevard, thence extending westerly for a distance of about eighty-five (85) feet more or less, to the east right of way line of the Chicago and Illinois Western Railroad, thence southwesterly along the east right of way line of said railroad to the north line of Marshall boulevard, a distance of thirty-three (33) feet at right angles to said Marshall boulevard, thence east along the north line of Marshall boulevard to the west right of way line of the Pittsburgh, Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis Railway Company for a distance of about one hundred and ten (110) feet, thence north along the west right of way line of said railway to the place of beginning.

In case said Chicago and Illinois Western Railroad shall be unable to purchase said property, or any part thereof, described in this section, at a reasonble price, then the same shall be condemned by the City of Chicago for street purposes and the compensation and damages awarded in such proceedings, including court costs and all expenses of litigation that may be incurred in such condemnation proceedings, shall be paid by said Chicago and Illinois Western Railroad, and said railroad shall have the right to take part in said condemnation proceedings in behalf of the city, by counsel especially employed by it, and shall have the right to have all witnesses that it may name called to testify in said condemnation proceedings.

SECTION 15. This ordinance shall not take effect until after the Chicago and Illinois Western Railroad shall have executed a good and sufficient bond to the City of Chicago in the penal sum of twenty-five thousand ($25,000) dollars subject to the approval of the Mayor, conditioned that said railroad will observe, perform and carry out the provisions of this ordinance, and will pay all damages for which said city may become liable to any person or persons by reason of the said railroad entering or running through the portion of said city as aforesaid, or by reason of said Chicago and Illinois Western Railroad constructing, laying down, maintaining, operating or using said railroad track or tracks within said city, and conditioned also for the payment of all damages which may arise to the City of Chicago on account of any judgment or decree against said city, including all costs and expenses connected with the same that may at any time be obtained by any person or persons whomsoever by reason of said Chicago and Illinois Western Railroad constructing, laying down, maintaining, operating or using said railroad tracks as provided for herein.

SECTION 16. This ordinance shall take effect when the Chicago and Illinois Western Railroad shall file the bonds herein required and accept in writing, the terms and conditions of this ordinance; provided, that if said Chicago and Illinois Western Railroad shall not file an acceptance, in writing, of this ordinance, and the bonds herein required, within sixty (60) days from the passage hereof, then this ordinance shall be of no force and effect and all the rights herein granted shall absolutely cease and determine.

The following message:

MAYOR'S OFFICE,
April 3, 1907.

To the Honorable, the City Council:

GENTLEMEN—I return herewith, without my approval, the ordinance passed by your Honorable Body at the meeting of March 30, 1907, Council Proceedings 3726, authorizing James S. Kirk & Co. to construct, maintain and operate a subway across North Water street, for the reason that the blank left in the ordinance for the purpose of stating the depth beneath the surface of the street at which the subway is to be constructed has not been filled.

I would suggest a reconsideration of the vote by which the ordinance was passed and that the ordinance be referred to the Committee on Streets and Alleys, North Division, for further consideration.

Respectfully submitted,
E. F. DUNNE,
Mayor.

Ald. Sullivan moved to reconsider the vote by which the ordinance referred to in the veto message of His Honor, the Mayor, was passed.

Ald. Sullivan moved to refer the ordinance to the Committee on Streets and Alleys, North Division.

The motion prevailed.

ALSO,

The following veto message:

MAYOR'S OFFICE,
April 3, 1907.

To the Honorable, the City Council:

GENTLEMEN—I return herewith, without my approval, the ordinance passed by your Honorable Body at the meeting of March 30, 1907, Council Proceedings 3728, vacating a street or traveled roadway between Section 10 and 11 in Township 37 North, Range 14, East, for the reason that an error has been made in transcribing the ordinance and it does not clearly and distinctly appear from the ordinance that the beneficiaries thereof shall dedicate and open the proposed new street. As this ordinance is one of a permanent nature and the improvement is general, it occurs to me it would be well to reconsider the vote by which the ordinance was passed in order that the proposed amendment may be made.

I would suggest that Section 1 be amended by inserting after the word "until" in the third line of the second column the words "there shall have been dedicated and opened for public use." With this amendment the ordinance will accomplish the desired purpose.

Respectfully submitted,

E. F. DUNNE,

Mayor.

Ald. Bihl moved to reconsider the vote by which the ordinance referred to in the veto message of His Honor, the Mayor, was passed.

The motion prevailed.

Ald. Bihl moved that the ordinance be amended in accordance with the veto message of His Honor, the Mayor.

SELECT COMMITTEE TO INVESTIGATE WORKING OF SPECIAL ASSESSMENT LAWS.

The select committee of three members of the Committee on Special Assessments and General Taxation, appointed in accordance with Council order of December 17, 1906, page 2375, submitted the following report, which was, on motion of Ald. O'Connell, deferred and ordered published:

Chicago, Ills., March 13, 1907.

Honorable Edward F. Dunne, Mayor, and Members of the City Council:

Gentlemen—The undersigned committee, appointed by His Honor, the Mayor, in accordance with the order of Council, to visit the different cities for the purpose of investigating the workings of the special assessment laws in the different municipalities with a view of securing information and suggestions to be incorporated in amendments to the present special assessment laws, looking toward the enactment of laws which would enable the City of Chicago to pay contractors cash for public improvements constructed by special assessment, beg leave to report:

Your Committee, together with the Secretary of the Board of Local Improvements, visited the cities of Philadelphia, New York, Boston, and Washington, and, with the aid and courtesies extended to us by the public officials of these different cities, thoroughly investigated the workings of their special assessment laws. In not one of these cities did we obtain any information which would in the least aid us in framing legislation such as is desired and was intended by the order of the Council—in fact, our investigations led us to the conclusion that while there are without doubt defects in our present special assessment laws, nevertheless as our laws stand now they are far superior, both from the property owners' standpoint and from the city's standpoint, to any laws governing the municipalities visited.

A careful study of the situation, however, leads us to believe that still greater benefits than already exist could be brought about by putting into operation the plan suggested by this Council in the resolution passed.

We are of the opinion, though, that in order to bring about this desired result, it would be necessary to revise to quite an extent, the present special assessment procedure, and this work is of such magnitude and must be so carefully and fully considered and worked out that, we would recommend, either some existing committee or a special committee, appointed by His Honor, the Mayor, be authorized to take up the whole subject matter and frame and revise the present special assessment procedure, so as to carry into effect the intent and purposes of the former resolution passed by this Council.

Respectfully submitted,
P. J. O'Connell,
Daniel V. Harkin, Committee.

The said bridges shall be supported on abutments of concrete, stone or brick masonry, or on rows of iron or steel columns, braced together laterally and erected on and anchored to masonry foundations constructed within the line of the railroad right-of-way and in the center and curb lines of the intersecting avenues and streets, or as provided in the schedule of subways herein contained; provided, however, that in all cases where subways shall be built under the elevated tracks of the said railroad company, its successors, lessees or assigns, the walls of the abutments of the said subways shall in no event extend beyond the respective lot lines of the streets crossed.

The approaches to subways shall be excavated to the grades established by this ordinance and shall be in all other respects restored as near as may be to their condition before being so excavated. The paving and sidewalks in subways where streets or avenues are not depressed shall be the same as in the adjoining parts of such streets or avenues if such paving and sidewalks exist at the time of construction of said subways, if not, whenever such paving and sidewalks shall be provided.

The Chicago Terminal Transfer Railroad Company shall execute a good and sufficient bond in the amount of twenty-five thousand ($25,000) dollars, conditioned that said railroad company shall furnish and use such material and workmanship in the construction of the improvements heretofore specified as to insure the same to be free from all defects and to remain in continuous good order and condition, ordinary wear excepted, for a period of ten (10) years from and after the completion and acceptance of the same; and as a guarantee of the faithful performance of the work, the quality of the material furnished and the proper construction of said improvement, said railroad company hereby agrees to keep and maintain said improvement without additional charge or cost to the City of Chicago, in such order and condition as will be satisfactory to the Commissioner of Public Works, ordinary wear excepted, for a period of ten (10) years from and after the completion and acceptance of the same, which keeping and maintaining shall include repairs or the entire reconstruction of the same the necessity for which may be occasioned by or through the use of faulty or inferior material or workmanship; provided, however, said railroad company shall not be required to keep or maintain any part of said improvement under this guarantee which after its completion and acceptance shall have been removed for the purpose of laying or repairing any gas, sewer, water or other pipe or conduit in accordance with a permit granted by the City of Chicago, or to maintain or to renew any part of said improvement that may have been damaged in any manner by any work which shall have been done in accordance with or under the authority of a permit granted by the City of Chicago. If said railroad company shall fail, neglect or refuse to repair, keep and maintain the said work in accordance with this paragraph within thirty (30) days after notice so to do from the Commissioner of Public Works, the Commissioner of Public Works may proceed to do or cause to have done the work necessary to comply with the same and collect the cost and expense thereof from said railroad company mentioned in this ordinance.

Paragraph 2. As to the streets in this section mentioned which are already paved or provided with sidewalks, such paving and sidewalks shall be restored with the present material when the same is in good condition by said railroad company at its expense, in such portions of said streets as are required to be constructed by said company, except that said company shall not be required to restore any part of the paving of approaches or subways which it is the duty of any street railway company or other corporation itself to restore under existing laws or ordinances.

Paragraph 3. Said railroad company shall pave the entire length and width of the roadway in such portions of the subways as are required to be constructed by said railroad company, as is mentioned in this ordinance, except that said company shall not be required to pave or depress any part of the subways to be occupied by or adjacent to street railway tracks which by reason of existing laws or ordinances it will be the duty of any street railway company or other corporation itself to pave.

Paragraph 4. Any street railway company occupying any of the streets in the City of Chicago crossed by such elevation shall when and as the grade of such street shall be changed as in this ordinance provided, at its own expense without claim for damages depress and conform the grade of its track or tracks to the said change of grade of said streets both during and after depressing said streets, and nothing in this ordinance shall operate to be held to relieve such street railway companies from any liability now existing of paving such street between or on either side of its tracks in the manner and form as now required or of making the necessary depressions as hereinbefore provided.

Paragraph 5. Nothing in this ordinance contained shall be so construed as to require the said railroad company to assume or pay any incidental or consequential damages to adjacent property or business caused by the passage and enforcement of this ordinance, or by the excavation or depression, change of grade or location made in any of the public avenues, streets or alleys, or of the railway of said company, or to defend any suit or suits which may be brought against the said railroad company or against the City of Chicago, or against any other party or parties for the recovery of any such damages; but it is understood and the City of Chicago hereby agrees that all such damages if there are any, shall be adjusted and paid by the City of Chicago and the said city will assume the defense of any and all suits brought for the recovery of the same intervening therein if necessary for such purposes and will wholly relieve said railroad company from defending the same and will assume and pay all judgments recovered therein; provided, however, that said company shall be liable for such damages as may arise from the negligent performance by said company of any of the obligations imposed upon it by this ordinance. The above stipulations in this paragraph are, however, upon the condition precedent that in case any suit be brought against said company, said company will before the last day to plead therein give notice in writing to the Mayor and Corporation Counsel of said city for the purpose of enabling such defense to be made by the City.

Paragraph 6. Said railroad company and any contractor employed by it or them in the execution of the work herein required to be done shall have the right in the performance of any work done in carrying out the provisions of this ordinance, to take water from the public water system of said city and to use the same in such work free of all charge or expense.

Section 9. All the work hereinbefore in this ordinance required to be done by said company upon or in connection with the public avenues and streets of the city shall be done and performed under the superintendence and subject to the inspection and approval of the Commissioner of Public Works of said city. At least ten (10) days prior to the commencement of any part of such work the plans and specifications therefor shall be submitted to said Commissioner of Public Works for his examination and if found to be in accordance with the provisions of this ordinance, in so far as this ordinance contains specific provisions, and in the absence of such specific provisions if they shall be satisfactory to the Commissioner of Public Works in regard to the matters and details which by this ordinance are left to his discretion and judgment, such plans shall be approved by him and after such approval all of the work outlined and included therein shall be constructed in strict conformity therewith.

SECTION 10. Permission and authority are hereby given to said company whenever the same shall be necessary in the prosecution of the work which is herein authorized or required to be performed, to obstruct temporarily any public street, avenue or alley to such extent and for such length of time as may be approved by the Commissioner of Public Works; and said company is hereby authorized whenever the same shall become necessary to erect and maintain temporary structures and false work in any of said streets and avenues during the construction of its said elevated railroad tracks subject to the like approval of the Commissioner of Public Works.

SECTION 11. When said railroad company in Section 1 of this ordinance mentioned shall have elevated its tracks in accordance with this ordinance so that the same shall be ready for use, then and thereupon all provisions of the ordinances of the City of Chicago relating to the speed of railway trains, the length of trains, the number of cars to constitute a train, the ringing of locomotive bells, the use of train or engine lights, the sounding of signals before starting trains, and the maintenance of gates, flagmen, watchmen, signals and signal towers shall cease to be applicable to said railroad where the roadbed and tracks are elevated; provided, however, that this ordinance is not to be construed as a waiver or surrender by the City of Chicago of any of its police powers or of the right at any time hereafter to pass necessary and reasonable police ordinances in relation to the matters last above enumerated. After such elevation it shall be unlawful for any person or persons save employes of said company in the discharge of their duties, to enter or be upon or to walk across or along the roadway and tracks of said company at any place where the same are elevated. If any person shall willfully trespass upon said elevated roadway such person and all others aiding, abetting or assisting therein shall be liable to a fine of not less than five dollars nor more than one hundred dollars for each and every offense. And, provided, further, that nothing herein contained shall relieve the said railroad company, its successors, lessees or assigns, from full compliance with any and all ordinances of the City of Chicago relating to the speed of trains and other incidents of operating railroads wherever the railroad company, its successors, lessees or assigns, shall operate at grade.

SECTION 12. Said railroad company mentioned in this ordinance, its successors, lessees or assigns, shall at least ten (10) days prior to the commencement of any part or parts of said work submit to the Commissioner of Public Works for his approval, complete plans and specifications of said part or parts of said proposed work for the purpose of ascertaining whether the same are in strict compliance with the provisions of this ordinance, and after approval of such plans and specifications by the Commissioner of Public Works, all of said work shall be constructed in strict accordance therewith and to the entire satisfaction of the Commissioner of Public Works and not otherwise, except as herein otherwise provided.

SECTION 13. The railroad company mentioned in Section 1 of this ordinance and which is required to elevate its tracks, its successors, lessees, and assigns, shall commence the work of such elevation on or before the first day of May, 1907, provided this ordinance shall have been accepted by said railroad company hereby required to elevate its tracks; and after such work has been commenced the same shall be prosecuted continuously with all practicable diligence and shall be fully and finally completed on or before the thirty-first day of December, 1910, unless prevented by strikes or riots or restrained by injunction or other order or process of a court of competent jurisdiction. The time during which said railroad company shall be prevented as aforesaid, shall be added to the time hereby limited for the completion of said work, provided said railroad company give notice to the Corporation Counsel of the City of Chicago of the institution of said legal proceedings. The City of Chicago shall thereupon have the right to intervene in any suit or proceedings brought by any person or persons seeking to enjoin or restrain or in any manner interfere with the prosecution of said work and move for a dissolution of such injunction or restraining order or for any other proper order in such suit. And it is further distinctly understood and agreed that if said railroad company shall be delayed in the prosecution of said work required to be done under the provisions of this ordinance, by reason of the obstruction of pipes, conduits, wires or other property of private corporations or individuals as mentioned in Section 5 of this ordinance, or by reason of any delay on the part of the City of Chicago or any of its officers in performing the duties imposed upon the City and its officers by this ordinance in respect to the work herein required to be done by said railroad company, then and in that case the time which said railroad company is delayed shall be added to the time specified for the completion of said work during which said company is required by the terms of this ordinance to complete said work.

SECTION 13½. The Chicago Terminal Transfer Railroad Company shall within sixty (60) days after the passage and approval of this ordinance procure and dedicate for the purpose of a public street, the easterly twenty-six (26) feet of Lots one (1) and seventeen (17) in Block fifty-nine (59), and also the easterly twenty-six (26) feet of Lots one (1) and twenty-one (21), in Block sixty (60) in Lombard's Addition to Montrose, being a Subdivision of that part of the southwest (S. W. ¼) quarter of the southwest (S. W. ¼) quarter of Section 15, Township 40, North, Range thirteen (13), east of the Third (3d) Principal Meridian, which lies west of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Railway; and in lieu thereof the City of Chicago agrees to vacate the easterly twenty-six (26) feet of Clover street lying between the north line of West Belle Plaine avenue and the north line of Irving Park boulevard.

SECTION 14. This ordinance shall take effect from and after its passage, approval and publication; provided, however, this ordinance shall be null and void unless said Chicago Terminal Transfer Railroad Company shall through its authorized officers file with the City Clerk of the City of Chicago within thirty (30) days from the passage and approval by the Mayor of this ordinance, an agreement or agreements duly executed, whereby said railroad company shall undertake to do and perform all the matters and things required of it by this ordinance. After the filing of said agreement by said company and not before, this ordinance shall not be materially modified or amended without the consent of said company, unless said company shall be in default in the performance of the several matters and things required by this ordinance and undertaken to be done by such agreement. But nothing in this ordinance contained shall be deemed a waiver or surrender of the police power of the city or to deprive the city of the right to properly exercise such power.

SECTION 15. Upon the passage and approval of this ordinance, and the acceptance of the same by the duly authorized officers of the Chicago Terminal Transfer Railroad Company, or its Receivers, and the said acceptance shall be filed with the City Clerk of the City of Chicago, then and in that event the ordinance passed by the City Council July 16, 1900, published on pages 1035 to 1044 inclusive, of the Official Records of the Council Proceedings of the City of Chicago be and the same is hereby repealed.
